7. If any party or person fails to comply with any order to answer interrogatories, he shall be liable to attachment. He shall also be liable—

- (a.) If plaintiff, to have his action dismissed for want of prosecution upon the application of the defendant, being the party interrogating;
- (b.) If a defendant, to have his notice of defence (if any) and his counter-claim (if any) struck out upon the application of the plaintiff, being the party interrogating;
- (c.) If a third party, to have his appearance declared null and void on the application of the defendant, being the party interrogating;
- (d.) If a defendant who has given a third party notice, to have the notice set aside on the application of the third party, being the party interrogating.

A defendant, or third party, whose defence or appearance has been struck out or declared null and void under this Rule shall thereupon be in the same position as if he had not given notice of defence, or appeared.

Service of Order.

8. Service of an order for interrogatories on the solicitor of the party against whom the order is made, or at the address for service of such party, shall be sufficient service to found an application for an attachment for disobedience to the order. But the party against whom the application is made may show, in answer thereto, that he has had no notice or knowledge of the order.

Putting answers in evidence.

9. Any party may, at the trial of an action, matter, or issue, put in evidence any one or more of the answers or any part of an answer of the opposite party to interrogatories without putting in the others or the whole of such answer: Provided that the Magistrate may look at the whole of the answers or answer, and if he thinks that any others of them or any other part of it are or is so connected with the answers or the part of an answer put in that the last-mentioned answers or part of an answer ought not to be used without the other answers or part of an answer, he may direct the latter to be put in.

Actions against or by sheriff or bailiff.

10. In an action against or by a sheriff or bailiff, or other officer discharging the like functions, in respect of any matters connected with the execution of his office, the Court may, on the application of either party, order that the affidavit to be made in answer to interrogatories shall be made by the officer actually concerned.

Costs of improper interrogatories.

11. In adjusting the costs of the action or matter inquiry shall, at the instance of any party, be made into the propriety of exhibiting interrogatories, and if it is the opinion of the clerk on taxation, or of the magistrate, either with or without an application for inquiry, that such interrogatories have been exhibited unreasonably, vexatiously, or at improper length, the costs occasioned by the said interrogatories and the answers thereto shall be paid in any event by the party in fault.

Security for costs.

12. In every action or matter, the costs of discovery by interrogatories shall, unless otherwise ordered by the Court, be secured in the first instance as provided by Rule 13 of this Order, by the party seeking such discovery, and shall be allowed as part of his costs, where, and only where, such discovery appears to the Magistrate at the trial, or, if there is no trial, to the clerk on taxation, to have been reasonably asked for.

Security for costs of discovery.

13. (1.) Any party seeking discovery by interrogatories may be ordered, upon making application for discovery, to pay into Court the sum of twenty shillings, and, if the number of folios exceeds five, the further sum of two shillings for each additional folio.

(2.) An order for discovery by interrogatories shall state the amount ordered to be paid into Court, or that payment into Court is dispensed with; and where payment into Court is ordered the party seeking discovery shall, with his interrogatories, serve a copy of the receipt for the payment into Court, and the party from whom discovery is sought shall not be bound to answer, unless and until the said copy has been served.

Payment out of amount paid in as security.

14. Unless the court otherwise orders, the amount paid in under the last preceding rule in any action or matter shall, after the action or matter has been finally disposed of, be paid out to the party by whom the same was paid in, on his request, or to his solicitor on such party's written authority, except in the event of his being ordered to pay costs, in which case the amount in court shall be subject to a lien for the costs ordered to be paid to any other party. Provided that, if after the action or matter has been finally disposed of, by consent or otherwise, no taxation of costs is required, the clerk shall, by consent of the parties, or on being satisfied that the party by whom the amount was paid in is entitled thereto, pay out the same to such party, or to his solicitor on such written authority as aforesaid.

Order to apply to infants, etc.

15. This order shall apply to infants and their next friends and guardians ad litem, and to the next friends, guardians ad litem, or committees of lunatics or persons of unsound mind.

ORDER XLVIII.

APPOINTMENT OF RECEIVERS.

Receiver's security and allowance.

1. Where an order is made directing a receiver to be appointed, unless otherwise ordered by the magistrate, the person to be appointed shall (subject as hereinafter provided) first give security, to be allowed by a magistrate and taken before a justice of the peace or other person authorised to administer oaths, duly to account for what he shall receive as such receiver, and to pay the same as the magistrate shall direct; and the person so to be appointed shall, unless otherwise ordered by the magistrate, be allowed a proper salary or allowance. Such security shall be by recognisance in such form as the magistrate shall direct.

Fixing days for Receiver to pass accounts and pay balances.

2. When a receiver is appointed, with a direction that he shall pass accounts, the clerk shall fix the days upon which he shall leave and pass such accounts, and also the days upon which he shall pay the balances appearing due on the accounts so left, or such part thereof as shall be certified as proper to be paid by him. And with respect to any such receiver as shall neglect to leave and pass his accounts and pay the balances thereof at the times so to be fixed for that purpose as aforesaid, the magistrate may, on the report of the clerk, order that the clerk shall, when the receiver's subsequent accounts are produced to be examined and passed, disallow the salary therein claimed by such receiver, and also, if the magistrate shall think fit, charge him with interest at the rate of five pounds per cent. per annum upon the balances so neglected to be paid by him during the time the same shall appear to have remained in the hands of any such receiver.

Form of Receiver's accounts.

3. Every receiver shall leave in the clerk's office his account, together with an affidavit verifying the same. An appointment shall thereupon be obtained by the plaintiff or person having the conduct of the action or matter for the purpose of passing such account. A certificate of the clerk stating the result of a receiver's account shall from time to time be taken.

Consequences of default by receiver.

4. In case of any receiver failing to leave any account or affidavit, or to pass such account, or to make any payment or otherwise, the receiver or the parties, or any of them, may be required to attend before the magistrate to show cause why such account or affidavit has not been left, or such account passed or such payment made, or any other proper proceeding taken; and thereupon such directions as shall be proper shall be given, including the discharge of any receiver and appointment of another and payment of costs.

Appointment of Receiver by way of equitable execution.

5. In every case in which an application is made for the appointment of a receiver by way of equitable execution, the magistrate, in determining whether it is just or convenient that such appointment should be made, shall have regard to the amount of the debt claimed by the applicant, to the amount which may probably be obtained by the receiver, and to the probable costs of his appointment.

Bailiff may be appointed.

6. The bailiff may be appointed a receiver, and he shall not be required to give any security unless the magistrate shall specially direct security to be given.
