44. Fines inflicted by a Visiting Justice shall be deducted from the wages credited to the inmate.

Confinement in Cells.

45. The Superintendent may confine an inmate charged with a breach of discipline, idleness, or misconduct, or any other offence, in his cell, or in a refractory cell, and take any precautionary measures as he may deem necessary, and, further, may stop any privilege until the Visiting Justice deals with the charge.

Two shillings per week of the above amounts may be spent on the purchase of luxuries, and the balance shall be placed to the credit of the inmate.

Females.

Female inmates shall receive, and may spend half the above amounts, and the balance shall be placed to the credit of the inmate.

The Board shall, from time to time, recommend what amounts (if any) shall be applied towards the maintenance of any inmate's wife and family (if any), or of any person dependent, or partially dependent, on him. The balance in the case of an inmate released on probation shall be dealt with as provided by Section 64f, Subsection 6, of the Act.

52. There shall be credited to each inmate such portion of wages earned by him as the Board may from time to time recommend. In the case of an inmate released on expiration of sentence, or on temporary leave, under Section 64h of the Act, the amount standing to his credit (if any) shall be disbursed for his benefit in such manner, and in such times, and in such sums, as the Board may from time to time direct.

58. Inmates when petitioning under preceding Regulation shall state if definite employment is available for them, and every facility should be afforded to an eligible inmate to communicate regarding the employment with any organisation, or reputable person, likely to find employment for him.

59. Nothing in these Regulations shall debar the Board at any time from recommending the release on probation of any inmate, provided there are special circumstances as the Board may consider sufficient, and in such cases the Board may allow an inmate to submit his petition to the Board through the Comptroller General, and such petition will be placed before the Minister, together with the Board's recommendation.
