Part IIIA — Standing elections

[Heading inserted by Gazette 23 May 1975 p.1398-9]

10A. Elections under section 37(10a) of the Act

(1) In this regulation —

“birthday” in relation to a contributor, means an anniversary of the date of his birth;

“primary entitlement standing election” means an election made under subsection (10a) of section 37 of the Act by a contributor electing to contribute for one-half of any increase in his total unit entitlement which may, from time to time, occur by reason of any increase in his salary which occurs while the election remains in force;

“standing election” means an election made under subsection (10a) of section 37 of the Act;

“total entitlement standing election” means an election made under subsection (10a) of section 37 of the Act by a contributor electing to contribute for the whole of any increase in his total unit entitlement which may, from time to time, occur by reason of any increase in his salary which occurs while the election remains in force.

(2) For the purposes of the succeeding provisions of this regulation —

(a) the first establishment day, in relation to a contributor who has made a standing election, means the day which is eight weeks immediately preceding the date on which the standing election is made except where the contributor has within the immediately preceding period of eight weeks made an election under subsection (10) of section 37 of the Act as a result of any salary increase occurring within that period, in which event the first establishment day shall be the day on which the last election under that subsection is made;

- (b) subject to subregulations (8) and (9) of this regulation, the succeeding establishment days, in relation to such a contributor, shall be —
 - (i) where the contributor's birthday falls on or before the fifteenth day in a month, the first day of the month that is two months before the contributor's next succeeding adjustment day; and
 - (ii) where the contributor's birthday falls on or after the sixteenth day in a month — the sixteenth day of the month that is two months before the contributor's next succeeding adjustment day;
- (c) the first adjustment day in relation to a contributor who has made a standing election means —
 - (i) except as provided in subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph — the day immediately preceding the contributor's birthday first occurring after his first establishment day except where that day would occur prior to 1st November, 1975, in which event the first adjustment day shall be the day immediately preceding the contributor's birthday second occurring after his first establishment day; or
 - (ii) where the contributor's first birthday occurring after his first establishment day is within three months of the day on which his standing election was received by the Board — the day immediately preceding the contributor's birthday second occurring after his first establishment day;
- (d) the succeeding adjustment days in relation to such a contributor shall be the succeeding days in each year immediately preceding the contributors birthdays occurring after his first adjustment day.

r. 10A

- (3) A standing election shall not be given effect to —
- (a) until it is received by the Board; and
 - (b) unless it indicates whether it is a primary entitlement standing election or a total entitlement standing election.
- (4) During any period for which a standing election is in force, the contributor who made the standing election shall, subject to the succeeding provisions of this regulation, be deemed for all purposes to have elected to contribute under subsection (10) of section 37 of the Act for the whole or one-half of any increase in his total entitlement occurring after his first establishment day but while the standing election remains in force, according to whether the standing election was a total entitlement standing election or a primary entitlement standing election, but contributions for those units shall be made as provided in the succeeding provisions of this regulation.
- (5) Where —
- (a) a contributor who made a standing election also makes an election under subsection (10) of section 37 of the Act for additional units, the entitlement to which arises from a salary increase occurring after his first establishment day; and
 - (b) but for this subregulation the number of units for which he so elected to contribute under subsection (10) of section 37 of the Act, together with the number of units for which he would be deemed to have elected to contribute under subregulation (4) of this regulation would exceed the increase in his total unit entitlement arising from that salary increase, the number of units for which he shall be deemed to have elected to contribute pursuant to subregulation (4) of this regulation arising from that salary increase shall be reduced to such number as, together with the units for which he so elected under subsection (10) of section 37 of the Act, equals the increase in his total unit entitlement arising from that salary increase.

- (6) Where a contributor has made a standing election his contributions shall on each adjustment day be increased by the same amount as his contributions would have been increased if he had on that adjustment day elected to contribute for the number of units that is equal to the number of units for which he is deemed to have become a contributor for under subregulation (4) of this regulation between his last preceding establishment day and the establishment day next preceding that last preceding establishment day.
- (7) A contributor may at any time serve on the Board notice in writing of revocation of a standing election and —
 - (a) such a revocation shall take effect on the establishment day next occurring after the notice is received by the Board; and
 - (b) the contributor's contributions shall nevertheless be adjusted on the adjustment day next occurring after that establishment day as if no revocation had occurred.
- (8) Where a contributor dies or retires under section 61 of the Act, and immediately prior thereto a standing election made by him was in force, no additional contributions shall be payable in respect of any units of pension for which he is deemed to have become a contributor after the last establishment day occurring prior to his death or retirement.
- (9) Where a contributor retires and becomes entitled to a pension under the Act other than in the circumstances described in subregulation (8) of this regulation, and a standing election made by that contributor was in force immediately prior to his retirement, the contributions payable in respect of any units for which he was deemed to have become a contributor and for which he has not yet made any contributions in accordance with this regulation shall be calculated at the rate for his age immediately prior to his retirement.

- (10) A contributor who has revoked a standing election is not entitled to make a further standing election without prior approval of the Board.

- (2) Unless the Board directs otherwise, where a contributor is granted leave of absence without pay, he shall either make payment in advance of the whole of the contributions which will become payable while he is on leave of absence without pay, or otherwise make payment of his contribution fortnightly during the time that he is on leave of absence without pay on the days when, if he were not on leave of absence without pay, the amount of every fortnightly payment of contribution would be deducted from his salary in accordance with the Act.
- (3) If any contributor to whom subregulation (2) of this regulation applies, fails or neglects to make payment of contributions in compliance with that subregulation, the Board may, upon application in writing permit payment of the arrears and interest on the arrears in such sums and at such periods as it may approve; but where the Board has so authorised the payment of arrears and interest by instalments, all those arrears and interest shall be paid by the contributor before a pension is authorised.

Section 33 (3).

33. (3) Where an employee who elects to become a contributor under this Act is employed in the Government Railways and Tramways Department and is liable to contribute to the Railway Death Benefit and Endowment Fund, such employee may, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Government Railways Act, 1904, as amended, or in any regulation or by-law made under that Act, elect at any time after he has become a contributor under this Act to cease to contribute to the Railway Death Benefit and Endowment Fund by a notice in writing signed by him and served upon the authority charged with the administration of or having the management and control of such last mentioned Fund; and where such an election is made the following provisions shall apply: —

- (b) The employee shall be entitled to be paid out of the said Fund and the authority aforesaid shall be and is hereby authorised to pay and shall pay out of the said Fund to the employee in respect of the contributions then previously made by him to the said Fund such amount as upon an actuarial determination by the Government Actuary is a reasonable surrender value for such contributions; or
- (c) At the option of the employee, the amount to which he is entitled as mentioned in paragraph (b) hereof shall, instead of being paid to the employee, be paid to the Board and, when paid to the Board, shall be held to the credit of the employee as such contributor under this Act, and be applied at the option of the employee for either of the following purposes, that is to say: —
 - (a) in satisfaction of the contributions from time to time payable by the contributor under this Act until such time as the said amount has been fully applied in such manner; or
 - (b) subject to the regulations and provided the said amount is sufficient, in payment forthwith by one lump sum of such sum as may be certified by the State Government Actuary to be required to redeem forthwith all future contributions which would be payable fortnightly under this Act by the contributor in respect of the number of units of pension stated by the State Government Actuary in his said Certificate:

Provided that —

- (i) where the amount held by the Board as aforesaid can be applied only as to a part thereof for the purpose mentioned in subparagraph (b) of this paragraph, the said amount shall, at the option of the employee, be applied as to such part for the purpose mentioned in subparagraph (b) aforesaid, and thereafter the balance of such amount shall be applied for the purpose mentioned in subparagraph (a) of this paragraph; and
