ACT, 1915.

Regulations.

Department of Mines,
Perth, 15th March, 1916.

2400/09.
HIS Excellency the Governor in Executive Council has been pleased to make the following Regulations under "The Mines Regulation Act, 1906," as amended by "The Mines Regulation Act Amendment Act, 1915," to come into force throughout the State of Western Australia on the first day of April, 1916.

PHILIP COLLIER,
Minister for Mines.

REGULATIONS.

1.—District Inspectors of Mines.

1. The Inspectors of Mines appointed under "The Mines Regulation Act, 1906," and who were in office at the time of passing of "The Mines Regulation Act Amendment Act, 1915," shall be deemed to be duly appointed District Inspectors of Mines under the last named Act.

2. All appointments of District Inspectors of Mines made after the passing of "The Mines Regulation Act Amendment Act, 1915," shall be subject to the following conditions, viz.:—

(1.) Applicants for appointments as Inspectors of Mines shall forward with their applications a statutory declaration stating:—

(a.) The name in full of the applicant;

- (b.) The place and date of his birth;
(c.) The nature of his occupation or profession during five years previous to the date of the application, with the dates of beginning and ending of each period of employment, and the names and addresses of his employers;
(d.) The nature and amount of his practical experience in underground mining work;
(e.) Particulars of any degrees, diplomas, or certificates of competency in regard to mining work held by him;
(f.) That he is the person mentioned and referred to in the testimonials and other documents submitted in support of his application and attached thereto.

(2.) Applicants of less than twenty-five or more than forty-five years of age will not be eligible for appointment unless the Minister, on the report of the Selection Committee, is satisfied that there are good reasons for appointing a person above the said limit of age.

(3.) Applicants shall submit documentary evidence from persons of good repute certifying to their good character and sobriety, and prior to any appointment being confirmed the Minister may require any applicant to supply satisfactory medical evidence of his being in a sound state of physical health and free from any ailment or disease likely to interfere with the performance of his duties.

(4.) All applications shall be submitted to a Selection Committee consisting of three members, viz.:—

The State Mining Engineer, who shall be Chairman and convener thereof;

One representative from time to time nominated by the Chamber of Mines of Western Australia and approved by the Minister; and

One representative from the Westralian Goldfields Federated Miners' Association, approved by the Minister, who shall examine the applications of candidates and may require candidates to appear before them for personal interview. The Committee shall select the names of such candidates as they may consider suitable to fill the position, and transmit them to the Minister with a recommendation showing such names in order of merit. If any such candidate has already passed an examination for the position of an Inspector of Mines in Western Australia, or satisfied the Board of Examiners that he has passed an examination equivalent thereto as hereinunder provided, the Minister, subject to "The Public Service Act, 1904," may thereupon appoint such candidate to be an Inspector of Mines, with or without a period of probation. But if none of the candidates have passed such examination or equivalent examination, or if the Minister in his discretion should decide that the candidates who have not passed the examination should have an opportunity of doing so before the appointment is finally filled, he may appoint one of the candidates to fill the position temporarily and may direct that an examination of all the candidates approved by the Selection Committee be held by the Board of Examiners not less than six or more than nine months after the temporary appointment has been made. The Board of Examiners shall thereupon hold an examination as hereinunder provided, and shall report the results thereof to the Minister with their recommendation as to the person to be appointed.

(5.) There shall be a Board of Examiners consisting of three members, viz.:—

The State Mining Engineer, who shall be Chairman thereof;

The Director of the School of Mines of Western Australia;

And an Inspector of Mines from time to time nominated by the Minister, which shall examine the applicants selected by the Selection Committee in writing or orally or both, as may seem to the Board most advisable, and the Board shall report to the Minister their recommendation as to the merits of the applicants, taking into account both the results of the examination and the evidence submitted by the applicants in support of their application.

(6.) The subjects of examination shall be:—

(a.) Mining.—The laying out and construction of shafts, chambers, levels, winzes, rises, stopes, and other underground workings; the methods of breaking ground and exploitation of ore; the methods of timbering, filling, and otherwise supporting workings; the drainage of mines and appliances used therefor; haulage in shafts and underground planes, and the strength and methods of testing ropes, chains, and haulage appliances; the ventilation of mines by natural and mechanical methods; the lighting of mines; the tapping of water in mines, and construction of underground dams; methods and practice of blasting, and the use, nature, and properties of explosives, and construction and use of safety cages, detaching hooks, apparatus for preventing overwinding, and other safety appliances; sanitary requirements in and about mines, and, generally, all subjects connected with the working of the mines.

(b.) Metallurgy, Ore-dressing and Sampling.—Elements of the metallurgy of gold, silver, copper, tin, and lead; construction, erection, and use of machines for crushing and concentrating ores, amalgamation, chlorination, and cyanidation methods; methods of sampling ore deposits, ores, metallurgical products and residues; methods of valuation of ore reserves.

(c.) Mining Geology.—Modes of occurrence of useful minerals; elementary principles of geology and knowledge of common rocks; knowledge of the properties and methods of testing common useful minerals; law of faults; disturbance in mineral deposits.

(d.) Mining Surveying.—Elementary practice.

(e.) Surface Work.—Erection of engines, boilers, poppet heads, hoppers, and mine buildings; laying out and construction of tramways, water-races, flumes, and pipe-lines, strength of materials of construction; testing of boilers and air receivers.

(f.) Arithmetic and Mensuration of Lines, Surfaces, and Solids.

(g.) Book-keeping and Mine Accounts.

(h.) Knowledge of the Mining Laws in force in the State, especially the Mines Regulation Acts and Regulations.

(7.) The Board may exercise discretion as to the extent of the examination in each of the foregoing subjects, the marks to be given for each subject, and the percentage of marks to be gained in order to qualify as having passed the examination.

(8.) The Board shall make such rules as it may think necessary for the conduct of the examination and the regulation and record of its own proceedings.

(9.) The Board may accept certificates granted by any duly recognised examining body showing that the holder thereof has passed an examination equivalent to the foregoing in any of the subjects prescribed for examination in lieu of examination in such subject, but such acceptance shall be entirely at the discretion of the Board, and no such certificates shall confer on any applicant any right of exemption from examination.

2.—Workmen's Inspectors of Mines.

1. Workmen's Inspectors may be appointed for full-time employment or part-time employment as the Minister in his discretion may decide that the needs of the case require.

2. Workmen's Inspectors shall be appointed in such mining centres and for such mines or groups of mines as the Minister may from time to time direct.

3. The Minister may from time to time by notice in the Gazette specify the centres at which he is willing to appoint Workmen's Inspectors, define the boundaries of such centres, and notify the number of days in each week, fortnight, or month on which the persons appointed will be employed as inspectors.

4. The rates of payment for Workmen's Inspectors shall be:—

£5 per week for full-time inspectors;

£2 15s. per week for half-time inspectors;

18s. per day actually employed in inspection work for inspectors employed for less than half-time; without any district or other allowances beyond expenses for conveyance when necessary and approved by the District Inspector.

5. Every Workmen's Inspector shall be under the control and direction of the District Inspector of the district in which is the centre for which the said Workmen's Inspector has been appointed, and shall make all his reports to the District Inspector. He shall also forward a copy of all his reports to the Industrial Unions having members concerned.

6. The Minister may from time to time direct that an election of Workmen's Inspectors be held in each of such mining centres, on such dates, and at such times and places as he may appoint, and for the carrying out of such election the following conditions shall be observed, viz.:—

(a.) The District Inspector of Mines or a deputy appointed by him shall act as returning officer at such election, and shall be empowered to make all necessary arrangements.

(b.) Every candidate for appointment shall be nominated in writing by not less than six persons who are actually employed in mines in the mining centre in question at the date of signing such nomination, and shall forward his nomination paper so as to reach the office of the District Inspector of Mines on or before the date fixed by the Minister for receipt of such nominations, accompanied with an application from himself for employment in the desired position, any testimonials or other evidence which he may desire to submit in support thereof, and a statutory declaration signed by himself under "The Evidence Act, 1906," declaring his name in full, occupation, place of abode, age, place and date of birth, nationality, the nature and extent of his mining experience, and that he is in good health and physically fit for the work of the position.

(c.) All nominations received shall be transmitted forthwith to the Minister, who may require further information about any candidate, and proof of any of the facts contained in the declaration accompanying his application, including a medical certificate of health and physical fitness, and a statutory declaration from not less than two respectable persons that they are well acquainted with the candidate and know him to be of sober habits and good character. The Minister may disapprove of any candidate at his discretion, and the nomination of such candidate shall thereupon become void.

(d.) If only one nomination is received for each position vacant and is approved by the Minister, the candidate so nominated and approved may be appointed by the Minister without further election, or the Minister may call for fresh nominations.

(e.) If more nominations than one for each position vacant are received and approved by the Minister, he shall fix the dates, times and places at which elections shall be held for each such position, and the District Inspector as Returning Officer shall thereupon cause the names and addresses of the duly nominated and approved candidates to be posted up at two or more conspicuous places within each centre for which a Workmen's Inspector is to be appointed, and to be advertised not less than twice in a newspaper circulating in each centre, and such notices and advertisements shall state the dates, times, and places at which votes may be cast for election of such Workmen's Inspector.

(f.) The Returning Officer shall arrange for voting papers to be given out and ballot boxes to be provided to receive them when duly marked, at such of the principal mines in each centre for which a Workmen's Inspector is to be appointed, and/or at such other convenient places as the Minister may direct, and every person voting shall appear personally at one of such places to cast his vote.

(g.) No person shall be entitled to vote who is not employed in a mine in the centre for which the election is held, or who, being out of employment at the time of the election, was not last employed in a mine in the said centre within a month of the date of the election, but any person who may be out of employment through illness or other cause and who would be debarred from voting under this clause, may apply to the Inspector of Mines to be allowed to vote, and may be permitted to vote if the said Inspector is satisfied that such person has been previously last employed in a mine in the said centre, and is not still so employed for good and sufficient reasons beyond his own personal control.

(h.) Before receiving his voting paper from the Returning Officer or his deputy, each voter shall satisfy such officer or deputy by a certificate from the office of the mine at which he is employed or by personal identification by an officer of the said mine, or by such other evidence as may seem to the Returning Officer to be sufficient, that he is entitled to vote at the election. In any case in which the Returning Officer or his deputy is not fully satisfied, he may require the voter to make a statutory declaration showing the grounds on which he claims to be entitled to vote.

(i.) No person shall vote more than once at the same election, and the Returning Officer or his deputy may require any voter, before a voting paper is given to him, to make a statutory declaration that he has not voted previously at the same election.

(j.) No person shall be eligible to vote who is not a natural born or naturalised British subject. The Returning Officer or his deputy may require any person claiming a voting paper to make a statutory declaration that he is a natural born or naturalised British subject.

(k.) Each candidate may scrutinise all evidence submitted to the Returning Officer or his deputy in support of claims to vote, and may have the assistance of one scrutineer appointed by himself at each voting place in doing so and in scrutinising the subsequent counting of the votes.

7. The methods of marking the voting papers and of counting votes shall be on the preferential vote system as employed in State elections for the House of Assembly, as laid down in the Electoral Act, as nearly as may be applicable. The Minister may authorise alterations in details as may be necessary in his discretion.

8. When the votes have been counted the District Inspector shall publicly announce the result and post it in writing in a conspicuous place, and shall report it forthwith to the Minister.

9. Any person voting who is not entitled to vote, or voting more than once at the same election, shall be guilty of a breach of the Regulations, and may and shall be liable to a penalty of not more than Ten pounds for each offence.
