31. Long and Bulky Articles.—The Commissioner shall not be bound to accept for carriage by Railway any article which from its excessive bulk would be inconvenient to transport. At Stations where there are no appliances for loading or unloading such articles, the duty must be undertaken by the owner at his own risk, and in all cases truck loads must be strictly limited to gauge, viz., 12ft. 6in. in height from the rail level in the centre, and be gradually rounded to 10ft. in height at the sides, and not more than 8ft. 6in. across, and not to project more than 6in. over the truck at each end, and be in the opinion of the Commissioner or his servants perfectly safe for transit. Long articles, requiring more than one four-wheeled truck, will be charged according to classification, with a minimum charge of two tons for each wagon used, unless otherwise specified, whether each wagon carries part of the load or is used as a safety only.

When other goods are carried with them, the long articles must be charged at the actual weight, provided the minimum charge as for two tons per wagon is maintained (and the carriage on the whole is paid by one person or firm). Should there not be sufficient goods available for loading with such long articles, the sender may endorse the consignment note To be forwarded at the convenience of the Commissioner, when actual weight only will be charged; provided that should there not be sufficient goods tendered within seven days to load the wagons as above, the Commissioner may forward such articles and charge sufficient to maintain the minimum of two tons per wagon. For Western Australian hardwoods the minimum weight per wagon will be as set forth on page 28.
