Notice is hereby given that on and after December 25, 1889, until February 28, 1890, a Red Buoy, with a red flag and the words "Torpedo Buoy" painted on it, will be placed in the entrance to Trincomalee Harbor between Ostenburg Point and Little Sober Island, and 260 yards from the former.

The water in the triangle formed by this Red Buoy, the E. Point of Small Sober Island, and Clappenburg Point, will be obstructed by mines.

ADDITIONAL LIGHTS IN GREAT SANDY ISLAND STRAIT.

NOTICE is hereby given that on and after Thursday, 2nd January, the following additional lights will be exhibited to enable vessels to navigate Great Sandy Island Strait by night:—

One white light near the white beacon, marking the northern extremity of the bank N.W. of Snout Point;

One white light bearing North, easterly; and

One white light S. by E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E. easterly from the first light, giving with it two leads—one towards Fig-tree Camp, the other towards the Fairway Buoy;

Two lights—the front red, the other white—are placed near the Fig-tree Camp, and lead southwards of Stewart's Island;

Two lights—one white, the other red—on the bank northwards of the Stewart's Island Cutting, and leading through the centre of the channel;

Two lights—one white and the other red—on Moonboom Island, leading over to that Island;

One green light on a dolphin N.E. of Moonboom Island in 11 feet at low water;

One white light off the western shore of Great Sandy Island;

Two lights—one red and one white—leading through Roundbush Cutting;

One red light, on a dolphin, standing in 11 feet of water at low water, in line with the back light of the next pair of lights, and then in line with that of the last pair, leads N.  $\frac{3}{4}$  W., and then N.N.E. easterly, respectively, to the entrance of the cutting northward of the Roundbush;

Two lights—one red and the other white—lead through that cutting, towards a red beacon standing on a projecting spit on the West side of the channel, and afterwards lead through a Cutting further to the N.E. near the lower White Cliffs;

One red light on the above red beacon;

Two white lights are placed on the shore of Great Sandy Island, below the watering place, and lead just to the eastward of the Junction Buoy.

Directions at Night.

After passing the South Fairway Buoy, bring the two white leading lights in one, on a North, easterly bearing, until within a short cable's distance of the lower light; then stand northwards passing it on the starboard hand bringing it on with a third white light to the S. by E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E. easterly; keep them in line until the Fig-tree lights are nearly reached, when gradually bring them in line and keep them so until the Stewart's Island Cutting Lights are coming in line; keep them in line until the Moonboom Lights are in one. Leave the Moonboom line when within half a cable of the red light, and pass at a ship's length on the port hand the green light to the North-east of the Island; then pass on the starboard hand the white light on the Great Sandy Island shore at a similar distance; then keep the red and white Roundbush Lights in line until a red light to the N.N.W. is brought in line with the back light of the next or South White Cliffs lead; keep this line until nearing the red light, when steer to pass it on the port hand at a ship's length, and bring it in line with the back light of the Roundbush Lead. As the South White Cliff Lights are closing, haul up and keep on that line until approaching a red light on the beacon on the West Banks, then haul well out to the N.N.E. and leave it at a good cable's distance, a spit running out thence in that direction. When well past the red light, haul in again and bring it in line with the same leading lights.

When the steep shore of Great Sandy Island is approached follow it round the right at a distance of a short half cable, and after passing the creek bring the two white lights on the Island in line, which lead into the main channel just to the Eastward of the Junction Buoy.

On coming Southwards, when passing the South White Cliffs keep the leading lights in line until the black beacon at the western end of the first Cutting is passed, then haul out to the W.S.W. until abreast the red light on the West Banks, when haul in and regain the line of lights.
