HIS Excellency the Governor directs the publication of the following Notice for general information.

By His Excellency's Command,
ROGER TUCKER^D. GOLDSWORTHY,
Colonial Secretary.

Hydrographic Notice.

[No. 8.]

NEW ZEALAND PILOT.

NOTICE No. 5.

The following information relating to ports and coast of New Zealand has been derived from Notices issued by the New Zealand Government:—1877.

[All bearings are Magnetic. Variation in 1878.]

Kaipara harbour - 14° 00' E. | Dusky Sound - 16° 20' E.

NORTH ISLAND.—EAST COAST.*

MONGANUI HARBOUR.—The flagstaff formerly on the hill over the south entrance point does not now exist.

WANGAROA BAY.—Mr. Dennis, master of barque Royal Diadem, reported in 1875 the existence of a rock rather close in-shore, about 1½ miles S.W. from the West head, and which breaks with but very little swell on; the position, however, is doubtful.

WANGARURU HARBOUR. †—A sunken rock is reported to exist at 3 cables South of the small islet which bears East 6 cables from Hay island: this, however, needs confirmation.

AUCKLAND HARBOUR. Rangitoto island.—The west point of this island is marked by a beacon.

BEAN ROCKS.—The iron framework from which Bean rocks light is exhibited is not conspicuous from seaward by daylight.

TAURANGA HARBOUR. Stony point.—There are two beacons on Stony point close together, consisting of staves and cages, the inner beacon painted black and the outer white.

The eastern edge of the main bank opposite Maketu mound is marked by two pile beacons.

WAI-APU RIVER. Anchorage.—H.M.S. Sappho in 1875 anchored off the mouth of this river in 7 fathoms water, about three-quarters of a mile off shore, 5 miles southward of East cape, with the cape bearing N. by E.; and the north entrance point of Wai-apu river W.S.W. This anchorage, affording shelter from off-shore winds, is much frequented by coasting vessels wind bound.

WELLINGTON.—Time Ball. ‡—On certain days (notified in the New Zealand Times) a time ball painted red and white is dropped from a staff at the custom house at the instant of mean noon corresponding to longitude 172° 30' E. § which meridian, determined on the assumption that Wellington observatory is situated in longitude 174° 48' 50" E., has been adopted to ensure uniformity of time throughout the colony of New Zealand.

Alzdorf jetty in Lambton harbour has been removed.

NORTH ISLAND.—WEST COAST.

KAIPIRA HARBOUR.¶ North East or Kemp Channel.—The outer edge of the bar of this channel has shifted about $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles seaward, and there is now a depth of 5 fathoms water on it at low-water springs with 15 fathoms close to outside. Inside the bar a depth of 6 to 7 fathoms is maintained for about $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles, when the water gradually deepens to 23 fathoms, between Tory shoal and North spit.

TORY SHOAL has considerably extended towards North spit, and the channel between is only three-quarters of a mile wide with deep water close to either side.

NORTH SPIT extends three-quarters of a mile farther seaward than formerly.

DIRECTIONS FOR ENTERING.—Bring Puki-tu to bear E. by N., and proceed on that course until the middle green hillock on North Sand head bears N.E. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. (a conspicuous conical hill called Wakahuranga bearing N.E. distant 10 miles from North Sand head will now appear just open east of North Sand head); from this position steer N.E. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. with the beacon, house, and semaphore flagstaff (all standing behind the green patch on the middle hillock on North Sand head) in line until Puki-tu bears E.S.E., when Wakahuranga will appear immediately over North Sand head, a vessel will then be guided by semaphore, steering in the direction towards which the arm points, and steadying the course when it is dropped. If the signals are not seen, a vessel should keep from a quarter to half a mile off the northern shore until abreast the semaphore station, when a course may be steered for either Kaipara or Wairoa rivers.

TIDES.—Both ebb and floods streams set slightly towards the north shore of the North East or Kemp channel, great care should therefore be exercised when beating, or in light winds.

MIDDLE ISLAND.—EAST COAST.

PORT LYTTELTON.—The channel between the moles of the inner harbour of port Lyttelton is 200 feet wide, and has been dredged to a depth of 16 feet.

AKAROA HARBOUR. Observation Point.—The buoy marking the outer extremity of the reef off this point is painted red.

OTAGO HARBOUR. Tide Signals.—From a flagstaff at port Chalmers signals are made showing the least depth of water in the southern channel leading to Dunedin from the first quarter flood until high water.

Tables of the signals used can be obtained at the harbour offices, at Dunedin and port Chalmers.

MIDDLE ISLAND.—WEST COAST.

DUSKY SOUND. Facile harbour.—A ledge of sunken rocks with 9 feet of water over it lies in the centre of the entrance to the cove on the north-east side of Facile harbour.

DUCK COVE.—A sunken rock, with about 6 feet water over it at low water, lies W. by N. from Porpoise point (the eastern point of Duck cove) distant about 3 cables.

AWARUA POINT.—A reef of rocks is reported to extend from Awarua point, the north point of Big bay, in a westerly direction for a distance of $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles. The coast between Milford sound and cascade point should be approached with great care.
