Each such ballot paper shall have a number printed or written on the back, and shall have attached a counterfoil with the same number printed or written on the face. Such ballot paper shall contain on its face the christian and surname of each candidate, arranged alphabetically according to such surnames, and if there are two candidates of the same surname, then according to the christian names of such candidates: And no other matter or thing shall be inserted on the face of such ballot paper. Procedure at central polling-place on day of election.

50. THE polling shall take place at the central polling-place before the Returning Officer himself as Presiding Officer, and, at any district polling-places, before the Presiding Officers appointed as hereinbefore mentioned. 51. THE voting shall be by ballot. The Presiding Officer at any polling-place shall, immediately before proceeding to take the poll, exhibit the ballot-box empty and shall then lock the same and take the key out, and shall then keep the said box and the said key in his own charge until the close of the poll. Every person who shall be qualified and entitled to vote, and who shall be desirous of voting, shall present himself to the Presiding Officer at any polling-place or district polling-place, and shall state his name and address; and if such Presiding Officer finds that the name of such person is on the Electoral Register, he shall be entitled to ask him the questions hereinafter mentioned, and if such questions are answered satisfactorily, or if such questions are dispensed with, the Presiding Officer shall take a ballot paper (as hereinbefore mentioned) and having written his own initials on the back thereof, and having written on the counterfoil the name of the proposed voter on the Electoral Register, and having further made a mark against the name of such person on the Electoral Register to signify that a ballot paper has been given to such person, shall give such paper to the voter, and the voter having received the said paper shall retire to a compartment screened from observation, but within the said polling-place, to be provided for that purpose, and there alone and in private, without interruption, indicate the name of any candidate or candidates for whom he votes by drawing a line or lines through the name of each candidate for whom he does not vote, and shall then fold the said paper so as to show the initials of the Returning Officer on the back, and shall then deliver it so folded to the Presiding Officer, who, on seeing that such paper contains his own initials, shall, without opening the same, deposit it in the ballot-box aforesaid. And no voting paper deposited in such box shall on any account be taken therefrom until after the close of the polling as hereinafter mentioned. No voting paper shall be received unless it be folded so as to show the Presiding Officer's initials, and at the same time to render it impossible for the Presiding Officer or any other person to see for which candidate or candidates the vote is given.

Method of voting for persons living out of the district or beyond thirty miles of a polling-place.

52. IT shall be lawful for any person being qualified to vote for any Electoral District or Division who, prior to the day fixed for any election in such District or Division shall be within any other District or Division, or who shall reside more than thirty miles from a polling-place for the District or Division for which he desires to vote, to go before a Resident or Police Magistrate, or some other person duly appointed by the Governor by notice in the Government Gazette as a person authorised to take votes at elections, and demand to be allowed to vote for the Electoral District or Division for which he is qualified to vote, as aforesaid; and the said Resident or Police Magistrate or appointee as aforesaid shall then write the name of the Electoral District or Division for which such person desires to vote, and also the name and address of such person, and the date, on two counterfoils, each of which shall be marked with the same number, and shall, having signed his name on the back of a ballot paper, give the same to such elector; and on the face of such ballot paper the said Resident or Police Magistrate or appointee as aforesaid shall write simply the name of the Electoral District or Division for which the voter proposes to vote, and on the back shall be a number corresponding to the number upon the aforesaid counterfoils; and the voter having received the said paper shall then write thereon the name of the candidate or candidates for whom he votes, and shall then fold it up, and in the presence of the said Resident or Police Magistrate or appointee as aforesaid shall put the same into an envelope; and the said Resident or Police Magistrate or appointee as aforesaid shall then put one of the corresponding counterfoils into a separate envelope, and shall seal up each such envelope, and shall write the words "Ballot Paper" on both sides of the envelope containing the ballot paper, and the word "Counterfoil" on both sides of that containing the counterfoil, and shall then himself send both envelopes by post or otherwise to the Returning Officer.

Duty of Returning Officer with respect to ballot papers received from such persons.

The Returning Officer, on receipt of any such envelopes, shall, without opening them, retain them in his possession until the commencement of the poll, and shall during the taking of the poll at any convenient time or times in the presence of the scrutineers, proceed to open the envelopes containing the counterfoils, and having made a mark on the copy of the Electoral Register in use at his polling-place against the name of each person who appears by such counterfoils to have voted, shall keep such counterfoils in the same manner as the counterfoils of the ballot papers used by him at such election. Having thus dealt with the counterfoils, the Returning Officer shall proceed to open the envelopes containing the ballot papers, allowing the scrutineers the opportunity (if they desire it) of seeing that the seals of the said envelopes are intact; and as he takes out any ballot paper from its envelope, he shall, without opening the same, deposit it in the ballot-box.

Any person who shall have been to a Resident or Police Magistrate or appointee as aforesaid, for the purpose of voting under this section, and shall have complied with the provisions of this section, shall be deemed to all intents and purposes to have voted at such election, although the said envelopes or either of them may not have been sent to the Returning Officer, or although they or either of them have miscarried.

For all subsequent purposes, the Returning Officer shall treat any counterfoils and ballot papers received in accordance with the provisions of this section in the same way that he is required to treat counterfoils of ballot papers given by himself to voters and ballot papers received by himself from voters. The ballot papers and counterfoils to be used under this section shall be in the form given in Schedule E. hereto.

Any voting paper shall be and shall be held to be in due and proper form so far as the name of a candidate is concerned, provided the name of the candidate for whom the voter desires to vote be lawfully indicated as aforesaid.

53. A VOTER who has inadvertently dealt with his ballot paper in such manner that it cannot conveniently or properly be used as a ballot paper, may, on delivering to the Presiding Officer, Resident or Police Magistrate, or appointee, as the case may be, the ballot paper so inadvertently dealt with, and proving the fact of the inadvertence to the satisfaction of the Presiding Officer, Magistrate or appointee as aforesaid, obtain another ballot paper in the place of the ballot paper so delivered up; and the said ballot paper shall be immediately cancelled and destroyed, and a memorandum of such cancellation and destruction endorsed on the counterfoil thereof.

Provision with respect to ballot papers inadvertently spoilt.

54. NO inquiry shall be permitted at any election as to the right of any person to vote, except only as follows (that is to say),—The presiding officer may (or, if required to do so by either of the scrutineers aforesaid, shall) put to any person at the time of his applying for a ballot paper as aforesaid, and not afterwards, the following questions, or either of them, and no other:—

None but certain questions to be put to voters by Presiding Officer.

First—Are you the person whose name appears as [here specify the name contained in the electoral register] in the electoral register now in force for this electoral district, being registered therein for property described to be situated in [here specify the place described in the electoral register]?

Second—Have you already voted at the present election for this district?

And no person required to answer any of the said questions shall be permitted or qualified to vote, nor shall any ballot paper be given to such person, until and unless he shall have answered the same in such manner as to show that he is qualified and entitled to vote.

55. AT six o'clock the Presiding Officer at any District Polling-place shall fasten up and seal the ballot-box, so that it shall be impossible to take any paper out of the same without breaking the seals; and it shall also be lawful for the scrutineers in like manner to affix their seals on the said box; and such being done, the Presiding Officer shall at once enclose in a strong envelope the counterfoils of the ballot papers which have been used at the said District Polling-place, together with such ballot papers and counterfoils as were supplied to him for the purpose of the election and have not been used, and shall affix his seal thereto; and it shall be lawful for the said scrutineers likewise to affix their seals thereto. And the said Presiding Officer shall then with all possible despatch convey or send the said box to the Returning Officer, together with the copy of the Electoral Register delivered to him as aforesaid, and the said sealed envelope containing the ballot papers and counterfoils as aforesaid.

Procedure at District Polling-places at close of the poll.

56. AT the close of the poll, at the Central Polling-place, the Returning Officer shall in like manner fasten up and seal the ballot-box, and it shall be lawful also for the scrutineers as aforesaid to affix their seals to the same; he shall also put into a secure envelope the counterfoils of the ballot papers used by him at the said election and shall seal the same, and it shall also be lawful for the candidates or their agents to affix their seals thereto. The Returning Officer shall then adjourn the proceedings, until he has received the returns from all the District Polling-places. When he has received all such returns, he shall, having given notice to the candidates or their agents, proceed, in the presence of such candidates or their agents (if they choose to attend), to count the votes and ascertain the result of the poll. In so doing he shall open the ballot-box used at any polling-place, and, without examining the ballot papers, ascertain the number of ballot papers contained in such box, and make a memorandum of such number. He shall go on to do the like with respect to the ballot-box used at each polling-place. He shall then mix all the ballot papers up together and then proceed, from examination of the ballot papers, to ascertain the result of the poll. And in so doing it shall be lawful for the Returning Officer to reject, as null and void, any voting paper on which is written any matter or thing which is not justified by this Act to be written thereon, or by which any voter may purport to vote for more candidates than he is authorised to vote for; and he shall endorse on any ballot paper which he may reject, the word "rejected," and the Returning Officer shall be the sole judge as to whether any voting paper shall be rejected or not; Provided always, that his decision shall be subject to reversal, on petition presented to the Court established under this Act for the hearing of election petitions. Any candidate or his agent may be allowed to inspect the face of any voting paper; but the Returning Officer shall not allow any such paper to go out of his hands. The Returning Officer having ascertained the result, shall then and there declare the name or names of the person or persons who shall have been duly elected at such election; and in the event of the number of votes being found to be equal for any two or more candidates, such Returning Officer may, whether his name be or be not on the Electoral Register as a person entitled to vote for the District or Division by his casting vote or votes decide which of the said candidates shall be elected. Provided however, that no Returning Officer shall vote at any election for the Electoral District of which he is the Returning Officer, except in the case of an equality of votes as aforesaid. Provided however, that it shall and may be lawful for any Presiding Officer (other than the Returning Officer), if duly qualified to vote at the election, to take his own vote in like manner, and subject to the same restrictions, as he would take the vote of any other qualified person.

Names of persons elected to be endorsed on writ.

57. THE name or names of the person or persons declared by the Returning Officer to have been duly elected, shall be inserted in or endorsed on the election writ by the Returning Officer, and such writ shall be returned within the time for that purpose specified therein.

Duty of Returning

58. THE Returning Officer shall forthwith after the said election make all the said ballot papers, together with the sealed envelopes containing the counterfoils as aforesaid, up into a parcel or bundle, and shall affix his seal thereto, and it shall be lawful for the candidates or their agents also to seal the same. He shall then proceed in private to examine the several certified copies of the Electoral Register supplied to the various polling-places, in order to ascertain whether any person appears to have voted more than once at the said election. He shall also proceed to compare the number of persons who appear by each copy of the Electoral Register to have voted at the respective polling-places with the number of ballot papers received from each of such polling-places. The Returning Officer shall then forward the said sealed parcel of ballot papers and counterfoils, and the said copies of the Electoral Register, to the Clerk of the Legislative Chamber to which the election refers, who shall thenceforth have the care and custody of the same; but the said clerk shall not inspect or allow inspection of the same or allow them to go out of his custody, except on the order of a Judge. And the Returning Officer shall at the same time also forward to the said Clerk a certificate under his hand, showing the number of persons who appear to have voted at each polling-place for the District or Division, and the number of ballot papers received from each polling-place, and the name or names of the person or persons (if any) who may appear to have voted more than once at the said election. And a copy of the said certificate shall be published in the Government Gazette.

59. WHEN the proceedings at any election shall be interrupted or obstructed by any riot or open violence, whether such proceedings shall consist of the nomination of candidates or of the taking the poll, the Returning Officer or the deputy of the Returning Officer shall not for such cause terminate the business of such nomination, nor finally close the poll, but shall adjourn the nomination or the taking the poll at the particular polling place or places at which such interruption or obstruction shall have happened, and, if necessary, shall further adjourn such nomination or poll as the case may require until such interruption or obstruction shall have ceased, when the Returning Officer or his deputy shall again proceed with the business of the nomination or with the taking the poll at the place or places at which the same respectively may have been interrupted or obstructed.

Adjournment of nomination or polling in case of riot.

60. IF any person misconducts himself in the polling-place, or fails to obey the lawful orders of the Presiding Officer, he may immediately, by order of the Presiding Officer, be removed from the polling-place by any constable in or near that place, or any other person authorised in writing by the Returning Officer to remove him; and the person so removed shall not, unless with the permission of the Presiding Officer, again be allowed to enter the polling-place during the day. Any person so removed as aforesaid, if charged with the commission in such place of any offence, may be kept in custody until he can be brought before a Justice of the Peace. Provided that the powers conferred by this section shall not be exercised so as to prevent any elector who is otherwise entitled to vote at any polling-place from having an opportunity of voting at such place.

Keeping order in polling-place.

61. EVERY officer, clerk, policeman, or scrutineer in attendance at a polling-place shall maintain and aid in maintaining the secrecy of the voting in such place; and shall not communicate, except for some purpose authorised by law, before the poll is closed, to any person any information as to the name or number on the Register of Voters of any elector who has or has not applied for a ballot paper or voted at that place; and no such officer, clerk, policeman, or agent, and no person whosoever, shall interfere with or attempt to interfere with a voter when marking his vote, or otherwise attempt to obtain in the polling-place information as to the candidate for whom any voter in such place is about to vote, or has voted, or communicate at any time to any person any information obtained in a polling-place as to the candidate for whom any voter in such place is about to vote or has voted, or as to the number on the back of the ballot paper given to any voter at such place. Every officer, clerk, and agent in attendance at the counting of the votes shall maintain and aid in maintaining the secrecy of the voting, and shall not attempt to ascertain at such counting the number on the back of any ballot paper, or communicate any information obtained at such counting as to the candidate for whom any vote is given in any particular ballot paper. No person shall directly or indirectly induce any voter to display his ballot paper after he shall have marked the same, so as to make known to any person the name of the candidate for or against whom he has so marked his vote.

under Section 40,
how to be dealt with.

62. IN case that any candidate at any election shall fail to receive a number of votes equal at least to one-fifth part of the votes received by the successful candidate if only one, or by such one of the successful candidates, if there shall be more than one, as shall have received the smallest number of votes, the said sum of Twenty-five pounds deposited by such candidate in the hands of the Returning Officer, in pursuance of the provisions of the fortieth section of this Act, shall be forfeited by such candidate, and shall forthwith be paid by the Returning Officer to the Colonial Treasurer, for the general purposes of the Colony. And after every election, the Returning Officer shall pay to any successful candidate, and to any unsuccessful candidate who shall so have received a number of votes equal at least to one-fifth part as aforesaid, the sum of Twenty-five pounds deposited by him as aforesaid.

Errors of form not to vitiate election.

63. NO election shall be held to be void in consequence solely of any delay of any of the stages of such election beyond the time appointed, or in the return of the writ, or the necessary absence of the Returning Officer, or of any Deputy, the use of written instead of printed registers, or any error on the part of any Returning Officer or Deputy, which shall not affect the result of the election, or of any error or impediment of a mere formal nature; and within the period of twenty days before or after the day appointed for the holding of any election, the Governor-in-Council may extend the time allowed for the holding of such election, or, as aforesaid, the return of the writ issued for the same, and may adopt, or cause to be adopted, such measures as may be necessary to remove any obstacle by which the due course of any election may be impeded, and may supply any deficiency that may otherwise affect the same: Provided that any measures so adopted shall be duly notified in the Government Gazette.
