(b) Where a building is such that one portion of the building comes under the provisions of one "Part" of this By-law, and another portion comes under the provisions of another "Part," each such portion shall be designed and erected in accordance with the provisions of its appropriate "Part"; for example, in a building which is partly a shop and partly a dwelling, the shop portion shall comply with Parts II. and V. and the dwelling portion with Parts II. and III.

Provided that, where a building is partly a dwelling-house, the Local Authority may apply to the whole of the building, so far as may be necessary, any or all of the conditions of this By-law relating to a dwelling-house.

3. In this By-law, unless inconsistent with the context or subject-matter:—

"Act" means "The Municipal Corporations Act, 1906," and amendments.

Outer court means a court extending to the street or to the front, or to the yard of the building. Inner court means a court not extending to the street, nor to the front, nor to the yard of the building.

"Dwelling-house" means a building used, constructed, or adapted to be used wholly or in part for human habitation, but does not include a hotel, hostel, lodging-house, or residential flat building, or other than the dwelling-house portion (if any) of a commercial building.

"Flat" means a room or suite of rooms occupied or designed, intended, or adapted to be occupied as a separate domicile, or rented or let as such.

"Habitable room" means any living room, and includes all rooms intended or adapted to be used for the purpose of sleeping or eating or the cooking of food.

Applications, Plans, and Notices.

4. (a) Before the erection of a building is commenced two copies of the plans and specifications, drawn in ink, together with the cost of the building, and an application in writing for approval thereof, shall be submitted to the Local Authority.

Provided that the Local Authority may, if it sees fit, dispense with the necessity for the submission of plans and specifications, and reduce or dispense with the payment of a fee with any application for approval to make minor alterations in an existing building, or to erect a building to be used exclusively for the purpose of a greenhouse, conservatory, summer-house, private boat-house, fuel shed, toolhouse, bathing box, cycle shed, aviary, verandah, or the like: Provided also, that any building (other than a verandah or an aviary) used or intended to be used for the keeping of domestic animals shall be wholly detached from any dwelling-house: Provided also, that where it is desired to make some minor alteration to a building not materially affecting its stability, lighting, ventilation, or size of rooms, the application may in the first place be made without submitting plans and specifications, which shall, however, be submitted if the Local Authority so require.

(b) The application shall describe the building to show the purpose for which the building is to be used.

(c) The plans shall consist of a general plan and a block plan.

(d) The general plan shall be drawn to a scale of 8 feet to 1 inch (or any larger scale), excepting when the building is of such dimensions that the plans to that scale cannot be drawn on a sheet of paper 40 inches by 25 inches, when a smaller scale may be used.

(e) The general plans shall show a plan of each floor section and elevation of the building, which shall indicate the height, design, construction, and provision for fire prevention and fire escapes (if any), the levels of the lowest floor, and of any yard or open space belonging thereto, and levels of adjacent ground.

(f) The block plan shall be drawn to a scale of 40 feet to an inch (or any larger scale) on the same sheet as the general plan, or on a separate sheet, and shall show the relation of the building to the boundaries of the site and to other buildings thereon.

(g) The specification shall describe the construction and materials of which the building is to be built, and the method of drainage, sewerage, and water supply, and state whether the materials will be new or second-hand, and, if second-hand materials are to be used, shall give particulars.

(h) When giving approval, the Local Authority may impose a condition that forty-eight hours' notice shall be given prior to the covering of any or all of the following works, in order that they may be inspected, that is to say—trenches before foundations are laid, foundations before trenches are filled in, and drains before they are covered in.

(i) Approval to the plans and specifications shall be given in the form Appendix A to these By-laws, and work shall commence only after such authority is completed and issued.

Fees.

5. (a) The person making application for the approval of plans and specifications shall, subject to the provisions of Clause 4, lodge therewith a fee, calculated according to the following scale:—

Table with 2 columns: Description of work and Fee (s. d.). Rows include: For a new building (5 0), For every additional 400 square feet or part thereof (5 0), For alterations or additions to an existing building (10 0), For every additional £100 or part thereof (2 6).

(b) One-fourth of the amount of the fee, with a minimum of 5s. (subject to the provisions of Clause 4), shall be for the examination and approval of the plans and specifications, and shall be retained whether the work proceeds or not; but three-fourths of the fee, subject to the minimum referred to above, shall be returned upon application for such return being made within twelve months from the date of—(a) disapproval of plans; or—(b) approval of plans, provided the building is not commenced, and provided the approval is surrendered.

PART II.—GENERAL PROVISIONS.

All Buildings.

6. (a) Except where otherwise specifically provided, the provisions of this Part shall apply to all buildings. Any provision in another Part relating to a particular class of buildings, shall, if inconsistent with any provision of this Part, prevail as against this Part.

(b) Each building in a terrace of buildings, or in a pair of semi-detached buildings, shall be deemed to be a separate building for the purpose of this By-law.

Site—Healthiness of.

7. (a) A person shall not, without the permission of the Local Authority, erect a building upon any site which shall have been filled with any material impregnated with faecal or with animal or vegetable matter, or upon which any such matter may have been deposited, unless and until such matter shall have been properly removed by excavation or otherwise from such site, and depressions filled in with clean soil.

(b) Every person who shall erect a building shall cause the subsoil of the site of such building to be effectually drained wherever, in the opinion of the Local Authority, the dampness of the site renders such a precaution necessary.

(c) If the Local Authority so direct in any particular case, the whole or part of the ground surface or site of such building shall be covered with a layer of good cement-concrete, or tarred-metal, rammed solid, and at least four inches thick.

(d) The Local Authority may refuse or postpone approval to build upon a site which is unhealthy by reason of its liability to dampness, unless and until the site is rendered dry, sound, and well drained to the satisfaction of the Local Authority.

Site—Bearing Capacity.

8. (a) Where the sustaining power of the soil has not been tested, a building shall not be erected such that its pressure upon the ground exceeds at any point the following:—

Nature of Ground.	Pressure in Tons per Square Foot.
Sound rock (other than shale) ..	20
Sound shale rock	8
Natural compact gravel	6
Hard clay or ordinary compact shale	4
Confined clay or confined sand, or mixed clay and sand, or ordinary soil	2
Soft clay or wet or loose sand ..	1

(b) Where the sustaining power of the soil has been tested, a building shall not be erected such that its pressure upon the ground exceeds at any point three-fourths of the sustaining power of the soil.

Position of Building on Site.

9. (a) No building which is intended to be used, or which shall be used as a dwelling-house, and no addition to any such building, shall be built, constructed, or erected within a distance of twenty feet, measured horizontally from the building line of the street or road the building is intended to or shall front.

Except as hereinafter provided, no building which is intended to be used, or which shall be used as a dwelling-house, and no addition to any building which is intended to be used, or which shall be used as a dwelling house, shall be built, constructed, or erected:—

If of wood, within a distance of six feet; if of brick, stone, concrete, or cement blocks, within a distance of three feet, measured horizontally, of any street, road, lane, or right-of-way at the side of such building, or of any land not in the same possession or occupation.

(b) No two buildings which are intended to be used, or which shall be used as dwelling-houses or residential flats, shall be built or erected or constructed on the one allotment, if of wood, within a distance of 12 feet; if of brick, stone, or concrete, within a distance of six feet of each other, provided that this does not prohibit the erection of semi-detached buildings.

10. (a) The building line in each part of a street shall, when fixed by the Local Authority, be marked upon a plan, or clearly described in a resolution of the Local Authority, and such plan or resolution shall be open for inspection by the public, free of charge, during the office hours of the Local Authority.

(b) Alterations may be made by the Local Authority where the levels or depth of the allotment or other exceptional conditions of the site or the nature of the building make it necessary or expedient to alter the building line in respect of any part of the building or buildings.

(c) In the case of corner allotments existing at the proclamation of this By-law, the building line shall apply only to one frontage, to be decided by the Local Authority.

Access to Rear.

11. (a) Where, in an unsewered district, there is no public and convenient access to the rear of the site of any building for the removal of night-soil, the building shall be so designed as to leave outside the building a way of access at least four feet wide from the public road to the privy closet.

(b) Where, in any district, there is no public and convenient access to the rear of the site of a dwelling-house for the removal of garbage and refuse, the building shall be so designed as to leave outside the building a way of access at least four feet wide from a public road to the rear of the dwelling-house.

(c) Such access may be provided by a common right-of-way three feet wide to serve two adjoining buildings or dwelling-houses.

(d) Access by way of a covered passage running through a building, other than a passage, in the nature of an internal hall, shall be deemed to be outside the building for the purpose of this clause.

Outbuildings.

12. In the case of an application to erect (as appurtenant to a building) any outbuilding from the use of which unpleasant noises, unpleasant odours, or unusual risk of fire may reasonably be expected to arise, the Local Authority may determine in what position upon the allotment such outbuilding may be erected.

Height.

13. (a) The height of a building shall be the measurement taken from the level of the ground at the centre of the front of the building to the ceiling of the highest storey of the building; provided that a parapet not exceeding 10 feet of additional height may be added: Provided that bulk-heads, lantern lights, pergolas, or other open ornamental treatment of roof-gardens or play areas, and space for water tanks or reservoirs, or lift or elevator machinery, and the like, upon the top of a building, shall not, if constructed to a design approved by the Council, be taken into account in determining the height of the building.

(b) A building shall not exceed 100 feet in height.

(c) Wherever in this By-law the height of buildings is referred to as measured in storeys, then any roof-space or gable containing a room shall be counted as a storey.

(d) For the purpose of this clause a chimney shall not be deemed to be part of a building.

Materials.

Tents—Canvas Buildings.

14. The Local Authority may grant (subject to conditions) or refuse permission to erect a structure of calico, canvas, or other textile material, and, if any such structure is erected without the Local Authority's permission, may order its demolition.

Materials and Workmanship.

15. (a) Materials which have been used in the construction of any cesspit, drain, or sewer, or which for any other reason are dangerous to health, shall not be used in the erection of any building.

(b) Faulty or unsuitable materials shall not be used in any building.

(c) Every part of a building shall be erected in a good and workmanlike manner.

Testing Materials.

16. The Local Authority may test any building materials, and prohibit the use of such materials as are proved unfitted for the purpose for which they were intended to be used.

Construction.

Fire-resisting Construction—Height—Materials.

17. A building which is to be more than four storeys in height (not including the cellar, if any) shall be of fire-resisting construction, that is to say—

- (a) the walls shall be of brick, stone, concrete, or other incombustible material;
- (b) the floors, roof (where constructed on the flat-roof principle), and stairs shall be built entirely of brick, stone, concrete, iron, or other incombustible material;
- (c) wood or other combustible materials shall not be used in the partitions, lintels, or lift doors or lift enclosures:

Provided that wood may be used for floors (and nailing strips or joists) on top of fire-resisting floors, and for hand-rails, doors, door-frames, window frames, and sashes, architraves, skirtings, fitments, and finishings.

Reinforced Concrete and Steel Frame Construction.

18. Buildings of more than two storeys which are to be built of composite steel and concrete, or of steel frame construction, shall be erected in accordance with By-laws in force for the Municipality of Perth at the time of application for permission to build.

Timber Construction.

19. All timbers used in any buildings shall be of good sound material, free from rot, free from large and loose knots, and free from shakes, and free from any imperfections whereby the strength of the timber may be impaired.

The following conditions shall apply as to the spacings and scantlings of timber:—

(i) Stumps shall not be less than 5 in. x 5 in. jarrah or other approved timber, spaced 4 feet centre to centre and fixed on 6 x 6 x 1½ in. sole-plates. Stumps shall be tarred and sunk at least half their length in the ground, provided that no stumps shall be less than two feet in the ground. Tarring is to extend for six inches above the ground surface.

(ii) Studs and ceiling joists shall not be less than 4 in. x 2 in., spaced not more than two feet apart, centre to centre, properly secured and braced. Studs and ceiling joists of 3 in. x 2 in. may be used, provided they are spaced 18 in. apart, centre to centre, properly braced and secured. Where studs of 3 in. x 2 in. are used, the angle or corner studs shall be of 3 in. x 3 in.; where 4 in. by 2 in. studs are used, the angle studs shall be of 4 in. by 4 in.

(iii) Rafters shall not be less than 4 in. x 2 in., spaced not more than three feet, centre to centre, in the case of iron roofs, and 18 inches, centre to centre, in the case of slate, tile, or other similar roofs. All rafters must be securely braced with purlins and collar ties.

(iv) Floor joists shall not be less than 4 in. x 2 in., spaced 18 in. apart, centre to centre.

(v) Floor bearers shall not be less than 4 in. x 3 in., spaced not more than five feet apart.

In addition to the bearers required for this spacing, an additional bearer of 4 in. x 3 in. must be placed under each wall or partition.

No framing timber in any building shall be notched or checked out to receive bracing or otherwise so as to reduce its cross-sectional area more than one-sixth.

No verandah or awning shall be supported by posts erected on a public road or footpath.

Walls.Footings.

21. (a) Every person who shall erect a building of brick, stone, or the like shall construct every wall of such building, unless built upon a hard rock foundation, to rest upon proper footings, or upon a sufficient beam.

(b) He shall cause the projection of the bottom of the footing on each side of such wall to be at least equal to one-half the thickness of the wall at its base, unless an adjoining wall interferes, or unless the wall is upon the boundary of the land, in which case the projection may be omitted on the side of the boundary, or where the wall adjoins.

(c) He shall also cause the diminution of the footings to be in regular offsets, unless the footings be of concrete.

(d) The height from the bottom of such footings to the base of the wall shall be at least equal to two-thirds of the thickness of the wall at its base: Provided that, when the footings are of reinforced concrete, the Local Authority may permit the height to be less; and provided further, that it shall not in any case be less than nine inches.

(e) Footings to walls of brick in cement mortar (3 to 1) shall be of same width and height as those to walls of the same thickness not built in cement mortar.

Dampcourse.

22. (1) Every person who shall erect a building shall provide and insert damp-proof courses of lead or approved lead composition, slate bedded in cement, or natural asphalt: Provided that the Local Authority may permit the omission of damp-proof courses from sheds, outbuildings, and the like structure.

(2) Where material which is not slate, natural asphalt, or lead of a minimum weight of two pounds per square foot under walls not exceeding 40 feet in height, or three pounds per square foot under walls exceeding 40 feet in height, is desired to be used, the applicant shall submit to the Local Authority proof that the material is a good and effective damp-proof course.

(3) Damp-proof course shall be inserted in walls to their full width, and in such manner that there shall be no open spaces, cracks, or gaps in the damp-proof courses along the full length of the walls.

(4) Damp-proof courses shall be inserted in walls in such position and in such manner that—

(a) moisture from the earth shall be prevented from reaching the lowest floor timbers or the walls above the underside of the lowest floor joists, or, where solid floors are laid, shall be prevented from reaching higher than 3½ inches above such floors;

(b) where floors are below outside ground level, moisture shall be prevented from reaching the inner face of outer walls;

(c) where cavity walls are used, moisture penetrating outer portion of walls shall be prevented from reaching the floor timbers, or the inner portion or face of all walls above the underside of the lowest floor timbers, or, where solid floors are laid, shall be prevented from reaching higher than 3½ inches above such floors;

(d) moisture penetrating the chimney, parapet, or other walls above roof shall be prevented from reaching in any part the inner walls, or the inner portion or inside face of outside walls, below the upper side of the ceiling joists in either case;

(e) moisture penetrating the outer portion of cavity walls shall be prevented from reaching the inner portion or inner face of such walls above or about the window, door, and other frames or openings.

(5) In cavity walls the cavity shall extend not less than 6½ inches below damp-proof course.

(6) This clause shall apply to walls constructed of brick, stone, or concrete, and to walls of any material readily permeable by water.

External Walls—Structure.

23. (a) The materials to be used in the external walls of any building shall be subject to the approval of the Local Authority.

(b) If built of brick, stone, concrete, or the like, the external walls shall, except where herein provided to the contrary, be not less than nine inches in thickness: Provided that the walls of sheds, laundries, outhouses, and the like, not exceeding eight feet in height, may, if the Local Authority so permit, be of 4½ inches thickness.

(c) Cavity walls may be built, provided the two sections are securely tied together by a sufficient number of wire ties or other effective method, and, when used, the combined thickness of the inner and outer parts shall be deemed to be the thickness of the wall.

(d) Bottoms of all cavities shall be carefully raked out before the completion of the building, and all ties kept free from mortar droppings.

(c) Where cavity walls are used, weep-holes shall be left at foot of cavity not more than six feet apart, and over all damp-proof courses inserted to protect walls, weep-holes shall be left not more than three feet apart.

(f) The Local Authority may define any portion of the area, and by resolution prohibit the erection within that portion of buildings with external walls of materials other than brick, stone, concrete, or the like materials.

Walls—Brick, Stone, Concrete—Domestic Class.

24. (1) This clause shall apply only to dwelling-houses, residential flat buildings, hotels, hostels, lodging-houses, and shops not exceeding two storeys in height, and, in measuring the length of the wall, it

(3) Subject to the provisions of this By-law relating to recesses, the following additions shall be made to the thickness of long external walls:—

- When lengths exceed 60 feet and heights are from over 60 feet to 100 feet, 4½ inches shall be added to the walls of each storey below the uppermost two storeys.
- When lengths exceed 60 feet and heights are from 50 feet to 60 feet, 4½ inches shall be added to the walls of first and third storeys.
- When lengths exceed 40 feet but do not exceed 60 feet, and heights are from over 40 feet to 50 feet, 4½ inches shall be added to the walls of second and topmost storeys.
- When lengths exceed 60 feet and heights are from over 40 feet to 50 feet, 4½ inches shall be added to the walls of all storeys.

- When lengths exceed 40 feet and heights are up to 30 feet, the first storey walls shall be 13½ inches thick, irrespective of the number of storeys.

(4) If any storey exceed in height sixteen times the thickness prescribed for the walls of such storey in the above table, the thickness of each external wall throughout such storey shall be increased to one-sixteenth part of the height of the story (except in the case of 30-feet high two-storey wall, where it shall be at least one-twentieth the height of the storey in thickness): but any such additional thickness may be confined to piers properly distributed, of which the collective widths amount to one-sixth part of the length of the wall.

shall be deemed to end at any point where it is bonded to a divisional party or external wall.

(2) Every person who shall erect any such building shall (subject to the further provisions of this clause) construct every wall of such building where the same shall be built of brick, stone, concrete, or the like, according to the thickness in proportion to the heights and lengths, as set out in the following tables and sub-clauses: Provided that the total dead load on or at any section of the wall shall not exceed 15 tons per superficial foot, where brickwork is in cement mortar (3 to 1), nor five tons per superficial foot, where brickwork is not in cement mortar; provided also, that any stone wall in which the beds of the masonry are not laid horizontally, shall be of a thickness at least one-third greater than that prescribed.

(5) If any external wall, measured from centre to centre, is not more than 30 feet distant from any other external wall to which it is tied by the beams of any floor other than the ground floor, or the beams of any floor of any storey formed in the roof, Subclause (3) shall not apply, and the thickness of the wall shall be as set out in the table in Subclause (2) of this clause.

(6) Party walls separating one complete building from another, or designed or intended to separate one complete building from another, shall be subject to all the provisions of Subclauses 1 to 5 hereof, both inclusive.

(7) The internal divisional walls, if of brick, stone, concrete, or the like material, shall, if built in cement mortar (3 to 1) be of the thickness of not less than 4½ inches in the topmost two storeys, not less than nine inches thickness in the three storeys next below the topmost two storeys, not less than 13½ inches thickness in the three storeys next below the topmost five storeys, and so on; the thickness of such internal divisional walls being increased by not less than 4½ inches for each three storeys down to and including any basement storey or cellar. If not built in cement mortar, such walls shall be of a thickness of not less than 4½ inches in the topmost two storeys, not less than nine inches thickness in the two storeys below the topmost two storeys, not less than 13½ inches thickness in the two storeys next below the topmost four storeys, and so on; the thickness of such internal divisional walls being increased by not less than 4½ inches for each two storeys, down to and including any basement storey or cellar: Provided that the total dead load on or at any section of the wall shall not exceed 15 tons per superficial foot, when brickwork is in cement mortar (3 to 1), nor 5 tons per superficial foot, when brickwork is not in cement mortar.

(8) Internal partition walls, if built of terra-cotta or other similarly light and non-combustible material, shall be not less than two inches thick, but shall not be used, unless carried up from brick walls or from steel or reinforced concrete beams, or from reinforced concrete floors, or from other sufficient support: Provided that any such wall more than three inches thick shall not be built upon a floor unless otherwise sufficiently supported.

(9) Any wall 4½ inches or less in thickness, being a divisional or partition wall, of brick, stone, concrete, or the like material, if it exceed 12 feet in height by 30 feet in length, or an equivalent area, and all brick on edge partition walls, shall be built in cement mortar (3 to 1).

(10) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this clause, the Local Authority may permit the erection of dwellings not more than two storeys in height of concrete with walls of less than the prescribed thickness, if satisfied that such proposed dwellings will be hygienic and structurally sound.

Walls—Brick, Stone, Concrete—Commercial Class.

(1) This clause shall apply to all buildings other than those specified in clause 24.

(3) When a wall not exceeding 50 feet in height does not exceed 30 feet in length, the thickness may be reduced to 18 inches for the lower height of 17 feet, 13½ inches for the next height of 17 feet, and nine inches for the remaining height of 16 feet, if built in cement mortar (3 to 1), or 18 inches for a height of 34 feet, and 13½ inches for a height of 17 feet if not built in cement mortar.

(4) When a wall not exceeding 40 feet in height does not exceed 35 feet in length, the thickness may be reduced to 13½ inches for a height of 24 feet, and nine inches for a height of 16 feet, if built in cement mortar (3 to 1), or 13½ inches for the whole height, if not built in cement mortar.

(5) The height of a wall of any specified thickness may be lessened, and the height of the wall or walls above increased, by not more than 10 per cent., for the purpose of adjustment to storey heights; provided that the total decrease of height below the nine-inch thick walls in cement mortar or the 13½-inch thick walls not in cement mortar does not exceed four feet.

(6) If any external wall, measured from centre to centre, is not more than 25 feet distant from any other external wall, to which it is tied by the beams of any floor other than the ground floor, or the beams of any floor of any storey formed in the roof, the tables in Subclause 2 (b) and (d) shall not apply, and the thickness of the wall shall be as set out in the tables in Subclause 2 (a) and (c) of this clause.

(7) Party walls separating one complete building from another, or designed or intended to separate one complete building from another, shall be subject to all the provisions of Subclauses 1 to 6 hereof, both inclusive.

(8) The internal divisional walls, if of brick, stone, concrete, or the like material, shall, if built in cement mortar (3 to 1), be of a thickness of not less than nine inches for the topmost 36 feet, not less than 13½ inches thickness for the 36 feet next below the topmost 36 feet, not less than 18 inches thickness for the 24 feet next below the topmost 72 feet, and so on; the thickness of such internal divisional walls being increased by not less than 4½ inches for each 24 feet down to and including any basement storey or cellar. If not built in cement mortar, such walls shall be of a thickness of not less than nine inches for the topmost 24 feet, not less than 13½ inches thickness for the 24 feet next below the topmost 24 feet, not less than 18 inches thickness for the 24 feet below the topmost 48 feet, and so on; thickness of such internal divisional walls being increased by not less than 4½ inches for each 24 feet down to and including any basement storey or cellar: Provided that the total dead load on or at any section of the wall shall not exceed 15 tons per superficial foot, when brickwork is in cement mortar (3 to 1), nor five tons per superficial foot when brickwork is not in cement mortar.

Provided also, that these thicknesses are subject to a similar adjustment to storey heights, as provided for external walls in Subclause (5).

(9) Internal partition walls, if built of terra-cotta or other similarly light and non-combustible material, shall be not less than two inches thick, but shall not be used unless carried up from brick walls or from steel or reinforced concrete beams, or from reinforced concrete floors, or from other sufficient support: Provided that any such wall more than three inches thick shall not be built upon a floor unless otherwise sufficiently supported.

(10) Any wall 4½ inches or less in thickness, being a divisional or partition wall, shall, if such wall is of brick, stone, concrete, or the like material, and if it exceed 12 feet in height by 30 feet in length, or an equivalent area, be built in cement mortar (3 to 1).

Recesses in Walls.

26. Recesses may be formed in external and party walls if either of the following alternative sets of conditions be complied with, that is to say:—

First Set.

(a) The wall at back of any recess shall be not less than one-half the total thickness of the wall, or nine inches thick, whichever is greater.

(b) A sufficient arch or lintel of incombustible material shall be placed in every storey over any recess which exceeds nine inches in depth; brickwork over recesses nine inches or less in depth may be supported by corbelling.

(c) The aggregate extent in each storey of recesses having backs of a thickness less than the prescribed thickness of walls shall not exceed one-half the superficial area of the wall in which they occur, the combined length of such recesses shall not exceed three-fourths the length of the wall in which they occur, and any such recess shall not be more than 10 feet in length.

(d) The side of any recess shall be at least 13½ inches from the face of any return wall, and 18 inches from the side of any other recess.

Disengaged Columns.

(e) A disengaged column or pier shall be properly designed to resist all stresses to which it may be subjected, and the Local Authority may require the applicant to furnish the data upon which such design is based.

Recesses for Elevator and Stairways.

27. Recesses for stairways or elevators may be formed within the required thickness of foundation cellar or basement and second and third storey walls, provided that—

(a) the thickness of such walls shall not be reduced below that required for a fourth storey wall;

(b) the back shall not be less than nine inches thick;

(c) the back shall be reinforced, if required by the Local Authority, and in such a manner as it may decide.

Chases in Walls.

28. Chases may be formed in external and party walls, provided that the back shall be reinforced, if required by the Local Authority and in such a manner as it may direct.

Party Walls.

29. (a) All party walls to separate any two complete buildings (whether such buildings are of timber or not) shall be of brick, stone, concrete, or other fire-proof material, and except in the case of reinforced concrete, shall be not less than nine inches in thickness.

(b) Such party walls, if of reinforced concrete, shall be not less than six inches in thickness.

(c) All such party walls shall extend up to the underside of the roof covering.

(d) Structural timber shall not be placed at a less distance than 4½ inches from the centre of any such party wall.

Party Fence Walls.

30. (a) Party fence walls, if of brick, stone, concrete, or the like, up to six feet in height, shall not be less than 4½ inches in thickness, and shall be strengthened by 4½-inch piers properly spaced, equal to not less than 10 per cent. of the length of the wall.

(b) Such party fence walls above six feet in height shall be not less than 4½ inches in thickness for the top six feet, and shall be increased by 4½ inches in thickness for every additional six feet in height or fraction thereof, with piers as abovementioned.

(c) Footings for such party fence walls, where not on rock, shall be not less than twice the thickness of the wall at its base.

Rooms.

Size—Cubic Space.

31. Every person who shall erect a building shall provide that—

(a) the area of the floors of all the habitable rooms in such buildings shall, taken together, average not less than 100 square feet per habitable room;

(b) a habitable room shall not in any case have a floor area of less than 80 square feet; and

(c) a habitable room shall not, in any case, have a cubic space of less than 720 cubic feet measured below 10 feet in height: Provided that, in each dwelling-house and in each flat of a residential flat building, there shall be at least one habitable room the cubic space of which shall not be less than 1,296 cubic feet measured below 10 feet in height.

Height—Rooms in Roof.

32. (a) Every habitable room which is wholly or partly in the roof of a building shall, in the case of an attic room above the ground floor, be for at least two-thirds of the area of the floor, not less than nine feet in height, and shall not in any part be less than five feet in height.

Other Rooms.

(b) Every habitable room which is not a room wholly or partly in the roof of a building shall be not less than 10 feet in height: Provided that bays, inglenooks, and recesses for furniture may be added to such room with ceilings of a less height than 10 feet, but the ceilings of such bays and inglenooks shall not be less than six feet eight inches in height.

Rooms for Places of Assembly.

33. (a) A building in which there is a room designed, intended, or adapted to be used for the assembling of persons for any purpose, such room being situated upon the first or any higher floor above the ground floor, and having a floor area of 450 or more superficial feet, shall be designed and constructed in compliance with the following provisions in addition to the general provisions of this Part.

(b) If the room be on the first floor it shall be provided with two exits.

(c) If the room be on the second or any higher floor above the ground floor it shall be provided with two exits, and there shall also be provided two staircases leading from the ground floor to the floor on which the room is situated, or one such staircase and a fire escape.

(d) Such exits and staircases, and the passages connecting them, shall be of a total width calculated in the proportion of 20 inches for every 600 superficial feet of floor area, or fraction thereof, in such room; but no passage, stair, or exit shall be less than three feet six inches in width; nor more than 10 feet in width.

(e) Such stairs shall be uniform throughout, with risers not more than seven inches high and treads not less than 10 inches wide, exclusive of nosings, if any. Each flight of stairs shall contain not less than three or more than 15 risers. Landings shall be half-space or quarter-space, and there shall be no winders. There shall be handrails on each side, securely fixed, and staircases over six feet in width shall have a centre hand-rail.

(f) The stairs and landings shall be of such strength as to be capable of carrying with absolute safety the largest number of people who may reasonably be expected to use them at one time, but no stairs or landing shall be constructed to carry a less load than 100 lbs. per square foot, which includes a safety factor of four.

(g) All doors used as exit doors from any such room shall, except where otherwise approved, be hung in two folds, fitted with "panic" bolts, and be made to open outwards, towards the thoroughfare or way. All doors between such rooms and the open air shall be hung so as not to obstruct when open any gangway, passage, staircase, or landing. A door shall not open immediately upon a flight of steps, but a landing of at least equal depth to the width of the door shall be provided between such steps and such doorway.

Lighting and Ventilation.

Under Floors.

34. (a) For the purpose of ventilation every building shall be so erected that there shall be, between the underside of every joist upon which the lowest floor of such building is laid, and the ground surface or upper surface of the asphalt or concrete with which the ground or site of the building may be covered, a clear space of 12 inches at least in every part; and such space shall be thoroughly ventilated and cross-ventilated by means of suitable and sufficient air-bricks or other effectual method: Provided that, where the lowest floor is so constructed (by filling with concrete, asphalt, or other approved material) as not to permit the harbouring of rats, this provision shall not apply.

Rooms—Air-bricks, Louvres, etc.

(b) Every room of a building shall be so constructed that, for every 1,000 cubic feet or part thereof of air space in the room, there shall be 24 square inches at the least of unobstructed ventilation to the outer air by means of air bricks situated at or near the level of the ceiling, or any other efficient means.

Rooms—Windows.

(c) Every habitable room, or room or alcove in which food is intended or likely to be stored or prepared, and every bathroom, enclosed laundry, and privy-closet, shall have at least one vertical window opening directly to the outside air. One-half at least of such window shall be constructed to open to its full extent and so that the opening may extend to the top of the window: Provided that, in a pantry, any other system of ventilation may be substituted for windows, if the Local Authority be satisfied that such system is equally efficient.

Bedrooms—Additional Ventilation.

(d) In every bedroom or room intended or adapted to be used for sleeping, and having only one window, there shall be provided cross-ventilation by means of at least 24 square inches of unobstructed opening in some wall of the room other than that in which the window is situated. Such opening may be by an additional window, fire-place, fanlight, air brick or any suitable means.

Height of Windows.

(e) The top of a window of an enclosed laundry, or of a kitchen or alcove or room in which food is intended or likely to be stored or prepared, shall not be less than 6 feet 8 inches from the floor.

Size of Windows.

(f) The window or windows of any room shall have a superficial area (clear of the sash frame) not less than one-tenth of the floor area of the room, or (if the following size be greater than one-tenth of the floor area) not less than 10 square feet, for the windows of a kitchen or alcove or room in which food is intended or likely to be prepared, not less than six square feet for the windows of an enclosed laundry, not less than 3½ square feet for the windows of a bathroom, not less than two square feet for the window of a privy-closet, and not less than 1½ square feet for any other room.

Laundries and Kitchens.

35. A dwelling of any kind shall not be erected with the kitchen and laundry combined in one room.

Windows.

36. Any window, the top of which is more than 12 feet above either the ground or any external flat surface or slightly sloping roof sufficient for safety, shall be so constructed that it can be cleaned from the interior of the building.

Drainage.

Levels.

37. Every person who shall erect a building shall construct the lower storey of such building at such level that, in the opinion of the Local Authority, it may be practicable to construct a drain sufficient for the effectual drainage of such building.

Drainage.

38. (a) Every person who shall erect a building shall provide drains sufficient for carrying away from the building all storm water and liquid wastes.

(b) All drainage work shall comply with the Regulations or By-laws of the Metropolitan Water, Sewerage, and Drainage Department.

(c) Drain and sewers shall not be laid beneath a building, unless cased in concrete to a specification approved for the Local Authority.

Sewage.

39. The plans for a building where a public sewer is not available shall include provision for the disposal of sewage, and shall provide for the insertion of cleaning eyes and ventilators where required by the Local Authority.

Rainwater.

40. The plans for a building shall include provision for carrying off rainwater from the roof thereof without causing dampness in the walls or foundations.

Fire.

Fire Escapes.

41. (a) Except where otherwise provided, a fire escape shall be on the outside of the building, and shall be so designed and constructed that it shall not pass across or above windows. It shall not overhang a public place, without the permission of the Local Authority, and such permission shall not be given in relation to any road other than a back lane or right-of-way.

(b) It shall be of fire-resisting construction.

(c) It shall extend from the roof (if flat) or from the top floor (in other cases) to within 12 feet of the ground level.

(d) It shall be so constructed and so fixed as to be capable of carrying with absolute safety the largest number of people who may be reasonably expected to be upon the fire escape at one time.

(e) It shall give direct access to a public place, or to a courtyard or open area connecting directly with a public place. It shall be directly accessible from each floor of the building which has not direct communication with the ground; and the doors of the building which open to the fire escape shall (if they are not sliding doors) open outward, and shall lie flat against the wall, so as not to obstruct the landings. Any doorway opening to a fire escape shall be not less than 6 feet 6 inches high and not less than 2 feet 6 inches wide.

(f) A fire escape shall have full half-landings (or quarter landings, where flights of stairs are at right angles to each other); also protecting hand-rails, and either guard-rails or wire enclosure. Winders shall not be allowed. The lowest landing, if not on the ground level, shall be not less than 15 square feet in area.

(g) The stairs of a fire escape shall be uniform throughout, with risers not more than seven inches, and treads not less than nine inches, exclusive of nosings, if any. Each flight of stairs shall contain not less than two nor more than fifteen risers, shall have a clear width of not less than 2 feet 6 inches, and shall have clear head-room at every part of not less than 6 feet 6 inches.

“Tower-type” Fire Escapes.

(h) Wherever in this By-law it is required that a fire escape shall be provided, a “tower-type” enclosed fire-resisting staircase, with fire-resisting and reasonably smoke-proof doors and windows, may be substituted for an external fire escape.

(i) In buildings 100 feet (or more) in height, the fire escape shall be of the “tower-type” enclosed fire-resisting staircase, with fire-resisting and reasonably smoke-proof doors and windows.

Alternative Provision for Blocks of Buildings.

(j) As an alternative to the provision of individual fire escapes for each one of a continuous group of buildings, the Local Authority may permit buildings to be so designed (where there is mutual agreement between the owners of buildings for the purpose) as to provide fire escape access from the roof of one building to the roof of another, with a fire escape at each end of the block of buildings: Provided that each of the buildings which, by the operation of this subclause, has no fire escape, shall have its own separate staircase leading to the roof, and the door opening to the roof shall have an automatic fastening capable of being readily opened from the inside.

Fire—Water Boosting Service.

42. In the design and erection of every building which is more than 75 feet in height, and is in a district where there is a public water supply, there shall, if the Local Authority so require, be provided efficient means of boosting or increasing the pressure of the water supply to make it available and effective for service in saving the building from fire.

Existing Buildings.

Skylights.

43. The Local Authority may order the alteration or repair, or both, of any skylight in any building, if such skylight be, in the opinion of the Local Authority, in such a condition as to be detrimental to health or dangerous.

Miscellaneous.

Temporary use of Street while Building.

44. (a) The Local Authority may permit the enclosure and use of any public place in connection with the building or taking down of a building, or the alteration or repair of a building.

(b) The fee for the use of such enclosure shall be threepence per superficial yard per month, payable in advance.

Adjoining Buildings—Entry—Underpinning and Shoring.

45. (a) For the purpose of this clause, the expression "building owner" means an owner who proposes to erect or is erecting a building the plans and specifications of which have been approved by the Local Authority.

(b) Where a building owner proposes to erect a building in close proximity to any other building (such other building being the property of another owner), and if it be necessary for him to excavate or dig out the ground against the wall of such other building, the building owner shall at his own cost shore up and underpin such wall to its full thickness, and to the full depth of such excavation, with proper and sufficient material in a workmanlike substantial manner. For the purpose of this subclause a building owner, his servants, agents or workmen may at reasonable hours enter on the premises of the owner of such other building. In any such case the building owner shall pay compensation for any disturbance of business, or for any damage or injury caused by such entry.

(c) If, for the purpose of erecting a wall in close proximity to the existing wall of any other building as aforesaid, it be necessary to cut away any projection or part of such existing wall (such as footings, chimney-breasts, chimney shafts, or other projections beyond the vertical faces of such existing wall)—such projection or part being, in fact, an encroachment on the land of the building owner—the building owner may so cut away at the expiration of at least one week's written notice, which he shall give to the owner of such other building.

Provided that the parts from which any such brick, stone, or concrete work is so cut away shall be again made good in a workmanlike substantial manner; and that the building owner shall use reasonable care in such cutting away and making good; but that all such work shall be done at the cost and risk of the owner of such other building.

Provided further, that if the owner of such other building shall, before the expiration of such notice, give to the building owner notice in writing that he desires to carry out such work of cutting away and making good, he shall be entitled to do so at his own cost, and may enter on the land of the building owner for that purpose, but if such work be not completed by him within one month after such expiration the building owner may proceed to do or complete the same as hereinbefore provided.

(d) Where, under this clause, one person claims to recover the cost of work, or to recover compensation from another person, the claimant shall, within fourteen days after completion of the work, serve upon such other person a written account of the cost (including the cost of all preliminary and incidental operations); such account shall give detailed particulars of class of work done, quantities, and cost at current rates, and shall allow deductions for the value at current prices of such materials, the property of such other person, as have been won by excavation or by pulling down or cutting into any wall or projection; and such other person may, within ten days from service of such account, elect to refer the claim to arbitration under the Arbitration Act whereupon it shall be so referred and decided.

PART III.—DWELLING-HOUSES.

Application of Part.

46. This Part shall apply to dwelling-houses in addition to Part II., and the provisions of this Part shall, where inconsistent with the provisions of Part II., to that extent replace those provisions in relation to dwelling-houses.

Site—Minimum Area.

47. The Local Authority may by resolution fix, in respect of different portions of the Municipality, the minimum size of an allotment of land upon which a dwelling-house may be erected.

Provided that such minimum shall not be less than 6,000 square feet.

Provided also that, in the case of an application for approval to build upon a parcel of land of less than the minimum size so fixed—such parcel being in existence as a separate parcel at the time of the proclamation of this By-law—if the parcel of land contains at least 6,000 square feet, the Local Authority shall grant such application if the proposed building be suitable for approval apart from the question of the area of the site; but if the parcel contains less than 6,000 square feet, the Local Authority may grant approval to build, but shall only do so in pursuance of a resolution giving the reasons for regarding the case as an exceptional one, and any such resolution may be a resolution dealing with an individual case, or may be a general resolution dealing with a specified street or portion of a street, or a specified class of cases.

Proportion of Site which may be Covered.

48. A dwelling-house, together with its appurtenances, to be erected on an allotment, shall not occupy more than two-thirds of such allotment, and the minimum of unoccupied area shall not be less than 500 superficial feet.

Provided that this shall not prevent the Local Authority from granting approval to the erection of a dwelling-house occupying more than two-thirds of an allotment, or with a minimum of unoccupied area of less than 500 superficial feet, in replacement of an existing dwelling-house which occupies more than two-thirds of that allotment:

Provided also, that where situated on a site within a gazetted shopping area, the Local Authority may permit a building, which is to be a shop and dwelling combined, to occupy not more than four-fifths of the allotment, subject to the unbuilt upon area being not less than 500 square feet:

Provided also, that in a sewered district, and in a case where the dwelling-house portion is wholly above the ground floor, the open space required by this clause may be provided in the form of a flat roof over the shop portion of the building:

Provided also, that the roofs of commercial buildings may be taken into account as yard spaces for dwellings on the same allotment, if such roofs are flat and adapted for the common use of the tenants:

Provided also, that a garage erected at a low level, the roof of which serves as a portion of the garden, yard, or court, shall not be included as a building in calculating the proportion of the area of the allotment that may be occupied by a building.

Space outside Windows on Boundary Line.

49. (a) A wall of a dwelling not built of brick, stone, concrete or other non-inflammable material, in which any window or door is placed, shall be at a distance from the boundary line of the allotment of not less than three feet, in the case of a dwelling of one or two storeys or of five feet, in the case of a dwelling of more than two storeys: Provided that this subclause shall not apply in any case where the boundary line of an allotment is also the boundary of any public place.

(b) If part of a wall be set back to comply with this clause, such setting back shall extend and be maintained from the window or door to one end or across the rear of the building, in order that, even though the next allotment of land be completely built upon now or hereafter, there shall be access (of the specified width of three or five feet) of light and air to such window from some open space in a horizontal direction from the window, as well as in a vertical direction: Provided also, in each instance, that no eaves or hoods over windows, or any structure or attachment likely to obstruct the access of light and air, may extend upon or over more than one-fourth the width of the space of such set-back.

(c) A window in a recess in a wall shall be deemed to be a window in such wall for the purpose of this clause.

(d) In the case of a proposal to alter any building which was erected before the gazetting of this By-law, the preceding provisions of this clause shall not be held to prevent the Local Authority from granting approval to the construction of additional windows in a wall if, in the opinion of the Local Authority, any such additional windows are necessary to make the building a more healthy building.

Kitchen, Laundry, and Bathroom Fittings.

50. (a) Every dwelling-house shall be provided with a bath, in a completely enclosed bathroom or combined bathroom and laundry, and with washtubs and copper, or other means of washing clothes, and the water laid thereto. The floor surfaces of bathrooms on any floor, and of laundries, when above ground, shall be of impervious material, properly graded and drained. The washtubs, copper, and bath shall not be placed in the kitchen.

(b) One bathroom in each dwelling-house shall have at least 30 square feet of floor area; and a combined bathroom and laundry shall have at least 56 square feet of floor area.

(c) No stove or cooking provision shall be put in or erected in a bathroom or laundry or combined bathroom and laundry.

Large Dwellings—Boarding Schools, Couvents, etc.

51. Every dwelling-house to accommodate more than twenty-five persons shall comply with the provisions of Clauses 53 to 58, 66 to 74 (all included) of this By-law.

Hospitals.

52. (a) Hospitals, or buildings designed or intended or adapted to be used as hospitals, shall comply with the following special provisions, in addition to the other provisions of this By-law, which apply thereto:—

(b) Every hospital shall have at least two means of exit, as remote as practicable from each other, with the corridors and stairs (if any) leading to such exits of ample width for the removal of patients in case of fire.

(c) A hospital of timber construction shall not exceed one storey in height.

(d) A hospital over two storeys in height shall be of fire-resisting construction.

(e) The minimum width of any door or doors between a ward and the two exits, or of any stair between a ward and the two exits, shall be 3 feet 6 inches, and the minimum width of any passage between a ward and the two exits shall be four feet; the building shall be so planned that occupied beds may be wheeled or carried from the wards to the two exits.

PART IV.—RESIDENTIAL FLAT BUILDINGS.

Application of Part.

53. This Part shall apply to residential flat buildings, in addition to Part II., and the provisions of this Part shall, where inconsistent with the provisions of Part II., to that extent replace those provisions in relation to residential flat buildings.

Alteration of other Buildings to Dwellings or Flats.

54. Where it is proposed to alter a building so that it may be used as a dwelling-house or residential flat building, the whole building (when so altered) shall comply with the provisions of this By-law, which apply to a dwelling-house or residential flat buildings, as the case may be.

Proportion of Site may be Covered.

55. A residential flat building shall not occupy more than 50 per cent. of the allotment of land on which it stands.

Provided that, where the building is not more than three storeys in height (not including the cellar, if any), it may occupy two-thirds of the allotment.

(b) Each such fire escape shall, subject to the special provisions of this clause, comply with the general provisions in Part II. of this By-law, shall be so constructed as to be directly accessible from each flat which has not direct communication with the ground; shall be shut off by self-closing fire-resisting doors, which can be easily opened, and shall have an automatic fastening capable of being readily opened from the inside; shall be so constructed that it shall not be necessary to pass the well or shaft of any staircase or unprotected lift shaft to reach the fire escape, and in such manner that a fire bursting through the windows or doors of any one room could not block both the staircase and the fire escape at the same time, and shall extend from the roof (if flat) or the top floor (in other cases) to the ground level.

(c) In every non-fire-resisting building where there are more than 80 habitable rooms above the ground floor, an additional fire escape as aforesaid shall be provided for every 80 habitable rooms or fraction thereof.

(b) Where a public water service is available, such supply shall consist of an approved rising main with patent couplings at road level suitable for connection with the Western Australian Fire Brigades Board's apparatus, with 2½-inch hydrants mounted on mains at each floor level, and supplied with adequate hose, branches, and fittings. The main shall be uncontrolled by meter, shall extend from the lowest level to the roof, and shall be placed in or adjacent to a staircase.

PART V.—COMMERCIAL BUILDINGS.

Application to this Part.

74. This Part shall apply to commercial buildings in addition to Part II., and the provisions of this Part shall, where inconsistent with the provisions of Part II., to that extent replace those provisions in relation to commercial buildings.

Proportion of Site which may be Covered.

75. A commercial building which is not designed to be used as a dwelling in any part other than for a caretaker may (subject to compliance with the provisions of Part II. as to lighting and ventilation, and subject to compliance with the building line) occupy the whole of the allotment on which it stands: Provided that Local Authorities may, in special cases where windows or other openings are shown on the plans of the sidelines of commercial buildings, demand the setting back from the sideline of the windows or openings and a portion of the walls in which they are to be situated.

Height.

76. (a) The height (as defined in Part II. of this By-law) of a commercial building at any part shall not exceed three times the least horizontal measurement from that part of the building to the middle of the road to which it has frontage: Provided that where the allotment on which it is proposed to erect a commercial building has frontage to two public roads front and rear, the height of that portion of the building to stand on the front of the allotment shall be governed by reference to the road in front, and the height of that portion of the building to stand on the rear of the allotment shall be governed by reference to the road at the rear: Provided also, that the height in any case shall not exceed 100 feet.

(b) For the purpose of this clause a chimney shall not be deemed to be part of a building.

Lighting.

77. (a) Internal courts shall have a width of at least one-third the height of the enclosing walls and in length shall be three-fourths of the width of the allotment: Provided that such internal courts shall not be less than 10 feet in width and the walls thereof be white or light-coloured.

(b) No part of any floor of an office, shop, factory, or workroom shall be distant more than 30 feet from an unobstructed window fronting a road, lane, or public place, or 25 feet from a window fronting an internal court, or, laterally, from a roof light, other than one over a highest floor, the area of each of which shall be at least one-tenth of the floor area lighted by such window or roof light, and a roof light over a highest floor shall have a total area of at least one-twentieth of the floor area lighted by it.

If roof light area is increased, the distance of the remotest parts of the floor from roof light may be increased proportionately: Provided that no part of a floor shall be more than 45 feet distant from a roof light, except in the case of a window or windows facing a space least 300 feet in a horizontal direction from which unobstructed light is secure for all time, when such distance may be not more than 60 feet.

(c) No part of any floor of a warehouse or other building, of which at least half the area is to be occupied by goods, shall be distant more than 60 feet from a window or, laterally, from a roof light, other than one over a highest floor, the area of which shall be at least one-fifteenth of the floor area lighted by such window or roof light, and a roof light over the highest floor shall have total area of at least one-thirtieth of the floor area lighted by it.

If the window or roof light area is increased, the distance of the remotest parts of the floor from window or roof light may be increased proportionately: Provided that, when the remotest part of the floor from a window is more than 60 feet but does not exceed 66 feet, the height of the top of the window from the floor shall not be less than 10 feet, and such height shall be increased in the proportion of one foot for every increase of 10 feet in such distance: Provided also, that no part of a floor shall be more than 80 feet distant from a window or roof light, except in the case of a window or windows facing a space of at least 300 feet in a horizontal direction from which unobstructed light is secure for all time, when such distance may be not more than 100 feet.

(d) No part of the floor of any bulk store or similar building used wholly for the storage of goods shall be more than 100 feet distant from a window, or, laterally, from a roof light other than one over a highest floor, the area of which shall be at least one-twentieth of the floor area lighted by such window or roof light, and a roof light over a highest floor shall have a total area of at least one-fortieth of the floor area lighted by it.

If the window or roof light area is increased, the distance of the remotest parts of the floor from a window or roof light may be increased proportionately: Provided that, when the remotest part of the floor from a window is more than 100 feet but does not exceed 103 feet, the height of the top of the window from the floor shall not be less than 12 feet, and such height shall be increased in the proportion of one foot for every increase of 12 feet in such distance: Provided also that no part of a floor shall be more than 125 feet distant from a window or roof light, except in the case of a window or windows facing a space of at least 300 feet in a horizontal direction from which unobstructed light is secure for all time, when such distance may be not more than 150 feet.

(e) A Local Authority may permit variation from the conditions of lighting prescribed where materials used or manufacturing processes or the purpose of the building make such variation necessary.

Strength of Floors.

78. The Local Authority may require that there shall be displayed upon the wall of any room or rooms a permanent and legible notice stating the bearing capacity of the floor.

Fire Escapes.

79. (a) A commercial building of more than three storeys in height, not including the basement and cellar, shall be provided with a fire escape.

(b) Where any such building is designed, intended, or adapted for use as a retail store or an office building, there shall be additional fire escapes based upon the proportion of one fire escape for every 30,000 square feet of floor area above the ground floor: Provided that, if the building is of fire-resisting construction, the proportion shall be one fire escape for every 60,000 square feet of floor area above the ground floor.

(c) In a commercial building which is three storeys in height the Local Authority may, if the building be not so designed as in the Authority's opinion, to provide reasonable means of escape in case of fire, require that one or more fire escapes be provided in similar proportion to the area of floors above the ground floor.

(d) Each fire escape shall, subject to the special provisions of this clause, comply with the general provisions of Part II. of this By-law; shall be so constructed as to be directly accessible from each floor which has not direct communication with the ground; shall be shut off by self-closing fire-proof or fire-resisting doors, which can be easily opened, and shall have automatic fastenings capable of being readily opened from the inside; and shall be so constructed that it shall not be necessary to pass the well or shaft of any staircase or unprotected lift shaft to reach the fire escape.

PART VII.—ENFORCEMENT.

Inspection—Cutting into Building.

84. (a) The Local Authority may order the opening, or cutting into, or pulling down of any work where the Local Authority has reason to believe or suspect that anything has been done in contravention of this By-law; and in the event of the work being found to have been done in contravention of the By-law, the person doing the work shall be required to comply with the By-law, and shall bear the full cost of such pulling down, opening or cutting into, and of compliance with the By-law.

(b) In the event of the work being found to have been done in accordance with the requirements of the By-law, the cost of such pulling down, opening, or cutting into, as well as the cost of reinstatement, shall be borne by the Local Authority.

(b) Forthwith upon receipt of notice as aforesaid, the Town Clerk shall instruct the proper servant to make an inspection, and such servant shall inspect and report to the Local Authority whether or not the building has been erected in accordance with this By-law, and without material deviation from the approved plans and specifications, but this shall not be read to permit any alteration whatever in the position of the building on the site.

(c) Such report shall not be deemed to be evidence (in the event of any prosecution hereunder) that this By-law has been complied with.

(d) The building may only be occupied upon the completion and issue of Certificate as set out in Appendix B of these By-laws.

(g) When two (2) shifts are being worked, each worker shall have day shift every alternate week and, when three (3) shifts are being worked, the shifts shall be taken in rotation.

(h) No youth under the age of fifteen (15) years shall be employed underground.

5.—Definitions.

(a) "Shiftman": The term "shiftman" shall mean any miner who is competent to carry out any shiftman's work underground that he may be called upon to perform, and who has had at least three (3) years' experience underground.

(b) "Deputy": The term "deputy" shall mean a person in charge of a district in the mine, and classified as such in the pay sheet.

(c) "Manager": The term "manager" or "management" shall mean the mine manager and/or his subordinate officials.

(d) "Union": The term "union" shall mean the Coal Miners' Industrial Union of Workers of Western Australia, Collie.

6.—Hours of Work.

(a) For all underground workers (except pumpmen) the working shift shall consist of seven (7) hours bank to bank, including crib time, which shall not exceed one half hour's duration. Crib time shall be taken at a time to be mutually agreed upon between the manager and the men concerned.

(b) For all surface workers except the groom, the working shift shall consist of seven (7) hours, exclusive of crib time, which shall be of one half hour's duration. Crib time shall be taken at a time to be mutually agreed upon between the manager and the men concerned.

(c) If workers desire to accustom themselves to the darkness before proceeding any distance underground, they shall leave the surface at such time as shall allow them to become so accustomed and to move onward with the other workers at the required starting time.

(d) For grooms eight (8) hours shall constitute a working shift, and the contract of service of such workers shall be a weekly one of seven (7) days.

7.—Overtime.

Overtime shall only be worked when it is absolutely necessary.

For all time worked in excess of that prescribed by Clause 6 hereof the following rates shall apply:—

During the first hour—ordinary time.

During the next four hours—at the rate of time and a half.

Except for pumpmen and grooms, for all time beyond the 12th hour, or on Sundays and holidays (as defined in Clause 11 hereof)—double ordinary rate.

All time worked by pumpmen on Sundays shall be paid at the rate of time and a quarter.

The provisions of this clause shall not apply to workers required to work on actually necessitous occasions caused by loss of human life.

In the case of outbreak of fire, time and a quarter shall be paid after the first hour.

8.—Absence from Duty.

(a) Any worker who shall absent himself from his work without leave, or without reasonable cause, shall be subject to immediate dismissal.

(b) In the event of a worker being absent from work through any cause, he shall notify the management before 3 p.m. on the day prior to his intended resumption that he is returning to his work the following day. Failing such notification there shall be no obligation on the part of the management to provide him with work for the day on which he returns.

9.—Notice of Work.

The employer shall post a notice at the office of the particular mine before the time for ceasing work (day shift) on the preceding day that men will be required for work on the succeeding day: Provided that, if through breakdown of machinery or any other cause beyond the control of the management, or if the wagons are ordered the previous day, and through no fault of the mine management they are not available for filling, there will be no obligation to pay the workers.

10.—Pay Saturday.

The general custom of observing pay Saturday as a holiday shall be the rule under this Award: Provided always, that the worker shall, if required by the management, work on that day, but it must be distinctly understood that this provision shall not be taken advantage of by the management in making a practice of working the mine on pay Saturday. If at any time it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that any employer has unnecessarily called upon his workers to work on pay Saturday, he shall be deemed to have committed a breach of the Award. In the case of an underground worker working on pay Saturday five (5) hours from the time he commences to descend the mine until he returns to the surface shall be deemed to be equivalent to the full shift, and shall be paid for accordingly, and, in the case of a surface worker, five and a half (5½) hours' actual work shall be equivalent to and be paid for as a full shift. Should the worker be required to work less than five (5) or five and a half (5½) hours, as the case may be, then such time as he has worked shall be deemed to be full time. Should the worker cease work of his own accord he shall be paid at the ordinary rate for such time as he actually worked.

11.—Holidays.

The following days shall be observed as holidays:—New Year's Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Anzac Day, Labour Day, Christmas Day, Boxing Day, Foundation Day (26th January).

Every worker shall also have the right to a fortnight's holiday each year without pay: Provided always, that such holiday shall be taken at a time to suit the mutual convenience of the employer and the worker, or be arranged between the employer and the Union.

12.—Fair Share of Work.

(a) All workers shall have an equitable share of the work in their respective grades.

(b) Subject to the provisions as to any special circumstances herein contained, no worker, irrespective of grade or class, shall be sent home when the mine is working, if he has not been notified at or before the time for ceasing work the previous day that he will not be employed.

13.—Afternoon and Night Shift.

Except in case of necessity, the ordinary work of procuring coal by miners in a mine (other than coal-cutting and special places) shall not be carried on, on afternoon or night shifts, unless the mine has worked nine (9) shifts in the preceding normal working fortnight, or twenty-seven (27) shifts in the preceding normal working six (6) weeks. If any dispute arise as to a case of "necessity," the matter shall be determined by the Board of Reference.

14.—Cavil.

One wheeler (which term for the purpose of this clause includes a setrider) and one shiftman (which term for the purpose of this clause includes any other adult underground day wage worker) shall be allowed to cavil each three (3) months, provided they find suitable mates to take them on the coal; preference to be given to the wheeler or shiftman who has been longest employed at the mine in respect of which the cavil is being taken.

Provided further, that no wheeler or shiftman shall be allowed to cavil unless there are more places than there are miners employed on the coal; and, further, unless the mine has worked nine (9) shifts in the preceding fortnight or twenty-seven (27) shifts in the preceding six (6) weeks.

In the event of the work falling below nine (9) shifts in the preceding fortnight, or twenty-seven (27) shifts in the preceding six (6) weeks within three (3) months from the date of such advancement, the wheeler and shiftman so advanced shall revert to their former positions, and any other workers who were advanced in grade as a result of such workers going on the coal shall likewise revert to the grade formerly worked by them prior to such advancement.

15.—Lights.

The employer shall supply all underground workers with sufficient carbide to provide them with artificial light on each shift they work.

The worker shall provide his own lamp.

16.—Deductions from Wages.

The employer may deduct from the worker's wages the amounts agreed upon on account of contributions for medical benefits, contributions to the Accident Relief Fund, the Aged and Infirm Coal Miners' Superannuation Fund, and any other contribution agreed to by both parties.

17.—Payment for Wet Work.

(a) If any worker be compelled to work in water, or if water drips on him in sufficient quantity to inconvenience him in his work, he shall be paid one shilling and ninepence (1s. 9d.) per shift extra (junior workers half this amount). Should any dispute arise hereunder it shall be referred to the Board of Reference for decision.

(b) The employer shall keep the pumps in good condition in order to remove any water from the working places prior to the men commencing work; but should the removal of the water be impracticable, and the quantity of water is such that the men are prevented from working, then there shall be no liability on the part of the employer to find other places for the men so affected: subject, however, to the special provisions hereinafter contained in Part II, Clause 45.

18.—Higher or Lower Duties.

(a) In the event of a worker being called upon to work temporarily in any one day in a grade lower than that in which he is usually employed, he shall suffer no reduction in his wages.

(b) In the event of a worker being called upon to work in a grade higher than that in which he is usually employed for more than two (2) hours in any one day, he shall be paid the higher rate for that day.

(c) The term "grade at which he is usually employed" shall mean the rating of the worker in the employer's books at the commencement of the pay fortnight.

(d) If a worker is permanently transferred from one grade of work to another during the currency of the pay fortnight, then he shall be paid the rate for the class of work to which he is so transferred from the date of such transference.

(e) If there be any dispute as to the grade at which a worker was employed it shall be referred to the Board of Reference.

19.—Minimum Number of Days.

In the event of workers being required under Part II, "A" and "B," in addition to the quotas specified hereunder for each mine, namely:—

Proprietary	42	pairs
Stockton	19	"
Cardiff	17	"
Co-operative	34	"
Griffin	18	"

they shall be engaged on the distinct condition that their employment terminates when the work at the mine falls below nine (9) shifts in the preceding fortnight or twenty-seven (27) shifts in the preceding six (6) weeks, and each worker shall be so informed when engaged. However, should any worker be absent from work, through any cause whatsoever, the manager shall have the right to maintain the quota by filling vacancies of either a permanent or temporary nature, but any such appointment shall terminate on the return of the worker so absent as aforesaid, or, in any event, at the termination of the cavi in which the vacancy occurs.

In calculating the number of shifts worked for the purpose of applying this clause, any shifts not worked through holidays, breakdown of machinery, or proved shortage of railway wagons, shall be allowed as having been worked.

Notwithstanding anything contained in this clause, the manager may reduce hands at any time below the quota.

20.—Temporary Advancement.

In the event of any workers being temporarily advanced on to the coal to meet the requirements of the trade, other than those advanced to fill vacancies as provided for in Clause 19 of the General Conditions, they shall revert to their respective grades when the time worked by the mine is reduced below nine (9) shifts in the preceding fortnight, or twenty-seven (27) shifts in the preceding six (6) weeks.

Any other workers who were advanced in grade as a result of such workers going on the coal shall likewise revert to the grade formerly worked by them prior to such advancement.

21.—Employment of Juniors.

The employer shall not be obliged to retain the services of a worker when he arrives at the age of twenty-one (21) years, unless he be senior in length of service to any other worker in the mine whose place he is capable of filling.

22.—Incapacitated Workers.

In the event of any worker being so incapacitated by accident, illness, or old age as to be unable to adequately perform the work specified in Subclause (a) of Clause 4 hereof, he may be allowed, after receiving the sanction of the Union, to perform any work which may be agreed upon between the employer and the Union, and his rate of pay shall be fixed by mutual agreement between the employer, the Union and himself. In the event of these three (3) parties being unable to agree, the matter shall be referred for settlement to the Board of Reference.

23.—Pit Top Meetings.

Should pit top meetings be held, such meetings shall be terminated or adjourned in time to permit workers to proceed to their work at the appointed time. No pit top meeting shall be held during the hours of any shift at any mine, which is working, except with the consent of the manager of such mine.

24.—Reduction of Hands.

In the event of a reduction of hands in a mine, the last worker employed in the particular grade of work shall be the first to be dismissed; but this provision shall not apply to any worker dismissed for gross misconduct or refusal to obey lawful orders.

If a worker has been shifted from one grade of work to another, then his length of service for the purpose of determining seniority shall be deemed to date from the last time he signed on at the mine during his current period of employment.

25.—Contract Work other than that provided for in this Award.

No work may be performed by contract unless the contract be approved by the Delegate Board of the Union, and every such contract shall contain, or be deemed to contain, a covenant that the worker shall receive at least the minimum wage provided by this Award for the particular class of work to which the contract relates.

Provided further, that if the Delegate Board of the Union refuses to approve of the contract, the matter may be referred for determination to the Board of Reference.

26.—Board of Reference.

(a) The Court appoints, for the purposes of the Award, a Board of Reference for each mine. Each Board shall consist of a Chairman, who shall be the Inspector of Mines at Collie for the time being, and two (2) other representatives, one to be the manager of the mine in which the difference or dispute arises, representing the employer, and the other a representative of the Union, appointed at such mine for such purpose by the Union, which may at any time by notification to the employer and the Registrar change such representative.

(b) There are assigned to each such Board, in the event of no agreement being arrived at between the parties to the Award, the functions of:—

- (i) Deciding matters specifically referred to in the Award as being the subject-matter of a decision of the Board;
- (ii) Adjusting any matters of difference which may arise between the parties from time to time, except such as involve interpretations of the provisions of the Award, or any of them;
- (iii) Deciding all matters and questions referred to in the Award as being the subject of mutual agreement, if not agreed upon;
- (iv) Deciding any other matter that the Court may refer to such Board from time to time;
- (v) An appeal shall lie from any decision of such Board in the manner and subject to the conditions prescribed in the Regulations to "The Industrial Arbitration Act, 1912-1925," which for this purpose are embodied in and form part of this Award. (Regulation 92.)
- (vi) There shall be no cessation of work pending the reference to and the settlement of any dispute by the Board.

27.—Pay Day.

The wages shall be paid to all workers on every alternate Friday.

They shall be paid on the same date at each mine in the Collie District.

28.—Members of the Union.

All workers engaged by the employers shall make application to become members of the Union within three (3) weeks of their engagement.

The Union shall accept them as members: Provided that they are persons of good character and tender the entrance fees and subscription in accordance with the Rules of the Union.

These provisions shall not apply to officials and deputies, or members of the mechanical staff of the mine.

29.—Union Officials.

In the event of a worker leaving a mine to act as General Secretary or other executive officer of the Union, he shall retain his seniority, within the meaning of this Award, in the grade of work in which he was employed at the mine at the time of so leaving.

PART II.

"A"—Mining Machine-cut Coal.

30.—Duties in Particular.

The duties in particular of the men working under this Part, and hereinafter referred to as the miners, shall include shooting down coal after it has been undercut by the coal-cutting machine, filling such coal into skips, and performing all other duties as hereinafter provided.

31.—Tonnage Rates.

Parties of miners, and miners working singly on tonnage rates, shall be paid, at the undermentioned mines, the following rates, while existing conditions as to boring are observed:—

	Per ton.
	s. d.
Proprietary and Stockton Mines	.. 2 7½
Cardiff Mine	.. 2 8½
Co-operative and Griffin Mines	.. 2 9½

32.—Day Wages.

(a) Where tonnage rate is in operation in any mine, no coal shall be got on day wages other than that from the main dips, back headings, and their connections, places deemed deficient by the scrutineers and the management, and work done for the purpose of development, maintenance, and upkeep.

(b) The Management may work the places mentioned in Subclause (a) hereof on contract rates and conditions: Provided that such rates and conditions are approved by the Union, or, in the event of agreement not being arrived at, determined by the Board of Reference.

(c) In the event of any dispute or difference as to what constitutes the places mentioned in Subclause (a) hereof, or as to the rates and conditions in Subclause (b) hereof, the question shall be referred to the Board of Reference for decision.

33.—Undercutting the Coal.

The employer shall undercut the coal with coal-cutting machines.

The term "undercutting" shall mean leaving a clear space of not less than three (3) inches underneath the coal when cut by the machine. If the coal should fall after having been undercut and thus impede the miner in his work, he shall be paid such a sum not exceeding four shillings (4s.) per bord as may be agreed upon by the manager and himself as compensation for the disability caused by the coal so falling. In the event of the parties being unable to agree as to the amount of compensation to be paid, the matter shall be referred to the Board of Reference for settlement.

34.—Elimination of Refuse.

If there is any refuse in the seam worked, and the manager directs the miner to eliminate it from the coal, the rate to be paid for eliminating it and placing it in the gob, shall be one penny farthing (1¼d.) per ton for the first three (3) inches or part thereof in thickness, and one halfpenny (½d.) per ton per inch thereafter, in addition to the rates provided in Clause 31.

Where stone comes down from the roof through no fault of the miner, or up from the floor, and the manager directs the miner to eliminate it from the coal, payment shall be made at a rate to be mutually agreed upon by the miners concerned and the manager, or, in the event of disagreement between them, at a rate to be determined by the Board of Reference.

35.—Penalty for Filling Refuse.

Any miner filling twenty (20) lbs. of refuse into his skip, or one hundred and twelve (112) lbs. in any one day, shall be dealt with as follows:—

First offence—Caution.

Second offence—He (or they) shall be suspended for the next working day following his notification of the offence.

Third offence, or any subsequent offence during the succeeding six (6) weeks, or until the termination of the cavel—He (or they) shall be suspended for a week or less, as the manager may direct.

36.—Narrow Work.

Places worked on tonnage rates less than twenty-four (24) feet wide, shall be paid extra rates as follows:—

Places 9ft. and less than 12ft.—4s. 4d. per yard.

Places 12ft. and less than 18ft.—2s. 6½d. per yard.

Places 18ft. and less than 24ft.—1s. 6d. per yard.

37.—Height of Seam.

The rates set out in Clause 31 shall be payable in all places, where the seam is not less than five (5) feet from floor to roof. In all places in which the seam is less than five (5) feet and more than four (4) feet, the sum of one penny (1d.) per ton for every inch below five (5) feet and down to four (4) feet shall be paid. Where the seam is less than four (4) feet in thickness, the place shall be deemed to be deficient, and the rate shall be as agreed upon by the Union and the manager, and, in the event of their being unable to agree, the rate shall be as fixed by the Board of Reference.

38.—Measurement of Places.

If any dispute arise as to the width of working places, three (3) measurements shall be taken; one on the floor, one at the roof, and one half-way between the floor and the roof, and the mean of the three (3) measurements shall be deemed to be the width of the place.

39.—Measurement of Stone Band.

In each working place of the respective parties of miners, measurements of any stone bands in the seam shall be taken, one in the centre and one at each rib, and the average of the combined measurements of such working places shall be the basis of payment for such refuse.

40.—Places Working to the Dip of the Seam.

In any places being worked to the dip of the seam on a grade of one in ten, or steeper, double yardage shall be paid.

When the grade of a place becomes steeper than one in five, an extra amount (in addition to double yardage) shall be paid. Such amount shall be as agreed upon by the manager and the Union, or, in the event of disagreement, shall be as fixed by the Board of Reference.

41.—Places to be left in Fit Condition.

The miners shall clean and square up their working place ready for the machinememen to proceed with their duties. Where refuse is present, the miner shall place it in the gob; provided that the miner shall not be responsible for the removal of standing timber or laid rails.

42.—Assisting the Wheelers.

Miners shall, in those places where instructed to do so, assist the wheeler with the skip at the cope-over, and in pushing the skip from the cope-over to the place where it stands to be filled. Where a cope-over is not used, the miners shall, when instructed to do so, assist the wheeler with the skip at the turn or place where the skip is changed, and in pushing it from such place to the place where the skip stands to be filled. In every case in which instructions are so issued on account of the grade of the road, the insufficiency of room to cope, or for any other reason, the miner, or miners (if more than one man is instructed) shall be paid one penny farthing (1¼d.) per ton in addition to the rates set out in Clause 31, while such assistance is given to the wheeler, irrespective of the fact as to whether one or two miners assist the wheeler. Where a cope is provided it shall not be more than eight (8) yards from the place where the skip stands to be filled, unless the condition of the roof renders it unreasonable and impracticable to so provide it.

43.—Rails and Timber.

The employer shall lay the rails up the working face. If the miner requires a six (6) feet pair of rails thereafter, he shall lay it himself. The miner shall have regard to the safety of the working place, and, when necessary, he shall erect slabs and bars, for which he shall be paid one shilling and tenpence (1s. 10d.) for each slab, and three shillings and tenpence (3s. 10d.) for each bar.

For the purpose of this clause the term "bar" shall mean cross-pieces not exceeding nine (9) feet in length and six (6) inches in diameter at the small end.

The term "slab" shall mean a piece of timber not exceeding ten (10) feet in length, nine (9) inches in width, and three (3) inches in thickness. Slabs and bars shall be supplied by the Management sufficiently dressed.

"Working place" shall mean a distance of not more than twelve (12) feet back from the miner's working face.

44.—Regular Turn of Skips.

It shall be the duty of the employer to provide a regular and fair turn of skips for all miners on the coal, having regard to the interests of the mine and the worker; and neither the employer nor the worker shall do anything to violate the spirit of this clause. In the event of any miner not being ready for an empty skip when available his turn shall pass to the next miner ready to take it.

45.—Places rendered Unfit for Ordinary Work.

If on presenting himself for work on any day on which the mine is working, any miner on tonnage rates cannot proceed with his ordinary place by reason of a fall of ground or sudden inflow of water, or any other cause that the manager cannot reasonably foresee or prevent, then the miner shall be employed at shift work rates for the balance of the current pay fortnight, or be provided with another working place on those days when the mine is worked; but if the miner is prevented from proceeding with his work at his ordinary place through any cause that the manager could have reasonably foreseen and prevented, then the miner shall be paid at his average daily rate for the preceding pay fortnight, or be provided with another working place for the balance of the current pay fortnight on those days on which the mine works.

46.—Day, Afternoon and Night Shifts.

When miners on tonnage rates are called upon to work day and afternoon shift in rotation, five-eighthpence (5/8th) per ton extra shall be paid for afternoon shift. If called upon to work midnight shift they shall be paid threepence (3d.) per ton extra.

47.—Quarterly Cavil.

There shall be a cavil for working places at the close of the months of March, June, September and December each year.

The miners shall, if they so desire, appoint two (2) scrutineers, whose duty it shall be to inspect the working places. Should such scrutineers consider the conditions existing in any particular place to be of such a nature that they should be excluded from the cavil, and the manager fails to agree with them, the matter in dispute shall be referred to the Board of Reference.

Should the manager desire to work any place or places as "special places," he shall give seven (7) days' notice of such desire to the Union, and the cavil for such special places shall precede that for the other places. Persons cavilling for special places shall be subject to the approval of the manager and the scrutineers appointed by the men. On the completion of the cavilling for the special places, the cavil for the remaining places shall be proceeded with. For the purpose of this clause, the term "special place" shall be deemed to include any place which is being driven for the purpose of winning out working places; any place driven for the purpose of ventilation (other than an ordinary cut-through) any place driven for water lodgment and bords being broken off special headings, until such bords are driven in a distance of ten (10) yards.

If work at any place be stopped at any time and re-started during the cavil, the men working in such place at the time of stopping shall have the option of going back to work the place.

48.—Tools and Stores.

Miners shall provide, at their own expense, all tools, explosives, and any other stores required for use in connection with their work, except carbide for light.

49.—Cross-cut Work in Bords.

All bords driven thirteen (13) degrees or more from a right angle to the cleavage of the coal shall be deemed to be on the cross, and shall be paid the sum of one penny halfpenny (1½d.) per ton in addition to the tonnage rate.

50.—Headings on the Cross.

Headings and cut-throughs driven thirteen (13) degrees or more from a right angle to the cleavage of the coal shall be paid ninepence (9d.) per yard, in addition to the extra rate provided in Clause 36 hereof.

"B"—Mining Pick-won Coal.

51.—Duties in Particular.

The duties in particular of workers working under this Part and referred to herein as pick miners, shall include holing the seam with picks, according to coal mining practice, boring with hand-boring machines, shooting, filling the coal into skips, and performing all other duties as hereinafter provided.

52.—Tonnage Rate.

Parties of pick miners, or pick miners working singly, shall be paid at the rate of five shillings and sixpence (5s. 6d.) per ton.

53.—Turning Away Bords.

For turning away bords twelve (12) feet wide, the sum of four shillings and tenpence (4s. 10d.) per yard shall be paid, and for opening out from twelve (12) feet to twenty-four (24) feet, the sum of nineteen shillings and fourpence (19s. 4d.) shall be paid. The payments under this clause shall be in addition to tonnage rates.

Headings driven thirteen (13) degrees or more from a right angle to the cleavage of the coal shall be paid one shilling and sixpence (1s. 6d.) per yard in addition to the extra rate provided in Clause 55 hereof.

"C"—Pillar Work Mining.

59.—Duties.

The duties of workers working under this Part and referred to hereinafter as pillar miners, shall be extracting or drawing pillars, and shall include:—

- (a) Holing the pillars with picks according to coal mining practice, or grunching the coal in the solid unless the pillar is undercut by machine;
- (b) Boring with hand boring machines unless bored by the employer;
- (c) Shooting and filling the coal into skips and performing other duties as hereinafter provided.

The manager shall determine whether pillars shall be holed with picks, grunched, undercut by machines, hand bored by the pillar miners, or bored by the employers.

60.—Day Wages.

If it be deemed necessary by the management to do any pillar work mining on a daily contract of service, the wages shall be as provided by Clause 4 in the General Conditions of this Award; and all the other provisions of this Award appropriate to pillar work mining shall likewise apply.

PART III.

Wheeling.

61.—Duties.

The duties in particular of the men working under this Part shall include the wheeling of empty skips from the flats to the working faces, and loaded skips from the working faces to the flats, such flats being those nominated by the Management. The wheeler shall remove any skips from the working faces prior to the coal-cutting machinemen being required to go in to cut the place.

62.—Cavil.

For the purpose of cavilling, the wheelers shall choose their own mates and cross mates.

The mine shall be divided into districts, which shall be cavilled for by the parties of wheelers at each quarterly cavil, such cavil to coincide with that conducted by the miners under Clause 47, Part II., "A," of this Award.

The wheelers shall be at liberty to arrange the work in each district to their own satisfaction: provided that the miners are given a fair distribution of skips.

63.—Sharing of Work.

Each party of wheelers shall share the work in their respective sections, and shall divide the money earned by each party in proportion to the number of shifts worked by the individual wheelers. If requested by the wheelers, such division of money shall be made by the Management.

64.—Supply of Sprags.

The employer shall supply on each flat all sprags required by the wheeler.

65.—Regular Turn.

The employer shall provide a fair turn of skips to each flat in proportion to the number of miners working on that flat. The wheelers shall refrain from any action which is likely to nullify the efforts of the manager to carry out his obligation under this clause.

66.—Excessive Number of Wheelers.

If on any particular day there are more wheelers than are required in the mine through any cause that the Management could not reasonably foresee or prevent, then the wheeler shall be employed at the adult minimum wage for the particular class of work provided for him, but if on any particular day a wheeler is prevented from working in his usual place from any cause that the Management could have reasonably foreseen and prevented, then the wheeler shall be employed on those days that the mine works during the balance of the current pay fortnight at the average rate of wages earned by him during the preceding pay fortnight.

67.—Rates.

Parties of wheelers, and wheelers wheeling singly, shall be paid at the following rates:—

	Co-opera- tive.	Proprie- tary.	Car- diff.	Stock- ton.
Up to 220 yards ..	6d.	5½d.	5½d.	4d.

320 to 420 yards ..	7½d.	7d.	6½d.	4¾d.
420 to 520 yards ..	9½d.	8½d.	8d.	5½d.
Over 520 yards ..	Special contract: Clause 25, General Conditions (Part I.).

68.—Measurement of Distances.

The distances referred to in Clause 67 of this Part shall be measured from the centre of the flat to which the coal is wheeled to where the skip stands to be filled.

A measurement of the distances shall be taken when requested by the local Union officers.

69.—Method of Payment.

The employer shall record the gross tonnage filled by the miners in the various districts in which the wheelers operate, and the wheelers shall be paid for the tonnage so recorded. No payment shall be made for coal filled from roadways, unless such coal is wheeled by the wheelers.

70.—Delivery of Materials.

All ordinary timber or mining materials required for delivery along his ordinary wheeling road shall be delivered from the flats to the required places by the wheeler, without additional remuneration; but any extraordinary timber taken in for the use of shiftmen shall be paid for as lost time at the wheeler's day wage rate as shown in Clause 4 of the General Conditions.

Skips of sand, rails, sleepers or lids, and loads of timber required to be unloaded by the wheeler at the places appointed by the manager shall be paid for at the rate of ninepence (9d.) per skip or load.

Skips of props shall be paid for at the rate of threepence (3d.) for every five (5) props so unloaded.

When timber is unloaded by a wheeler such timber shall be stacked by him.

71.—Wheeling of Refuse.

Where a wheeler is required to wheel skips of refuse from the seam, each skip shall be deemed to contain a ton, and the wheeler shall be paid at the rates provided in Clause 67 of this Part, for each skip wheeled.

72.—Filling of Road Coal.

If directed by the Management road coal shall be filled by the wheelers, and shall be paid either at the tonnage rate of the particular mine, as provided in Clause 31, Part II., "A," or at the minimum daily rate of pay provided in Clause 73 of this Part.

73.—Minimum Wage.

The minimum daily rate payable to wheelers shall be as provided in Clause 4 of the General Conditions. In addition sixpence (6d.) per shift shall be paid for afternoon shift and one shilling (1s.) per shift for any midnight shift. Should the aggregate of their contract earnings for any pay period be less than the minimum herein mentioned for the number of shifts worked in that period, they shall nevertheless be paid an aggregate amount equal to the minimum for that number of shifts.

74.—Wheelers' Horses.

(i) The employer shall provide wheelers on contract rates with horses properly broken in to pit work, so that such wheelers shall not be hindered in their work; but if such wheelers are so hindered in their work they shall be compensated for the same.

(ii) The wheeler shall, if instructed by the Management, take his horse from the stables to the mouth of the mine travelling road before the commencement of any shift, and at the completion of the shift return the horse to the stables, without extra remuneration: Provided, however, that when the distance to be travelled exceeds one hundred (100) yards and is less than one mile, the sum of sixpence (6d.) per shift in addition to his appropriate rate shall be paid: Provided, further, that when instructed by the Management to harness his horse before commencing the shift, and feed, water, and unharness his horse on returning to the stables, the wheeler shall be paid the sum of sixpence (6d.) per shift extra.

75.—Stacking of Timber.

Where timber is required to be stacked, it shall be stacked in a place where it is most readily accessible to the wheeler. Timber shall not be left lying between the roads on the flats.

76.—Draining Roads.

The employer shall keep the wheeling roads properly drained, wherever it is practicable to do so.

77.—Miners taken out of Wheelers' Cavil.

In the event of a miner being taken out of a wheeler's cavil for any other reason than to supply the place of another worker who is absent from work without notice, then such wheeler shall be paid at the rate of the average tonnage that the miner would have filled for that day if he had worked in the ordinary course.

PART IV.

Coal-cutting.

78.—Duties.

The duties in particular of the coal-cutting machineman shall include the undercutting of the coal with electric coal-cutting machines, the travelling of the machines to and from the various places, and preparing the machines for operation.

79.—Machine-cut.

(i) In undercutting the coal, the machineman shall leave a clear space of not less than three (3) inches between the top of the machine cuttings, or "buck dust" and the top of the cut made by the coal-cutting machine. Every coal-cutting machineman shall leave each place in this condition, except in cases specified hereunder, namely:—

(a) When a machine cuts into a stone pack; or

(b) In places carrying water in such quantity that the clearance cannot be given without interfering with the normal operation of the machine; or

(c) In places where, from any other cause, it is unreasonable and impracticable to compel the machineman to leave a clear space of three (3) inches as provided in the first paragraph of this clause; or

(d) Where the coal sits down after being cut.

(ii) If a machineman is impeded in his work by reason of the machine cutting into stone, or "brass," in the seam or on account of the machine becoming jammed through no negligence nor lack of skill on the part of the machineman, then he shall be paid such extra remuneration as may be mutually agreed upon by the manager and the machineman concerned. In the event of any dispute arising in the operation of this clause, it may be referred for settlement to the Board of Reference.

80.—Bits, Lubricating Oil, etc.

The employer shall keep the coal-cutting machines in good working order. He shall supply sufficient cutting bits, lubricating oil, and sand in the most convenient position in each district operated by the coal-cutting machineman. Electric supply cables shall be kept within a convenient distance of the working faces.

81.—Lubrication and care of Machines.

The machinemen shall take proper care of the machine and tools and the trailing cable and machine rope. They shall keep the machine in a reasonable state of cleanliness. A "reasonable state of cleanliness" shall, for the purpose of this clause, include keeping all oil wells clean, and with sufficient oil in them; and keeping all accessible parts of the machine clean; but shall not include dismantling any part of the machine for cleaning.

82.—Tools.

The employer shall supply all tools required by the machineman in the course of his duties, and the machineman shall be responsible for the safe keeping of them while in his custody: Provided that it shall only be obligatory on the employer to supply a pick and shovel once in twelve (12) months, unless the same be destroyed by accident.

83.—Cavil.

A cavil shall be conducted quarterly in every mine, should any number of coal-cutting machinemen desire it. The date of such cavil shall coincide with the general quarterly cavil of the mine; as arranged by the manager and the scrutineers. Machinemen, when on tonnage rates, shall have the right to choose their own mates, prior to the drawing of the cavil. If a vacancy should occur during the course of the cavil, the remaining machinemen shall have the right to choose any available machineman at the mine; but if no such machineman be available, any other man in the mine. If the manager objects to any man so chosen, the matter in dispute shall be referred to the Board of Reference.

84.—Situation of Machines and State of Places.

The Management shall acquaint the coal-cutting machineman, at the commencement of, or during the course of each shift, of the situation of the machine and the places which are already undercut and those that require undercutting.

85.—Places to be in Fit Condition.

Any place to be undercut by the coal-cutting machinemen shall be in a fit and proper condition therefor, as regards the removal of refuse and skips; the obligation for such condition being on the employer.

86.—Places to be Cut to the Satisfaction of the Management.

The coal-cutting machinemen shall undercut each place in strict accordance with the instructions as to cut issued by the Management.

87.—Picking up Bottoms.

The coal-cutting machinemen shall undercut the coal at such position in the seam as shall be directed by the Management, and, when so directed, they shall keep the cutting as near as practicable to the floor of the seam. In the event of the machinemen not keeping the cutting as near as practicable to the floor of the seam, then they shall take up that portion of the seam which by reason of their neglect is left on the floor of the place undercut, without further remuneration. They shall, under no circumstances, cut below the position in the seam directed by the Management. Any dispute under this clause shall be referred to the Board of Reference for decision.

88.—Machines or Places rendered unfit for Ordinary Work.

If on presenting himself for work on any day on which the mine is working, any coal-cutting machineman on tonnage rates cannot proceed with his ordinary work on account of no places being ready, or on account of a breakdown of his machine, or a fall of ground, or inflow of water, or any other cause that the manager cannot reasonably foresee or prevent, then the machineman shall be employed at shift work rates at such work as the manager may direct for the balance of the current pay fortnight on those days when the mine is worked; but if a machineman is prevented from proceeding with his work through any cause that the manager could have reasonably foreseen and prevented, then the machineman shall be paid at his average daily rate for the preceding pay fortnight, or be provided with another working place for the balance of the current pay fortnight on those days on which the mine works.

89.—Safety of Working Places.

The deputy shall inspect every working place before instructing a machineman to cut the place.

If it be necessary for a coal-cutting machineman to remove timber or rails (other than the six (6) feet rails at the face), or put in additional timber, he shall be compensated by the payment of average wage for the time lost.

If any dispute arise as to the necessity or otherwise for the removal or erection of the timber, or removal of the rails, it shall be referred to the Board of Reference.

90.—Method of Payment.

The employer shall record the gross tonnage of all coal filled by the miners in the various districts in which the coal-cutting machinemen operate, and the coal-cutting machinemen shall be paid for the tonnage so recorded. All road coal filled shall be paid for at the cutting rates, the money to be equally divided between the machinemen, after allowance has been made for upsets. Compensation for any refuse other than the regular stone band, or stone from the roof which is ordered by the Management not to be filled into the skips by the miners, shall be paid by the employer to the coal-cutting machinemen.

The amount of such compensation shall be ascertained by agreement between the machinemen concerned and the Management and, in default of agreement, shall be referred for settlement to the Board of Reference.

91.—Rates.

Coal-cutting machinemen shall be paid at the rate of threepence halfpenny (3½d.) per ton: Provided that, at the Cardiff, Co-operative, and Griffin Mine, one penny farthing (1¼d.) per ton in addition to the above rate of threepence halfpenny (3½d.) per ton shall be paid.

92.—Adjustment of Places Cut.

At the end of the cavil the machinemen shall arrange among themselves as to what allowance shall be made for coal cut and left in the cavil they leave. Failing settlement among themselves being arrived at, the manager of the mine and the scrutineers shall decide the matter and their decision shall be final.

93.—Cutting in Main Dips or similar Places.

Where machinemen are required to cut in main dips (or similar places) with a grade of one in ten or steeper, the machinemen shall be paid at shift work rates for such time as they are cutting in such place, or a special contract under the provisions of Clause 25 of the General Conditions (Part I.) may be entered into. Where it is necessary to lower or haul a coal-cutting machine into or out of such a place by means of a winch, then the machinemen shall be paid such an amount for compensation for lost time as may be agreed upon by the men concerned and the manager, or, in the event of disagreement, as may be determined by the Board of Reference.

94.—Minimum Wage.

The minimum daily rate payable to coal-cutting machinemen shall be as provided in Clause 4 of the General Conditions (Part I.) In addition sixpence (6d.) per shift shall be paid for afternoon shift and one shilling (1s.) per shift for midnight shift. Should the aggregate of their contract earnings for any period be less than the minimum herein mentioned for the number of shifts worked in that period, they shall nevertheless be paid an aggregate amount equal to the minimum for that number of shifts.

PART V.

Coal Boring.

95.—Duties.

The duties in particular of the workers engaged under this Part and referred to hereinafter as boring machinemen, shall include the boring of the coal faces with electric-boring machines, the travelling of the machines to and from the various places and preparing the machines for operation.

96.—State of Machines.

The employer shall keep the coal-boring machines in good working order. They shall also keep the electric supply cable to within a convenient distance of the working face.

97.—Lubrication and Care of Machines.

The boring machinemen shall keep the machines effectively lubricated and in a reasonable state of cleanliness and shall use every endeavour to minimise wastage of oil. They shall also exercise every care in the handling of the machines and cables and drills.

98.—Tools.

The employer shall supply all tools required by the boring machinemen in the course of their duties under this Part, and the boring machinemen shall be responsible for the safe-keeping and care thereof.

99.—Cavil.

A cavil shall be conducted quarterly should any number of boring machinemen so desire it, the date of such cavil to coincide with the date of the general quarterly cavil as provided for in Clause 14, General Conditions, of this Award, when the various districts in the mine, as arranged by the Management, shall be cavilled for by the various parties of boring machinemen.

100.—Situation of Machines.

The Management shall acquaint the boring machinemen, at the commencement or during the course of each shift, the situation of the machines and the places which are already bored and those which require boring.

101.—Places to be in fit Condition.

Any place to be bored by the boring machinemen shall be in a fit and proper condition therefor as regards the removal of refuse and skips. The obligation for such condition being on the employer.

102.—Places to be Bored to the satisfaction of Management.

4.—Hours.

(a) For shift workers on continuous process the ordinary working hours shall not exceed one hundred and thirty-two (132) in twenty-one (21) consecutive days.

(b) Forty-four (44) hours shall constitute a week's work for ordinary day workers.

(c) Crib time for shift workers shall be taken in relays, at such time as not to cause a stoppage of work, and no deduction shall be made therefor from the worker's wages.

5.—Overtime and Holiday Rates.

(a) Overtime shall be paid for at the rate of time and a half for the first two (2) hours and double time thereafter.

(b) Time and a half shall mean one half day's wages in addition to the prescribed minimum rates, or pro rata, if there is more or less than a day.

(c) All work done on Sundays by day workers shall be paid for at the rate of double time and by shift workers at the rate of time and a half. All work performed on Christmas Day, Boxing Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, or Labour Day, being the holidays specially mentioned in Clause 6 hereof, shall be paid for at double time.

(d) Work done in the meal hour, or any portion thereof, shall be paid for at the rate of double time, but this shall not apply to cases involving completion of work commenced before the lunch hour and not occupying more than fifteen (15) minutes from the commencement of the lunch hour, in which case the lunch hour shall be extended by fifteen (15) minutes beyond the ordinary time. This subclause shall not apply to shift workers, who are provided for under Clause 4 (c).

(e) Double time shall mean one day's wages, in addition to the prescribed minimum rate, or pro rata, if there is more or less than a day.

(f) When a worker, without being notified on the previous day, is required to continue working after the usual knock-off time for more than one hour, he shall be provided with any meal required, or shall be paid one shilling and sixpence (1s. 6d.) in lieu thereof.

(g) Nothing in this Award shall entitle a worker working any overtime, either on week days, Sundays, or holidays, to more than twice the ordinary rate of pay.

6.—Holidays.

(a) Twelve (12) paid holidays per annum shall be granted each worker after twelve (12) months' continuous service: Provided always, that New Year's Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Labour Day, Christmas Day, and Boxing Day, or the days observed as such, shall be taken as they come as portion of the holidays. The balance of six (6) days, i.e., one week's pay, shall be granted as annual leave, at the convenience of the employer, but shall not be allowed to accumulate.

(b) In the event of a worker being employed for portion only of a year, he shall only be entitled to such holidays on full pay as are proportionate to his length of service during that period, and, if such holidays are not equal to the holidays given to the other workers, he shall not be entitled to work or pay whilst the other workers of such employer are on holidays on full pay.

(c) Except when employed subject to the conditions of Clause 5 (c) (Overtime), no worker shall be required to present himself for duty on any of the specially named holidays in Subclause (a) hereof. On any other public holiday the employer's establishment or place of business may be closed, in which case a worker need not present himself for duty, but, if kept open or work done, ordinary rates shall apply.

(d) Where a worker is dismissed for wilful misconduct, he will not be entitled to the benefit of the provisions of this clause.

(e) The foregoing provisions shall not apply to casual workers.

7.—Soft Clay.

Workers engaged in removing soft wet clay shall be paid at the rate of time and a quarter whilst so working. Any dispute as to whether clay is soft wet clay shall be decided by the Works Superintendent and a duly authorised official of the Australian Workers' Union. Failing an agreement, same to be referred to the Registrar of Industrial Unions, whose decision shall be final.

8.—Raincoats.

Raincoats shall be supplied to men working outside: Provided, however, that if a second raincoat is required by any worker within two (2) years from the issue of the first, such worker must show that the necessity for the second raincoat is not due to any negligence on his part.

9.—Accommodation.

(a) The employer shall provide all necessary sanitary accommodation, change rooms, bathrooms, and dining rooms, and shall keep same in a clean condition.

(b) The employer shall provide a sufficient supply of boiling water at meal times, and, so far as practicable, cool drinking water shall be made available.

When a worker is recalled to work after leaving the job, he shall be paid for at least two (2) hours at overtime rates.

12.—Payment of Wages.

Wages shall be paid weekly, unless otherwise mutually agreed.

13.—Entering Kiln.

When a worker has to enter a mill, kiln, or chamber, the employer shall, if possible, see that the temperature does not exceed 100deg. F. If the temperature does exceed 100deg. F. the worker shall not remain inside such vessel longer than fifteen (15) minutes, with a break of ten (10) minutes before re-entering.

14.—Mixed Functions.

Workers called upon to temporarily work at a higher grade shall be paid Award rates for such higher grade for the actual time so employed.

15.—Hiring.

For the sake of convenience, the rates of pay are set out on a weekly basis, but this Award doth hereby declare that:—

- (a) Except in the case of casual workers, one day's notice on either side shall be deemed to be sufficient notice of termination of the contract of service;
- (b) The employer shall be entitled to deduct payment for any day or portion of a day upon which the worker cannot be usefully employed because of any strike by the Union or the Unions affiliated with it, or by any other association or Union, or through the breakdown of the employer's machinery, or any stoppage of work from any cause which the employer cannot reasonably prevent.

16.—Casual Workers.

“Casual worker” means a worker employed for less than six (6) consecutive working days. He shall be paid at the rate of ten per cent. (10 per cent.), in addition to the rates prescribed in this Award, upon an hourly basis.

17.—Under-rate Workers.

Any worker who, by reason of old age or infirmity, is unable to earn the minimum adult wage prescribed by this Award, may be employed at such lesser wage (if any) as may be agreed upon in writing between the worker and the Secretary of the Union. If within twenty-four (24) hours after the worker has notified the secretary of his desire to work at a lesser wage than the said minimum the secretary and the worker do not agree as aforesaid, then the worker may apply to the most convenient Resident or Police Magistrate for a permit to work at such lesser wage. The worker shall give to the said secretary at least twenty-four (24) hours' notice in writing of his intention to make such application to the Magistrate, and the secretary or his agent shall be entitled to attend before the Magistrate, and, pending the decision thereon in either case, the worker shall be entitled to work and be employed by an employer at the proposed lesser rate. The Magistrate may grant to such worker a permit to work for such wage and for such period not exceeding six (6) calendar months as he thinks fit, and his decision in the matter shall be final. The permit shall entitle the worker to work at the wage therein mentioned for such period as may be therein stated, until the wage shall have again been settled by the Magistrate on the application of the said secretary.

18.—Payment for Sickness.

No worker shall be entitled to payment of wages for any absence from his employment, on the ground of personal ill-health, for more than one half day in any one month, with a total of six (6) days in any calendar year.
