(B) Bran sold in any part of the State—

(i) when delivered at mill door, at mill siding, or ex mill store—£5 10s. 0d. per ton of 2,000 lbs.;

(ii) when delivered on rails at railway stations—the appropriate price per ton of 2,000 lbs. as fixed by the Schedule hereunder.

(C) Pollard sold in any part of the State—

(i) when delivered at mill door, at mill siding or ex mill store—£4 10s. 0d. per ton of 2,000 lbs.;

(ii) when delivered on rails at railway stations, the appropriate price per ton of 2,000 lbs. as fixed by the Schedule hereunder.

(D) Semolina—the prices as fixed for best bakers' flour, plus £1.

(E) Flaky bran—the prices as fixed for bran, plus 10s.

2. The minimum price in relation to flour other than best bakers' flour as hereinbefore defined shall, in accordance with that part of the State in which it is sold for delivery, be the same as the minimum price fixed for best bakers' flour when sold for delivery in the same place.

3. The prices as fixed for flour delivered ex mill or ex mill store or on buyer's premises are so fixed on the basis of sales of six long tons (2,240 lbs.), the prices as fixed for bran or pollard delivered ex mill or ex mill store are so fixed on the basis of sales of six long tons (2,240 lbs.) or of four tons of 2,000 lbs. each, if the latter be part of a total consignment of six long tons of any mill products, and the prices as fixed for flour, bran, or pollard delivered on rails at railway other than on mill siding are so fixed on the basis of sales of six long tons (2,240 lbs.). Therefore, where in any sale a quantity less than that used as the basis for fixing the price as aforesaid is sold and by reason thereof the net profit to the seller will be reduced as a consequence of the corresponding increase in the expense of cartage from mill to siding, or in the expense of freight from siding to siding in relation to such less quantity charged against the seller, the seller shall charge against the buyer, in addition to the fixed price, a further amount equivalent to such reduction in net profit.

Provided that—

- (i) for the purpose of calculating the expense incurred by the seller for freight, the freight deemed to be payable by the seller shall be the freight which would be payable if the goods had been supplied from the mill nearest to the buyer's railway station and not from the mill actually delivering the goods, and
- (ii) the term "the mill nearest to the buyer's railway station" means that mill whose goods could be landed at the railway station nearest to the buyer's place of delivery most cheaply after adding to the mill door price the cost of freight from such mill to such railway station.

4. The prices fixed as aforesaid for flour, bran, pollard, semolina, and flaky bran are so fixed upon the basis that such price shall be payable forthwith on sale. Therefore, where in any sale of any of the mill products aforesaid other than flour, the quantity sold is not less than the quantity mentioned in paragraph 4 hereof as the basis upon which the price of goods sold is fixed, or where in any sale of flour the quantity sold is not less than one ton of 2,000 lbs., and the buyer does not pay cash forthwith on sale or within the times respectively fixed in the table hereunder, that is to say, within—

- (a) seven days, where the place of delivery is within twenty miles of the mill or store; or
- (b) ten days, where the place of delivery is within one hundred miles of the mill or store; or
- (c) fourteen days, where the place of delivery is more than one hundred miles from the mill or store;

the seller shall charge against the buyer, in addition to the fixed price, a further price of five shillings per ton: Provided that, where goods sold are shipped for delivery at any port north of Carnarvon, the said additional price of five shillings per ton may only be charged against the buyer as aforesaid when the buyer fails to make payment of the purchase price by the first postal mail following the receipt by him of the goods.

5. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained elsewhere in this Proclamation, where flour, bran, pollard, semolina, or flaky bran is ordered by a purchaser and the vendor accepts the order on the basis that the purchase price shall become payable only as and when in accordance with the order the goods are deliverable by the vendor to the purchaser, and such delivery cannot be made or is not to be made until after the expiration of three clear working days from the date of the acceptance of the order by the vendor, then in such case the purchase price payable by the purchaser for the goods shall be that price which is fixed and in operation, whether under this or another Proclamation, at the time of the delivery of the goods, although the price fixed for such goods under this Proclamation at the date of the acceptance of the order by the vendor may not have been the same as that fixed and in operation at the time of the delivery of the goods.
