Notice is hereby given that pursuant to Part 3 Division 6 Section 33 of the Bush Fires Act 1954, all owners and occupiers of land in the Shire of Nannup are required to carry out fire prevention work to allow access and safe working areas for fire fighting vehicles on the land owned or occupied in accordance with the provision of this notice. This notice will apply until revoked by the publication of another notice. By order of, Shire of Nannup, Chief Executive Officer.

Failure to comply with this notice and subsequent written notices may result in a penalty not exceeding $5,000, or the issue of a $250 infringement notice and liability for any costs incurred by the Shire in relation to works undertaken on behalf of the land owner.

2. Applications for a Variation of this Fuel Hazard Reduction and Firebreak Notice 2020/2021, where ground conditions or environmental concerns prevent compliance with the requirements of this notice, must be lodged with the Shire of Nannup in writing together with a Fuel Hazard Reduction and Firebreak Notice 2020/2021 Variation form, prior to 1st November each year. Forms may be obtained from the Shire office or online at www.nannup.wa.gov.au and follow the links or by contacting your local Fire Control Officer (FCO). Application fee applies: 1 year $50, 5 years $100 (per lot applied for).

3. DEFINITIONS FUEL HAZARD REDUCTION AND FIREBREAK NOTICE 2020/2021

Different property types have different firebreak and fuel hazard requirements. For further information in relation to firebreak and hazard reduction requirements please refer to property types, requirements, and maintenance periods in points; 4. Urban, 5. Rural land and accommodation venues, 6. Special Rural, 7. Special Requirements (Hazards, FMP and BAL), and 8. Plantation including Harvested Plantations of this notice.

3.1 Firebreak, Driveways

A firebreak is an area or strip of land where flammable material has been removed or modified to reduce the risk of fires starting and reduce the intensity and rate of spread of fires that may occur. It also allows unrestricted access to all maintenance and fire fighting vehicles.

The firebreak should be constructed within 6 metres of the boundary of the property, must be a minimum of 4 metres wide with a minimum of 3 metres mineral earth and have all trees/vegetation on both sides of the firebreak laterally pruned to a minimum height of 4 metres.

Driveways should be maintained, if a fire truck cannot get to your property safely and turn around, it will not be able to defend your home from a bushfire.

No through firebreaks should be avoided if possible, but if they do exist, they should be signposted and include distance to end. You must have a turnaround large enough to accommodate a fire truck minimum radius 12 metre. Firebreaks should have areas to allow vehicles to pass.

3.2 BUILDING PROTECTION ZONE BPZ

All property types, are required to have a Building Protection Zone (BPZ) or similar building protection requirements.

A BPZ is a low fuel area immediately surrounding a building to minimise the likelihood of flame contact with the building. A BPZ is required around all buildings used for habitation and to all associated buildings such as sheds, pergolas, carports and other buildings within 6 metres of a habitable building.

Features allowed within the BPZ include—

- Driveways, hardstands, vegetable patches and lawn.
- Fruit trees and small orchards.
- Maintained Gardens.

A BPZ around your property must adhere to the following—

- The BPZ requirement for buildings post 2011 must be at least 25 metres wide and for buildings pre November 2011 must be at least 20 metres.
- Wood piles and fuel, stored away from buildings.
- Minimal bushfire fuels, including all leaves and dead material. This material must be removed or maintained to height no greater than 75mm (7.5cm) and isolated live trees and bushes not closer than 5 metres to buildings.
- Individual groups of trees should be spaced 15 metres apart to provide for a 4 metre separation between tree crowns.
- Trees and branches must be removed or pruned to ensure a clear separation of at least 3 metres back from building eaves and 5 metres above the roof top. Branches that may fall on a habitable building must also be removed.

3.3 HAZARD SEPARATION ZONES (HSZ)

Plantations, Cockatoo Valley, Rural land with Accommodation Venues and Unmanaged land with a building, are required to comply with the below Hazard Separation Zones requirements, and maintenance periods in this notice—

- A Hazard Separation Zone (HSZ) is a modified area of reduced fuel load that extends 75 metres beyond the BPZ and provides further separation between bushfire hazards and buildings. A HSZ is recommended to assist in reducing a fire's intensity when flames are approaching buildings.
- The maximum fuel load recommended in a HSZ is 6-8 tonne per hectare. This can be implemented by fuel reduction methods such as burning, mowing and slashing but should not require the removal of live trees or significant shrubs. Clearing of trees may require a clearing permit from the Department of Water and Environmental Regulation and Shire approval.

3.4 Flammable Material

Accumulated fuel (living or dead) such as bark, leaf litter, twigs, dead trees and grass over 75mm, depending on the type of property, capable of carrying a running fire.

3.5 Low Fuel Zone

A low fuel zone is defined as an area from which the majority of combustible material such as dry grass, leaf litter, dead bracken, dead trees and dead limbs/branches on live trees (to a height of 2 metres) has been removed.

3.6 Managed Land

Land that is being actively used for agriculture, viticulture, horticulture etc, and where such use is clearly evident but excluding plantations.

3.7 Unmanaged Land

Land that is not being used primarily for agriculture, viticulture, horticulture etc, excluding plantations.
