32. Every license shall be and continue in force from the day of the date thereof until the 31st December then next ensuing, and no longer, and every license shall be renewed from year to year: Provided, however, that all licenses which are granted in the month of November in any year shall be and continue in force until the 31st December in the year next ensuing, and no longer.

Upon such cancellation, or during such suspension, such person shall for the purposes of the Act and of these Regulations, be deemed to be not licensed as an Electrical Contractor.

163. The Board may at any time, and for such reason as it may deem sufficient, and on payment of the prescribed fees:—

(a) Reduce the period for which the license of any person as an Electrical Contractor has been suspended, or may again license as an Electrical Contractor a person whose license has been cancelled and who makes new application for a license, and is eligible for a license under these Regulations.

(b) Without prejudice to any other procedure which may be lawfully followed to give whose application for a license or renewal of a license the Board proposes to refuse, or whose license it proposes to suspend or cancel, an opportunity of appearing before it, issue a notice in writing that the Board intends to enquire into any such matter and such notice shall be deemed to have been properly given if forwarded by post by registered letter addressed to the applicant at his last known address, or to the licensed Electrical Contractor at his registered business address (as the case may be). In such case the applicant or licensed Electrical Contractor may, on or before a date specified in that behalf in such notice, tender information in support of his application, or (as the case may require) his contention that his license should not be suspended or cancelled, and on another day and at a time specified in that behalf in the notice, being not more than fourteen days later than the first date, he may appear before the Board at its office in Murray Street, Perth, but if such person does not appear at the enquiry at the time and day so specified, the Board may proceed with and conclude the enquiry in his absence.

164. Notification of any suspension or cancellation of a license hereunder shall be given by letter signed by the Secretary, forwarded by ordinary prepaid post, addressed to the Electrical Contractor to whom such license was granted at the last address appearing in the register as the address of such Electrical Contractor. Every license, or renewal of a license, shall be delivered to the Board forthwith upon cancellation, suspension, or refusal of renewal.

165. The Secretary shall from time to time cause the names of all persons whose applications for licenses as Electrical Contractors have been granted by the Board, and other information required to be registered, to be entered in a register to be kept for that purpose. Such register shall be called the "Electrical Contractors' Register," and shall contain particulars relating to the licensing, renewal, suspension, or cancellation of licenses and qualifications for such licensing of all persons registered. Any entry in the register shall be prima facie proof of the truth of the matter set forth in the entry:—

(a) The register shall be open for inspection by any person at the office of the Secretary during ordinary office hours on payment to the Board of the fee prescribed therefor, in Regulation 180.

(b) The Secretary shall, upon payment to the Board of the fee prescribed in Regulation 180, furnish information, in writing, upon demand by any person as to whether any named person is or is not a licensed Electrical Contractor.

(d) From time to time, without delay, notify the Board of the cessation (from whatever cause) of the sole and continuous employment by him of any person who holds a license under the Licensing of Electrical Workers' Regulations, and who is registered with the Board as being in his employ, and, in the case of a firm, each and every partner shall without delay notify the Board of the death or retirement from the firm of any partner.

(2) Provided that it shall not be an offence against paragraphs (c) and (d) of Regulation 166 (1) for a person licensed as an Electrical Contractor to offer or contract to carry out, subject to and in accordance with the requirements of these Regulations in all other respects, electrical work during such period as the Board may from time to time authorise him in writing, after the cessation of the sole and continuous employment by him of the person registered with the Board as being in his employment, as required by paragraph (c), or after the cessation of his partnership with the person who holds a license of the relevant grade, provided that the Electrical Contractor has immediately upon the cessation of such employment or partnership forwarded to the Board notice, in writing, of such cessation, and the Board has, in writing acknowledged receipt of such notice.

167. Every person applying for a license, or the renewal of a license, as an Electrical Contractor who, during the year ending the 31st day of December preceding the date of his relevant application, employed one or more electrical workers, shall forward to the Board with his application, fees ascertained in accordance with Regulation 180. In the case of a person newly commencing business the Board shall fix the number of electrical workers on which the fees are to be assessed. For the purpose of assessing fees under this Regulation, the number of electrical workers employed by any applicant for a license, or renewal of a license, shall be deemed to be that number (to the nearest integer) which is the average of the highest respective numbers of electrical workers (not being indentured apprentices) employed by the applicant on electrical work in Western Australia in each of the weeks during the relevant year.

168. The applicant shall declare by statutory declaration verifying his application the average number so employed, and shall, on demand by the Board produce to it at a time and place named in the demand, sufficient evidence to support such declaration.

169. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Regulations under this Part, any person, firm or company may employ any licensed electrical worker for the purpose of carrying out electrical, maintenance or other works on the premises of the employer and the electrical worker so employed may apply to the Board for such notification certificates as may be required as provided for under Regulations 170 and 171.

170. Electrical workers applying for notification certificates under the preceding Regulations shall produce sufficient evidence as may be required by the Board to indicate that they are employed in the capacity specified and that the work desired to be undertaken is not electrical contract work.

171. No electrical contractor or electrical worker (as referred to in Regulation 170) shall commence, or cause to be commenced, except in cases of emergency, any electrical work involving new installations or alterations or additions to existing installations, until he has supplied to the Supply Authority at least twenty-four hours' notice before the commencement of such work and notice of commencement in Form S.E.C. 14. On completion of such electrical work the electrical contractor shall supply to the Supply Authority a notice on Form No. S.E.C. 15. No installation shall be connected to the supply mains until such notice has been received by the Supply Authority.

172. No electrical contractor or electrical worker shall sign the notice to any Supply or other Authority on behalf of any other person or contractor, or sign the notice for electrical work which he has not carried out.

173. Electrical contractors shall carry out all electrical work in accordance with specifications, where specifications are issued, and if no specifications cover the electrical work which the electrical contractor is undertaking, he shall carry out the electrical work in accordance with standard and accepted practice.

174. When it is necessary to have any installation connected to the supply mains before the installation is completed for testing or other purpose, the electrical contractor in charge of the work shall notify the Supply Authority accordingly, and if after the Supply Authority has made an inspection and is satisfied that such connection is warranted and that the installation is safe, the Supply Authority shall then notify the electrical contractor in charge of the installation to issue a notice in the Form S.E.C. 27 in the Appendix hereto before the connection is made.

175. The Supply Authority may under any circumstances refuse to make any connection, if a permanent run-out and point of entry has not been installed.

176. The Supply Authority shall keep a register of all installations connected to its supply mains. Such register shall state the name of the electrical contractor, or electrical worker who was in charge of, or carried out the installation, and his license number, address, and whether the installation is new, additional, or an alteration. Such register shall be available for inspection by any inspector.

177. No electrical contractor or employer shall instruct or permit any person to carry out or perform any electrical work in contravention of these Regulations or the S.A.A. Wiring Rules.

178. Every electrical contractor shall keep a register of all electrical workers employed by him, such register to indicate the employee's name, address, grade and number of license and any endorsements appearing thereon.

179. All work as provided for under this Part shall be carried out in accordance with the S.A.A. Wiring Rules for the time in force and to the approved by-laws of the Supply Authority, and in accordance with the Regulations of any other approved authority.

PART VI.

General Regulations.

183. No electrical installation shall be connected to any public electricity supply system unless carried out by a person licensed to carry out such work and in accordance with the S.A.A. Wiring Rules.

184. Where existing installations do not comply with these Regulations or with the S.A.A. Wiring Rules (as existing at the time when the installation was carried out), the Supply Authority may serve a notice on the consumer stating how such installation does not comply with the Regulations or the S.A.A. Wiring Rules, and shall give the consumer a reasonable time to have the installation brought into conformity with the Regulations or the S.A.A. Wiring Rules.

185. If such installation is not made to comply with the Regulations or the S.A.A. Wiring Rules within the time specified on such notice, then the Supply Authority may disconnect the installation from the supply mains.

186. Nothing contained in the preceding Regulations however, shall prevent the Supply Authority from immediately disconnecting any installation from its supply mains, where such installation is in the opinion of any duly appointed inspector dangerous or likely to become dangerous.

187. Supply Authority Inspectors shall be appointed by the Commission from nominees of the Supply Authorities, and every Supply Authority shall submit to the Commission the names and addresses of persons so nominated. Every Supply Authority shall nominate at least one person. The names of all persons appointed by the Commission shall be entered in a register specially kept for that purpose.

188. Every Supply Authority shall by its Supply Authority Inspector inspect and test every new installation before such is connected to its supply mains.

189. Any faults or defects detected in any installation or any alterations required to any installation shall be immediately reported by the Supply Authority's Inspector to the Electrical Contractor or electrical worker who carried out the installation or to the owner or occupier of the premises and if such defects, faults or alterations are not carried out within reasonable time, the Supply Authority shall then report all the circumstances to the Commission.

190. On the completion of an inspection of any installation, the Supply Authority's Inspector shall complete Form No. S.E.C. 28 in the Appendix hereto and such form shall be forwarded by the Supply Authority to the Secretary of the Electrical Contractors' Registration Board within seven days of such inspection.

191. If at any time a complaint is received by the Commission regarding the manner in which any inspection has been carried out by a Supply Authority's Inspector the Commission may appoint a responsible officer to investigate such complaint, and if as a result of the investigation it is found that such inspection has been carried out in a manner that is unfair the Commission may cancel the registration of the Supply Authority's Inspector for such period as it may think fit, and during the period of cancellation it shall not be lawful for the inspector to act as a Supply Authority's Inspector.

192. The Supply Authority shall, if necessary, on receipt of a notification form to commence work from an Electrical Contractor, issue a written instruction of the Supply Authority's service requirements.

193. The Commission may appoint inspectors for the various purposes and duties as set out hereunder:—

(i) State Electricity Commission's General Inspector who shall be designated under these Regulations as General Inspector and who shall be empowered to exercise any of the powers conferred by these Regulations on any building premises, places, transmission, distribution and/or generating works.

(ii) State Electricity Commission's Inspector, who shall be designated Inspector and shall have the powers of a General Inspector except that he shall not be empowered to make any inspection of any transmission or generating works where such generating works have generating plant exceeding 500 K.W.

(iii) Supply Authority Inspector who shall be designated Supply Authority Inspector and who shall be empowered to carry out any inspection as authorised under these Regulations in connection with the supply authority's area to which he is appointed.

(iv) License Inspector who shall be designated License Inspector and who shall have power to inspect any license, permit and/or registrations provided for under these Regulations.

194. Supply Authority Inspectors when issuing any instruction to have any fault or defect rectified or any alteration to an installation to be made shall quote with notice the relevant S.A.A. Wiring Rules and/or Supply Authority's By-Law under which the notice is given.

195. (a) All inspectors appointed by the Commission shall be issued with a Certificate of Authority as set out in Forms S.E.C. Nos. 12, 29, 30 and 31.

(b) All inspectors appointed by the Commission under these Regulations shall carry their certificate of appointment with them and such certificate shall, if required, be produced on demand to any person in charge of any building or place into or upon which any inspector may wish to enter.

196. Any General Inspector or Inspector after having made an inspection may by notice in writing in accordance with Form No. S.E.C. 32 forbid the use of any installation, apparatus, or fittings or prohibit any person or persons from exposing for sale or from selling any apparatus, appliance or fitting or part thereof, which in his opinion is dangerous or likely to become dangerous or is not in accordance with the S.A.A. Wiring Rules or Regulations made under the Act.

197. The cost of inspections made by an Inspector at the request of a Supply Authority, or where inspections are considered necessary under these Regulations, of any generating station, transmission, or distribution works, the Supply Authority shall pay such inspection fees to the Commission as are set out in the Schedule under Regulation No. 279.

198. In the case of new installations the Supply Authorities through their Inspector, shall make their initial inspection free, but any subsequent inspection which may be necessary on account of the installation not being in order may be charged for at such cost as may be specified in the Supply Authorities' Service Rules and Regulations, or By-laws.

199. Inspections by Supply Authorities, other than those specified by the preceding Regulation, may be charged for at such cost as may be specified in the Supply Authorities' approved Service Rules, Regulations or By-laws.

200. Before any repairs or alterations are commenced, the circuits which are to be handled shall be entirely disconnected from the source of supply, unless other adequate precautions are taken to prevent electric shock.

201. Any obvious defect likely to be a source of danger in an installation which is being altered or extended shall be reported by the electrical contractor or electrical worker in charge of the work to the supply authority.

202. The connection of an installation to supply mains shall not relieve the owner or occupier of any premises from the obligation of making his installation comply with these regulations or the S.A.A. Wiring Rules.

203. No person or consumer shall permit any wires, cables, fittings, apparatus, appliances or accessories which are in an unsafe condition to be connected or to remain connected to an installation.

204. No person shall remove or disconnect any wire or cable which may be affixed to any water or other pipe which has been so affixed to act as an earth conductor for any installation, unless such person has satisfied himself that the removal or disconnection of such wire or cable shall not destroy the purpose for which such wire or cable was so affixed.

205. Supply Authorities may refuse to connect any premises to their supply mains, where such premises have been installed with generating plant for the purpose of supplying electricity for lighting and/or power purposes, until the owner or occupier has entered into an agreement with the supply authority on such terms and conditions as may be deemed reasonable by the supply authority.

206. The Supply Authority shall take its aerial service leads to the consumer's point of attachment up to a distance of sixty feet from the street alignment boundary; beyond this distance the supply authority may at its discretion either instal such leads to the point of attachment or ask the consumer to instal same to the satisfaction of the Supply Authority. If the Supply Authority does instal aerial service leads beyond the distance of sixty feet aforesaid the Supply Authority may make a reasonable charge for same: Provided always, that if underground service leads are installed, the Supply Authority may charge to the consumer the cost of the underground service leads from the building alignment boundary.

207. Where a consumer has requested the installation of underground supply mains to the point of attachment, the Supply Authority may in such case charge the consumer the cost of same as from the point of connection to the point of entry.

208. The occupier of any premises shall cause to be completely dismantled from the supply mains all disused portions of an installation thereon, and shall cause such disused portions of an installation to be entirely dismantled or sufficiently so to make it clear on casual examination that they no longer form part of the installation.

209. No person except a competent person shall undertake any work on live electric conductors or apparatus where practical knowledge or experience is required in order to adequately avoid danger.

210. Supply Authorities shall not employ any person on live overhead work unless such person is experienced in such work, and it shall be incumbent on all supply authorities to satisfy themselves that such person is so experienced.

211. Except in cases of emergency due to breakdown or accident, no person shall work on high pressure or extra high pressure conductors or apparatus unless accompanied by a person competent to render assistance when necessary.

212. Where any accident by explosion or fire or any other accident of such a kind as to have caused or to be likely to have caused loss of life or personal injury has occurred in any electric line, installation, or works, the Supply Authority in whose district the accident has occurred, or any other person shall immediately give notice of such accident to the Commission, and no apparatus, lines, or poles shall be removed or otherwise interfered with until an inspection has been made by an inspector, except where it is found necessary to avoid a possible danger to life or property, or where the restoration of supply is necessary (in case of the latter all safety precautions shall be observed before supply is restored).

213. Every main shall be tested for insulation after having been placed in position and before it is used for the purposes of supply. The testing pressure for mains used for pressure below extra high pressure shall be maximum working pressure. The testing pressure for extra high pressure lines shall be at least twice the maximum working pressure on all mains to be used for pressures up to 10,000 volts, and at least the value of the pressure plus 10,000 volts on all mains to be used for pressures above 10,000 volts. The test pressure for extra high pressure lines shall be maintained for half an hour and shall be applied to every part of the main. These test pressures and duration of test may be varied to comply with the specification of the British Engineering Standards Association in force for the time being. The Supply Authority shall keep proper records of tests and such records shall be made available for inspection when required by the Commission.

214. All switches or circuit-breakers controlling conductors or apparatus made dead for working on shall have a suitable tag affixed to the operating handle. Such tag shall have marked thereon "Men at Work," or wording of a similar nature, and the tag shall not be removed until the switch or circuit-breaker is again closed: Provided that, where the switch or circuit breaker is under the sole control of and in sight of the person working on the conductor or apparatus, such tag may be omitted. The main line outdoor switches or circuit-breakers shall be locked when in the open position.

215. All poles and supports carrying mains of 20,000 volts or more shall have some indication of danger thereon, and shall be protected by having at least four turns of barbed wire affixed around at a distance of eight feet from the ground or protected in some other approved manner.

216. Aerial cables carrying current exceeding 6,600 volts shall be so erected and maintained that they shall not be closer than three feet from any cable carrying current at lower voltages, excepting connections to transformers and other apparatus.

217. Cables carrying current exceeding 650 volts shall be so erected that the minimum distance from any bridge or public structure, also any balcony, verandah, or other part of a building accessible without a ladder or special appliances shall not be less than seven feet vertically or three feet six inches in a horizontal direction or otherwise to the satisfaction of an inspector.

218. All poles shall be set at sufficient depths in the ground, and, if necessary, in concrete or on foundations, to permit of the required strength of the pole being used, and no work shall proceed on any pole until the foundations are safe.

219. All poles carrying electric cables are to be maintained in good condition, and to be of sufficient strength to support the cables, and, with a view to preventing injury (as in the case of wooden poles by rot, white ants, etc.) are to be examined every twelve months, and any pole found to be unsound shall be made safe or replaced.

220. All cables, connections, cross arms, insulators, and attachments of cables are to be examined when necessary and all defective cross arms, insulators and attachments removed and replaced and the cables restrained if required.

221. All aerial service lines from aerial mains shall be connected at a point of support only, and shall be fixed to insulators firmly attached to some portion of the consumer's premises which is not accessible to any person without the use of a ladder or other special appliance.

222. Every aerial line shall be stranded and shall be attached to suitable supports. The distance between such supports shall not exceed 200 feet where the direction of the line is straight, or 150 feet when the direction of the line is curved or where the line makes a horizontal angle at the point of support, except that in certain areas the foregoing distances may be increased or decreased in accordance with standard practice. Where necessary, standard practice will be defined by the Commission.

223. Where guy wires attached to poles carrying pressures above 650 volts are accessible to any person, insulators shall be inserted in the guy wires at a vertical height of not less than 10 feet from the ground level and at least 3 feet below any live conductors. The insulator so fixed on any guy wire must have a test pressure of at least one half of the line insulator which is carrying the highest pressure.

224. Every Supply Authority shall provide a log book in the form prescribed by the Commission, to be kept by the attendant at each power station, in which he shall enter every alarm or other emergency call, together with the action taken in regard thereto, at the time of the occurrence, as directed by the instructions printed upon the cover of such log book.

225. The attendant shall be responsible for the safe custody of the log book, which shall be produced for inspection by any inspector authorised under these regulations; also at any inquiry. During any absence of log book (or at any inquiry aforesaid) a supplementary log book shall be provided for use.

226. Upon receiving the intimation of any accident or circumstances in which the continuance of supply of current on any section would involve risk of life or property, or in the event of a fire where live cables would involve risk of life or property, the attendant shall cut off the current from the circuits affected, and such circuits shall be kept cut off until further instructions have been given by a responsible officer, or until the attendant is satisfied that danger has ceased to exist.

227. The time and particulars of all such actions are to be entered in the log book.

228. Every Supply Authority shall give notice to the Commission in the Form No. S.E.C. 33 in the appendix hereto of any accident which causes fatal injury to any person.

229. All power stations shall be placed in direct telephonic communication with the telephone exchange where possible, the telephone or extension bell being so placed that the call can easily be heard by the attendant on duty.

230. All power stations shall be equipped with fire fighting appliances as may be considered necessary by the Chief Officer of the W.A. Fire Brigades Board.

231. All persons selling portable electrical appliances where such appliances should be earthed, shall ascertain if the appliance which is being purchased is to be used in an earthed situation, and in such case it shall be an offence for the seller of the appliances to sell such appliances, unless fitted with a three-way flexible cord attached, if such appliance is sold with cord attached.

232. No portable electrical appliance, except all insulated appliances, shall be connected to or used from any outlet or socket in an earthed situation unless such electrical appliance is efficiently earthed.

233. It shall be an offence against these regulations for any employer to allow or cause to be allowed the use of any electrical appliances, where such appliance is used in an earthed situation, unless efficiently earthed in accordance with the previous regulation.

234. A copy of these regulations shall be exhibited in a conspicuous place in every power station, electrical workshop, or establishment, for the information of attendants and others concerned.

235. No person unless authorised shall affix any poster, sign or advertisement to any pole or structure which is used for the conveyance of electricity.

Part VII.

Penalties.

236. Any person committing a breach of any of the foregoing regulations, either by act or omission, shall on conviction be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

237. All proceedings in respect of any penalties or forfeitures may be taken by and in the name of any person authorised in that behalf by the Commission, or in proceedings for breaches of the regulations contained in Parts II., III., IV. and V., by the Board as the case may be.

Part VIII.

Supply Authority Service Regulations.

Application for Connection.

238. Every application for connection shall be made on the contract form provided by the Supply Authority, which contract form shall be approved by the Commission and must be signed by the applicant or some person duly authorised by him. The making of the application or the payment of a deposit shall not bind the Supply Authority to give supply until the application has been approved by the Supply Authority.

Security Deposit.

239. The Supply Authority may require the consumer to pay such deposit as may be considered sufficient to secure the payment of any moneys due to the Supply Authority for electricity supplied under the contract, and to cover the cost of the Supply Authority's property which may be on the consumer's premises.

Accounts.

240. (1) Accounts may be rendered weekly, monthly or quarterly at the discretion of the Supply Authority and at the ruling rates for the district in which the service is rendered.

(2) The Supply Authority may disconnect the consumer and discontinue supply without further notice if the accounts rendered are not paid within the times and conditions specified by the Supply Authority on its contract form and in its schedule of rates.

System.

241. Electricity shall be supplied by the Supply Authority in accordance with the standard system in use on its distribution services. Where supply is available at different pressures the Supply Authority may require that consuming apparatus shall be connected to such pressures and conductors as will cause least interference with the pressure of the supply system in accordance with the details set out on its contract form.

Connection of Installations.

242. (1) No connections shall be made in the case of new installations until the necessary certificate is received from the licensed contractor or licensed electrical worker who carried out the installation and until the Supply Authority is satisfied that the installation is in order.

(2) No re-connection shall be made to existing installations until the Supply Authority is satisfied that the installation is in order.

Additions to Installations.

243. When first connected the consumer shall supply the Supply Authority with full details of all apparatus connected or proposed to be connected to the circuits.

No additional loading shall be placed on any of the circuits until the Supply Authority has been notified.

Damage by Overloading to Supply Authority's Apparatus.

244. The consumer shall be responsible for any damage caused to meters or other property of the Supply Authority caused through overloading, of which the Supply Authority has not had previous notification, and such consumer shall be liable to disconnection.

Position of Service Leads, Fuses, Meters, etc.

245. (a) The Supply Authority shall have the right to decide as to the most suitable position for fuses, circuit-breakers, indicators and meters and termination of service leads.

(b) The position of service fuses shall be as close as possible to the point where the mains touch the building, but one in which they may be reached by a short ladder for replacing fuses. Service fuses shall be of an approved type and unless weather-proof must have weather-proof protection.

(c) The meter board shall be fixed in a position approved by the Supply Authority, protected from the weather, out of doors or elsewhere accessible to the Supply Authority at all reasonable times.

(d) In large buildings all circuits must be brought to one central point, as may be arranged with the Supply Authority, where the supply will enter and the necessary meter or meters be placed.

(e) In cases where a building is let in single rooms or groups of offices or flats, the Supply Authority may if it thinks fit instal only one set of meters and supply current to the building as a whole with the landlord or chief tenant as consumer.

(f) The Supply Authority may, if requested in such cases, supply to the landlord, at rental, meters required for metering the supply to the various tenants and may, if desired, read such meters at the same time as the master meters are read, and supply the readings to the landlord so that he can bill the current to his various tenants, provided that the sub-meters are suitably grouped. In all such cases the landlord may charge the tenants the same meter rental as charged to him and the same tariff for electricity used as the tenants would pay if supplied directly by the Supply Authority.

Consumer's Main Switches and Fuses.

246. The Supply Authority shall fix meters at the position decided upon, to which the consumer must bring his mains and provide on his side of the meters suitable controlling switches and fuses. In cases where the consumer's main control switches and fuses are, with the consent of the Supply Authority, fixed on the supply side of the meter they shall be iron clad and suitable for sealing with the Supply Authority's seal. The Supply Authority shall determine the method of metering the supply and type of main control switch required.

Capacity of Main Switches.

247. Main switches shall be of ample capacity and of approved design. Sufficient length of cable shall be left by the consumer or installer to connect to the supply authority's meter.

Consumer's Terminals and Mains.

248. (1) Unless specially approved by the Supply Authority, the point of attachment shall be as high as conveniently possible, but no higher than the second storey of a multiple storey structure.

(2) The consumer's mains shall be of sufficient length to allow of their ends being properly connected to the aerial leads at the point of attachment. Loops shall be left on the mains for the insertion by the Supply Authority of its meter, cut-outs, or other apparatus.

(3) Where the M.E.N. system is likely to be used, the consumer may be required to provide an earth wire with the phase and neutral mains.

(4) At the point of attachment the consumer's mains shall be provided with a suitable bellmouth or other approved fitting. The use of porcelain bushes may be prohibited by the supply authority.

Fixing the Leads in Fuses, Meters, etc.

249. Only an employee of the Supply Authority may insert the ends of the consumer's wiring into any service fuse, meter, indicator, current limiter, or other device the property of the Supply Authority.

Property.

250. The service mains and fuses, meters, and apparatus supplied and fixed by the Supply Authority on the consumer's premises shall remain the property of the Supply Authority.

Nature and Protection of Consumer's Mains.

251. The conductors between the point of attachment and the consumer's main switch shall be equivalent to C.M.A. 250-volt grade insulation, without joints, shall be enclosed in steel conduit screwed if exposed to weather, shall be stranded and of adequate sectional area, which in no case shall be less than that of 7/036in. cable, or shall be protected in such other suitable manner as may be agreed with the Supply Authority.

Fuses.

252. The fuses fixed by the Supply Authority on the mains side of the meter may or may not be sealed by the Supply Authority, but they shall not in any case be interfered with by the consumer who must provide suitable fuses on the load side of the consumer's main switch.

Inspection of Installations.

253. Before any installation is connected to the supply mains and before alterations or additions to an installation are connected, they shall be inspected by the supply authority once free of charge. If defective, connection shall not be made until the defect is remedied, and a minimum charge of five shillings may be made for the second inspection, and ten shillings each for any subsequent inspections.

Service Leads—Aerial.

254. The Supply Authority shall take its aerial service line to the point of attachment where the point of attachment is not a greater distance than 60 feet from the point where the service line would cross the street alignment boundary. Where the distance is greater than 60 feet the Supply Authority may insist upon the consumer installing his own aerial line from the distance of 60 feet to the approval of the Supply Authority. Where the Supply Authority carries out the installation the cost of same shall be charged to the consumer beyond the said distance of 60 feet.

Service Leads—Underground.

255. (1) Where the Supply Authority considers it necessary to instal underground service cable to the consumer's terminals the same shall be laid by the Supply Authority the cost thereof from the building alignment boundary shall be charged to the consumer.

(2) Where the consumer has requested that the service leads be installed underground and the Supply Authority has approved the Supply Authority may charge to the consumer the cost between the point of connection to the Supply Authority's mains and the consumer's terminals.

Conductors not to be Earthed on Consumer's Premises.

256. Except where the M.E.N. system is used, no conductor in the consumer's installation, other than an earthed conductor shall be connected to earth and all conductors shall be equally insulated as provided in the S.A.A. Wiring Rules.

Supply to Large Premises.

257. Where supply is charged for premises of considerable size or with a large or a fluctuating load and the Supply Authority deems it necessary to instal transformers at the site, the consumer shall provide an accessible space and enclosure to the satisfaction of the Supply Authority for the transformers, switchgear and associated apparatus. The Supply Authority shall have the right to use such equipment in the usual manner for supply to other consumers. All circuit-breakers and fuses used on premises where transformers are installed on or near to the site shall be of adequate making and rupturing capacity to the satisfaction of the Supply Authority.

Labelling of Switch Wires.

258. Active conductors shall be clearly labelled by the electrical contractor or the electrical installer to enable the supply authority correctly to connect the consumer's leads to the service leads.

Balancing of Circuits.

259. Circuits shall be arranged as follows:—(a) Circuits taking less than 15 amps. may be taken off one phase (2 wires); (b) circuits taking more than 15 amps. shall be divided into two approximately equal circuits, and taken off two phases (3 wires); (c) circuits taking more than 30 amps. shall be divided in three approximately equal parts, and taken off three phases (4 wires); (d) lighting load on one phase shall not be balanced against the power load on another; (e) in all cases a separate linked switch shall be provided for each rate at which supply is required. The Supply Authority shall be consulted as to the number of phases to be used.

Separate Supplies at Different Rates.

260. (1) Where it is required to provide for the separate metering of current supplied at different rates, the installation shall be divided into separate and distinct circuits, which must not be bunched, and all wall plugs, connectors, and the like shall be of such different types that it shall not be possible to connect apparatus chargeable at a certain rate to any part of the installation conveying current chargeable at a lower rate.

(2) No lampholder shall be connected to any circuit, the supply to which is given at power or heating rates, except (as provided in the Wiring Rules of the S.A.A.) in the case of pilot lamps, which, however, shall be fitted with miniature screw base sockets and shall be so installed as to render it impossible to use them for general illuminating purposes.

Current Used Indirectly for Lighting.

261. Current used indirectly for lighting purposes by the interposition of motor generators, batteries, etc., shall be chargeable at lighting rate.

Notice of Apparatus to be Used.

262. All applications shall state clearly the nature and number of consuming devices to be used and the rating of each. Consuming devices shall include lamps, motors, heating and cooking apparatus, etc. The Supply Authority shall be consulted before motors other than refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and other household apparatus are connected to any installation. All motors connected shall comply, as regards type, power factor, starting current, etc., with the Supply Authority's detailed requirements.

Starting Currents of A.C. Motors.

263. (1) Motors shall be of such a type and provided with suitable starting gear, so that the maximum starting current as measured with locked rotor, shall not exceed the following:—(a) Single phase 250-volt motors up to and including 2 h.p., 18 amps.;

(b) three phase motors, 440 volts, motors not exceeding 2 b.h.p., 13 amps.; motors exceeding 2 b.h.p. but not exceeding 6 b.h.p., 6.5 amps per b.h.p.; motors exceeding 6 b.h.p., 2.4 amps. per b.h.p., plus 33 amps.

(2) In cases where a motor will be used in outlying areas and the selection of the type of motor or the starting gear with which it will be provided depends upon the suitability of the supply of current which will be available, the person proposing to use such motor shall first ascertain from the Supply Authority whether or not there will be available a supply of current suitable for the motor load and the starting currents in relation to the type of motor and the starting gear provided therewith which such person proposes to use; and such person shall be bound by and act in accordance with any decision thereon which is given by the Supply Authority.

(3) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this regulation, no limitation shall be placed on the starting currents of any three-phase motor which is not frequently started and stopped, and of which the rating does not exceed 10 per cent. of the total connected motor load.

Starting Currents of D.C. Motors.

Pulsating and Rapidly Varying Loads.

265. (1) Motors driving pulsating loads such as reciprocating pumps, refrigerators, air compressors, etc., shall be fitted with a fly wheel or other device so that the load current taken by the motor does not fluctuate more than plus or minus 10 per cent. of the main load current.

(2) Other apparatus such as welders, furnaces, instantaneous water heaters, cooking apparatus, etc., which causes rapid changes in demand, shall not be connected without the prior consent of the Supply Authority who may refuse to connect such apparatus where a variation in the load may unduly interfere with the supply to other consumers.

(3) In the event of a consumer operating any such apparatus aforesaid, or any lift or motor, in such a manner as will, in the opinion of the Supply Authority, interfere with the supply to other consumers, the Supply Authority may require the consumer to make such necessary adjustments or alterations and so to operate the apparatus as will, in the opinion of the Supply Authority, ensure that the supply to other consumers will not be interfered with; and in the event of the consumer failing to do so the Supply Authority may cut off the supply of electricity to the consumer. The fact that the Supply Authority has connected and approved of the apparatus aforesaid shall not be deemed to exempt the consumer from the operation of this regulation.

Temporary or Special Lighting or Power.

266. Special lighting or power, such as ovens, wet premises, outdoor displays, illuminations, lighting or power of a temporary nature, or where the conditions are unusual, shall be discussed with the Supply Authority before the installation is made, and approval thereof by the Supply Authority must be obtained before the work is connected. The cost of any temporary connection may be charged to the consumer.

Meter Rentals.

267. Subject to the Act a rental charge may be levied by the Supply Authority for master meters or for sub-meters, but in no case shall this rental exceed 1s. per month for meters up to a total capacity of 25 kilowatts.

Rates.

268. Subject to the Act the Supply Authority may charge such rates for the supply of electrical energy as may be set out in their Schedule of Rates and/or contract form or in any agreement governing the supply. Such rates may include a minimum charge not exceeding 10s. per month.

Meter Readings.

269. The reading of the meter or other measuring device provided by the Supply Authority shall be accepted as prima facie evidence of the quantity of electricity consumed. If the meter or other measuring device fails to register, or is found to be inaccurate, the account for the period since the last account was rendered shall be readjusted at the option of the Supply Authority upon the basis of: (a) The account rendered to the consumer for the corresponding period of the previous year; (b) the account for the last preceding period, a reasonable allowance being made for any known variations in the demand; (c) the test certificate of the meter.

Testing of Meters.

270. The Supply Authority shall have the right to test meters at any time, and adjust the consumption for the current period on such test. The cost of testing such meter shall be borne by the Supply Authority, unless the meter is tested on the complaint or at the request of the consumer, in which case a testing fee of 5s. shall be paid before the meter is tested. If it be found on testing that the meter is more than two per cent. fast, a refund of the testing fee above shall be made to the consumer. Meters shall be considered correct if, on testing, they are found to register within two per cent. of the Supply Authority's standards, and no adjustment of accounts shall be made. All outstanding accounts shall be paid before the test is made.

Apparatus, Interruptions, Responsibility.

271. The Supply Authority: (a) Shall have the right at all reasonable times to enter the premises of the consumer to inspect and test the installation and the Supply Authority's meter and to remove any of the Supply Authority's property; (b) may at any time interrupt the supply to make a test or to effect alterations, or repairs to the Supply Authority's system, or for any other purpose; (c) shall not be responsible or liable for any injury, damage or loss of any kind to the person, property, or business of the consumer, or to the consumer's lamps or apparatus, resulting from fire or otherwise, through the supply of electricity or through interruptions or defects of supply due to storm, accident, or breakdown of plant or mains or force majeure.

Disconnections.

272. The Supply Authority shall have the right to disconnect without notice if the consumer: (a) Is in arrears in payment of account; (b) his installation is faulty; (c) uses the service in a way that interferes with the general supply to other consumers; (d) uses apparatus not authorised by the Supply Authority; (e) connects increased load without first obtaining the consent of the Supply Authority; (f) interferes with the seals, fuses, meters, or other apparatus the property of the Supply Authority; (g) becomes bankrupt or assigns his estate for the benefit of his creditors; or (h) fails to conform to these regulations and to the conditions on the contract form in any way.

Reconnections.

273. If the supply is disconnected for any of the reasons contained in regulation 272 the Supply Authority may make a charge of 5s. which shall be paid before reconnection is made.

Consumer's Liability for Loss.

274. The consumer shall be liable for loss by fire, damage, or theft of the meters or other apparatus hired from or loaned by the Supply Authority on the consumer's premises, or which may be on the consumer's premises in connection with the supply of current to the consumer.

Extension of Mains.

275. If the supply to a proposed consumer necessitates the extension of the distribution mains the Supply Authority may refuse to carry out such extension, but arrangements may be made to extend the mains if the Supply Authority approves, by the prospective consumer paying the cost of such extension or a proportion thereof. Such payment shall not be returnable.

Alteration to System.

276. The Supply Authority shall not make any alteration to the system of supply until reasonable notice has been given to the consumer and then only after the proposal has been approved by the Commission.

Supply Authority's Registration.

277. Every Supply Authority shall apply to the Commission on or before the 31st day of August in each year for a Certificate of Registration as an approved Supply Authority. Such registration shall be made on the form which will be posted by the Commission to each Supply Authority. The Supply Authority will return the completed form in time to reach the Commission by the 31st day of August in each year. It shall be compulsory for the Supply Authority to supply all the information as set out on the registration form.

Annual Registration Fees.

278. Every Supply Authority shall pay to the Commission with the return of the registration form on or before the 31st day of August of each year a sum at the rate of 1s. for each individual consumer connected to the mains of the said Supply Authority on the 1st day of July preceding the said 31st day of August. The minimum charge to be paid by any Supply Authority shall be £5 in respect of any one year, and the maximum charge shall be £1,000 in respect of any one year. The sum collected under this regulation is to be used by the Commission in enforcing all regulations under the Electricity Act concerning the safety of employees of supply authorities, the members of the public generally and property together with part of the administration costs incurred by the Commission in administering these regulations.

Service Rendered by Commission to Supply Authorities.

279. If any Supply Authority requests the Commission (or the Commission considers it necessary) to make any report, valuation or major inspection, the Supply Authority will pay to the Commission the fees as set out hereunder for the respective service:—

	Supply Authorities with consumers not exceeding 200.	Supply Authorities with consumers not exceeding 500.	Supply Authorities with consumers exceeding 500.

280. (a) The Commission may require the Supply Authority to meet the cost of travelling and other expenses incurred by the Commission in making such reports, inspections and/or valuations.

(b) For any service rendered by the Commission to a Supply Authority, local authority or any other authority which cannot be classified under any of the items as mentioned in regulation 279, the Commission will impose a reasonable charge for the service rendered.

Part 9.—Overhead Line Working Safety Regulations.

281. Employers who employ persons to work on or about overhead lines and/or apparatus for the transmission and distribution of electrical energy shall provide such safety equipment, appliances, or materials, as may be required, to comply with the provisions of these regulations.

282. Employers shall take all practicable steps to ensure that all employees working on or assisting in work on electrical apparatus are instructed in the method of resuscitation from apparent death due to electric shock, and every such employee shall keep himself familiar with the method.

283. A first-aid outfit shall be kept at each depot, attended sub-station, workshop and camp, and also on each motor truck attached to a party in the field.

284. It shall be the duty of every person working on electrical apparatus to use in a proper manner the safety equipment provided.

285. No employee shall use any safety equipment that is not in good condition. Employees shall notify the employer of all defects in safety equipment of which they become aware.

286. Employers shall issue all safety equipment in good order. Provision shall be made by the employer for the periodic inspection of all safety equipment and any such equipment found to be defective shall be withdrawn from service and suitable measures shall be taken to ensure that upon withdrawal such equipment shall not be returned to service whilst so defective.

287. Any person, before ascending a pole or structure or part thereof, which is subject to decay or deterioration, shall satisfy himself that there is no danger of the pole, structure, or part thereof, collapsing. If such a danger exists, the pole or structure shall be effectively secured before an ascent is made.

288. Either one-piece or extension ladders may be used for work on overhead lines. All ladders shall be made from first-class timber free from flaws and defects. All ladders that may be used against poles shall be provided with a pole-strap fixed to the top of the ladder.

289. Ladders with stiles reinforced longitudinally with wire or other metal reinforcement may be used, provided the reinforcement does not reach within four feet of either end of the ladder, but shall not, in themselves, be regarded as insulated ladders for the purpose of these regulations.

290. When in use the distance between the foot of the ladder and the pole or structure shall not exceed one quarter of the length of the ladder. Except in cases of emergency two ladders are not to be joined together when one ladder is of insufficient length, but when so used the ladders shall overlap at least one-fifth of the length of the longer and shall be securely lashed together.

292. Linesmen's safety belts shall be provided by the employer and shall be worn and used when engaged in work in elevated positions, except on guarded platforms, or where special circumstances pertaining to the work may render their use unnecessary or undesirable.

293. Before new apparatus or apparatus which has been out of service is made alive, it shall be the responsibility of every person in charge of works on that apparatus to satisfy himself personally that all persons under his charge are clear of and that all earthing equipment and other plant and material used by him have been removed from the apparatus.

294. Before carrying out or issuing instructions for the necessary switching, the authorised operator who is responsible for the switching shall satisfy himself by personal inspection or, where this is not possible, by information obtained from persons in charge of works that the apparatus is clear, as set out in regulation 293.

295. No person shall work on or within a distance of 30 inches of exposed conductors of live apparatus unless accompanied by another person, except in cases of emergency, or cases covered by regulation 300.

Provided that this restriction shall not preclude the carrying out by an authorised person, when unattended, of normal operations (switching, fuse replacements, and the like) and investigations of apparatus performance for which it is essential that the apparatus be alive.

296. For the sole purpose of this part of the regulations low voltage conductors are to be considered as those which in normal service are alive at a voltage of 650 volts or less between conductors, and high voltage conductors are those which in normal service are alive at a voltage of more than 650 volts between conductors.

297. Low voltage and high voltage apparatus means electrical equipment such as transformers, switch gear, machine lines, and feeders of which low voltage and high voltage conductors respectively form an integral part.

298. Where persons are working in positions where they are liable to make accidental contact with live low voltage conductors, they shall protect themselves against such accidental contact by means of the safety equipment provided by the employer for the purpose.

299. Work on live low voltage conductors and apparatus may be carried out by authorised persons: Provided that persons so working are suitably insulated from the live conductor being worked on or from earth.

300. Notwithstanding the requirements of regulation 295 work on live low voltage apparatus may be carried out by an authorised person without the presence of an assistant: Provided that the work is confined to such items as installation and testing of meters, running maintenance on machines, maintenance of control circuits and equipment, and the connection and disconnection of services, with the further provision that, in overhead line work, the person does not place himself between or above bare line conductors.

301. No person shall perform any switching on high voltage apparatus unless he has been specially authorised for this purpose. No work shall be performed on or near high voltage apparatus without the knowledge of the officer controlling that apparatus.

302. No person shall make personal contact, either directly or through any conducting object, with any high voltage conductor believed to be dead, unless the conductor has been effectively earthed and short-circuited, as provided for in regulations 311, 312 and 313, with the exception that personal contact with such high voltage conductors may be permitted if the contacting person uses an insulated platform in accordance with the requirements of these regulations.

303. High voltage apparatus, on which work other than live work permitted by these regulations is to be carried out, shall be isolated from all possible sources of supply by opening appropriate circuit breakers and/or switches, or removing appropriate fuses so that the apparatus then is not and cannot be made alive from the high or low voltage systems. Warning against reclosing the circuit breakers, switches, or fuses so opened shall be given by danger notices suitably displayed.

305. Subsequent to isolation and prior to commencement of the work, the apparatus must be proved dead, discharged, and earthed and short-circuited as provided for in regulations 307, 308, 309, 311, 312 and 313.

306. Before beginning work on dead equipment which is adjacent to live conductors in substations and similar locations, suitable barriers must first be erected to prevent accidental contact with those conductors.

307. High voltage apparatus which is to be earthed and short-circuited shall be proved by suitable methods to be dead and safe for earthing and short-circuiting.

308. In addition to the other requisite conditions, no rotating machine, nor the circuits connected thereto, are to be considered dead while the machine is revolving.

309. Before touching, for the purpose of fitting an "earth and short circuit," any part of the apparatus normally alive, but made dead for the purpose of working thereon, the apparatus shall be discharged by connecting the conductors or terminals to earth by means of the standard equipment provided by the employer for the purpose of taking care to ensure good contact between the earthing wire and the conductors or terminals of the apparatus to be discharged.

310. Where there may be danger of induced potentials, discharging by this method does not ensure that the conductors are safe to touch, and the "earth and short circuit" referred to in regulations 311, 312 and 313 must in such cases be attached to the conductors by means of an insulating medium, or the discharging equipment must be left in position while the "earth and short circuit" is fitted.

311. After apparatus has been proved dead and has been discharged, earthing and short-circuiting shall be carried out by the parts normally alive being connected together and to earth.

313. Earthing and short-circuiting shall be effected at or within sight of the work, except that when the nature of the apparatus, work or soil renders this impossible, the earth connection shall be placed as near as possible to the work.

314. When a line to be worked on is divided or has to be divided, both sides of the division shall be earthed and short-circuited.

315. All persons working on any high voltage apparatus which has been earthed and short-circuited who for any reason leave the site during the progress of the work on such apparatus shall, on return to the site, ensure that the apparatus is still earthed and short-circuited before recommencing work.

316. Certain work on or near the conductors of live high voltage apparatus may be performed by authorised persons, provided either—

(b) the persons so working are supported on insulated platforms, towers, or ladders, the design and construction of which has been approved by the Commission.

Provided that in every such case the person using such special appliances or insulated platforms, towers, or ladders has been personally instructed in the precautions to be taken with each specific class of work.

318. The safety equipment specified in these regulations and which must be provided by employers shall include:—

Linesmen's belts, rubber gloves, first-aid outfit, suitable earthing equipment, approved insulating equipment for working on live low voltage conductors, approved insulating platforms.

319. A copy of this Part of the regulations shall be supplied to each worker engaged on work covered by this Part of the regulations and each employee shall make himself familiar with the requirements of the said Part.

To the Supply Authority—

(d) If any worker shall wilfully misstate his age in the above certificate, he shall be guilty of a breach of this agreement.

Payment hereunder may be adjusted at the end of each calendar year, or at the time the worker leaves the service of the employer, in the event of the worker being entitled by service subsequent to the sickness to a greater allowance than that made at the time the sickness occurred. This clause shall not apply where the worker is entitled to compensation under the Workers' Compensation Act.

A worker shall not be entitled to receive any wages from his employer for any time lost through the result of an accident not arising out of or in the course of his employment or for any accident, wherever sustained, arising out of his own wilful default or for sickness arising out of his own wilful default.

No worker shall be entitled to the benefits of this clause unless he produces proof satisfactory to his employer of sickness, but the employer shall not be entitled to a medical certificate unless the absence is for two (2) days or more.

Any time in respect of which a worker is absent from work, except time for which he is entitled to claim sick pay under the preceding provision shall not count for the purpose of determining his right to holidays.

16.—Board of Reference: The Court may order, for the purpose of the said agreement the appointment of a Board or Boards of Reference and assign to such Board or Boards the following functions and powers arising under or out of the said agreement, namely:—
