

20. Defence of acting under custom

It is a defence to a complaint of an offence against these by-laws to show that the defendant was acting under and excused by any custom of the community.