ANY miner may mark off, apply for, and take up for mining purposes, in accordance with the provisions of the principal Act or the Mineral Lands Act, 1892, and the regulations thereunder respectively, any land comprised in a miner's homestead in the same manner as if the land were unoccupied Crown land.

Rights of miners to work leased land.
Ibid., s. 94.

(2.) A gold mining or mineral lease may be granted under the principal Act or the Mineral Lands Act, 1892, of land comprised in a miner's homestead. But in any such case the lease shall be of the mines under such land only, and not of the surface of the land.

(3.) When land comprised in a miner's homestead is taken up for mining purposes, or is included in a gold mining or mineral lease, the person entitled to mine thereon or therein shall be entitled to erect, maintain, and remove buildings and machinery, sink shafts, and carry on all necessary mining operations upon the surface of the land comprised in the claim, gold mining or mineral lease, and shall also be entitled to access to the mines through the residue of the land comprised in the miner's homestead.

19. IN any of the cases mentioned in the last preceding section, the lessee may call upon the Warden to assess the value of the damage likely to be done to any improvements upon his homestead, and the Warden may thereupon, if he think fit, require the miner or applicant for a gold mining or mineral lease working, or about to work upon the land, to deposit in his hands the amount of the damage which the working is likely to do to the lessee, and until such payment is made the miner or applicant for a gold mining or mineral lease shall not be entitled to work upon the land.

Compensation for land.
Ibid., s. 95.

Upon the receipt of the amount so required to be deposited, the Warden shall hold the same as security to be paid either wholly or in part to the lessee if he sustains any damage, or to be returned to the miner or applicant for gold mining or mineral lease on his leaving the land if he does no damage. In assessing such damage only actual injury to improvements shall be taken into account, and no compensation shall be allowed for the value of the land or the lessee's interest therein.

When a lessee has received any money by way of compensation for injury to improvements, he shall not afterwards be entitled to claim compensation in respect of the same improvements, but shall be entitled to claim for additions made to them after the time when he received such compensation.

An application for arbitration shall be made within forty-eight hours after the decision of the case by the Warden, otherwise it shall not be entertained and shall be in writing addressed to the Warden, and a copy thereof shall be delivered by the applicant to the other party concerned, and shall on such delivery, be equivalent to a submission in writing by both parties of the matters in dispute to two arbitrators, who are to appoint an umpire.
