HIS Excellency the Governor has been pleased to direct the publication, for general information, of the following Report of the Western Australian Commission for organising the representation of the Colony at the London, Indian, and Colonial Exhibition of 1886, together with His Excellency's Minute on the Report, and a letter of instructions to the Executive Commissioner.

By Command,
M. S. SMITH,
Acting Colonial Secretary.

M I N U T E .

TO THE HONORABLE THE COLONIAL SECRETARY.

I have read this Report with interest and attention, and I offer my best thanks to the Commissioners for their disinterested and, I trust, successful labours.

2. I enclose, for the information of the Commissioners, a copy of the letter of instructions I have issued to the Executive Commissioner.

3. Have the Commissioners any suggestions to make respecting the salaried officer who should be appointed to assist the Executive Commissioner? Can they suggest a desirable person, and the remuneration, &c.

4. As soon as all the exhibits are despatched from the Colony, I shall be glad to receive from the Commissioners a statement of their expenditure, in order that it may be exactly seen how much of the vote of £3,000 remains to meet the expenses in London.

5. The Report, together with this Minute, and the letter of instructions to the Executive Commissioner, should be published in the Gazette, for general information, and a copy of this Minute should be communicated to the Commission.

6. I have little doubt that this Exhibition, and our share in it, will be of great benefit to the Colony.

7. I trust that the Commissioners will not regard their labours as closed with the despatch of the exhibits, but will continue to assist the Government until the close of the Exhibition, in communication with the Executive Commissioner and the Acting Colonial Secretary as may be necessary.

Government House,
5th December, 1885.

F. NAPIER BROOME,
Governor.

Government House, Perth, W.A.,
5th December, 1885.

SIR,

I have the honour to communicate to you the following instructions for your guidance in the performance of your duties as Executive Commissioner for this Colony at the Indian and Colonial Exhibition, to be held in London during 1886.

2. You will continue in direct official communication with the Commissioners who have been engaged in organising the representation of Western Australia at the Exhibition, and it will be your duty to pay great attention to the views and wishes expressed by the Commissioners. At the same time, as you will be upon the spot, and as I feel sure that you will desire to act with no other object than that of promoting the interests of this Colony, I do not wish to debar you from exercising your own judgment and discretion in any matter which may arise.

3. Your appointment as Executive Commissioner has been reported by me to the Right Honorable the Secretary of State, and you should, on your arrival in London, call at the Colonial Office, where I have no doubt every information and assistance will be afforded to you.

4. You should lose no time in putting yourself in communication with the executive authorities of the Exhibition.

5. Of course, your great object will be the design and arrangement of the West Australian Court which you will spare no pains to render as complete and attractive as possible. The whole of the exhibits sent from the Colony by the Commissioners will be at your disposal for this purpose.

6. I approve the recommendation made by the Commissioners in their report with reference to the appointment of a salaried officer to assist you by giving constant attendance at the Exhibition, and informing visitors to the West Australian Court as to the exhibits and resources of this Colony.

7. The total expenditure in connection with the Exhibition should, if possible, be kept within the sum which has been voted by the Legislature, namely, £3,000. You should be careful to be informed of the progress of expenditure by the Commissioners as well as by yourself, and you should act with every economy.

8. I have requested the Secretary of State to instruct the Crown Agents to defray expenses in connection with the Exhibition on account of this Colony, certified to by you, to an amount not exceeding £1,500. Should further funds be required, you will have to satisfy the Secretary of State that, having regard to due economy and to the desire of the Legislature that the total sum of £3,000 should not be exceeded, the expenditure is necessary or very advisable in the interests of the Colony.

9. You will have many opportunities while in England of advancing the interests of Western Australia, and I feel sure you will use them. It will be of advantage that you should appear as frequently as possible on public occasions, whether in London or the Provinces.

10. You will keep this Government advised of your proceedings as Executive Commissioner.

11. Your expenses out of pocket while on duty connected with the Exhibition may be included in your accounts.

I have, &c.,

F. NAPIER BROOME.

To the Hon. Malcolm Fraser, C.M.G.,
&c.,                      &c.,                      &c.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA.

Report of the Commission appointed to promote the representation of the Products, Manufactures, and Resources of the Colony of Western Australia at the Colonial and Indian Exhibition to be held in London in 1886.

To His Excellency Sir Frederick Napier Broome, Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor of and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Territory of Western Australia and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

WE, the undersigned, having been appointed by Letters Patent dated the twelfth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, under the Public Seal of the said Colony and under the hand of His Excellency the Officer then Administering the Government, to be Commissioners for the purpose of promoting the representation of the products, manufactures, and resources of the Colony of Western Australia, at the Colonial and Indian Exhibition to be held in London in 1886; and, by the said Letters Patent, it being further willed and directed that we should report in writing to the Governor of the said Colony, as soon as the same can conveniently be done, the proceedings in virtue of this Commission; now humbly beg to report accordingly to Your Excellency the action and measures taken by virtue of these presents.

The first meeting of the Commission was held on the seventeenth of February, and was attended by fourteen members. The Honorable the Colonial Secretary presided in the absence of the Chairman.

It was decided to form Sectional Committees to deal with special subjects, as follows:—

Staple Products,	Manufactures and Arts,

and in order to obtain a thorough representation of the resources of the Colony, a circular letter was addressed to the various Government Residents, Resident Magistrates of the different districts, and to the Mayors of Perth and Fremantle, requesting them to call public meetings in their respective districts for the purpose of forming Local Committees to assist in the collection of desirable exhibits. In answer to this circular letter, Local Committees were formed at Albany, Vasse, Bunbury, York, Newcastle, Perth, Fremantle, Carnarvon, and Roebourne. These Committees commenced to collect the exhibits obtainable in their districts, and although numerous promises of support were reported, it was deemed advisable, later on, to grant to each Local Committee a sum of £50 as a stimulus to more strenuous action, to be expended in the collection of, and in the purchase of such articles as could not otherwise be obtained. Numerous advertisements were inserted in the newspapers, and letters were addressed to the principal settlers throughout the Colony inviting their coöperation, as well as to all contributors to previous Exhibitions, and, in order to arouse greater interest in the objects of this undertaking, a reprint of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales' speech made at a meeting of the Royal Commission on the 30th March last, was extensively circulated and republished in the newspapers here.

Regular monthly meetings of the Commission were held, but after a few meetings of the Sectional Committees, it being found somewhat difficult to classify the various exhibits without clashing, it was deemed desirable to amalgamate the Sections for Staple Products, Industries, and Manufactures in one; Arts being relegated to the Sectional Committee for Science.

A sub-committee was also appointed to deal especially with the representation of the Timber resources, who, after careful consideration, recommended the shipment of about 120 loads of Timber, consisting of Jarrah, Karri, Tuart, Sheoak, Native Pear, Banksia, &c. Though this quantity may, at first sight, appear unnecessarily large, the Committee were influenced by the fact that this Exhibition would afford a splendid opportunity for advertising the Woods of the Colony, not only to the English public, but to the world at large, and that to do so effectively it would be necessary to send a quantity sufficient to supply material for experiment to any person or firms desirous of testing the qualities of the different kinds.

It is intended that three Trophies should be erected of the timber which will be forwarded, and that the furniture cabinets and fittings of the Court should be made from indigenous woods shipped for that purpose. It has been arranged that the transport charges on the timber supplied by the Companies shall be defrayed from the Exhibition Vote, and on the close of the Exhibition delivered to their agents in London.

The timber necessary for the fittings, etc., has been purchased and shipped to the Crown Agents, per "Natal."

The Commission, finding in September that the public generally were taking but little interest in the undertaking and that to render the Court a success further active and more prompt measures would be necessary, appointed for the purpose a Special Committee with full powers to take active steps in the collection of Exhibits, etc., and the Secretary was directed to visit the various districts or places where desirable articles of produce or manufacture might be procured.

The original date fixed for the report of this Committee was afterwards extended to the 6th November, when the Committee furnished a report of the progress made, which will be found attached.

It is only necessary here to refer to the principal points of their report.

The Timber resources will be effectively and practically represented by a splendid assortment of—Jarrah (Eucalyptus marginata).

 Tuart (Eucalyptus gomphocephala).
 York Gum (Eucalyptus loxophleba).
 Karri (Eucalyptus diversicolor).
 Wandoo (Eucalyptus redunca).
 Sheaoak (Casuarina).
 Banksia (Banksia verticellata).
 Raspberry Jam (Acacia acuminata).
 Native Pear.
 Sandalwood (Santalum Cygnorum).

Some superior timber has also been secured, from which the fittings and furniture of the Court will be made.

A fair representation of the following may be looked upon as secured, viz.:—Cereals, Mother o'Pearl Shells, Gums, Barks, Furs and Skins, Wool, &c.

Specimens of minerals have been received from various parts of the Colony, but, owing to the depression in the mining districts, the display of ores will only be limited. Specimens of the gold, however, lately discovered in the Kimberley District will be exhibited.

As may be naturally assumed, with a population so sparse and scattered over an area so great, arts and manufactures, so to speak, can only be in their infancy, and anything like a striking display cannot be expected; but the following will be represented by some creditable exhibits:—Flour, tinned fish, fruits and jams, confectionery, preserved and dried fruits, tanned leather and skins, rugs, boots and shoes, harness, specimen of wheelwright's work, wines, beers, cordials, and aerated waters. The geological collection, together with the specimens of edible fish preserved in spirits, now being arranged by the Revd. C. G. Nicolay, will be valuable and interesting exhibits; whilst the fine collection of native weapons and implements procured from all parts of the Colony by the Police Department, and the collection of the fauna of the Colony now being prepared by Mr. Webb of Albany, will prove very attractive features in the Court. The cabinet for Mr. Webb's exhibit will be made of indigenous woods, and the birds appropriately mounted, whilst native grasses, lichens, and mosses will be used in fitting up the cabinet. These latter are now being gathered.

The Flora of the Colony will be illustrated by paintings of many of the different varieties, and also by specimens of pressed flowers.

Steps are being taken to obtain negatives of Scenery and Buildings, from which enlarged photographs may be made.

The important question of freight has had the attention of a separate Committee, and in consequence of a despatch received from the Secretary of the Royal Commission that all exhibits should be in the Court by the 31st January, 1886, it was decided to ship such exhibits as could be got ready in time by the "Natal," which steamer sailed from Fremantle on the 18th inst., conveying a quantity of timber and other exhibits, amounting to some        tons measurement, the value of which has been covered from marine risks with Victoria Insurance Company.

It will be impossible to comply with the terms of the despatch previously mentioned, as several of our most important products will not be ready until later on; for instance, it is expected that a really good show of dried fruits will be made, but these cannot be shipped until next April and cannot reach London until the middle of May at the earliest. Every effort will, however, be made to forward the exhibits with as little delay as possible.

Your Commissioners having noticed that Your Excellency has been pleased to appoint an Executive Commissioner who will represent this Colony at the Exhibition, and being desirous that every assistance should be given to the said Commissioner in order to secure the success of the Court, adopted at their last meeting the following resolution:—

“Inasmuch as by the terms of the Commission, dated 12th February, issued from the Colonial Secretary’s Office, and numbered 2110, responsibility for the due representation of the products, manufactures, and resources of Western Australia at the Colonial and Indian Exhibition in London rests upon the Commission, the said Commissioners think it desirable to recommend that, in addition to the Executive Commissioner who has been appointed by His Excellency the Governor to be the Officer of the Government in sole charge of all work in England connected with the Exhibition, it is desirable to appoint a salaried officer to assist the Executive Commissioner, such officer’s duties to be to give constant attendance at the Exhibition, and to afford to visitors full information in regard to all exhibits and to the resources of Western Australia; and that this recommendation of the Commissioners be embodied in the report to His Excellency, previously decided upon.”

This recommendation the Commissioners venture to hope will meet with Your Excellency’s favorable consideration.

With respect to the expenditure and liabilities as yet incurred, it is estimated that they do not exceed £800 in all; this, however, is exclusive of freight, which will be an important item.

ALEX. C. ONSLOW,
for the Commission,
Chairman.

Perth, 20th November, 1885.

Copy of the Report of the Special Committee, read at the meeting of the Commissioners on 6th November, 1885; to which reference is made in the Commissioners’ Report:—

Your Committee have held in all six (6) meetings, and have now to report the action and measures taken by them in furtherance of the objects in view. It was deemed advisable that the Secretary should, after communicating with the Local Committee, personally visit such people as were likely to furnish exhibits, and thence proceed to the districts of Newcastle, Northam, York, Vasse, and Bunbury, Pinjarrah, Mandurah. This he accordingly did, and it may here be only necessary to refer to the rough catalogue herewith to show what success he has met with; merely stating that he everywhere received the cordial support, not only of the Local Committees, but from the settlers generally. The thorough representation of the timber resources of the Colony, your Committee venture to think, may be considered assured. Specimens of the various timbers showing the durability of different species have been secured, and will shortly be ready for shipment. The arrangements for the representation of Tuart having fallen through, it was deemed advisable to purchase in the Vasse district four loads, at a cost of £8 per load for selected wood, and some three loads of Wondoo, which will be obtained from the W. A. Manufacturing Company. This latter wood is of exceptionally good quality. Balks, logs, and planks, &c., of all the known useful varieties have been obtained, and the timber for the trophies, already arranged for, will, in all probability, be ready for shipment in a few days. Purchases have been made of various kinds of timber for the manufacture of the cabinets required. Numerous entries have been made for wool from all parts of the Colony, and on the completion of shearing further entries will doubtless be received. The cereals of the Colony will be represented by about fifteen exhibits from various parts of the Colony, and more are promised. The samples of gold brought down by Messrs. Hall and Slattery, found in the neighborhood of the Margaret River, have been secured for exhibition, at the cost of £28 5s. 9d. Some other small quantities were obtained by Mr. H. F. Johnston, at a cost of £4. It will be remembered this gentleman was authorised to purchase for the Commission any good specimens he might meet with. The Commission is indebted to the various officials in the Police Department for a very interesting and valuable collection of native weapons and implements, which no doubt will attract considerable attention in the Western Australian Court. Efforts have been made to obtain specimens of the native grasses, but with only, as yet, limited success; but an apparently good display of gums, barks, &c., may be depended upon. Under the head of “Products of Hunting, Shooting, Fishing, &c.,” it will be seen on reference to the catalogue that both valuable and useful, and in some cases singularly interesting, objects have been obtained. As yet only a limited number of exhibits of ores, minerals, stones, &c., have been received; but the Committee hope that the Hon. J. A. Wright, who was specially authorised, may have been successful in getting a collection whilst visiting the North. Arrangements have been made to get together a really good collection of raisins and dried fruits from the different parts of the Colony, but they cannot be shipped until the middle of April next, and will not reach the Exhibition Building until after the opening. The Committee have engaged to provide a number of small boxes of uniform size of a neat description, which will be forwarded to the various exhibitors who have promised to devote special attention to the preparation of the raisins and other dried fruits. Messrs. Tuckey Bros., of Mandurah, will forward samples of their tinned fish and preserved fruits, both of which are deservedly esteemed in the Colony and elsewhere. Confectionery, preserves, &c., &c., will also be well represented. There appears to be every reason to assume that the wine exhibits will be of material use in drawing attention to this Colony, as affording a grand field for this industry. In arts and manufactures the Colony no doubt is very deficient, but the Committee understand that a number of pictures of considerable merit have been promised. The wild flowers of the Colony will be advantageously displayed by several water-color paintings and books of pressed flowers. Inquiries have been made respecting the shipment of the exhibits, and the Shipping Committee have concluded to forward all goods that can be got ready in time for the "Natal," sailing about the 14th inst.; the rate of freight quoted being 60s. per ton of 40 cubic feet for general cargo and 72s. 6d. for timber, 50 cubic feet. Further shipments can be made by the Adelaide Steamship Company to Albany, at 22s. 6d. per ton for general goods and 30s. per load for timber. The P. and O. rates to England being 45s. per ton, and timber 60s. per 50 cubic feet. The liabilities contracted by the Committee, exclusive of freight, will probably not exceed the sum of £300, which includes—

It may be here mentioned that a portion of Mr. Webb's collection of the fauna of the Colony has been shipped per P. and O. steamer to the Crown Agents, and that a payment of £25 has been made to Mr. Webb on account. In conclusion, your Committee venture to hope that their efforts during the short period which has elapsed since their appointment have not been altogether unsuccessful, and that with continued exertions the W.A. Court may still be rendered both attractive and useful in drawing attention to the resources of the Colony.

The Chairman of Commissioners to the Honorable the Colonial Secretary.

HIS Excellency the Governor has been pleased to direct the publication, for general information, of the following Report of the Honorable the Commissioner of Railways on the recent accident to a Ballast Train on the Eastern Railway, with His Excellency's Minute thereon.

By Command,
M. S. SMITH,
Acting Colonial Secretary.

TO THE HONORABLE THE COLONIAL SECRETARY.

I have read this Report carefully, and have also visited the scene of the disaster. I have no doubt of the correctness of the views regarding this very serious accident expressed by the Honorable the Commissioner of Railways. I am most thankful to learn that the three injured men are in a fair way to recovery.

2. Soon after the opening of the Second Section of the Eastern Railway, I drew the earnest attention of the late Commissioner of Railways to the dangers attending these steep gradients, and to the expediency of fitting the passenger trains with continuous brakes. The late Commissioner, however, so strongly opposed my view of the matter, that I took no step. But, in the light of this accident, and of the opinion of the present Commissioner, I have now had no hesitation in applying to the Finance Committee to authorise a special expenditure of £1,000 on the description of brake which shall be approved by the Consulting Engineer with the Report of the Commissioner before him. I also approve of the "Slipper brakes" which are recommended to be fitted to six special trucks for the safety of the goods and ballast traffic. I also approve of the improvement in the route of the line recommended to be made at the particular place where this accident occurred. I understand that these works can be done from funds at the disposal of the Government, but, if not, I have little doubt that the Finance Committee will authorise the expense.

19th December, 1885.

F. NAPIER BROOME,
Governor.

---

Public Works Department,
Perth, W.A., 17th December, 1885.

SIR,

I have the honor to submit, for Your Excellency's information, the following report on the late serious accident on the Eastern Railway, together with the minutes of evidence taken at the inquiry I have held into the case.

One of the light saddle tank engines (No. 1), with a passenger brake-van attached, left Guildford Station at 7 p.m. on the evening of the 8th inst., with orders to fetch down a train of 8 ballast wagons for the Perth Station yard, from the siding at  $30\frac{3}{4}$  miles. The engine was driven by Ellis Peake, with Peter Pontigi fireman, and Dennis Guilfoyle guard in charge of the train.

On arrival at the siding they left the brake-van on the main line, intending to couple it to the rear of the train when ready to proceed to Guildford.

On pulling out of the siding on to the main line, which is here on a gradient of 1 in 38, the train, which was far too heavy for so light an engine, "took charge" (to use a railway phrase), overpowering the engine; and despite all the efforts of the guard, driver, and fireman, began to descend the steep inclines at a rapidly increasing speed, until, on reaching the dangerous point known as Cape Horn, the whole train left the rails and was utterly wrecked.

The driver, fireman, and guard had all been thrown off or had jumped off previously, and so escaped by a miracle the certain death that would have been their fate had they not done so. They were all more or less hurt, but, I am thankful to say, not fatally so; indeed, the fireman Pontigi is almost able to work again.

I was informed of the accident by a message from the Traffic Manager, and immediately hurried to the station, and proceeded at once, with Drs. Waylen and Scott, to the scene of the disaster, where we arrived about midnight. The night was very dark; but, by taking the engine head light, I was enabled to examine the wrecked train, as well as the Permanent Way, so as to be in a position to form an opinion, not only of the extent of the damage, but of the cause.

I found the engine off the line, on its wheels, at about 12 yards from the line and 50 yards from the place where it came off, with the trucks piled up—some of them with their wheels in the air. In my experience, I never saw so complete a wreck, or one that covered so small an area. The chimney and spark-arrester of the engine had been knocked off, together with the safety valve and part of the dome. The tanks had been pierced and the bunkers crushed up by the violence of the shock, and one of the coupling rods broken.

The Permanent Way was comparatively very little damaged, two lengths of rails had been bent, and about 6 or 8 lengths on the outer side of the curve unspiked and crushed in towards the other rail, proving that the whole train must have left the line almost together, and at the same place. The line is here on a sharp curve of 12 chains radius, with a sudden change of gradient from 1 in 44 rising to 1 in 30 falling, forming a sort of peak. From examining carefully, I found that at a place about 6 feet from the change of gradient there was a mark on the outside of the sleeper, as if cut with a piece of iron, which was repeated for three or four sleepers further on, where the engine appeared to have jumped bodily from the track to where it now lies, pulling the wagons after and on to her.

My opinion is that when the train, which must have been rushing at a terrific speed, reached this place, the sudden jerk, from the sharp curve and change of gradient combined, snapped the coupling at a faulty weld. The end striking the sleeper on the outside of the curve had the effect of momentarily checking that side, which, with the centrifugal force produced by the curve, caused the engine to jump clear of the road. The speed was so great that, even had this not happened, the train could not have remained on the road, but must have run off either there or a few yards farther on; but under these circumstances it would probably not have gone so far clear of the track, or the engine taken the position in which we found it.

From the ballast pit to the place where the train was wrecked is a distance of about 5 miles 10 chains. The total fall in this distance was 692 feet, or an average of 135 feet per mile, or 1 in 39 in rough numbers. A plan and section of the line between these two places is annexed to this report, as also a plan showing the scene of the disaster and the position occupied by the wrecked train, and photographs of it taken the next day.

The cause of the accident is simply that too heavy a load was attempted to be brought down these dangerous inclines with too light an engine. The train, made up of 8 heavily loaded wagons of ironstone ballast, must have weighed from 90 to 100 tons, while the engine with only brakes on four wheels was not much more than 20.

There appears to have been no regulation in force as to the load for the different types of engines on the Eastern Railway. There was one limiting the number of wagons for this class of engine to 5 loaded wagons; but, owing to the delays to the traffic that ensued, this order was revoked, and the load to be carried left entirely to the discretion of the engine-driver and guard.

This should never have been permitted, as it was leaving the safety of the working in the hands of irresponsible and sometimes inexperienced men, or, at all events, of men who for the most part had never driven on such gradients.

Under these circumstances I consider that no one directly concerned can be held responsible for the accident. The driver and guard, who were comparatively new and inexperienced men, considered it their duty to obey orders and bring the wagons down. The Traffic Manager, from the regulations in force, left the responsibility of the load to the men in charge of the train.

The accident, which unfortunately entails the loss of an engine and 8 wagons, which we can ill afford to lose, has, I am thankful to say, not been attended with loss of life, and the men injured are on a fair way of recovery.

In order to prevent as far as possible any further accident, regulations as to the weight of trains for each class are being made out, and strict orders will be given that they are to be carried out. This limiting the load will, I fear, unfortunately increase the working expenses of the line, as we shall be compelled, in order to keep pace with the traffic, to run additional goods trains; but this even is better than running the risk of a similar accident, which might entail far greater expense in the way of compensation.

I would recommend that six special trucks, fitted with slipper brakes for gripping the rail, be built and used on these inclines. Your Excellency may probably recollect having seen these used on the Belgian State railways, between Louvain and Liège, and again on the German continuation of the same line at Aix-la-Chapelle, where the gradients are heavy, but nothing compared to what those on the Eastern Railway unfortunately are. No train is allowed to come down these inclines without one or more of these brake trucks being attached. The brake blocks, instead of acting on the wheels, do so on the rails with a largely increased surface, and consequent stopping power. I consider an arrangement of this sort, which would not cost much, might be adopted with advantage on the gradients between Chidlow's Well and Guildford.

I would further advise most earnestly that the passenger stock at least be fitted with continuous brakes, as I have already had the honor of reporting to Your Excellency, and would recommend the vacuum system as being the least expensive, less complicated, and quite as efficient as any other, if not more so.

This should, I consider, be done at once. The cost is doubtless considerable; but an accident occasioning the life of passengers would entail probably far more, and might indeed, coming unexpectedly as it would, complicate the revenue of the colony.

It will further be necessary, sooner or later, as I have already had the honor of pointing out to Your Excellency in my report on the Eastern Railway, to modify the gradients on the line, so as to make it less dangerous, as well as easier and less expensive to work. I would ask at once to be allowed to alter the passage at this particular place, which can be done at a small cost, and without interfering with the traffic.

I am unable to give the exact loss caused by this accident until such time as the engine and trucks have been brought into the shops; but I fear it will not fall far short of £2,000, without counting the inconvenience and delay to the traffic from the want of rolling stock.

I have, &c.,

J. ARTHUR WRIGHT,

Commissioner of Railways.

To His Excellency the Governor.
