THE COMMITTEE.

Committee of management to be elected.

20. The affairs and general business of the Club shall be managed by a Committee, consisting of fifteen members, to be elected at the general meeting. The eight longest in office shall retire annually, but shall be eligible for re-election, and as between two or more members who have been in office an equal length of time, the member or members to retire shall in default of agreement between them be determined by lot. Provided that if the seat of any member who has held office for one year or longer shall become vacant and such vacancy shall have been filled under By-law 26, then the number of members to retire under this rule shall be reduced by as many as the number of vacancies so filled.

Committee to be elected by ballot.

21. The names of all members proposed or submitting themselves for election as members of the Committee shall be forwarded to the Secretary at the office of the Club at least fifteen clear days before the general meeting, from which names shall be elected by ballot the members of the Committee in place of those who retire or whose seats shall have become vacant, and a list of such names, in alphabetical order, shall be published in one of the West Australian newspapers.

If number of candidates equal to number of vacancies.

22. If the number of candidates nominated for election as members of the Committee is equal to the number of vacancies, the Chairman of the general meeting shall declare all the candidates elected.

If number of candidates less than number of vacancies.

23. If the number of candidates nominated for election as members of the Committee is less than the number of vacancies the Chairman of the general meeting shall declare all candidates who have been nominated elected, and the general meeting may thereupon proceed to fill up the other vacancies by show of hands, subject to a poll being demanded.

If number of candidates greater than number of vacancies.

24. If the number of candidates nominated for election as members of the Committee is greater than the number of vacancies, a ballot shall be held on the day of the annual general meeting, commencing at 3.30 p.m. and closing at 8 p.m., and the boxes containing the ballot papers shall be opened in the presence of three scrutineers chosen by the general meeting. Each ballot paper shall contain the names of all candidates duly nominated, printed in alphabetical order according to their surnames, and every member voting shall strike through the names of all persons named in such ballot paper except the names of the candidates for whom he desires to vote, and shall then deposit such ballot paper in the ballot box. Every member voting shall vote for the full number of candidates to be elected, and any ballot paper containing a greater or less number of names than there are vacancies to be filled shall be rejected as informal. The majority of the scrutineers chosen by the general meeting shall, as soon as they shall have counted the votes, certify to the Chairman of the meeting, the names of the successful candidates, and in case of there being an equal number of votes recorded for two or more candidates, the majority of the scrutineers shall then decide which of such candidates shall be elected. The names contained in such certificate of the scrutineers shall be the members of the Committee in place of those who retire or whose seats shall have become vacant. The Committee shall from time to time make such provisions as they shall think necessary for conducting such ballot.

Voting by absent members.

25. A member unable to attend on the day of election to record his vote may at any time after the names of the intending candidates have been duly advertised, obtain from the Secretary on personal application, a ballot paper, and after duly notifying thereon the members for whom he proposes to vote, shall put such paper into an envelope endorsed "Ballot paper," and personally deliver the same to the Secretary, and the Secretary shall retain such ballot paper and envelope until the day of election, when in the presence of the scrutineers it shall be opened, and the ballot paper taken therefrom and deposited in the ballot box. Provided that nothing herein contained shall entitle a member to delegate to any other person, whether a member or not, the power to use such ballot paper. Any member absent from Kalgoorlie at the time of the election may record his vote by letter addressed to the Secretary, and such letters shall be delivered to the scrutineers on the day of the election. Provided that any vote so recorded shall be rejected as informal if it contains the names of a greater or less number of candidates than the number required to be elected.

Casual vacancy.

26. In the event of any vacancy occurring in the Committee after the annual election, the Committee shall have the power of electing a member to fill such vacancy until the next general meeting of the Club, when the member shall be elected by the members to fill such vacancy.
