HIS Excellency the Governor is pleased to direct the publication, for general information, of the following copy of a Despatch, received from the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

By His Excellency's command,
For the Colonial Secretary,
T. N. YULE,

Downing Street, Dec. 27, 1848.

Sir,—My attention has been lately called in several instances to the position of Roman Catholic Prelates in the Australian colonies, and the necessity which appears to exist of establishing some general rules, both as to the respectful attentions which they ought to receive from the local Governments, and also the manner of conducting their correspondence with those Governments.

2. In Official correspondence and intercourse it is advisable that the local Government should recognise that rank which Roman Catholic Prelates are, by the members of their own Church recognised as possessing in it, that is the rank of Bishop or Archbishop, as the case may be, with the proper honorary prefixes attached to those titles. But they must not be allowed to assume for their Church, in any public or official documents, the style of "the Catholic Church." That assumption is injurious to the feelings of other communities, and especially of the Church of England, as it confines the character of Catholicity to the Roman Church alone, and impliedly represents all others as schismatical. The style invariably used for the purpose above mentioned should be that of the Roman Catholic Church which at once recognizes Catholicity of that community, and does not deny the same quality to others. In a deed for instance executed in order to carry out the provisions of a legislative enactment in favor of that Church, and subject to the superintendence of the Government, this latter description should be adopted.

3. The Bishops of that Church must be styled as directed by my Circular, of the 20th November last, by their names, as "the Most Reverend the Archbishop," or "the Right Reverend Bishop," &c., &c., not by the titles of their dioceses, which are assigned to them by their own church; or else as the Bishop of the Roman Catholic church at— &c., which last would be the proper title in various instances; for example, in a deed, of which the provisions apply to the Bishop for the time being.

4. In conducting their official correspondence with the Government, either local or Home, the Prelates of the Roman Catholic church must conform to the same rules, by which all other persons in the colonies are governed. They must forward their letters to the Secretary of State, through the Governor. In their correspondence with the Governor himself, the usage in their case must be the same with that which is followed by the Prelates of the Church of England. If it is customary for the latter to address the Governor direct, the Roman Catholic Prelates may do so likewise. If on the contrary, the practice is for the Bishop of the Church of England to address the Governor through the Colonial Secretary, the Roman Catholic Prelates should conform to the same rule. The Roman Catholic Prelates should also (if the Bishops of the Church of England do so), address the Governor in their own person, and not through the medium of the Vicar General, or other subordinates; this being the ordinary usage in other colonies, as regards Roman Catholic and Anglican Bishops alike, and one from which I see no reason for sanctioning a departure.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,
Your obedient servant,
GREY.

Governor FitzGerald.
