seventeen and a half inches thick for the height of the next three storeys, and then thirteen inches thick for the rest of its height.

If the wall exceeds forty-five feet in length it shall be increased in thickness in each of the storeys below the uppermost two storeys by four and a half inches (subject to the provision in this Schedule respecting distribution in piers).

- j. If any storey exceeds in height sixteen times the thickness prescribed under this Schedule for the walls of such storey, the thickness of each external and party wall throughout such storey shall be increased to one-sixteenth part of the height of the storey; and the thickness of each external and party wall below that storey shall be increased to a like extent, but any such additional thickness may be confined to piers properly distributed, of which the collective widths amount to one-fourth part of the length of the wall.

- k. No storey enclosed with walls less than thirteen inches in thickness shall be more than fourteen feet in height between the floor and ceiling thereof or between the floor and the tie of the roof.

- l. All buildings, excepting public buildings and such buildings as are in these By-laws defined to be buildings of the warehouse class, shall, as respects the thickness of their walls, be subject to the provision contained in this part of this Schedule.

PART II.

BUILDINGS OF THE WAREHOUSE CLASS.

No house, building, or other erection shall be erected upon any site or portion of any site which shall have been filled up or covered with any material impregnated or mixed with any fecal, animal, or vegetable matter, or which shall have been filled up or covered with dust, or slop, or other refuse, or in or upon which any such matter or refuse shall have been deposited, unless and until such matter or refuse shall have been properly removed, by excavation or otherwise, from such site. Any holes caused by such excavation must, if not used for a basement or cellar, be filled in with hard brick or dry rubbish, or concrete, or other material to be approved by the Surveyor.

The site of every house or building shall be covered with a layer of good concrete at least six inches thick and smoothed on the upper surface.

The foundations of the walls of every house or building shall be formed of a bed of good concrete not less than nine inches thick and projecting at least four inches on each side of the lowest course of footings of such walls. If the site be upon a natural bed of gravel or sand, concrete may be omitted from the foundations of the walls, with the approval of the Surveyor.

The concrete must be composed of clean gravel, broken hard brick, properly burnt ballast, or other hard material to be approved by the Surveyor, well mixed with freshly burnt lime or cement in the proportions of one of lime to four and one of cement to five of the other material.

Stone used for the construction of walls must be free from vents, cracks, and sand holes, and be laid on its natural bed.

All brick and stone work shall be put together with good mortar or good cement.

The mortar to be used must be composed of freshly burnt lime and clean, sharp sand or grit, without earthy matter, in the proportions of one of lime to three of sand or grit.

The cement to be used must be Portland cement, or other cement of equal quality, to be approved of by the Surveyor, mixed with clean, sharp sand or grit in the proportions of one of cement to four of sand or grit.

Burnt ballast or broken brick may be substituted for sand or grit, provided such material be properly mixed with lime in a mortar mill.

Every wall of a house or building shall have a damp-course composed of materials impervious to moisture, to be approved of by the Surveyor, extending throughout its whole thickness at the level of the lowest floor. Every external wall or enclosing wall of habitable rooms, or their appurtenances, or cellars which abuts against the earth, shall be protected by materials impervious to moisture to the satisfaction of the Surveyor.

The top of every party wall and parapet wall shall be finished with one course of hard, well-burnt bricks set on edge, in cement, or by a coping of any other water-proof and fire-resisting material properly secured.

Whenever concrete is used in the construction of walls, the concrete shall be composed of Portland cement and of clean gravel, or broken brick or stone, or furnace clinkers, with clean sand in the following proportions, viz.:—One part of Portland cement, two parts of clean sand, and three parts of the coarse material, which is to be broken sufficiently small to pass through a two-inch ring.

The proportions of the materials to be strictly observed and to be ascertained by careful admeasurement, and the mixing either by machine or hand to be most carefully done with clean water, and, if mixed by hand, the material to be turned over dry before the water is added.

The walls to be carried up regularly and in parallel frames of equal height, and the surface of the concrete filled in, the frames to be left rough and uneven, to form a key for the next frame of concrete.

The thicknesses of concrete walls to be equal, at the least, to the thicknesses for walls to be constructed of brickwork prescribed by the Second Schedule.

Such portions of concrete party walls and chimney-stacks as are carried above the roofs of buildings to be rendered externally with Portland cement.

6. The thickness of rubble stone walls shall be at least one-third greater than is prescribed for brick, and in no case shall such walls exceed twenty-five (25) feet in height nor be less than sixteen inches in thickness. In basement and retaining walls the minimum thickness at ground surface shall be twenty-four inches and shall increase at least one inch in thickness for each and every foot below the ground surface.

8. Except in so far as is permitted by this By-law, in the case of shop fronts and projecting windows, and with the exception of water pipes and their appurtenances, copings, string courses, cornices, facias, window dressings, and other like architectural decorations, no projection from any building shall extend beyond the general line of buildings in any street.

17. 1. Chimneys built on corbels of brick, stone, or other incombustible materials may be erected, if the work so corbelled out do not project from the wall more than the thickness of the wall measured immediately below the corbel; but all other chimneys shall be built on solid foundations and with footings similar to the footings of the wall against which they are built, unless they are carried upon iron girders, with direct bearings upon any party wall, external, or cross walls, to the satisfaction of the Surveyor.

2. Chimneys and flues having proper soot-doors of not less than forty square inches may be constructed at any angle, but in no case shall any flue be inclined at a less angle than forty-five degrees to the horizon, and every angle shall be properly rounded.

All soot-doors shall be at least fifteen inches distant from any woodwork.

3. An arch of brick or stone, or a bar of wrought-iron of sufficient strength, shall be built over the opening of every chimney to support the breast thereof, and if the breast project more than four inches from the face of the wall, and the jamb on either side be of less width than seventeen and a half inches, the abutments shall be tied in by an iron bar or bars of sufficient strength, turned up and down at the ends, and built into the jambs for at least eight and a half inches on each side.

4. A flue shall not be adapted to or used for any new oven, furnace, cockle, steam-boiler, or close-fire used for any purpose of trade or business, or to or for the range or cooking apparatus of any hotel, tavern, or eating-house, unless the flue be surrounded with brickwork at least eight inches and a half thick from the floor on which such oven, furnace, cockle, steam-boiler, or close-fire is situated, to the level of the ceiling of the room next above the same.

5. A flue shall not be used in connection with a steam-boiler or hot-air engine unless the flue is at least twenty feet in height, measured from the level of the floor on which same engine is placed.

6. The inside of every flue and also the outside, where passing through any floor or roof or behind or against any woodwork, shall be rendered pargeted or lined with fire-resisting piping of stoneware.

7. The position and course of every flue shall be distinguished on the outside of the work, as it is carried up, by outline marks in some durable manner, except when the exterior face of the flue forms part of the outer face of an external wall not likely to be built against.

8. The jambs of every fireplace opening shall be at least eight and a half inches wide on each side of the opening thereof.

9. The breast of every chimney and the brickwork surrounding every smoke flue shall be, at the least, four inches in thickness.

10. The back of every fireplace opening in a party wall from the hearth up to the height of twelve inches above the mantel shall be at least eight and a half inches thick.

11. The thickness of the upper side of every flue, when its course makes with the horizon an angle of less than forty-five degrees, shall be at least eight and a half inches.

12. Every chimney shaft or smoke flue shall be carried up in brick or stone work at least four inches thick throughout to a height of not less than three feet above the roof, flat, or gutter adjoining thereto, measured at the highest point in the line of junction with such roof, flat, or gutter.

13. The highest six courses of every chimney stack or shaft shall be built in cement.

14. The brickwork or stonework of any chimney shaft, except that of the furnaces of any steam engine, brewery, distillery, or manufactory, shall not be built higher above the roof, flat, or gutter adjoining thereto than a height equal to six times the least width of such chimney shaft at the level of such highest point in the line of junction, unless such chimney shaft is built with and bonded to another chimney shaft not in the same line with the first or otherwise rendered secure.

15. There shall be laid level with the floor of every storey before the opening of every chimney a slab of stone or other incombustible substance, at the least, six inches longer on each side than the width of such opening and, at the least, eighteen inches wide in front of the breast thereof.

16. On every floor, except the lowest floor, such slab shall be laid wholly upon stone or iron bearers, or upon brick trimmers, or other incombustible materials, but on the lowest floor it may be imbedded on concrete covering the site, or on solid materials placed on such concrete.

17. The hearth or slab of every chimney shall be bedded wholly on brick, stone, or other incombustible substance, and shall, together with such substance, be solid for a thickness of six inches at least beneath the upper surface of such hearth or slab.

5. Applications for general licenses shall be made to the Inspector, as the authorised agent of the Minister, and the applicant shall give the name of the owner and the name of the boat, provided that the Inspector may, in any case in which any boat is disabled or unable to work, allow another boat to be substituted for the boat so disabled or unable to work.

11. It shall be lawful for the Inspector to at any time absolutely prohibit the obtaining of pearls and pearl shells, either by dredging, collecting by hand, or otherwise, from any portion of Sharks Bay, whether held under exclusive license or not, when in his opinion the working is likely to detrimentally exhaust the ground.

15. No person shall have or carry on board any boat or use a dredge without the permission of the Inspector, and the Inspector or other Officer may seize and remove any dredge found on board any boat or used contrary to this regulation.

Each application shall be accompanied by an accurate description of the area applied for, and an application fee of £1.

In all applications for exclusive licenses, the length of the licensed area shall not exceed twice its width.

In those parts of Sharks Bay which have been surveyed into blocks each application must comprise one complete block as surveyed. All applications for exclusive licenses shall take priority according to the order of their being lodged with the Inspector. In the event of two or more simultaneous applications for the same area, the priority shall be determined by lot by the Minister.

20. The Inspector shall give notice, by affixing a notice on the notice board of his tent or office for seven days, that an application has been made, and shall hear and report all objections that may be raised to the granting of such exclusive license in open Court. Provided that such notice shall not be necessary in the case of applications for surveyed areas.

21. The Minister shall not be bound to entertain any application, and he may invite tenders for any license or licenses, but shall not be bound to accept the highest or any tender. The Inspector may, in open Court, refuse to recommend the granting of an exclusive license over the area applied for.

22. All holders of exclusive licenses shall cultivate the areas held by them in a bonâ fide manner, to the satisfaction of the Inspector, by planting, and protecting the oysters on the area; and the holders of exclusive licenses shall be subject to the Regulations in the same manner as the holders of general licenses.

23. The holder of an exclusive license neglecting or offending against these Regulations shall, upon conviction, in addition to the penalties provided by these Regulations, render his license liable to forfeiture by the Governor in Council.

24. The Inspector may visit, inspect, and report on all portions of Sharks Bay, whether reserved, held under exclusive license, or otherwise.

25. It shall be lawful for any person who thinks himself aggrieved by any act or decision of the Inspector to appeal against such act or decision to the Minister, whose decision in all cases shall be final.

MEETINGS AND PROCEEDINGS.

Notice of Meetings.

Reasonable notice shall be given by the Chairman or Secretary of ordinary or special meetings, and also at every meeting adjourned for a term not exceeding two days. The Chairman, if present, shall preside at all meetings of ratepayers and of the Board, and in his absence, or if after being present he shall retire, one of the members of the Board chosen by the ratepayers or members present (as the case may be) shall preside.

Meetings.

Meetings of the Board shall be of two kinds, ordinary and special. It shall rest with the Chairman and any three members of the Board to exclude the public when, in their opinion, it is expedient to do so, provided the business before the Board warrants such action being taken.

A special meeting may, on the requisition of three members of the Board, be called at any time and in the manner prescribed by the 9th Section of the Act, but the Chairman may call a meeting of the Board as often as he may think proper. No business shall be transacted at an ordinary or special meeting unless at least three of the members of the Board, inclusive of the Chairman or member of the Board chosen to preside in his absence, shall be present, and no business shall be transacted other than that for which the special meeting was called.

At all meetings of the Board when there is not a quorum present, or when the Board is counted out, which counting out shall take place whenever there shall be less than a quorum present, such circumstance, together with the names of the members then present, shall be recorded in the minute book.

Order of Business.

The ordinary business at all ordinary meetings shall be as follows:—

No discussion shall take place upon the minutes except as to their accuracy, or for the rectification of any clerical error.

Immediately after confirmation of the minutes the Chairman may make any communication to the Board which he may deem advisable or bring under consideration any business he may think necessary, and it shall be competent for any member of the Board to ask a question or questions, but he shall confine himself to the question simply, and no debate shall ensue thereon at the time.

Voting.

Each member, including the Chairman, shall have one vote, and such Chairman shall, in case of equality of votes, have a casting vote in addition to his ordinary vote, and all questions at such meetings shall be decided by a majority of the votes of the members present.

Minutes of Meeting.

In addition to the minute book prescribed to be kept by the 10th section of the Act, a rough minute book shall be kept, in which all items of business transacted by the Board at a meeting shall be then and there noted by the Secretary, and subsequently entered by him in the manner prescribed by the Act in the minute book.

The nature and prayer of every petition or memorial shall be stated to the Board by the member presenting the same.

Tenders.

Tenders for work shall be opened and dealt with when the subject matters of the tenders come on to be considered at a meeting of the Board, or by a committee appointed for the purpose.

Speaker must not digress.

A member having audience shall not digress from the subject of debate.

Motions and Amendments.

A motion once moved at a meeting cannot be withdrawn unless by consent of the Board.

One or more amendments may be proposed on a motion before the Board. When more than one amendment is moved, the question shall be first put on the last amendment, then on the next in succession, and then on the original motion, in the reverse order in which they are moved.

A motion or amendment not seconded cannot be discussed by any member except the mover, nor put by the Chairman.

In submitting a motion or amendment, the Chairman must put the question first in the affirmative and then in the negative.

When an amendment is carried, the motion, as amended, thereby becomes a substantive motion, upon which a further amendment may be moved before it is finally dealt with.

Appointment of Committees.

The Board may at any meeting appoint three or more members as a committee to inquire into any matter, and make a report and recommendation thereon; but no committee shall incur any financial liability, or in any way commit the Board to any responsibility whatever, without express and specific authority conferred by the By-laws, or by a resolution of the Board.

The quorum of a committee shall comprise two members.

Finance Accounts.

All accounts, bills, and vouchers shall be submitted to the Board by the Chairman at the ordinary meetings; and, after being certified as correct, shall be so initialled by him and paid by cheque.

An account shall be opened with such bank as the Board may direct; and all money received from whatever source (with the exception of money granted by the Government) shall be paid into such bank to the credit of the Board, and no account shall be paid except by cheque, signed by the Chairman, and countersigned by another member of the Board, or by the Secretary.

All moneys shall, within two days after they have come into the hands of the Board, or of any officers, servants, or clerks, for the use of the Board, be paid into such bank.

Money granted by Government shall be paid to the Board's credit at the Treasury, and shall only be operated upon to pay actual creditors for work executed on the specific object for which the money was granted.

Urgent Work.

The Chairman, with one member may, in case of urgency, authorise the expenditure of a sum not exceeding £10, but shall in every case report the same at the next meeting of the Board.

Every item of expenditure and every liability incurred by any committee or member of the Board, otherwise than under the authority of the Act or of these By-laws, shall be deemed unlawful expenditure.
