*Colonial Secretary's Office,
Perth, 5th April, 1884.*

HIS Excellency the Governor directs the publication of the following Regulations under "The Telegraph Act, 1883," approved by His Excellency in Executive Council, on the 31st March, 1884.

By Command,
MALCOLM FRASER,
Colonial Secretary.

Regulations and Conditions under which Telegraph Messages are authorised to be transmitted in Western Australia.

1. To lessen as much as possible any liability to error in the transmission of Messages from defective manuscript, it is desirable that the use of figures should be avoided, and that words at length be substituted; messages must be written with ink in a clear and legible manner, and bear a proper date, address, and genuine signature.

2. Messages are transmitted and delivered in the order of their reception, and no precedence is allowed except for messages relating to the arrest of criminals, the discovery or prevention of crime or any other matter connected with the administration of justice, and all Government despatches when so required.

3. Messages for transmission on Sundays must be restricted to messages relating to sickness or death, the arrival or departure of friends by land or sea, and special despatches on the public service.

4. Payment of charges in advance is required, except for replies to interrogatory messages on which the sender may have written the words "Reply Paid."

5. All messages are held strictly confidential, the strictest secrecy being enjoined as to the contents or purport of any message; no person not employed in the service of the Telegraph is allowed access to the operating rooms without a special order.

6. Every reasonable exertion is used to secure the greatest promptness, accuracy, and despatch in conducting the business of the Telegraph, but no responsibility is assumed by the Government for any errors, omissions, or delays in the transmission or non-transmission, delivery or non-delivery of any message from whatever cause the same arise. In order, however, to afford the fullest security for the correctness of a transmitted message, the sender may obtain a copy of the message as repeated back from the receiving office upon payment of one-half the original charge upon such message.

7. In the event of serious delay occurring to prevent the transmission of a message within a reasonable time, or sufficient to destroy the value of the despatch, notice will be conveyed to the sender, and the message together with the amount paid thereon returned if desired.

8. In cases where immediate replies are required the messenger will be instructed to wait five minutes after the delivery, provided the message contains the words "Reply by Telegraph immediately."

9. Printed forms upon which messages should be written may be obtained at the Offices; but all messages, whether written upon the prescribed form or upon plain paper, will be considered as tendered for transmission and be transmitted under the several conditions and stipulations above detailed.

10. The original messages are kept for the space of one year, after which they are burned in the presence of the Superintendent.

SCALE OF CHARGES.

For messages between Perth and Fremantle, 6d. for the first ten words, and 1d. for each additional word.

For messages between any other two stations in Western Australia, a uniform rate of 1s. for the first ten words, and 1d. for each additional word.

Press messages are transmitted at 3d. for the first ten words, and 1d. for each four words additional.

No charge is made for the date, address, or signature to any message.

Messages are delivered free of charge within one mile of the office, over that distance mileage at the rate of 1s. per mile is chargeable.

Messages may be transmitted in Cypher in the English language on payment of an additional charge of fifty per cent., but Cypher words must not average more than two syllables.

On special occasions, when the communication may be kept open after office hours, and on Sundays, double the ordinary rate will be required upon all messages.
