[Enclosure 2.]

THE FULLERTON MURDER.

Mystery still surrounds the terrible murder at Fullerton, Neb., in which our citizens are so deeply interested. A Mr. Young, who has a brother living near the scene of the tragedy, reported here this week that the body of Furnivall had been found. This information does not comport, however, with the following despatch published in the "Minneapolis Tribune," of Wednesday:—

Omaha, Oct. 14.—The following is the verdict in the case of the quadruple murder near Fullerton, Nance County, in this State.

"We believe that H. A. G. Baird, Hugh Mair, Harry Perceval, Mrs. Harry Perceval, and her one-year-old child came to their death feloniously, Sunday evening, September 28th, and Monday, September 29th, 1884; and that they came to their death by wounds from weapons in the hands of one George Furnivall.—S. HENRY."

The details of the murder, as brought forth by the investigation, are as follows:—Furnivall and Mair went to Edmondson's, Sunday, and from there Furnivall and one of the Edmondson boys went to a paint office a few miles distant, and Mair and another Edmondson went to Clarke. Furnivall went to Edmondson's first, and was mad because Mair had not got back: it being Mair's work to do the cooking. Mair returned soon and enquired if Furnivall had gone home. On being told that he had, he hurried home, saying "George will be mad because I am not there to cook supper." A quarrel took place upon Mair's return, and ended in Mair not getting Furnivall's supper, and Furnivall, in his rage, loaded his gun and shot Mair while he was in bed.

Baird had been in the habit of coming every night from Perceval's and bathing in a creek near the house. He generally went in and had a chat with Mair. It is supposed that he carried out his usual habit, Monday night, and discovered Mair's dead body, and was shot and thrown into the creek by Perceval, on the principle that "dead men tell no tales." Furnivall knew that enquiry after Baird would be made upon Perceval's return, and as it was impossible to get far until the train left Fullerton, Tuesday morning, he waited for Perceval's return from Fullerton, Monday night, and when he went for hay for his horses, shot him down, and ended his foul crime by shooting Mrs. Perceval, with whom he had previously had trouble. After murdering Mrs. Perceval, he broke open the cash box and went through Mrs. Perceval's pocket book. It is not thought that he could have secured over $100, and this, with $98 obtained at the First National (where he had left a note as security a week previous), is thought to be the only money he had with him. The shoes Furnivall had on on Monday, when A. H. Bird was there, were found covered with blood. The remains of his overalls were found in the stove, where he burned them. A paper was found on which was written, "wait 'until to-morrow night, and I will see what my chances are.'" Furnivall's best friends now admit his guilt. The testimony taken by the Coroner's jury fills nearly two hundred pages.

Mr. Frank Tanner arrived in this city Wednesday evening, and we understand pronounces the despatch in the "Tribune" mainly correct.—Owatonna Journal, Oct. 17.

(2) SAND ISLET NORTH-WESTWARD OF WILLIS GROUP.

Information has been received from Mr. Owen, Commander of the British ship Cambrian Princess, of the existence of a sand islet lying north-westward of Willis group, westward of the outer route to Torres strait:—

This islet (Owen Sand Islet) was sighted in the forenoon, distant about 4 miles; it appeared to be composed of white sand, about 3 or 10 feet above water, and about 3 miles in length; no outlying reefs, or discoloured water were seen from the ship's masthead.

Position approximate, lat. 15° 43' S., long. 149° 43' E.

AUSTRALIA—EAST COAST.
INNER ROUTE.

(1) C AND D REEFS—ALTERATION IN BEACONS.

The Government of Queensland has given Notice, dated 27th October, 1884, that as the main route for navigation now lies between c and d reefs (near Monkhouse point) and the mainland, the colour and shape of the beacons on those reefs would shortly be altered from red triangular to black and square.

ENDEAVOUR RIVER ENTRANCE.

(2) GRASSY HILL LIGHT—LIMIT OF VISIBILITY.

Also, that on and after 27th October, 1884, the temporary light on Grassy hill, south side of endeavour river entrance, would be obscured southward of the bearing of W. by N. With this light in sight therefore, vessels will be clear of d reef and Blackbird patch.

PRINCESS CHARLOTTE BAY.

(3) SHOAL BETWEEN E AND G REEFS.

Also, dated 28th October 1884, that a shoal, on which the steam vessel Taiwan, drawing 19 feet, is said to have struck, is reported to lie midway between e and g reefs, Princess Charlotte bay.

NOTE.—In consequence of the uncertain nature of this report, placing a danger in mid-channel between e and g reefs:—Mariners are recommended, pending an examination of the locality, not to use this passage, but by day, as well as by night, to follow the "Night course" indicated on the chart.

AUSTRALIA—SOUTH COAST.

PORT PHILLIP—SOUTH CHANNEL.

(1) EASTERN LIGHTHOUSE—ALTERATIONS IN UPPER LIGHT, DISCONTINUANCE OF LOWER LIGHT.

With reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 97, of 21st July 1874, on the establishment of Eastern light, immediately under Arthur's Seat, South channel, Port Phillip; and No. 13, of 31st January, 1878, on the exhibition of an auxiliary white light, placed 40 feet below the above mentioned light:—

The Government of Victoria has given further Notice, that on 1st January, 1885, a new and more powerful light would be exhibited in lieu of the previous upper light; and that the lower light would be discontinued:—

The new Eastern light shows as heretofore fixed red between the bearings of S. by W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W. and S.E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E., and fixed white between S.E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E. and E. by N. $\frac{1}{2}$ N.; it is elevated 100 feet above high water, and should be visible in clear weather from a distance of about 13 miles. The illuminating apparatus is dioptric, or by lenses, of the third order.

The lighthouse, constructed of iron, is painted white.

AUSTRALIA—NORTH COAST.

CLARENCE STRAIT.

(2) VERNON ISLANDS—BUOY MARKING SHOAL GROUND.

The Government of South Australia has given Notice, dated 5th December, 1884, that a buoy has been placed near the western end of the shoal ground lying north-westward of S. W. Vernon Island, Clarence Strait:—

The buoy, conical, painted black and surmounted with a globe, is moored in about 7 fathoms water, with the following bearings and distance:—

Western point, N.W. Vernon island. N.E. by E.
Henry Ellis reef buoy.....E. $\frac{1}{2}$ N., distant about 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles.
Fright point.....S.E. by E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E.

Position, lat. 12° 5' 15" S., long. 130° 57' 15" E.

NOTE.—Large vessels should pass westward of this buoy, as the soundings to the south-eastward are very irregular, and at the distance of two or three cables in that direction from the buoy, the depth is about 15 feet at low water spring tides.

In ordinary weather, this conical buoy, and Henry Ellis reef buoy may be plainly seen from each other, thus facilitating the navigation.

The red buoy on the south-east spit of East Vernon island, which disappeared in 1884, will not be replaced.

(The bearings are Magnetic. Variation { (1) 8° } Easterly in 1885.

26th January, 1885.

Approved in Executive Council this 26th day of January, 1885.

ALEX. C. ONSLOW,
Administrator.

Colonial and Indian Exhibition, 1886.

A ROYAL Commission, of which His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has been pleased to assume the Presidency, having been appointed for the purpose of organising and carrying out in London, during the year 1886, an Exhibition of the products, manufactures, and resources of the Colonial and Indian Empire, and a memorandum explaining fully the purposes of this Exhibition having, by order of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, been furnished for general guidance, with an invitation to this Government to join in bringing prominently under notice the development and progress of this Colony, His Excellency the Administrator, in order to carry out this object, has appointed a Commission for the purpose of collecting and forwarding such exhibits as will form a true and thorough representation of the industries, &c., of the Colony. At no period in its history has an Exhibition of this nature been of greater importance to its interests, both in regard to the present and the future.

During the past few years Western Australia has been attracting the attention of capitalists and others, as is evidenced by the various schemes for its development which have lately been prominently before the public.

It is therefore desirable that every endeavor should be made to have our resources fully represented.

The efforts of the Commission will be futile, unless seconded by the general public; it is therefore hoped that every assistance will be given, so that the exhibits of the industries, manufactures, and resources of the country may be of such a number and character as to render the Western Australian Court a success.

The space allotted to this Colony is ample, being 140 feet in length by 62ft. 6in. in breadth.

In order to secure a wide and complete representation, Sectional Committees have been organised, who will devote themselves more particularly to special subjects, viz.:

Section 1.—Staple Products—Comprising wool, timber, pearl and pearl shells, tortoise shell, sandalwood, guano, gums, furs, copper, lead, and other minerals, &c.

Section 2.—Colonial Industries—Agriculture, horticulture, preserves (fish, fruits, &c.), oils, wines, &c.

Section 3.—Arts and Manufactures—Manufactures generally, including cases for exhibition, marble, stone work, &c.

Section 4.—Education and Science—Statistics, history, geography, topography, anthropology, ethnology (aboriginals), botany, zoology, conchology, meteorology, &c.

The cost of transport within the Colony, together with the conveyance of the Exhibits to London, will be borne from the funds provided.

Local Committees for the collection of Exhibits will shortly be formed in every district.

Intending Exhibitors should communicate at an early date to the Secretary of the Commission, Perth, the full particulars of such Exhibits as they may desire to send.

By Order,

ALPIN F. THOMSON,

Secty. to the Commission.
