 - (b) Debated Resolutions. Where a resolution is proposed by a member and there appears to be a dissentient, the President shall require the motion to be seconded, and when the motion has been proposed and seconded it shall become subject to the control of the Council.
17. Where a motion has been proposed and seconded any member shall be at liberty to move an amendment thereon, but no such amendment shall be debated unless or until it has been seconded. After an amendment has been moved and seconded, any member desirous of moving a further amendment may give notice of his intention to do so and may briefly state his proposed amendment and the effect thereof.
18. No motion or amendment shall be debated unless or until it has been reduced to writing, if the President so directs.

19. A motion or an amendment before the Council shall be debated by members speaking in rotation in the affirmative or negative, and no member, except as provided in these by-laws, may speak twice on any motion or amendment.

20. In submitting a motion or amendment the President shall put the question first in the affirmative and then in the negative.

21. If an amendment has been carried, the question as amended shall itself become the question before the Council, whereupon any further amendments upon such question may be moved.

22. If an amendment, whether upon an original question or amended as aforesaid has been negated, then a further amendment may be moved to the question to which such firstmentioned amendment was moved, and so on until there are no further amendments, and the question is then decided by the final vote in the affirmative or negative; provided that no more than one motion or one proposed amendment thereof shall be before the Council at any one time.

23. No discussion shall be permitted upon any motion for the adjournment of the Council. If, upon the question being put on any such motion, the same is negated, the subject then under consideration or the next on the business paper shall be discussed and it shall not be competent for any member to again move for an adjournment until half an hour has elapsed from the time of moving the one that has been negated.

24. On resuming any discussion that has been adjourned, the mover of such adjournment shall be entitled, if he has not already spoken on the subject under discussion, to speak first.

Where a member discloses an interest in a matter in accordance with the Act, the Clerk shall record particulars of the disclosures made.

30. The result of voting openly is determined on the voices, unless a member of the Council calls for a show of hands, in which case the result is determined on the count of raised hands, and upon a vote on the voices or on a show of hands being taken a Councillor may call for a division. Where a member dissents he may request that his name be recorded in the minutes as opposed to the motion, and it shall be so recorded.

31. The division shall thereupon be taken by those voting in the affirmative passing to the right of the chair and those voting in the negative to the left of the chair. The names of the members who voted on the question on which there is a division shall be recorded by the Clerk.
