7. These regulations are subject to the provisions of any Industrial Agreement or Award under the Industrial Arbitration Act, 1912-1935, in force for the time being, and applicable to any officers as herein defined.

(A)—Officers Generally.

8. So far as their respective duties extend, officers shall observe all rules and regulations, orders and instructions and see that all rules, regulations and orders are observed and strictly carried out, and shall not fail either from favour or mistaken notions of kindness, or for any other reason, to report without delay through the proper officer any instance of neglect of duty, disobedience of orders, or other misconduct on the part of any other officer or of any prisoner in the prison or on the works which may come under their notice.

9. An officer shall on no account punish a prisoner except as prescribed by these regulations.

10. An officer shall not unnecessarily converse with a prisoner, or allow any familiarity on the part of a prisoner towards himself or any other officer, or speak of his duties or of any matters of discipline or prison arrangements within the hearing of a prisoner.

11. An officer shall at all times treat his superiors with respect and his subordinates with courtesy. He shall be respectful to persons employed on public works, and shall afford them all proper assistance in authorised works, taking care in so doing not to lose sight of the regulations or special orders which he may, from time to time, have received.

12. 13. An officer entrusted with keys shall not take them out of the prison, leave them lying about, lend them to any officer on any pretext whatever, or hold them in such a position that a prisoner may make or take a mental note of their size and make; and shall, when leaving the prison on any occasion, deliver his keys to the officer authorised to receive them, and without such delivery he shall not be permitted to leave the prison.

32. Any officer having any grievance connected with his duty or office must state the same in writing, for the decision of the Officer in Charge, or, if necessary, for an appeal to a higher authority. Any other proceedings on the part of such officer for this purpose will render him liable to be dismissed, or to such other penalty as the case may deserve.

33. Any officer (excluding probationary warders) incapacitated for the regular performance of duty by illness, must give, or send, immediate notice to the Officer in Charge, who shall have power to give sick leave upon the report of the Medical Officer, for a period not exceeding one week. 35. At the Fremantle Prison an officer, his wife, and his children up to the age of 16 years, are entitled to free medical treatment and medicine, and such treatment will be given by the Medical Officer. Implicit adherence must be given to the rules, regulations, and general orders. Warders on the probationary staff may upon production of satisfactory evidence of illness be granted sick leave without pay. 54. Before being accepted as a warder on the permanent staff, all persons appointed on probation shall be examined by the Medical Officer of the prison, and be duly passed by him, with regard to general health and physical capability.

55. Warders shall carry out with vigilance and zeal all orders they may receive from their superiors. They shall, in addition to their ordinary duty, be liable to be called on, by day or night, to perform duties the exigencies of the service may require.

56. Warders shall not be eligible for promotion to rank of principal warders unless they shall satisfactorily pass an examination in arithmetic, the spelling of a list of prison terms, the preparation of short reports and station returns, and general knowledge of the duties of an officer.

60. Warders shall not allow any unauthorised person to interfere in any way with the working parties under their control, or to hold communication with, or give, or pass anything to a prisoner. They shall promptly order away any person apparently loitering about the prison or working parties for such purpose. In case of necessity, they shall take proper steps for the arrest of such persons if they refuse to go when so ordered. Should they find any unauthorised articles they will at once take them to the Chief Warder.

61. Warders shall carefully observe the character, habits, and industry of the prisoners under their charge; and, it being of the utmost importance that the Officer in Charge should be fully informed on these points, warders shall carefully and impartially keep such records as may be ordered, and shall consider it to be their duty to afford, at all times, unreserved information on such points.

62. All prisoners, when in association, shall be placed under the control and supervision of warders whose duty it shall be to enforce silence in all cases wherein the regulations require it; to prevent all improper communications between prisoners themselves or between prisoners and civilians. They shall carefully watch the prisoners in their various movements and employments, and use the utmost alacrity and vigilance to prevent escape and shall enforce strict discipline and complete observance of the regulations.

63. On proceeding with prisoners to their labour the warder in charge of each party shall count the number of prisoners therein, as they are told off, and report to the Chief Warder or other appointed officer; after which such warder shall be held responsible for the safe custody and regular conduct of such prisoners on the works, and especially that they do not struggle or in any way get possession of prohibited articles. He shall also properly search the prisoners, both on leaving and returning to the prison, to ascertain that they have no prohibited articles in their possession. When proceeding with prisoners from one point to another, the warder shall see they march two deep, the warder always keeping in the rear.

64. A warder, unless under circumstances of emergency, shall not enter a prisoner's cell at night unaccompanied by another warder.

65. A warder on being relieved from any particular duty, or transferred to another, shall point out to his successor all matters of special importance connected with his duties and explain any directions of the Officer in Charge, Medical Officer, or other superior officer, affecting any particular prisoner or portion of the prison which has been under his charge.

66. A warder shall be watchful to detect and prevent any persons secreting prohibited articles, etc., for the prisoners on the works or elsewhere about the prison, and shall immediately report any such occurrence. He shall especially guard against the clothes of workmen, or others, being left lying about in places accessible to the prisoners, and shall report at the earliest opportunity any suspicious circumstances of this kind, or the loitering of improper or suspicious persons about the prison or the works that he may have observed.

67. A warder in charge of a ward, or other part of the prison, shall set cleaners to work in the halls, cells, passages, etc., and cleaners shall always be required, after work, to produce the brushes, brooms, etc., with which they may have been furnished. The officers shall expedite this necessary work so that it may be completed at the time fixed by the Officer in Charge.

68. Especial care shall be taken that no ladders, planks, wheelbarrows, ropes, chains, implements, or materials of any kind likely to facilitate escape are left unsecured at any time in the yards or elsewhere. All such articles when not in use shall be kept secured in their proper places. A warder shall report immediately any instance of such articles being left unsecured in neglect of this rule, whether it occurs in his own department or otherwise.

69. At such times they must invariably wear belts, and pouches containing six rounds of ammunition, and shall take care that the ammunition properly fits the arms they carry. They shall not deface their arms or accoutrements, or make any alteration in them without authority.

(b) Upon a prisoner leaving his allotted place, or making movements indicative of any attempt to escape, or to commit an assault on any officer, or upon another prisoner or any other person, with any instrument or weapon, the armed warden on guard shall at once sound an alarm with his whistle, and if necessary, fire his rifle to attract attention. 234. Fines inflicted by a Visiting Justice shall be deducted from the wages credited to the inmate.

Confinement in Cells.

235. The Superintendent may confine an inmate charged with a breach of discipline, idleness, or misconduct, or any other offence, in his cell, or in a refractory cell, and take any precautionary measures as he may deem necessary, and, further, may stop any privilege until the Visiting Justice deals with the charge.

Industrial Employment.

236. Every inmate subject to reformatory treatment shall, if fit, be put to such work, or trade, as in the opinion of the Board or of the Superintendent he is most suitable for, or proficient in, and which, in their or his opinion, will the most fit him for self-support when at liberty.

244. The privilege of purchasing luxuries shall be withdrawn for the week in which forfeiture occurs.

245. The loss of mark or marks shall be confirmed by the Superintendent, and the inmate shall have the right of appeal to the Comptroller General.

249. Nothing in these regulations shall debar the Board at any time from recommending the release on probation of any inmate, provided there are special circumstances as the Board may consider sufficient, and in such cases the Board may allow an inmate to submit his petition to the Board through the Comptroller General, and such petition will be placed before the Minister, together with the Board's recommendation.
