SYDNEY INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, 1879.

The proposal to hold an International Exhibition in Australia originated with the Agricultural Society of New South Wales, whose annual Exhibitions have for many years been conducted with success.

In February, 1878, the Government of the Colony lent its sanction to the programme of the Agricultural Society, and caused it to be published in the Gazette. The Imperial authorities also gave their countenance, and communicated to Foreign Governments that an International Exhibition would be held in Sydney in August, 1879.

Meanwhile, the attention of the exhibitors of all nations assembled at Paris was drawn to the project by the N. S. Wales Commission there, which gave it wide publicity, and acted with a committee in London in receiving applications for space from Great Britain and other European countries, and in furnishing all necessary information.

The growing magnitude the Exhibition assumed, and the deep interest evinced in the undertaking at home and abroad, made it evident that it had developed into a work of national importance, altogether beyond the powers and resources of the Agricultural Society; therefore, in November, 1878, the Government accepted the responsibility of carrying it out.

A site worthy of the occasion has been chosen in the Domain, and spacious buildings are being erected by the Government.

The Parliament has voted a liberal grant in support of the undertaking, and the Commission appeals to the people of New South Wales, so to represent the natural wealth, the abundant products, and the magnificent resources of this Colony, that, while doing justice to themselves on their own soil, they may fitly honor the guests who will come from all parts of the world to participate in the first International Exhibition ever held in Australasia.

If this Colony should do its part worthily, the Commission hopes, with the co-operation of Foreign Nations, the Mother Country, and the other Colonies, to carry the Exhibition to a successful issue.

The Exhibition will be opened the first week in September, 1879, and will remain open for six months.

REGULATIONS.

1. Applications for space, with full particulars, are invited as early as possible. Copies of the official form of entry can be obtained upon application to the Secretary. The space reserved by the Commission in London for Great Britain and all other European countries will be retained for that purpose, and the necessary sub-divisions made in accordance with the general plans.

2. Applications for space to be made to the Commission, in Sydney, at least one month prior to the date of opening.

3. In the event of no representatives being appointed by the country or colony to which an intending exhibitor belongs, he can communicate direct with the Secretary.

4. The representatives of countries and colonies should furnish approximate plans showing the manner of allotting the space assigned to them, and list of their exhibitors, prior to the 1st of August, 1879.

5. Exhibits can be addressed to the Commission for each country or colony at Sydney, but, where such a representative does not exist, they can, or where the exhibits belong to New South Wales they should, be addressed to

THE COMMISSION,
INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, 1879,
Sydney, New South Wales.

6. Packages forwarded from countries and colonies represented at the Exhibition should be addressed

THE COMMISSION FOR.....

INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, 1879,
Sydney, New South Wales.

and have two labels bearing the flag of the country or colony to which the exhibitor belongs.

Packages from foreign countries containing goods intended for the Exhibition must likewise have painted on them as distinctive marks the letters S. I. E. in a diamond.

Packages from foreign countries must all be marked in such a way as to show distinctly from where they come.

7. The transportation, unpacking, and arranging exhibits, are to be undertaken by the exhibitor, or his agent, at his own expense; in cases, however, where the exhibitor is not present, and has not employed an agent, the Commission will have the exhibits unpacked, displayed, and repacked, making a small, uniform, and proportionate charge for the same, but the receiving at the doors of the Exhibition Buildings, and placing the unpacked cases on the proper spaces will not be charged for.

8. Exhibits will be admitted free of duty. The removal of goods, except under special circumstances, will not be permitted prior to the close of the Exhibition. Facilities will be given for the sale of exhibits to be delivered after the close of the Exhibition.

9. A special provision will be made by Parliament for the protection of inventions capable of being patented in New South Wales.

10. The general reception of articles in the Exhibition Building will commence on July 1st, 1879.

The plans for the display and accommodation of such objects as may require either special arrangements or exceptional works for their erection, must receive the approval of the Commission before they are executed, and the works must be carried out under the supervision of its officers.

11. Space assigned to countries and colonies, and not occupied on the first day of September, 1879, will revert to the Commission, and will be subject to re-arrangement.

12. If exhibits are not intended for competition, it must be so stated by the exhibitors, and they will be excluded from examination by the International Judges.

13. An Official Catalogue will be published in English by the Commission. Each country however may produce, at its own expense and in its own language, a special catalogue of the objects exhibited in its section.

The Commission reserves the right of sale of the Official Catalogue.

14. No work of art, nor any article whatever, exhibited in the buildings, parks, or gardens may be drawn, copied, or reproduced in any manner whatsoever without the permission of the Exhibitor and the Commission.

15. Steam power will be supplied in a limited quantity gratuitously. The Commissioners desire to encourage the display of machinery in motion, and will endeavour to provide power to meet all reasonable demands.

16. All fittings, show cases, shelving, &c., which exhibitors require, must be provided at their own expense, and also all shaftings, pulleys, belting, &c., for the traces and measures of power from the main shaft. The Commissioners will, however, arrange to furnish show cases by contract, at a price per cubic foot, the cost to be borne by the exhibitor using the same. All artistic decorations and arrangements must be approved by the Commission.

17. The Commission reserves the right of rejecting or returning any proposed exhibit; articles that are in any way dangerous, or offensive, or injurious to public decency or morality will not be admitted into the Exhibition.

18. The duty of deciding upon the admission of works of art will devolve upon an Advisory Committee. Special and suitable space will be reserved for the exhibition of such ancient pictures and works of art as may be so admitted.

19. The Commission will take every precaution for the safe preservation of all objects in the Exhibition, but they will be in no way responsible for damage or loss of any kind, or accidents by fire or otherwise, however caused.

20. Facilities will be afforded the representatives of countries, and colonies, and private exhibitors for insuring their goods, and they may also employ watchmen of their own choice to guard their goods during the hours the Exhibition is open to the public. The appointment of such watchmen will be subject to the approval of the Commission. These persons must wear a special dress or distinctive badge, and will have the power of calling the police to their aid.

21. Awards shall be based on written reports, attested by the signatures of their authors. The Judges will be selected for their known qualifications and character, and will be experts in the departments to which they will be respectively assigned. One half of the Judges will be appointed by the Commission of each country or colony, in conformity with the distribution and allotment to each, which will be hereafter announced. The Judges from New South Wales will be appointed by the International Exhibition Commission.

Reports and awards shall be based upon inherent and comparative merit. The elements of merit shall be held to include considerations relating to originality, invention, discovery, utility, quality, skill, workmanship, fitness for the purposes intended, adaptation to public wants, economy, and cost.

Each report will be delivered to the International Exhibition Commission, as soon as completed, for final award and publication.

Awards will be finally decreed by the Sydney International Exhibition Commission, and will consist of a diploma, with a medal, and a Special Report of the Judges on the subject of the award.

Each exhibitor will have the right to produce and publish the report awarded to him, but the Sydney International Commission reserves the right to publish and dispose of all reports in the manner it thinks best for public information, and also to publish and distribute the reports in regard to the Exhibition.

22. With respect to live stock, the same system of awards will be used, but it is proposed that there should, in addition to the medals and reports, be special prizes. Full programmes and further regulations in reference to the exhibition of live stock will be published hereafter.

23. Within two months after the close of the Exhibition, Exhibitors, or their duly authorised Agents, shall remove their effects.

Goods remaining beyond that period shall be removed and sold by auction, or otherwise disposed of under the direction of the Executive Commissioner, and the net proceeds handed to the Exhibitors, or their duly appointed Agents.

24. Every person who becomes an Exhibitor hereby undertakes and acknowledges to observe the rules and regulations established for the Government of the Exhibition.

25. The Commission reserves the right to alter, amend, explain, or add to these regulations.

26. Full information upon any question of details can be obtained on application at the
