NOTES FOR APRIL.

The month has been free from any meteorological event of note. Several disturbances passed Eastwards along our coast, but a rule too far away to affect this State, except on the South coast line, where the rainfall was considerably heavier than usual. Only few light scattered showers were recorded in the Tropics, and over the goldfields the rainfall was rather below the average, but Western districts from Geraldton to the Leeuwin about an average fall was recorded. The pressure was above normal from Gerald and the Murchison Northwards, and about normal elsewhere. An average temperature was experienced over the Coolgardie Goldfields and along the South coast, but slightly above the average both in the daytime and at night over the rest of the State.
