PACIFIC OCEAN.

NOTICE NO. 61.

SOUTH WESTERN PART.

SOLOMON ISLANDS.

The following information, relating to the Solomon islands, has been received from Lieutenant Frederick Elton, H.M.S. Diamond, Captain Alfred T. Dale, 1882.*

All Bearings are Magnetic. Variation in 1882, 8° 6' E.

MALAYTA ISLAND.—The bay upon the north-east coast in latitude 8° 45' S., longitude 161° E., is about 8 to 10 miles wide from cape Arsacides to the point forming the South limit. A large low island of a horse-shoe shape, the concave side to the S.S.W., and from the extremities of which reefs extend about half a mile, is situated nearly in the centre of the bay. Between this island and the land at the head of the bay there are several reefs and shoal patches easily discernible from aloft when the sun is in a favourable position, but no dangers were seen from the masthead to the north of the island, and no anchorage was found around it except for small vessels.

QUI and QUAHQUAHROO HARBOURS† lie about 3 miles westward of the above mentioned island, and may be identified by the two small islands, Qui and Ronghaseyah.

Qui harbour affords accommodation for two or three large vessels, the water shoaling gradually from 26 fathoms in the centre to the immediate vicinity of the reefs.

Quahquahroo harbour is merely an arm of Qui harbour, and is suitable for small vessels only.

At the northern part of Malayta island, a low thickly wooded island fringed with coral reefs; lies about 2 miles from the shore off cape Simson, and several small islets were seen near the mainland to the south-eastward.

FLORIDA ISLAND.—Gaieta village.—At about half a cable S.S.E. of Flat-top rock, off Gaieta village, is a coral patch not easily seen, upon which 3 fathoms least water was found.

A larger shoal and more easily discernible, upon which 3½ fathoms least water was found, lies about a quarter of a mile west of Flat-top rock.

Anchorage.—The Diamond found temporary anchorage, the day being calm, in 17 fathoms, coral and sand, in a small bay westward of Flat-top rock.

Nogu island has been expunged from the charts, it having been reported upon good authority to be identical with Sesarga island.

The island lying 2½ miles east of Gaieta village, is named Mandoliana.‡

Sandfly Passage.—Anchorage.—The Diamond moored, head and stern, in 17 fathoms, mud, off the village of Nago, in a small harbour, the approach to which is narrow but deep, near the middle of the south shore of Sandfly passage.

Directions.—To find this obscure anchorage when entering Sandfly passage from the south-westward, keep mid-channel until a well-defined conical hill, with a rounded knoll to seaward of it, is seen to form the north-east boundary of a comparatively deep bay. Enter this bay with the conical hill upon the port hand, pass between some coral reefs and patches easily seen with the sun astern, proceed to the extreme head of the bay, and anchor.

Tides.—Along the southern coast of Florida island, the flood stream was found to run to the westward.

Eddies and rips were observed to cover much space between Florida and Guadalcanar islands, these eddies having the appearance of shallow water render the shoals more difficult to distinguish.

RUSSEL ISLANDS.—Anchorage.—In passing through the central channel of these islands, anchorage was found in a small inlet, about midway, upon the eastern shore in 20 fathoms, mud and coral, with just room to swing; in latitude 9° 4' S., longitude 159° 7½' E.

Anchorage was obtained at the head of an inlet in latitude 9° 2' S., longitude 159° 5' E., to the south-east of Nono island in 23 fathoms, with swinging room.

No anchorage could be found in Paddy bay, south of Kobiloko island.

Current.—The Diamond found a current setting to the southward one knot per hour, in the channel between Guadalcanar and San Christoval islands upon each of the three occasions of her visit.

UNSUCCESSFUL SEARCH FOR BEAVER REEF.

The following information has been received from Staff Commander Coghlan, Admiralty Surveying Officer, dated 21st October 1882, relative to a further unsuccessful search made in the Colonial Government surveying schooner Meda for the Beaver reef, said to be situated about 60 miles westward of Swan river:—

This reef was reported by the schooner Beaver in the year 1864, to be in lat. 32° 6' S., long. 114° 37' E., and subsequently reported by the schooner Gift in 1869 (about 11 miles west of that position), to break heavily, and to extend about half a mile in a north and south direction with depths of 15 to 18 fathoms at the distance of a quarter of a mile from the southern end.

During this further examination by the Meda, extending over a period of eleven days, soundings with no bottom at 360 fathoms and no bottom at 300 fathoms were obtained at the positions given, and no bottom at 850 fathoms about midway between.

This unsuccessful search, combined with similar results from four examinations previously made in the Meda, the whole covering the area included between lat. 32° S. and 32° 20' S., and long. 114° E. and 115° E., is considered to establish the non-existence of the reported Beaver reef—it has therefore been removed from the Admiralty charts.
