NATIONAL SECURITY ACT, 1939-1940.

National Security (Supplementary) Regulations.

Closing Time for Shops Order.

WHEREAS it is provided by subregulation (2) of regulation 21 of the National Security (Supplementary) Regulations that the Minister of State for Labour and National Service, or any person authorised by the Minister to act under that regulation in respect of any area specified by the Minister may, by Order, in respect of any area specified in the Order, substitute another hour (whether earlier or later) for the hours specified in subregulation (1) of regulation 21 as the time by which shops shall be closed for the serving of customers: Now, therefore I, Frederick William Warman, the Chief Inspector of Factories in the State of Western Australia, being duly authorised to act as aforesaid in respect of the State of Western Australia, do hereby order as follows:—

1. This Order may be cited as the Closing Time for Shops Order.

2. In respect of each shop which is within the area to which this Order applies and which is required by legislation of the State of Western Australia to be closed to the admission of the public on some days of the week at six o'clock post meridian, half-past five o'clock post meridian is substituted for the hour specified in subregulation (1) of the said regulation 21 in respect of all days of the week on which by the legislation of the State of Western Australia such shop is required to be closed to the admission of the public at six o'clock post meridian.

3. The area to which this Order applies is that part of the State of Western Australia which lies to the south of the twenty-sixth parallel of south latitude.

4. Nothing contained in this Order shall affect any provision of legislation of the State of Western Australia which requires any shop to be closed to the admission of the public at one o'clock post meridian on one day in each week.

5. This Order shall operate and have effect during the period commencing on and including Monday, the twenty-seventh day of April, 1942, and terminating on Saturday the twenty-ninth day of August, 1942.

Dated the 22nd day of April, 1942.

CIVIL DEFENCE (EMERGENCY POWERS) ACT, 1940.

Department of Mines,
Perth, 23rd April, 1942.

HIS Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, acting in exercise of the powers conferred by section 7 of the Civil Defence (Emergency Powers) Act, 1940, has been pleased to amend the Civil Defence Regulations, 1941, as published in the Government Gazette on the 17th day of October, 1941; the 20th day of February, 1942; the 27th day of February, 1942, and the 20th day of March, 1942, in the manner mentioned in the Schedule hereunder.

(Sgd.) E. J. R. HOGG,
Acting Under Secretary for Civil Defence.

Schedule.

The abovementioned Civil Defence Regulations, 1941, are amended as follows:—

1. Regulation 55 (Gazette, 20/2/42) is repealed and a new regulation is inserted in lieu thereof as follows:—

55. (1) It shall be the duty of the controlling authority of every internal sector forthwith to have constructed and thereafter maintained shelters for the use of persons in such internal sector in accordance with the provisions contained in paragraph (2) hereof.

(2) In relation to the construction and maintenance of shelters provided for in paragraph (1) hereof, the following provisions shall apply:—

- (a) Where the internal sector is occupied by a lessee or lessees the controlling authority shall carry out his duties under this regulation in such manner and during such times of the day as will cause the least inconvenience or loss to the said lessee or lessees.
- (b) Shelters shall be provided in sufficient size or number to accommodate all the persons usually living or employed or attending daily in the internal sector and also at least half the number of all other persons who may be in or on the premises of the internal sector at the busiest time of the busiest day of any week.

- (c) (i) Shelters shall be constructed in units in accordance with the following table:—

Shelter required for	Maximum number of persons per unit.
Up to 100 persons	50 persons.
Up to 225 persons	75 persons.
Up to 400 persons	100 persons.
Up to 600 persons	150 persons.
Over 600 persons	200 persons.

- (ii) The distance between mit shelters shall, wherever possible, be not less than twenty-five feet in every direction, and shall be greater to the extent by which conditions in the internal sector may permit.
- (iii) The capacity of mit shelters and the spacing thereof as hereinbefore prescribed may in special circumstances be modified or varied in such manner as the Shelters Subcommittee of the Council may in each particular case approve.
- (d) The controlling authority shall, unless exempted by the Shelters Subcommittee of the Council, upon application by such controlling authority for such exemption, submit for the approval of the said Subcommittee plans and drawings showing clearly the construction and arrangement of the shelters proposed to be constructed before the construction of the shelters is commenced, and no shelter shall be constructed unless and until such plans and drawings are approved by or are amended in accordance with the requirements of the said Subcommittee, which may by notice in writing served upon the controlling officer, require him to demolish and reconstruct any shelter constructed in contravention of this subparagraph.

- (e) All shelters shall be constructed so as to conform with the following conditions:—

- (i) Location—Shelters shall not be located contiguous to vulnerable objects such as petrol tanks, stores of paint, bitumen or other inflammable material and shall not be located under heavy machinery or other concentrated loads.

They shall not be constructed in basements having an area less than 1,000 square feet, unless the eill of one opening to the external air is not more than four feet six inches from the floor of the basement and the area of such opening is not less than five square feet with one minimum dimension of two feet.

- (ii) Walls—Except in the case of trench shelters, shelter walls shall be of the following thicknesses:—

- (a) Pressed brickwork in 3 & 1 cement mortar not less than 13½ inches
- (b) Existing walls in lime mortar if used to form part of a shelter and in good condition, not less than 18 inches
- (c) Reinforced concrete, not less than 12 inches
- (d) Sand-filled walls, if strongly framed and sheeted with 1½ inches planking, not less than 2 feet 6 inches

- (iii) Ceilings—Where the ceiling of a shelter is made of timber, it shall be protected on the underside of the joists with two-inch hardwood sheeting.

Where specially heavy debris loads are likely to be encountered, the ceiling must be constructed with a sand cushion approved by the Shelters Subcommittee of the Council.

Reinforced concrete ceilings shall be not less than four inches thick.

Mild steel ceilings shall be not less than a quarter of an inch thick.

- (iv) Debris loading—

- (a) The ceiling of shelters constructed within buildings of a load-bearing brick or masonry wall type shall be capable of sustaining the following debris loads—

Number of floors over	Debris load to be assumed 1 lb. per square foot of floor area.
3	300
3 or 4	400
more than 4	500

- (b) For buildings when loads are carried on steel or reinforced concrete frames, the debris load may be assumed at 200 lbs. per square foot of floor area irrespective of the number of floors over.

- (v) Space in Shelters (other than trench shelters)—

- (a) where shelters are located in basements, seven square feet of floor area shall be allowed for every person which the shelter is designed to accommodate;
- (b) where shelters are located on ground floors, six square feet of floor area shall be allowed for every person which the shelter is designed to accommodate;
- (c) in every shelter there shall be not less than 60 cubic feet of air space for every person which the shelter is designed to accommodate;
- (d) no shelter shall be less than seven feet six inches in height from floor to underside of ceiling.

- (vi) Ventilation—In every shelter there shall be at least one-half of a square foot open space for every person which the shelter is designed to accommodate.
- (vii) Exits—Every unit of shelter shall be—
 - (a) provided with two exits arranged in positions approved by the Shelters Subcommittee of the Council.
 - (b) No exit shall be less in width than two feet;
 - (c) Exits shall not be fitted with doors, except where the exits are to the open air, in which cases the door shall be fitted with a drawlatch or other catch approved by the Shelters Subcommittee aforesaid which can readily be operated from within the shelter without the use of a key;
 - (d) Suitable provision shall be made to secure doors open during a raid;
 - (e) All exits shall at all times be kept clear of goods or any other obstructions;
 - (f) All exits shall be provided with approved blast and splinter proof baffles;
 - (g) In all cases where unit shelters are constructed in buildings and are not provided with an exit opening directly to the open air, at least two exits shall be provided from the floor on which the shelter is constructed, and all such exits shall be as direct as possible to the open air and shall be subject to the approval of the said Shelters Subcommittee.
- (viii) Lavatory Accommodation—Where suitable permanent lavatory accommodation is not available to a shelter, separate temporary conveniences shall be provided contiguous to the shelter for the use of each sex respectively.
- (ix) Trench Shelters—
 - (a) At least three and a half square feet of floor space shall be provided for each person which the trench shelter is designed to accommodate;
 - (b) The sides shall be adequately timbered;
 - (c) Two exits shall be provided for each trench shelter;
 - (d) Unless otherwise approved by the Civil Defence Council, each trench shelter shall be designed so that not more than twenty persons may be accommodated therein;
 - (e) Where trench shelters are located closer to a building than one and a half times the vertical height of the adjacent walls of such building, the trench shelter shall be adequately covered to withstand falling debris and shall be capable of sustaining a static load of at least 300 lbs. to the square foot;
 - (f) Where two or more shelters are located in proximity to each other, such shelters shall, unless otherwise approved by the Civil Defence Council, be so spaced that each shelter is distant not less than twenty-five feet from every other shelter.

(3) The controlling authority of every internal sector shall provide and at all times maintain and keep in every shelter constructed by him in accordance with this regulation, unless such shelter is a trench shelter or is constructed with concrete floors and concrete ceilings, at least one two-gallon soda acid or other type of mechanical fire extinguisher as is approved by the Shelters Subcommittee of the Council, and such additional number of such fire extinguishers as may be necessary to provide that the number of fire extinguishers in the shelter is equivalent to one fire extinguisher for every 200 persons which may be accommodated in the shelter.

(4) The controlling authority of every internal sector:—

- (a) shall keep and maintain every shelter therein in a clean and hygienic condition and free of all rubbish, wastes, and inflammable matter;
- (b) by notices and other reasonable means endeavour to prevent persons using a shelter from smoking or expectorating therein.

(5) (a) No person using an internal sector shelter shall smoke or expectorate therein;

- (b) Any person who contravenes subparagraph (a) of this paragraph, after being requested to refrain from so doing by any member of the internal sector personnel, or by any warden, shall be guilty of a contravention of these regulations within the meaning of section 12 of the Act;
- (c) Any warden or any member of the internal sector personnel who sees any person, when using a shelter, smoking or expectorating therein in contravention of this regulation, may demand from such person his name and address, and if any such person refuses to give his name or address, or gives a false name or false address, he shall be guilty of a contravention of these regulations within the meaning of section 12 of the Act.
- (d) Any person who refuses to give his name or address, when requested to do so under subparagraph (c) hereof, may be apprehended without warrant by any warden or by any member of the internal sector personnel or any member of the Police Force and be taken before justices of the peace to be dealt with according to law.
