4. Each passenger shall, when required, show his ticket (if any) to the conductor and deliver up the same if demanded, undefaced and legible, in default of which such passenger shall pay the fare legally demandable for the distance travelled over by him, whether the same has been already paid or not.

5. No person except a passenger or intending passenger shall enter or mount any car, and no person shall hang on by or to any part of any car.

6. No person shall enter a tram car after being informed by the conductor that the same is full, and no person after such entry shall refuse to leave when requested by the conductor.

28. Any person offending against or committing a breach of any of these By-laws or Regulations shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding Forty shillings for each offence, without in any way relieving him from any other liability to which he may be subject apart from the Acts under the authority of which these By-laws and Regulations are framed, provided always that the offending person is not twice punished.
