Control and Management of Volunteer Fire Brigades.

Classification of Brigades.

100. For the efficient working of fire brigades, the Board may register brigades and place them under classification as it may from time to time determine.

The classification for the present shall be as follows:—

Class A.—A complement of 20 effective registered members graded as follows:—Captain, foreman, apparatus officer, secretary, and 16 firemen.

Class B.—A complement of 15 effective registered members graded as follows:—Captain, foreman, secretary, and 12 firemen.

In addition to the complement of registered members as provided for above, brigades may elect reserve members, subject to the approval and registration by the Board, who will be required to attend fires, practices, and drills, and to render themselves efficient in the use of fire extinguishing apparatus. As vacancies in the ranks of registered members occur, the places should be filled, as far as practicable, from the reserve. Reserve members will not be granted uniforms.

Registration may be Suspended.

101. Whenever any brigade by reason of deaths, resignations, or expulsions shall have reduced its roll to less than a minimum effective strength to be determined by the Board, the registration of the said brigade may be suspended, and any allowances payable to any members thereof may be reduced or forfeited to the Board as the Board may determine. If through dissensions or other cause the efficiency of any brigade is, in the opinion of the Board, impaired, registration may be suspended or the brigade may be disbanded by the Board.

Brigade District.

102. The district within which each registered brigade shall be liable to do duty shall be that portion that is within the boundary of the fire district in which the brigade is established.

Such fire district shall be known and designated as the brigade district under the name of the said fire district.

Notice before Disbandment.

103. If, after one month's notice from the Board, any registered brigade remains below the minimum effective strength determined by the Board, the Board may cancel the registration of such brigade.

Qualification of Membership.

104. No person shall be registered on the roll of any brigade unless—

1st—He is in good health, and sound in body and mind.

2nd—He is of good moral character and habits.

3rd—He is over the age of 18 years, and not over the age of 40 years. (For exceptions see Regulations 105 and 106.)

Maximum of Age of New Members.

105. No person who is over the age of 40 years shall be enrolled without the consent of the Board.

Retiring Age of Members.

106. No member over the age of 55 years shall be allowed to remain on the registered roll of any brigade unless under special circumstances and with the approval of the Board.

New Members.

107. In each case of persons desiring to join, after a brigade has been registered by the Board, if the candidate complies with the requirements set forth in Regulation 104, and the Brigade approves of him, the name and particulars of such candidate shall be submitted to the Board in such form as the Board may from time to time direct for approval or otherwise, and no person shall be recognised as a member of any brigade until his name has been approved by the Board, and registered on the roll of such brigade by the Board. The Board may require a certificate from the captain of the brigade that due regard has been paid to the distribution of the membership over the area in which the property has to be protected. Members shall reside within easy sound of the alarm bell. Their services must be reasonably available as required.

Persons not eligible for Membership.

108. No person shall, unless with the consent of the Board, be eligible for re-election to any brigade who has been dismissed or struck off the roll of any brigade for misconduct, or for persistent neglect to attend fires or practices, or for want of interest generally in his duty as a fireman, or for any cause which, in the opinion of the Board, would disqualify him for membership.

Transfer of Members.

109. Members may be transferred from one brigade to another, provided the complement of the latter permits of such transfer, on production of a certificate of good character and discharge from their former brigade, and with the approval of the Board.

Leave of Absence and Regulations.

110. Members desirous of obtaining leave of absence must apply for same in writing to their brigade, and in the event of such leave being sought for a longer period than one month, the applications must be forwarded to the Board with the brigade's recommendation.

Members desiring to retire from the membership of their brigade will be required to send in their resignations in writing to the Board through the brigade.

Annual Election of Officers.

111. Every brigade shall meet during the first week in December in each year, and elect by ballot the complement of officers allotted to it under its classification. All officers elected shall be effective registered members of their respective brigades, and shall hold office for the term of one year from and including the first day of January next ensuing, unless during the year they are removed from office or cease to be members of the brigade. The Chief Officer may suspend any member of any brigade, and shall within 24 hours report any such suspension and the reasons for it to the Board, in writing, for its inquiry and decision. The member suspended shall be entitled to receive a copy of the Chief Officer's report to the Board, and be entitled to be heard at the inquiry. Brigades may make their own rules or resolutions with regard to the date and method of nominating for the positions of officers.

Duties of Officers.

112. The duties of the respective officers of every brigade shall be as follows, viz:—

The Captain.

(a) The Captain of the Brigade shall see that all apparatus and buildings belonging to the Board or in charge of the Brigade are kept in good condition and repair; shall in the absence of any permanent officer of the Board (where such exist at a Volunteer Station) take command of the Brigade at fires. He shall also have command at all practices, drills and parades; shall see that the members or persons employed do their duty faithfully, and shall enforce the regulations of the Board. He shall perform, to the satisfaction of the Board and of the Brigade, all such duties as may be imposed upon him, and shall, subject to the control of the Board, have charge of all books, papers, and other documents of the Board that may be in the custody of the Brigade, and he shall be held responsible for all moneys of the Board which may be remitted to the Brigade. He shall attend promptly to all communications received from the Chief Officer or Secretary of the Board, and shall use despatch in forwarding reports and returns, etc., and shall keep a copy of all official correspondence. He shall forward to the Secretary of the Board reports of fires within seven days of their occurrence. He shall forward a return of the roll of attendances at all fires and practices of his Brigade, countersigned by the Captain, on the proper forms, within the first week of each quarter, to the Secretary of the Board. He shall keep a register of the names of all persons who are or who may hereafter become members of the Brigade. He shall promptly send to the Secretary of the Board a notification of the election or resignation of a member of the Brigade. He shall send to the Secretary of the Board a notification of the election of officers within seven days after such election, stating the names of the persons elected, and the office to which they have been elected. He shall do such other things as the Board or the regulations may require. He shall be under the general direction of the Secretary of the Board in all matters relating to office routine and management. He shall be liable to suspension, removal, or dismissal by the Board. Secretaries retiring from office shall furnish to the Board all returns to the end of the term for which they held office, and shall hand over to their successors all moneys, books, correspondence, or other documents which are the property of the Board.

- (v) Forms for requisitions for supplies and repairs for the Brigade.

All entries made in the Brigade books are to be examined by the Captain of the Brigade, and must be produced at all meetings of the Brigade, and whenever required by any officer of the Board.

Duties of Members.

113. The members of each brigade shall upon an alarm of fire, proceed promptly with the appliances to the fire. They shall immediately on arrival report themselves to the senior officer present, and shall perform such duty as may be required of them. They shall remain on duty until relieved by orders, which shall be given only by the officer in command. In Brigades where no station-keeper is provided, members are required to keep the appliances and buildings in good order without cost to the Board.

The Station-keeper.

114. Where the Board provides a station-keeper, it shall be his duty to reside at the station wherever practicable. He shall attend to and be responsible for the cleanliness, good order, and condition of the fire station and the fire-extinguishing appliances belonging to the Board or in charge of the Brigade. He shall at all times be under the direction of the senior officer of the Brigade present for the time being. He shall receive such remuneration as the Board may determine, and shall be liable to suspension, removal, or dismissal by the Board.

Conduct of Members.

115. Members of brigades are required in their intercourse with each other, official or social, to observe a courteous demeanour, and officers or men addressing each other will do so in a respectful manner. While on duty at fires, practices, drills, or parades, the greatest degree of silence compatible with a proper discharge of duty will be required, and members must address officers by their official titles.

(a) Members of brigades are considered to be on duty at all times when in uniform; and at fires, alarms of fire, practices, drills, parades, or brigade meetings, whether in uniform or plain clothes. Any member of a brigade who may be deemed to be guilty of disobedience of orders, insubordination, conduct subversive of discipline, intoxication, abusive or obscene language, or other unseemly conduct when on duty shall within twenty-four hours be reported to the Board, in writing, by the senior officer of the brigade present, who may suspend such member from duty pending an inquiry by the Board. Officers below the rank of captain shall forward their reports in such cases to the captain for transmission to the Board for its decision.

(b) The Board shall have power to deal with members against whom a charge has, in the opinion of the Board, been proven, either by reprimanding them, suspending them, or by removing them from office or from the roll of registered members.

Duties at Fires.

116. At fires the senior officer present shall take command until the arrival of his senior. The brigade's duties are not completed until the fire is properly and effectually extinguished. Members must turn out to fires or alarms of fire in the Board uniform when they can do so without causing undue delay in attending.

Roll Call at Fires.

117. On returning from a fire or an alarm of fire, the officer in command shall cause the roll to be called, and record the names of members present at such fire or alarm of fire, and a copy of such roll, together with a report of the fire, signed by the officer in command at the fire, and the Secretary of the brigade, shall be forwarded to the Secretary of the Board within seven days after the occurrence of the fire. The officer in command may exempt members from returning to the fire station for roll-call, and he may call the roll at the place of the fire or alarm of fire.

Brigades to Requisition for Appliances, etc.

118. Plant and appliances and supplies required by any brigade shall be requisitioned for to the Board. Requisitions shall be sent in only on the authority of a properly constituted meeting of the brigade.

A receipt for all plant and appliances and supplies received shall be forwarded to the Secretary of the Board and particulars of same entered in a book to be kept for that purpose by the Secretary of each brigade.

Urgent repairs to plant may be effected by the brigade without requisition, provided the cost does not exceed two pounds. Where the repairs involve a larger expenditure requisition must be made to the Board.

Brigade Property and Trophies.

119. Any property belonging to a Brigade, and which has been acquired by subscription, or trophies won, shall vest in two trustees, one of whom shall be appointed by the Brigade, and the other by the Board. A Brigade may on application to and approval of the trustees dispose of any such property as may be determined.

Brigade Rules.

120. Each Brigade may have its own rules of internal and general working, which must in all cases be subject to the approval of the Board. All proposed alterations or additions must be submitted to the Board for approval or otherwise. No rule shall be contrary to the Board's regulations. Every officer and member shall conform to the regulations made, or which may hereafter be made, for the management of the various fire brigades, and shall be subject to the duties, conditions, and penalties named therein. All allowances may, at the discretion of the Board, be subject to stoppage or absolute forfeiture in the event of wilful violation of the regulations.

Practices.

121. The members of each Brigade shall be practised in the duties at engine, reel, or other drill at least once each calendar month, under the supervision of their officers, and at such other time as the Board, Chief Officer, or Captain may direct. During the winter months or in inclement weather Brigades may hold their monthly practice or drill indoors.

A recognised practice shall mean practical work in fire extinction, or other drill, for at least three-quarters of an hour. Brigades are required to inspect the fire plugs and report any defects to the Board immediately.

Each Brigade may appoint its own dates for practice, and moonlight nights should be selected when practicable.

Effective Members.

122. Every member of a Brigade must make himself effective by attending fires and practices. An effective member shall mean one who has, each half-year, attended at least two-thirds each of the fires, or alarms of fire, and also of the recognised monthly practices. Any member who has failed to keep himself effective in such attendances, without leave or sufficient excuse, shall be liable to be struck off the register by the Board. Members are expected to attend all Brigade meetings, but these meetings must not be counted towards the attendances required for effectiveness.

Allowance for Purchase of Minor Supplies.

123. An allowance will be provided for every Brigade for the purchase of such minor supplies, and for defraying cost of such repairs to plant as may be required for the ordinary maintenance of the Brigade. The total amount of such allowance must not exceed in any one year the amount provided for in the Board's estimates. Such allowance shall be available quarterly, and the vouchers for such expenditure, showing full particulars of the purchases made or repairs effected, duly certified by the Captain and Secretary of the Brigade, and received in proper form, must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Board for examination not later than the 21st day in the months of January, April, July, and October in each year. Such expenditure shall be subject to the approval of the Board, who may disallow any or all of it.

Demonstrations and Competitions.

124. Brigades shall at no time attend fire brigades' competitions or demonstrations outside a radius of five miles from their head station without leaving a sufficient number of effective registered members within their respective districts. Neither will any of the apparatus (with the exception of a competition reel and appliances) be permitted to be taken to a competition or demonstration without the written consent of the Board. Captains will be held responsible for the carrying out of this regulation.

Uniforms.

125. The uniforms for registered firemen will be provided by the Board, and shall consist of a coat with arm badge, cap, belt and spanner. Helmets will be supplied to brigades in cases where the Board considers they are required.

Members must provide their own trousers, which should be of dark blue cloth or serge with scarlet piping. All articles of uniform provided by the Board must at all times be kept clean, and Captains must inspect same at least twice a year, either at practice or at a monthly meeting, and report on condition of same to the Board. Long service medals and badges are to be worn on right breast of uniform coat and long service bars are to be worn three-quarters of an inch below the badge. The long service medal supersedes the badge and bars, in which case the badge and bar are not to be worn. Members qualified in ambulance work should wear their badges on left arm.

No member will be allowed to lend a uniform or any part of it to any person not in the service. Flowers are not to be worn in coats and tan boots must not be worn. Members must not at any time appear dressed partly in uniform and partly in plain clothes, except in case of emergency at fires. At the Chief Officer's inspections full uniforms must be worn.

The uniform and equipment are the property of the Board, and they are only loaned to members. A receipt for same must be obtained by the Secretary of the brigade, who must retain and file it. Members must use reasonable care in keeping uniforms and equipment in good order, and must return same to the Captain of the brigade or to the Chief Officer on being requested in writing to do so. If a member fails to comply within seven days of the transmission to him of such request, his brigade shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £5, and shall, in addition to the penalty named, be further liable for and shall pay the cost of any article not returned.

Recognition of Long Service.

126. Officers and members of volunteer brigades who shall have efficiently served for seven years in any one or more brigades in Western Australia shall be entitled to a long service badge. After 10 years' service a ten years' bar, and after 13 years a long service medal shall be awarded. Firemen with 20 years' service may wear a red clasp above the medal; with 25 years' service an additional white clasp; and with 30 years' service an additional blue clasp. Applications on prescribed form for awards must show all details of service, and be certified by the Captain and Secretary of the Brigade. Service as a reserve member is not to be counted in the periods mentioned in this regulation.

Control and Attendance of Firemen on Duty on Public Buildings.

127. On every occasion when at any public building any entertainment is given in connection with which scenery is used, or when an exhibition of animated pictures is given, a skilled fireman, approved by the Chief Officer of the Fire Brigades, shall be in attendance in such building during the whole time such building used as aforesaid is occupied by the public; and such fireman shall see that the fire prevention appliances and the exit doors are in proper working order, and perform such other duties for the prevention of fire, and of panic as he may deem necessary, or as the Chief Officer of Fire Brigades may direct.

Provided that in localities where volunteer fire brigades are established, the Chief Officer shall not, without the concurrence of the Board, approve of firemen other than members of volunteer fire brigades.

Fees.

128. For the services of each fireman in attendance under the preceding regulation, a fee of 5s. per performance for each fireman shall be payable by the owner or occupier of the premises on which such fireman shall have been in attendance.

129. In the event of any person failing to pay any fees due under Regulation 129, such fees may be recovered summarily by complaint made by the fireman to whom such fees are due before any Justice of the Peace, in manner provided by "The Justices Act, 1902."

130. The Chief Officer of Fire Brigades may, in writing, grant permission for the owner or occupier of any public building to dispense with the services of a fireman during any exhibition of animated pictures held between the hours of sunrise and sunset.

131. All firemen approved by the Chief Officer under these regulations shall be subject to the direction and control of the Chief Officer of Fire Brigades.

Penalties.

132. Any person guilty of a breach of any of the foregoing, whether by act or omission, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

Approved by His Excellency the Governor in Executive Council, this fifth day of May, 1926.

L. E. SHAPCOTT,
Clerk of the Council.
