- (3) Disclosure is not required under subclause (1) in respect of an interest that — within the meaning of the Corporations Act 2001 of the Commonwealth) in a public company as defined by that Act; and

Sch. 1

- (b) is shared in common with the other shareholders in the public company referred to in paragraph (a).
- (4) A disclosure made under this clause is to be recorded in the minutes of the Board.
- (5) If a director discloses his or her interest in a proposal under this clause, or his or her interest in a proposal is not such as need be disclosed under this clause, a transaction resulting from the proposal is not liable to be avoided on any ground arising from the fiduciary relationship between the director and the Centre.

3. General duties of directors

- (1) A director is at all times required to act honestly and diligently in performing his or her functions under this Act.
- (2) A director is not to disclose any information acquired by virtue of the performance of any function of the director unless the disclosure is made —
- (a) under a legal duty or in connection with the carrying out of this Act; or
 - (b) for the purposes of any proceedings arising out of this Act or any report of such proceedings.
- (3) A director is not to make use of any information acquired by virtue of the performance of his or her functions to gain directly or indirectly an improper advantage for himself or herself or to cause detriment to the Centre.

- (b) commits an offence against this Act and is liable to a fine of $5 000.

5. Court may grant relief to director

- (1) If, in any civil proceedings against a director for a breach of any provision of clause 2 or 3, it appears to the court before which those proceedings are brought that the director —
 - (a) is or may be liable in respect of that breach; but
 - (b) has acted honestly and that, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, the director ought fairly to be excused for that breach, that court may relieve the director either wholly or partly from liability on such terms as that court thinks fit.

- (2) A director who has reason to believe that any claim will or might be made against the director in respect of any breach referred to in subclause (1) may apply to the Supreme Court for relief, and the Supreme Court has the same power to relieve the director as it would have had under subclause (1) if it had been a court before which civil proceedings had been brought against the director for that breach.
- (3) When a case to which subclause (1) applies is being tried by a judge with a jury, the judge after hearing the evidence may, if he or she is satisfied that the defendant ought under that subclause to be relieved either wholly or partly from the liability sought to be enforced against the defendant, withdraw the case in whole or in part from the jury and forthwith direct judgment to be entered for the defendant on such terms concerning costs or otherwise as the judge thinks proper.

6. Saving

The provisions of this Part are in addition to and not in derogation of any other law relating to the duty or liability of the holder of a public office.
