Prostitution Act 2000

Prostitution (Restraining Orders) Regulations 2000

1. Citation

These regulations may be cited as the Prostitution (Restraining Orders) Regulations 2000.

2. Commencement

These regulations come into operation on the day on which the Prostitution Act 2000 comes into operation.

3. Forms

- (1) The forms set out in Schedule 1 are prescribed in relation to the matters specified in those forms.
- (2) It is sufficient compliance with the Act if a form substantially in compliance with the prescribed form is used.

4. Affidavit

An affidavit accompanying an application for leave to apply to vary or cancel a restraining order is to be sworn before a justice.

5. Orders under section 37

- (1) When a court makes a restraining order under section 37 of the Act the court is to make a written record of the proceedings in the prescribed form and cause the form to be placed on the court records.

- (2) For the purposes of section 42 of the Act, when a court makes a restraining order under section 37 of the Act, the order is taken to have been made on the application of the Commissioner of Police.

6. Service of applications

- (1) A person making an application under section 38 of the Act for a restraining order must cause a copy of the application to be served on the person sought to be restrained.
- (2) A person making an application under section 42 of the Act to vary or cancel a restraining order must cause a copy of the application to be served on —
- (a) if the application is made by a police officer, the restrained person; or
  - (b) if the application is made by the restrained person, the person on whose application the restraining order was made.
- (3) Part 6 Division 2 of the Restraining Orders Act 1997 applies in relation to the service of an application relating to a restraining order under the Act as if it were a summons relating to a restraining order under the Restraining Orders Act 1997.

7. Service of restraining orders

Part 6 Division 2 of the Restraining Orders Act 1997 applies in relation to the service of a restraining order under the Act as if it were a restraining order under the Restraining Orders Act 1997.

8. Notification

Part 6 Division 2 of the Restraining Orders Act 1997 applies in relation to the notification of a matter under the Act as if it were the notification of a matter under the Restraining Orders Act 1997.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Prostitution restraining order

A restraining order has been made against you on the terms set out on the front of this order. It will take effect when it is served on you and it will remain in force until it expires or is varied or cancelled by a court. You must comply with this order at all times while it is in force.

If there is a duration specified in the order, the order expires at the end of the specified period. If there is no duration specified in the order, it expires 1 year after it was served on you.

If, in the future, there is a substantial change in the circumstances which led to the order being made you may apply to the court for leave to apply to have the order varied or cancelled. If you would like more information about doing this you should consult your lawyer or the registrar of the court.

Penalty It is an offence to breach this restraining order. If you do, you may be arrested and will face a penalty of up to $5 000.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Application for leave to apply to vary or cancel

As the restrained person, before you are allowed to apply to vary or cancel the restraining order you must apply for leave to make that application.

When you file your application for leave you must also file an affidavit setting out all the facts that you know about that are material to the application — this includes all the facts that may go against your application as well as the ones that support it. If you do not do this the court may reject your application.

At the hearing of the application for leave you must convince the court that there has been a substantial change in the relevant circumstances since the restraining order was made. If the court is not satisfied that there has been a substantial change of circumstances your application for leave will be dismissed

If the court is satisfied that there has been a substantial change of circumstances it will order you to serve a copy of this application on the person who originally applied for the restraining order (this will usually be the Commissioner of Police). That person will then be able to attend court to oppose your application for leave if he or she wishes to do so.

If the court grants you leave, you must then lodge an application to vary or cancel the restraining order.

If you do not attend the hearing of your application for leave, your application may be dismissed.
