NOTICE TO MARINERS.

LEPERS ISLAND, NEW HEBRIDES;—MARAN SOUND, GAUDALCANAR ISLAND, SOLOMON GROUP;—POCKLINGTON REEF.

"Wolverine," at sea, { lat. 28° 42' S.

Hydrographic Memo. No. 3.

The accompanying hydrographic information, relative to parts of the Australian Station, is promulgated for general information and guidance.

C. WILSON,
Commodore.

The respective Captains and Officers commanding Her Majesty's ships on the Australian Station.

Information received from the Navigating Lieutenant of H.M.S. "Wolverine."

LEPERS OR Aoba ISLAND, NEW HEBRIDES.

Lepers Island.—The general outline of this island seems to agree very well with the chart.

The Shoal Patch, mentioned in South Pacific Directory, is a rock awash at L. W. Springs; and lies with the N.E. Tangent of island S.E. by S., and a wedge-shaped clay colored bluff S.W.

Shoal water extends off the eastern side of island to the distance of half a mile.

The "Wolverine" anchored in four different places on the north side of Lepers Island, and her boats were enabled to land with the greatest ease at each place on sandy beaches.

The best anchorage at Lepers Island, lies on the north coast, towards the east end, and has been named "Bice Roads," after the Revd. Mr. Bice, the Melanesian Missionary stationed on the island; it has a nice beach for boats landing; and the tribe of natives living there are very friendly and very obliging to white men. The nearest fresh water is about a mile inland. The only provisions procurable are yams and cocoa nuts, which they readily part with for tobacco and pipes. We experienced a strong current the north side of the island, setting to the westward.

MARAN SOUND, GAUDALCANAR ISLAND.

The "Wolverine" entered the sound by the southern entrance, and found deep water up to Ferguson Island, and anchored there in 18 fathoms, with the left extreme of Ferguson Island, S.E. by E., close to the opposite shore. The tides here run very strong.

The "Wolverine" then proceeded out to the northward, as shown on a chart, which is to be seen on meeting the "Wolverine," deep water was found all the way out, except near the shoal marked three fathoms, which must be left well on the starboard hand, then rounding the island marked "Round Island," steer out about N. by W. for Mura Island, leaving a double line of islands on the port hand. The course of the track marked, is from the magnetic course steered by "Wolverine."

POCKLINGTON REEF.

From observations made in the passage from Isabel Island to the Louisiade Archipelago, the S. Eastern part of this reef lies in lat. 10° 36' S., long. approx. 155° 47' E. Whilst in this neighborhood of this reef we experienced a set to the N.E. of 58' in one day, and a set to the N.N.E. of 31' the following day.

It was a very thick morning when the Pocklington reef was sighted, and blowing hard with rain, so that a more accurate account cannot be given.
