MINES REGULATION ACT, 1906.

Department of Mines,
Perth, 25th May, 1932.

1010/30. IN accordance with the provisions of Section 63 of "The Mines Regulation Act, 1906," His Excellency the Administrator in Executive Council has been pleased to make the following additional General Rules under Regulation 4 of the said Act:—

Transport of Carbide.

46. No person shall carry or cause or permit to be carried any calcium carbide underground, except in lamps provided or approved by the manager, or in a watertight receptacle of a type approved by the District Inspector of Mines and to be approved by the manager. No person shall store or leave calcium carbide underground on coming off shift. Spent carbide shall be placed in properly covered receptacles and taken to the surface as often as may be necessary.

Time for Blasting.

47. The manager shall cause the times of working shifts and of blasting operations in every section of the mine to be so arranged that workmen shall not be exposed to fumes and dust from blasting. Blasting shall be allowed only at noon, 4 p.m., 8 p.m., and midnight, except for removing obstructions in ore-passes, or box holes or for the purpose of making the hanging safe or for blasting misfired holes in development faces, and then only with the permission in each case of the manager or underground manager. Blasting during crib time shall be permitted only after workmen have been removed to the intake side of all places where blasting is to be done and where the resultant smoke and dust do not affect them in the section where they congregate during crib time. When sinking shafts, and in other special work, blasting may be done at other times than those prescribed, provided written permission has been obtained to do so from the District Inspector of Mines.

Dust and Ventilation.

48. (1) All development ends and winzes, where machine drills are used, shall not be advanced more than 20 feet from the through air current unless a blower approved by the District Inspector of Mines, delivering induced air through pipes to within a few feet from the face, and with sufficient velocity and volume to remove the dust, is installed. Any working place where dust is formed shall be provided with a blower if, in the opinion of the District Inspector of Mines, it is considered necessary. Any person who wilfully damages or misuses a blower or pipes shall be liable to a penalty as for a breach of this Regulation.

(2) The manager of a mine shall appoint dust and ventilation officers when required to do so by the District Inspector of Mines, whose duty it shall be to examine and report on:—

(a) all matters relating to the mine's water supply, its quality, distribution, and use;

- (b) the condition of the necessary appliances for using water at each working place elsewhere;
- (c) the dust sampling of the mine, more particularly as regards development ends;
- (d) the conditions of the mine relating to ventilation and health, more particularly as regards the amount of air supplied during the interval after blasting and before entry and during the working shift, in all development ends and working places in which there is no through ventilation current.

The manager shall notify the District Inspector of Mines in writing of the name of the person or persons so appointed from time to time. The condition of the mine as found by such person shall, at the completion of each day, be entered by him in the Record Book. Such entries shall be examined and countersigned by the manager or underground manager at least once a week.
