By Command of Their Lordships,

Section I.—Royal Salutes and Flags.

Royal Salutes.

42. All Royal Salutes are to consist of 21 guns, except in India, for which see 55 and 56.

The Sovereign.

43. Whenever the Sovereign shall arrive at any place in the British Dominions where there is a Fort or Battery from which Salutes are usually fired, a Royal Salute shall be fired from such Fort or Battery, and also from all His Majesty's Ships and Vessels of War present; and similar Salutes shall be fired on the Sovereign's final departure, and on such other occasions as shall be directed.

(2.) Whenever the Sovereign shall go on board any Ship of War the Royal Standard shall be hoisted at the Main, the Flag of the Lord High Admiral at the Fore, and the Union Flag at the Mizzen of such Ship, or if on board a Vessel with less than three masts, they shall be hoisted in the most conspicuous parts of her; a Royal Salute shall also be fired from such Ship or Vessel on the Sovereign going on board, and again on leaving her; and every one of His Majesty's Ships present shall likewise fire a Royal Salute on the hoisting of those Flags, and such further Royal Salutes shall be fired, on the Sovereign quitting the Ship or Vessel or passing in a boat, or on such other occasions as may be directed.

(3.) Whenever the Sovereign shall be embarked on a Ship or Vessel at sea and the before-mentioned Flags shall be hoisted in her, every one of His Majesty's Ships meeting, passing or being passed by her shall fire a Royal Salute.

(4.) Whenever any Ship or Vessel, in which the before-mentioned Flags are flying, shall pass a Fort or Battery from which Salutes are usually fired, a Royal Salute is to be fired by such Fort or Battery.

(5.) The Royal Standard being the personal Flag of the Sovereign, is not to be displayed in future on board His Majesty's Ships, or on Official Buildings, as has been hitherto customary on His Majesty's Birthday and other occasions, but it shall only be hoisted on occasions when the Sovereign is actually present, or when any member of the Royal Family is present representing the Sovereign. In such case that Member of the Royal Family may fly the Royal Standard for the time being but on no other occasion.

Standard of the Queen.

44. When Her Majesty the Queen is embarked in any Ship or Vessel, the Royal Standard shall be hoisted at the Main, and it shall be treated with the same respect and saluted in the same manner as the flags denoting the presence of the Sovereign.

Standard of the Prince of Wales.

(2.) The Standard of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales is to be treated with the same respect, and saluted in the same manner, when displayed in any of His Majesty's Ships, as the Flags denoting the presence of the Sovereign.

Standards of other Members of Royal Family.

(3.) When one or more of the Members of the Royal Family are embarked in any Ship or Vessel, with neither of their Majesties, nor the Prince or Princess of Wales on board, the Standard appropriated for Their Royal Highness' use shall be hoisted at the Main of such Ship, and it is to be saluted as directed in Article 45.

Salutes to Royal Family.

45. Whenever any Members of the Royal Family shall arrive at, or quit, any place where there is a Fort or Battery from which salutes are usually fired, they shall receive a Royal Salute on their first arrival and final departure, from such Fort or Battery, and from all His Majesty's Ships present.

Visiting Ships.

(2.) Whenever any Member of the Royal Family shall go on board any of His Majesty's Ships, the Standard of His or Her Royal Highness shall be hoisted at the Main on board such Ship, and a Royal Salute shall be fired from her, on such Member of the Royal Family going on board, and again upon leaving her.

Met with at Sea.

(3.) Whenever any Member of the Royal Family shall be embarked in any Ship or Vessel, and the Standard of His or Her Royal Highness shall be hoisted in her, everyone of His Majesty's Ships meeting, passing or being passed by her shall fire a Royal Salute.

Royal Standard on Shore.

46. Whenever any of His Majesty's Ships may arrive at a port, or pass the immediate neighbourhood of a place, where the Royal Standard or the Standard of any Member of the Royal Family is flying on shore, marking the presence of the Sovereign or of a Member of the Royal Family at such Port or place, they are, on arriving or passing, to fire a Royal Salute.

Foreign Sovereigns or Chiefs of States.

47. Whenever any Foreign Crowned Heads or Sovereign Princes, or the Consorts of any Foreign Crowned Heads or Sovereign Princes, or the President of a Republic, shall arrive at or quit any place in His Majesty's Dominions where there is a Port or Battery from which Salutes are usually fired, they shall receive a Royal Salute on their first arrival and again on their final departure, from such Port or Battery and from any ships present, and a similar Salute is to be fired upon their going on board or leaving any of His Majesty's Ships. On such occasions during the Salute, the Senior Officer's Ship shall display at the Main the Flag of the Nation of such Royal or distinguished Personage.

(2.) Whenever any of His Majesty's Ships meet, pass, or are passed by any vessel flying a Standard of any Foreign Crowned Head or Sovereign Prince, or the Consort of any Foreign Crowned Head or Sovereign Prince, or the President of a Republic, they are to salute that Standard.

Foreign Royal Family.

48. Whenever any Prince, being a Member of a Foreign Royal Family, shall arrive at any British port, or visit any of His Majesty's Ships, the same Salutes shall be fired and compliments paid to him as are directed by Art. 45 to be paid to the Members of the Royal Family of England, the Flag of the Nation of such Foreign Prince being displayed at the Main.

In Foreign Ports.

(2.) Whenever such visits to His Majesty's Ships shall take place in a Foreign Port, corresponding Salutes shall be fired, and the Flag of the Nation of the Royal Visitors hoisted, as already explained.

At sea.

(3.) Whenever any of His Majesty's Ships meet, pass, or are passed by any vessel flying the Standard of any Member of a Foreign Royal Family, they are to salute that Standard.

Order of Salutes to more than one Standard.

48a. Whenever any of His Majesty's Ships meet, pass, or are passed by any Ship or Ships which are flying more than one Standard, or arrive at any port or place where more than one is flying, or when two or more Standards are broken simultaneously, they are to fire Royal Salutes in the following order, saluting the Standards of—

- (II.) The Sovereigns, Consorts, or Heirs Apparent of Foreign Nations, or the Presidents of Republics.
- (III.) Other Members of the British Royal Family.
- (IV.) Other Members of Foreign Royal or Imperial Families.

(2.) Under these circumstances only one Salute is to be fired for the Standards of any one Nation, no matter how many may be flying.

Standards of Royal Personages at Foreign Ports.

48b. Whenever any of His Majesty's Ships arrive at a Foreign Port in which Salutes are returned (see Art. 78), and where the Standard of any Royal or Imperial Personage, British or Foreign, or that of the President of a Republic, is being flown, the customary Salute to the Flag of the Nation to which the Port belongs is in all cases to be fired first, the Standard or Standards present being subsequently saluted in the order directed in Art. 48a.

Salute to National Flag.

(2.) In case the Standard of any Member of the Royal or Imperial Family or the President of the Republic of the Nation to which the port belongs is flying in the port, the Salute to the National Flag is to be considered as personal to that Standard as representing the Nation.

No other authority of same Nation to be saluted in presence of a Standard.

48c. In the presence of any Royal or Imperial Standard, British or Foreign, or that of the President of a Republic, no other Authority of that Nation is to be saluted by His Majesty's Ships, except as provided in Clause (2.).

Lord Lieutenant of Ireland and Viceroy of India excepted.

(2.) The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland and the Viceroy and Governor-General of India, when within the territorial limits of their Vice-Royalties, as defined in Arts. 51 and 64, are to be considered as junior to the Sovereign of Great Britain and Ireland only, and are to be saluted accordingly by His Majesty's Ships before any other Members of the British Royal Family, Foreign Sovereigns, Presidents of Republics, or any Members of Foreign Royal or Imperial Families. The Standards of such Royal, Imperial, or distinguished personages are subsequently to be saluted in the order laid down in Art. 48a.

The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland is entitled to receive a Royal Salute from the forts and batteries within his Vice-Royalty, and from His Majesty's Ships, if met within three leagues of any part of the coast of Ireland in a Ship flying the Lord Lieutenant's Flag, or on His Excellency visiting any of His Majesty's Ships within the said limits.

52. On the occasion of the celebration of the Birthday of the King or Queen of a Foreign Nation, or of other important national festivals and ceremonies, by any ships of war or batteries of such Nation, His Majesty's Ships present may, on previous official information being received by the Senior Officer, fire such Salutes in compliment thereto, not exceeding 21 guns, as are fired by the Ships or batteries of the Foreign Nation; the Flag of such Nation being displayed on these occasions at the Main of the Senior Officer's Ship.

These Salutes not returned.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Perth, 30th August, 1907.
THE following Despatch and enclosures, received by His Excellency the Governor from His Excellency the Governor General, are published for general information.

F. D. NORTH,
Under Secretary.

Governor General's Office,
Sydney, 11th July, 1907.

Sir,

At the instance of the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies, I have the honour to forward, herewith, for the information of Your Excellency and your Ministers, a copy of Lord Elgin's despatch addressed to me under date 26th April, 1907, covering copies of a Notice to Mariners, which has been drawn up by the Admiralty for the guidance of ships when approaching Defended Ports while the Examination Service is in force.

I have, etc.,
(Sgd.) NORTHCOTE,
Governor General.

His Excellency
The Governor of Western Australia.

Commonwealth of Australia.
Miscellaneous.

Downing Street,
26th April, 1907.

My Lord,

I have the honour to transmit for the information of your Government the enclosed copies of a Notice to Mariners which has been drawn up by the Admiralty for the guidance of ships when approaching Defended Ports while the Examination Service is in force and in order that the Mercantile Marine may become familiar in peace with signals which would be of the greatest importance to them in war.

2. I have to request you to invite your Government to issue instructions for the observance of the rules laid down in the Notice to the authorities responsible for the Examination Service at the Defended Ports of Australia, named on the second page, which are Adelaide, Albany, Brisbane, Fremantle, Hobart, Melbourne, Newcastle, Sydney, Thursday Island, Townsville, and Wollongong.

I have, etc.,
(Sgd.) ELGIN.

Governor General, His Excellency The Right Honourable Lord Northcote, G.C.M.G., G.C.I.E., C.B., etc., etc.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

The last Notice to Mariners published in 1906 was No. 1532.

[No. 1 of the year 1907.]

(The bearings are Magnetic, and those concerning the visibility of lights are given from seaward.)

Caution when approaching British Ports.

My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that circumstances may arise in which it may be necessary, on account of periodical exercises, manœuvres, or otherwise, to forbid all entrance to the naval ports at night, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of Great Britain, or any British dependency, if search lights are observed to be in constant operation, the Naval harbours should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist outside the port, or that the entrances may be altogether closed, and the Examination service may be in force.

In the event of relations becoming strained between this country and any Naval Power, an Examination service may come into force at the ports or localities in the United Kingdom, and H.M. Possessions abroad, mentioned at the end of this Notice.

Masters are warned that before attempting to enter any of these ports they must, in their own interests, strictly obey all instructions given to them by the vessels which will be charged with the duty of examining ships desiring to enter the ports, and allotting positions in which the ships shall anchor. In case of fog they should on no account attempt to enter before receiving permission from the Examination officer.

The institution of an Examination service at any port will never be publicly advertised, but at all times when the relations of Great Britain with foreign Powers are known to be in a state of tension, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or by night, to keep a sharp look-out for the Examination steamer, and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun.

If an entrance to a port is closed three red vertical lights by night, or three red balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, and as far as possible notice of this fact will be given by look-out vessels in the offing.

If the Examination service is in force the Examination steamer will be distinguished at night:—

- (a.) When the port is closed, by three red vertical lights.
- (b.) When the port is open, by three white vertical lights.

The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.
