And the substitution of the following words:—

After a scholar has reached the age of fourteen years, the following fees shall be paid, unless an application has been made for the child to be placed upon the free list and such application has received the approval of the Minister.

A fee of one shilling per week must be paid by all children over fourteen and under fifteen years of age in attendance at school. Children over fifteen must pay two shillings per week. The Head Teacher must collect these fees and forward them to the Department each month with the salary sheet. To facilitate the checking of the lists, the teacher of any class containing over-age children should enter on his register first the names of children over fifteen, next the names of those over fourteen, and next the names of those who will attain the age of fourteen during the quarter.

Also the cancellation of the following words in Regulation 227:—

The Department has no objection, if the parents wish their children to be instructed when they are between the ages of three and six, to have them placed on the roll and taught in the ordinary way. No child under three can be admitted. Where there is no separate Infants' School it would not be desirable to admit children below the age of four years. Children over fourteen, but below sixteen, might remain in the school if of good behaviour and unless their influence on the younger children is likely to be bad. Children over sixteen can only remain in the school on payment of a fee of sixpence per week, which should be retained by the teacher but accounted for to the Department.

And the substitution of the following words:—

No child under the age of four years can be admitted to a Government School. Children over fourteen may remain in the school until the age of sixteen, if they are of good behaviour and not likely to have a bad influence over the younger children, subject to the payment of the prescribed fees. In special cases where, owing to isolation, it has been impossible for a child to attend school at the usual age, the Minister may permit his retention in a school after he has reached the age of sixteen years.

These alterations shall come into effect from 1st November, 1906.

The above cancels the notice dated 6th September, 1906, appearing in the Government Gazette of 7th September, 1906.
