(b) Sea-going Service—

The rates of pay and conditions of employment for sea-going service shall be determined, by agreement between the parties (and failing agreement, by the Board of Reference), on the occasion of a tug being required to proceed to sea.

3.—Engagement and Dismissal.

All employment shall be by the week. A week's notice on either side shall be given to terminate the employment, or the employer shall pay one week's wages in lieu of such notice, subject to the right of the employer to dispense with the services of the employee for misconduct or negligence without notice at any time.

4.—Payment of Wages.

(a) All wages, other than money for overtime, will be paid weekly.

(b) Money for overtime will be payable on the pay day of the week following that on which it was earned.

5.—Hours of Labour.

(a) Except as hereinafter provided, the ordinary hours of labour, other than when working on watches, shall be any eight consecutive hours, exclusive of meal hours, between 7 a.m. and 4.30 p.m.

(b) In any case, when a tug proceeds to sea, the employer may work the crew in watches, which may be set and commenced from the time the vessel leaves the berth or anchorage to proceed to sea.

(c) Outside the hours of labour, and without payment for overtime, any work shall be done that is required for the safety of the tug.

6.—Overtime.

(a) Except as hereinafter provided, for all time worked in excess of or outside the ordinary hours of labour, overtime shall be paid at the rate of one and a half times the ordinary rate for work performed up to 11 p.m., and double ordinary rates for work performed between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m.

(b) Where time of duty commences before or extends beyond the ordinary day's work, overtime payment shall be made only for the actual time worked prior to or subsequent to ordinary hours, as the case may be.

(c) Where employees, having left the vessel at night, are called back, a minimum of three hours' overtime will be paid for each call back (irrespective of number of jobs). For any call back prior to 11 p.m., overtime to be paid for a minimum of three hours at rate of time and a half, double time only to apply for work actually performed after 11 p.m. For any call back, the starting time of which is 11 p.m. or later, a minimum of three hours at double rates to apply.

(d) Where there is a second call back on any night and the break from the time of expiration of the minimum period to the time of re-commencement is less than two hours, overtime shall be allowed continuously as if no break had occurred.

(e) Where the employee, having commenced work at or before 3 a.m., or having completed a tanker duty, is required to continue on day work after 8 a.m., he shall be paid in addition to his ordinary rate of pay a penalty rate equal to the ordinary hourly rate from the latter hour until he has had a two-hour break in which to get a meal and have a lunch prepared for the day.

(f) Broken time to be counted to the next quarter-hour.

(g) These subclauses do not apply to tug crews working on watches or ship-keeping.

7.—Special Conditions Regarding Excessive Overtime.

(a) An employee who has done continuous duty for 24 hours shall not be required to do further duty on the tug until he has had, for the purpose of rest, a period of eight consecutive hours off duty, exclusive of any meal time, provided that continuity of duty shall, for the purpose of this clause, be deemed to have been maintained despite the occurrence of meal times or of the employee being off duty during any period of not more than four hours, including one of such meal times during the 24 hours in question. Provided further, that for each hour worked during the eight hours' rest period aforesaid, the employee shall be paid overtime at the rate of ordinary time in addition to any other ordinary or overtime payment. For the purposes of this clause, time incurred in banking fires and raising steam shall be excluded from hours of continuous duty.

(b) This clause shall not apply where crews are employed under conditions in clause 15.

8.—Time Off Duty.

(a) In lieu of Saturdays and Sundays, members of the crew to be allowed off duty for four intervals of 24 consecutive hours (midnight to midnight) in each 14 days. Saturdays or Sundays not worked to be counted amongst such intervals. Any of such intervals not given shall be paid for on the basis of eight hours at one and three-quarters ( $1\frac{3}{4}$ ) times the ordinary rate. Notwithstanding the foregoing, and as far as practicable consistent with the work of the port, these intervals are to be given on alternate week-ends on the basis of the tug roster as at present arranged.

(b) Any Saturday on which the crew are not required to be on duty after 1 p.m. shall count as one of such intervals, subject to the following:—

- (1) For all work performed prior to 1 p.m., payment to be made at the rate of time and a half, with a minimum of four hours, except in the case of fireman and greaser raising steam, who shall be allowed one hour additional.
- (2) Notification of intention to treat a Saturday, on which the crew are not expected to be required to be on duty after 1 p.m., as such an interval off duty to be given not later than knock-off time on the previous working day.
- (3) If after notification of the intention to treat such a Saturday as an interval off duty, it is found necessary to cancel this notification, and such cancellation is not made prior to knock-off time on the previous working day, all duty performed prior to 1 p.m. shall, nevertheless, be paid for at time and a half, but for all duty performed thereafter the same rates to be payable as if no such notification had ever been given.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding subclauses, no member of the crew shall be required to be on duty for more than six consecutive days (including any Saturday treated as being an interval off duty, as provided under subclause "b" hereof), before being allowed to be off duty for at least one day.

(d) The employer shall notify the employee, when practicable, not later than tea time of his intention to give the employee time off duty on the following day. Failure to give such notice within the prescribed time shall entitle the employee to four hours' pay in addition to his time off duty.

(e) In lieu of customary waterside holidays, viz.:, New Year's Day, Australia Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Anzac Day, Labour Day, State Foundation Day, Christmas Day, Boxing Day and Union Picnic Day (which, so far as they may be allowed off, are to count amongst the four intervals to be allowed off duty in each 14 days, as provided in subclause A hereof), members of the crew who have served continuously for one year to be allowed off duty for 16 intervals of 24 consecutive hours on full pay, or if they should have served for any shorter period, not being less than one month, for a proportionate number of such intervals, the actual time at which such intervals to be allowed off to be a matter for mutual arrangement.

9.—Annual Leave.

(a) Members of the crews serving continuously for one year to be allowed fourteen consecutive days' leave of absence on full pay.

(b) Members of the crews serving continuously for one month or more, but not for one year, to be allowed leave of absence on full pay for a time proportionate to their length of service.

(c) By mutual consent, this leave of absence may be postponed in whole or in part, and the unused leave accumulated, but it may not be postponed beyond the second year.

(d) One week's notice of intention to give the holidays to the employees shall be given, provided that by mutual agreement a lesser period of notice may be given.

10.—Meals.

Except as hereinafter provided, the meal times allowed shall be:—

Breakfast—

(a) (i) If employees are required to commence duty before 5.30 a.m., they shall be allowed any consecutive sixty (60) minutes for breakfast between 7 a.m. and 9 a.m., such period to be regarded as being part of the crew's hours of duty.

(ii) If employees are required to commence duty at 5.30 a.m. or later, but before 6.30 a.m., they shall be allowed a break of twenty (20) minutes in which to have breakfast, the commencing time of such interval to be at any time from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m., and the period is to be regarded as being part of the crew's hours of duty.

(iii) If employees are required to commence duty at 6.30 a.m. or later, no breakfast time shall be allowed.

(b) Dinner.—Any consecutive sixty (60) minutes between 12 noon and 2 p.m.

(c) For all work performed during the above meal hours, double rates shall be paid and continue to be paid until the employee has been knocked off for a meal.

(d) Where it is necessary, in the opinion of the master or officer in charge of the tug, for the purpose of shifting ship or to enable the tug to start a job during a meal hour, an employee may be called upon to curtail his meal hour, subject to the following provision:—If the time curtailed is half an hour or less, payment shall be made as for half an hour at double rates.

(e) Tea.—Employees to be allowed an interval of two hours for tea between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. If no such break is allowed and work continues beyond 6 p.m., overtime shall be paid at one and a half times the ordinary rate up to 6 p.m. and double time thereafter until employees are knocked off for the day or given two hours off in which to obtain a meal.

11.—Raising Steam and Banking Fires.

It is assumed that the time required for raising steam and warming up engines is one hour, and that the time required for banking fires and shutting off steam is half an hour, and any portion of such time as falls within overtime hours to be paid for at the appropriate overtime rate—such work to be performed by one fireman and one greaser as heretofore: Provided that—

- (i) when having finished the day's work steam is again required, the fireman and greaser shall each be allowed half an hour's overtime in all for raising steam and banking fires, and a similar allowance shall be made to them in respect of each successive call out;
- (ii) any payments made under this subclause shall be completely independent of payments under clause 6 (c).

(b) When a fireman is required to attend to banking of fires on days when a tug is off duty, he shall be allowed a total of four (4) hours' overtime at time and a half for his attendance aboard the tug for this work.

12.—Sickness.

In the case of personal ill-health necessitating absence from work, an employee, after one month's continuous service, will be entitled to sick pay on the production of a medical certificate on each occasion, but shall not be entitled to such sick pay for more than six days in the aggregate in each year. Sick leave not availed of may accumulate to the extent of a maximum of 18 days to be drawn upon at such time as absence on account of sickness warrants, but the said 18 days shall be the maximum which can be claimed in any one year, irrespective of the number of years worked without a sick claim: Provided that if the employment is determined, no payment shall be made for sick leave not taken.

This clause shall not apply to employees absent from work because of personal injury by accident arising out of or in the course of the employment.

13.—Discrimination.

(a) The employer will not discriminate without just cause against any members of the Union who bear good conduct records and who agree to and continue to work on the terms now agreed upon, and as there are vacancies for and that the local manager of the company will consider any representations made to him by the Secretary of the Union. The discrimination referred to is unjust discrimination in favour of persons not members of the Union, not discrimination between members of the Union.

(b) Employment of such members shall be made at the pick-up yard of the Union and between the hours of 7.45 a.m. and 9 a.m., provided that in cases of urgency outside of the pick-up time and by arrangement with the Union, engagement may be made to meet the need of such urgency.

14.—Disputes.

There shall be no stoppage of work in the towage trade for any reason or cause whatsoever. Should any dispute arise between any employee and the employers, the matter will be referred to a Board consisting of a representative of the employers, a representative of the Union and the chairman to be mutually agreed upon by those representatives; failing their agreement the Registrar of the Industrial Arbitration Court of W.A. or his deputy shall act as chairman. The decision of the Board shall be final and binding to both parties.

15.—Bulk Petrol Ships—Attendance.

(a) Employees called upon to remain on board the tug for duty between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. for the reason that a bulk petrol ship is in port, shall receive an allowance of an amount equivalent to a day's wages.

(b) If, during the period between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m., any towage service or services have to be performed, in addition to the allowance prescribed in subclause (a), overtime shall be paid for such towage work, and the time calculated from the time of leaving the tug's wharf berth until return to such wharf berth, provided that firemen or other members of the crew shall not, in addition to the payment during towage operations, also be entitled to overtime for any other work during such towage periods.

16.—Casual Employees.

(a) A casual employee is one for whom work for a period of six consecutive working days is not provided by the employer, and such employees shall be entitled to payment at the rates set out in clause 2 of this Agreement, plus 20 per cent.

(b) Casual employees required for duty on Saturdays, Sundays or public holidays, as set out in clause 8 (e) shall be paid as under:—

- (1) Saturdays—at time and a half.
- (2) Sundays and holidays—double time.

With a minimum payment of three hours at the appropriate rate. Provided that if the tug which is the "duty" tug on any of the above days finishes work for the day prior to the completion of the eight ordinary hours of duty, a casual employee shall be paid at the appropriate rates for the time worked or a minimum of three hours, whichever is the greater, plus ordinary rates for the balance of the eight ordinary hours of duty.

(c) The minimum period of engagement for such employees shall be (4) four hours.

17.—Dirty Work.

Any person working inside a boiler or furnace, cleaning inside the casing of internal combustion engines, cleaning inside oil tanks in motor vessels, uptakes, or smoke-boxes where doors have to be opened, or cleaning bilges—1s. 6d. per hour in addition to any other ordinary overtime rate payable.

18.—Cooking and Eating Utensils and Bedding.

The employer will provide on board the tugs, for the use of the employees, all necessary utensils, to be of enamelware or of a similar nature thereto, but not of tin, free of cost to the employee, and also bedding consisting of a kapok mattress, mattress cover, pillow, pillow cover, two sheets and two blankets. The pillow cover, mattress cover and sheets shall be changed as required and the blankets washed as required.

The above items to be provided in sufficient quantity to allow of an independent issue being made to each individual member of the crew, plus any relieving hands.

19.—Provisions.

The employer will continue to provide emergency provisions, consisting of milk, tea, coffee, cocoa, sugar, biscuit, meat, fruit, soups, salt, pepper, sauces and pickles, and shall also maintain on board each tug in the care of an elected member of the crew the sum of 20s. for use in purchasing fresh provisions in cases where emergency meals are necessary.

20.—First Aid.

A properly equipped first aid chest shall be maintained on board and be so placed as to be available to the crew or any one of them at all times.

21.—Sea-going Service.

1. (a) It is agreed that when the tugs covered by this Agreement proceed on sea-going service, the crews shall be victualled by the employers without any deduction from their pay.

(b) Peggy Service.—Overtime payment of up to three (3) hours for one man, or one hour each to each of the three (3) men going off watch, to be allowed for cleaning quarters, etc., which quarters shall be cleaned each day in port or at sea.

2. Nightwatchman in Port.—(a) The hours of any seaman when on articles acting as nightwatchman in port shall be from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m.

(b) For acting as nightwatchman when on articles for the night or part of the night, he shall be paid for his duties as such at the rate of 3s. an hour extra to his day's pay.

(c) Where the services of the nightwatchman when on articles are called upon to assist in shifting ship, he shall be paid an extra sum of 1s. 6d. per shift.

(d) The duties of watchmen shall include attending to moorings, gangways and lights, watching crew's quarters and ship's equipment, and generally to prevent unauthorised persons from coming on board and interfering with any of ship's or crew's property, and to make any form of report required. 4.—Engine Room Work.—When at sea, men on watch in the engine room shall not be called upon to do such work as scouring, polishing, brightwork, painting or washing paint when the main engines are working. This clause does not apply to day-men.

5. Sickness and Accident.—If a seaman belonging to a tug for which articles are signed in Australia, is landed and left at any port by reason of illness, or accident in the services of the ship, incapacitating him from following his duty, he shall be entitled—

(a) if landed at his home port—to receive wages at the rate fixed by this Agreement up to the expiration of one week after the date of his recovery, as certified by his medical attendant or by a medical inspector of seamen, if the employer at his own expense requires an examination:

Provided that, if after recovery the seaman rejoins his ship or takes other employment, or is offered and refuses employment on some other vessel proceeding to his home port at a similar rate of pay to that received by him immediately prior to his being left ashore, and with right of discharge from that vessel on arrival at his home port, his right to continue to receive wages under this subclause shall then cease;

(c) if the medical inspector of seamen at an out-port certifies that the seamen shall be landed at that port for treatment, and the master requires the seamen to return to his home port prior to recovery, either before or after being so landed, such seamen shall, after arrival at his home port, be treated in respect of wages, medical expenses, maintenance, etc., as if he had not been returned to his home port;

(d) the illness, hurt, or injury which shall entitle a seaman to the benefits provided for in this clause shall—

(1) be such as to wholly incapacitate him from performance of his duty;

Provided that, if the illness is due to his own wilful act or default, or to his misbehaviour, or to a venereal disease, the employee shall not be entitled to the benefits provided for in this clause;

(e) the expense of providing the necessary medicines, surgical and medical advice, and attendance to a seaman belonging to a ship while suffering from the effects of sickness contracted, or injury received, in the service of the ship or of the owner, or from any illness, not being venereal disease, or an illness due to his own misbehaviour, and of the seaman's conveyance to the home port after recovery, shall be paid by the employer without any deduction from wages on that account until he is cured or dies, or is brought or taken back to the port where he is entitled to be discharged, or such other port as is mutually agreed upon with the approval of the proper authority.

(1) that such right shall not be accumulative on any other rights afforded by the Commonwealth Seamen's Compensation Act, 1911, The Navigation Act (Commonwealth), 1912-1926, The Merchant Shipping Acts (Imperial), or under any statute or at common law, or the provisions of this Agreement, but shall be in the alternative; and

(2) the making of a claim to compensation or benefits under any of the provisions of the lastmentioned Acts, or at common law, or with this Agreement, shall disentitle the employee to compensation under the provisions of the Workers' Compensation Act, 1912-1934 (State).

6. Ships Stranded.—In the event of a vessel being stranded (not in a tidal river, gulf or harbour), and any member employed assisting to refloat the vessel shall be paid his ordinary wages, and in addition to his wages he shall be paid a special payment of 3s. 6d. per hour between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. and 7s. per hour between the hours of 5 p.m. and 8 a.m. The additional payment shall not be made for the time occupied in performing ordinary duties, or in doing work necessary to save human life.

7.—Shipwrecked Seamen.—(a) Where the services of a seaman terminate before the period contemplated in his agreement by reason of the wreck or loss of the ship, he shall be entitled to conveyance by or at the cost of the owner to the port of his engagement, or, at the master's option, to the port of discharge mentioned in the agreement, or to such other port as is mutually agreed upon, with the approval of the proper authority, between the master and the seamen.

(b) Wages shall be paid up to and including the date of seaman's arrival at his home port.

(c) Where a seaman is not being maintained by or at the expense of the employer during his return to his home port, the employer shall pay the seaman sustenance allowance at the rate of 2s. for each meal and 3s. for a bed.

Provided that the total period for which the seaman shall be entitled to receive wages in pursuance of paragraph (b) of this clause shall not in any case exceed three (3) months from the time of the termination of his service by reason of the wreck or loss of ship.

Provided also that if the seaman refuses or fails to accept the first reasonable means of conveyance, either as a distressed seaman or otherwise, provided or offered by the master or owner, or by a proper authority, he shall not be entitled to receive wages under this clause for any period after such refusal or failure.

(d) In the event of a seaman losing his clothes or effects through the wreck or stranding of the vessel, the employer shall reimburse the seaman for the loss of such clothes and/or effects, but the amount of such reimbursement shall not exceed the sum of twenty pounds (£20) to any one man.

8. Buckets.—The employers will, where necessary, provide a sufficient number of buckets for the use of the seamen, free of cost to the seamen.

5.—Roster Duty.

(a) A rostered shift is a shift posted up showing the daily runs of a motorman or conductor for the week, which shift shall not be less than six (6) hours twenty (20) minutes per day.

(b) If a motorman or conductor fails to take up his rostered or appointed shift, the Board may make such alterations as it finds necessary to fill the vacancy and maintain the service.

(c) Upon public holidays and other days when exceptional traffic demands a special tram service, the roster may be altered to suit requirements, but any such alterations must be posted at least forty-eight (48) hours before being brought into operation. Provided that, should the Board not have knowledge of such special traffic in time to give the said forty-eight (48) hours' notice to the men, a lesser period of notice shall be accepted.

If the motormen are required to sign on at the receiving office, an extra five (5) minutes will be allowed, but this allowance will not be made if such time is included in the rostered shift and paid for.

(b) Conductors shall be allowed ten (10) minutes signing-on time: Provided that when more than two (2) conductors are rostered to finish their shifts at the same time, those in excess of two (2) who first pay-in shall be allowed an additional five (5) minutes, unless the Board provided more than one (1) clerk to receive the returns. Conductors will not be required to take up or leave off their shifts at the car barn.

(b) A worker failing to take up his rostered or appointed shift, unless owing to illness, shall pay the Board for any overtime incurred through another worker being called upon to work the shift. This shall not relieve the man from punishment if he consistently fails to appear for duty.

11.—Days Off.

(a) Each worker except as herein provided shall be entitled to one (1) day off each week without pay. If a worker's day off be cancelled, he shall receive a full day's pay at time and a half rates. This day shall not count as part of the ordinary week's work.
