

3. Interpretation

In these regulations unless the contrary intention appears —

“ADG Code” means the sixth edition of the Australian Code for the Transport of Dangerous Goods by Road and Rail and includes (for the avoidance of doubt) the technical appendices to it but excludes —

- (a) the Rail (Dangerous Goods) Rules published as a schedule to it; and
- (b) the Road Transport Reform (Dangerous Goods) Regulations of the Commonwealth published as an attachment to it;

“Explosives Code” means the Australian Code for the Transport of Explosives by Road and Rail, First Edition, May 1991, published by the Commonwealth Department of Transport and Communications Federal Office of Road Safety;

“UN dangerous goods tests and criteria” means the tests and criteria specified in —

- (a) the ninth revised edition of the Recommendations on the Transport of Dangerous Goods published by the United Nations; or
- (b) the second revised edition of the Recommendations on the Transport of Dangerous Goods, Manual of Tests and Criteria published by the United Nations.
