

FINANCIAL EMERGENCY TAX.

2° GEO. VI., No. XVIII.

No. 18 of 1938.

AN ACT to impose and fix the Rate of a Tax, to be called the Financial Emergency Tax, upon income, salary and wages.

[Assented to 1st December, 1938.]

BE it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of Western Australia, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1. This Act may be cited as the Financial Emergency Tax Act, 1938, and shall be read as one with the Financial Emergency Tax Assessment Act, 1932-1937 (Consolidated).

Short title.
cf. No. 47 of 1937, s. 10.

Imposition of tax.

2. For the purpose of the Financial Emergency Tax Assessment Act, 1932-1937 (Consolidated) (hereinafter called the Assessment Act), financial emergency tax is imposed at the rates declared by this Act.

3. (1.) For the purpose of section three of the Assessment Act it is hereby declared that the rates of tax payable for the financial year ending on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine on the net assessable income of a taxpayer (not being a company) for the year of income ended on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight, shall be in accordance with the several rates prescribed in the First Part of the Schedule to this Act:

Provided that—

- (i) in the case of a person whose income for the said year of income was not less than two hundred pounds but did not exceed two hundred and thirteen pounds, and who proves to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he is regularly maintaining or contributing to the maintenance of one or more members of his family who is or are resident and domiciled in Western Australia, the rate of tax shall be subject to a rebate of fifty per centum; and
- (ii) in any case where the net assessable income of a taxpayer does not exceed one hundred and four pounds for the said year of income, the tax shall not exceed seventeen shillings and fourpence.

Rate of tax
on salaries and wages.

(2.) (a) For the purpose of section three of the Assessment Act it is hereby declared that the rates of tax payable for the financial year ending on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine on salaries and wages paid or received during that year shall be:—

- (i) in respect of salaries and wages paid or received in the first six months of that financial year, namely in the six months ending on the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight, the several rates declared by and in accordance with the provisions of the Second Part of the Schedule to the Financial Emergency Tax Act, 1937; and

(ii) in respect of salaries and wages paid or received in the remaining six months of that financial year, namely in the six months ending on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, the several rates declared in the Second Part of the Schedule to this Act.

(b) Unless Parliament otherwise determines, the rates prescribed in the Second Part of the Schedule to this Act shall also apply in respect of salaries and wages paid or received in the period of six months ending on the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine.

Provided that, where the salary or wages does not exceed two pounds per week, the amount of tax payable under the provisions of this subsection shall not exceed fourpence per week.

(3.) (a) For the purpose of subsection one of section eight of the Assessment Act it is hereby declared that the rate of tax payable by a company which carries on any insurance or assurance business exclusively (not being a life assurance company), shall be sixpence in respect of every three pounds two shillings and sixpence of premiums received by it.

Rate of tax payable by companies.

cf. No. 47 of 1937, s. 10.

(b) For the purpose of subsection two of section eight of the Assessment Act it is hereby declared that the rates of tax payable for the financial year ending on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine on the net assessable income of a company for the year of income ended on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight, shall be in accordance with the several rates prescribed in the Third Part of the Schedule to this Act.
