A month's notice on either side shall be given to terminate the employment or the employer shall pay one month's wages in lieu of such notice, subject to the right of the employer to dispense with the services of the employee for misconduct, insobriety or negligence without notice at any time.

5.—Payment of Wages.

(a) All wages other than money for overtime will be paid weekly.

(b) Money for overtime will be payable on the pay day of the second week following that on which it was earned.

6.—Sickness and Accident.

If a seaman belonging to a ship, for which articles are signed in Australia, is landed and left at any port by reason of illness, or accident in the services of the ship, incapacitating him from following his duty, he shall be entitled.

(a) If landed at his home port—to receive wages at the rate fixed by this Agreement up to the expiration of one week after the date of his recovery, as certified by his medical attendant or by a medical inspector of seamen, if the employer at his own expense requires an examination. Provided that, in cases where his engagement expires within one month from the date he was left on shore, the time for which he shall be so entitled to be paid shall not exceed a period of one month, and in other cases it shall not exceed a period of three months from the date he was left on shore.

(b) If landed and left at a port other than his home port, to receive wages until his recovery, certified as provided in the preceding subclause (a) and until arrival at his home port, at the rate payable to him when he was landed, and after his recovery (certified as aforesaid), to a free passage to his home port. Provided that, if after recovery the seaman rejoins his ship or takes other employment, or is offered and refuses employment on some other vessel proceeding to his home port at a similar rate of pay to that received by him immediately prior to his being left ashore, and with right of discharge from that vessel on arrival at his home port, his right to continue to receive wages under this subclause shall then cease.

(c) If the medical inspector of seamen at an out-port certifies that the seaman shall be landed at that port for treatment, and the master requires the seaman to return to his home port prior to recovery, either before or after being so landed, such seaman shall, after arrival at his home port, be treated in respect of wages, medical expenses, maintenance, etc., as if he had not been returned to his home port.

(d) The illness, hurt or injury which shall entitle a seaman to the benefits provided for in this clause shall:—

(1) be such as to wholly incapacitate him from performance of his duty;

(2) be, or appear to be of such a nature that it is considered by the master advisable in the interests of the seaman to leave him ashore;

(3) so far as can be ascertained, be an illness contracted on board any ship of the employer, or in the service of any such ship or of the employer, or a hurt or injury sustained in the service of any such ship or of the employer, in either case under the existing or any preceding articles of agreement not separated from the next succeeding articles by an interval of more than a week (except so far as it includes time off or leave granted under this Award) nor by any time of employment for any other employer. Provided that, if the illness is due to his own wilful act or default, or to his misbehaviour, or to a venereal disease, the employee shall not be entitled to the benefits provided for in this clause.

(e) The expense of providing the necessary medicines, surgical, and medical advice, and attendance to a seaman belonging to a ship while suffering from the effects of sickness contracted, or injury received in the service of the ship or of the owner, or from any illness, not being venereal disease, or an illness due to his own wilful act or default, or to his own misbehaviour, and of the seaman's conveyance to the home port after recovery, shall be paid by the employer without any deduction from wages on that account, until he is cured or dies, or is brought or taken back to the port where he is entitled to be discharged or such other port as is mutually agreed upon with the approval of the proper authority. This subclause is subject to the proviso to subclause (b) of this clause.

(f) While being returned to the port above referred to under the provisions of this clause, the seaman, if he is not being maintained by or at the expense of the employer, shall be entitled to a sustenance allowance at the rate of 9s. per day whilst awaiting and during such transportation.

7.—Hours.

(a) Except as hereunder provided the ordinary hours of labour in port shall be any eight consecutive hours exclusive of meal hours between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m.

(b) In any case when a tug and/or lighter proceeds to sea the employer shall work the crew in watches which shall be set and commenced from the time the vessel leaves the berth or anchorage to proceed to sea, provided that when the ship is at sea the watches shall be of four hours' duration with intervals of eight hours off duty.

(c) Outside the hours of labour and without payment for overtime, any work shall be done that is required for the safety of the tug and/or lighter.

(d) Forty-four hours shall constitute the ordinary hours of duty for a week and such hours, in port, shall be worked between 7 a.m. Mondays to 12 noon on Saturdays.

8.—Overtime.

(a) All work performed outside of or in excess of the hours prescribed in clause 7 shall be paid for at the rate of time and a-half of the ordinary rate.

(b) All work performed in port on Sundays or holidays double ordinary rates shall be paid and as for at least four hours.

(c) Where the period of a voyage includes time between noon on Saturdays to midnight on Sundays or holidays as defined in clause 16, the following provisions shall apply:—

(i) For each watch (as defined in clause 7 (b)) and in lieu of payment of overtime rates, the employee shall be entitled to four hours' leave at ordinary rates of pay, such ordinary rates to mean the rates obtaining under clause 3 (a), (b) and (c), provided that such leave shall be allowed to accumulate and to be granted cumulative to the annual leave at the home port of the employee. Accumulated leave, irrespective of when taken, shall be paid for at the rate ruling when incurred.

(ii) Should the employer so choose, he may instead of giving or deferring, or accumulating such additional leave, treat the employee as having worked overtime in the week in respect of which such leave accrues and pay overtime accordingly.

(iii) In addition to subclauses (i) and (ii) of this clause each employee shall, in lieu of payment, be entitled to a rest period of equivalent time for watches worked up to four hours on Saturday afternoon and eight hours on Sundays or holidays, this to be granted at the discretion of the Master within 14 days thereof; provided that if this is not granted within the above period, the employer shall pay to the employee ordinary rates of pay for the rest period or periods not granted.

(iv) This clause does not apply to an employee in respect of the time in which he is proceeding to any port as passenger.

(d) Where employees having left the vessel at night are called back, a minimum of two hours' overtime will be paid for each call back (irrespective of the number of jobs); provided that:—

(i) Where time of duty runs into or extends beyond the day's work, overtime payment shall be made only for the actual time worked prior or subsequent to ordinary hours, as the case may be.

(ii) Broken time will be counted to the nearest quarter hour on a give and take basis.

(e) Where there is a second call back on any night, and the break from the expiration of the first two-hour period to such second call back is less than two hours, overtime shall be allowed continuously as if no break occurred.

(f) Provided, that subclauses (d) and (e) do not apply when the vessel proceeds to sea.

(g) Notwithstanding anything contained in any previous provisions of this Agreement, the employer may cause an employee to remain on board for the purpose of shipkeeping, such shipkeeping to be paid for at the following rates of pay:—

(i) From 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. the following day an amount equal to (1) one day's pay.

(ii) From 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. (or any hours between those hours) payment at the appropriate ordinary rates of pay calculated on an hourly basis.

(iii) The duties of shipkeeper shall be so far as possible apportioned to all tug and lighter personnel upon a rotary basis.

9.—Meals (in Port).

Breakfast.—Any consecutive 60 minutes between 7 a.m. and 9 a.m.

Dinner.—Any consecutive 60 minutes between 12 noon and 2 p.m.

Where it is necessary in the opinion of the Master or Officer in charge of the tug for the purpose of shifting ships or to enable the vessel to start a job during a meal hour, an employee may be called upon to curtail his meal hour or portion of it, subject to the following provision: If the time curtailed exceeds a half an hour payments shall be made as for 1 hour at overtime rates, but where the time is a-half an hour or less payment shall be made as for a half an hour at overtime rates.

10.—Vitualing.

All employees shall be virtualled at the employer's expense provided however that when working outside a radius of 15 miles from the G.P.O., Perth, the employer shall be entitled to deduct an amount equal to the difference between the Metropolitan and the rest of the State Basic Wage.

11.—Annual Leave (subject to the provisions of Clauses 4 and 15).

(a) All employees shall be granted 28 consecutive days' leave of absence on full pay for each year worked. After three months' service leave shall be granted pro rata for each completed month of service.

(b) By mutual consent this leave of absence may be taken in whole or in part and the unused leave accumulated, but it may not be postponed beyond the second year.

(c) Where an employee serves continuously for a period of 12 consecutive months or more the expense of return to the home port and then back to the job shall be borne by the employer. Such leave shall commence the day after arrival at the home port and shall terminate at the home port twenty-eight days from that date.

(d) A fortnight's notice of intention to give the holidays to the employee shall be given to the employee whenever practicable. If it is impracticable in the opinion of the Master to give the fortnight's notice, as much notice as can reasonably be given must be given to the employee.

12.—Raising Steam and Banking Fires.

It is assumed that the time required for raising steam and warming up engines is one hour in a day, and that the time required for banking fires and shutting off steam is a-half an hour in a day, and any portion of such time as falls within overtime hours to be paid for accordingly, provided that, when having finished the day's work steam is required for tows more than once in a night, half an hour's overtime payment for raising steam and banking fires on the second of such occasions shall be allowed.

13.—Disputes.

There shall be no stoppage of work for any cause or reason whatsoever. Should any dispute arise between any employee and the employer the matter will be referred to a Board consisting of a representative of the employers, a representative of the Union, and the chairman to be mutually agreed upon by those representatives; failing their agreement, the Registrar of the Industrial Arbitration Court of Western Australia or his deputy shall act as chairman. The decision of the Board shall be final and binding to both parties.

14.—Utensils and Bedding.

(a) The employers will provide, for the use of the seamen, all necessary utensils, to be of enamelware or of a similar nature thereto, but not of tin, free of cost, to the seamen, and also bedding consisting of a mattress, pillow, pillow-cover, two sheets, two blankets and a third blanket to be supplied on application in cold latitudes; the pillow-cover and sheets shall be changed as required and the blankets washed as required; provided that, in the event of the failure of any seaman to return in good order any of such utensils or bedding as may have been issued to him, the employers may deduct any sum, being not more than 75 per cent. of the value of such utensils or bedding not returned, from any moneys due to such seaman on the termination of his employment. The mattresses supplied to be of flax or other fibre and not of straw or tow.

(b) All the necessary eating and messing utensils including washing cloths and drying towels, shall be supplied by the employer prior to the commencement of a voyage.

15.—Repatriation.

The Master may discharge any employee at any port other than the home port by giving the required notice, but such discharge shall be subject to the following conditions:—
