

97. Evidentiary provision

For the purposes of the laws relating to the admissibility of evidence but without otherwise affecting those laws, where, at any time, a negative of a court record is held by or on behalf of the Court, the negative is deemed to be the court record and shall be treated as such by any other court, without any inquiry as to whether or not the court record has been destroyed.

[Section 97 inserted by No. 122 of 1984 s.12.]