4. List of ships entitled to exemption.

12. As soon as may be after security is given in accordance with an order of the Court, the owner shall lodge in the Admiralty Registry a list of the ships actually engaged in the postal service, in respect of which the security has been given, mentioning the tonnage and port of registry of each ship, and shall also from time to time, as often as any ships are added or substituted for the purposes of that postal service, lodge in the Admiralty Registry a corrected list as aforesaid. A copy of every such list shall be transmitted to the Board of Trade for publication.

Every application to vary shall be accompanied by such evidence on affidavit or otherwise as may be necessary in support of the application.

When a provisional order has been made for the withdrawal of security, the Admiralty Registrar shall give notice thereof to the Board of Trade, and thereupon the Board of Trade shall publish notices to all arresting authorities, in like manner as hereinbefore provided, reciting such order and notifying that, after the day named in the notice (such day not being earlier than a reasonable time after the publication of the notice), the Court may, on the application of the owner, make the order absolute, unless it appears to the Court that any pending claims exist for the purposes of which the security is required.

CESSER OF EXEMPTION.

Without prejudice to any other mode of proof a notice published by the Board of Trade containing the names of the exempted mail ships of any owner, or until such notice is published a like notice declaring that all ships of the owner engaged in the postal service to which any security applies are exempted mail ships, shall be evidence of the exemption of any mail ship named in such notice or proved to have been at the date of an arrest actually engaged in the said postal service, but such evidence may be rebutted by any subsequently published notice by the Board of Trade containing a corrected list of the exempted mail ships of that owner, or declaring that the ships of that owner have ceased to be exempted mail ships, or by proof that the number and tonnage of the ships for the time being engaged in the postal service in respect of which the security was given exceeds the number and tonnage of the ships to which the security applies.

Mode of publication of notices by Board of Trade.

23. Where any notice respecting any exempted mail ship or any security is by these Rules required to be published, the Board of Trade shall forthwith publish the same in the London Gazette, and also, if the case so requires, in the Edinburgh or Dublin Gazette, and where the exemption or security affects any British possession the Board of Trade shall also forthwith send a copy of such notice to a Secretary of State for publication in that possession, and every notice so published shall be deemed to be notice to all arresting authorities in each part of the United Kingdom, and in such British possession respectively.
