O. 36A
added.

11. The principal rules are amended by adding after Order 36 the following Order:—

ORDER 36A.

Expert Evidence.

Intrepretation.

1. In this Order—

“action for personal injuries” means proceedings in which a claim is made in respect of personal injuries to a person (including any illness suffered by him and any impairment of his physical or mental condition) or in respect of a person’s death;

“medical evidence” means expert evidence on medical matters;

“medical report” means a report containing medical evidence;

“privilege” means privilege as defined in section 32A of the Evidence Act, 1906.

Medical evidence in actions for personal injuries.

2. (1) This rule applies to medical evidence in actions for personal injuries.

(2) Unless the Court otherwise directs, a party must serve on the other parties, in accordance with this rule, copies of all medical reports the substance of which that party intends to rely on at the trial or hearing.

(3) Copies of the medical reports mentioned in paragraph (2) shall be served not later than the following times—

(a) where the report is in existence before the action is entered for trial—

(i) if the report is that of the party entering the action—the time of entry;

(ii) if the report is that of another party—the expiration of the time limited by Order 33 Rule 9 for an application to countermand the entry or such later time as may be fixed by an order made on any such application;

(b) where the report comes into existence after the action is entered for trial, as soon as practicable thereafter.

(4) Where the Court gives a direction under paragraph (2), the Court, if satisfied that it is desirable to do so, may direct that, in lieu of serving a copy of any medical report, the substance of all or any medical evidence that a party intends to rely on at the trial or hearing be disclosed in writing to such other parties and within such period as the Court may specify.

(5) Except with leave of the Court, or pursuant to a direction of the Court, or where all other parties agree, no witness may give medical evidence at the trial or hearing of a cause or matter unless the substance of that evidence has been disclosed in writing to all other parties within the time limited by a direction under paragraph (4) or, where no such direction has been given, a reasonable time before trial.

(6) Paragraph (5) does not apply where a party has in accordance with paragraph (2) and paragraph (3) served a copy of a medical report containing the substance of the evidence.

(7) The Court may, if it thinks fit, treat the fact that a medical report contains statements by the party against whose interest the evidence is to be led or hearsay evidence as to the manner in which the personal injuries were sustained, or that it contains other evidence that would not be admissible at the trial, as a sufficient reason for giving a direction under paragraphs (2) or (4) or granting leave under paragraph (5).

(8) Where a party applies for a direction under paragraph (2), the Court may inspect the report the subject of the application without disclosing its contents to any other party; and an affidavit in support of any such application shall not be required.

(9) Nothing contained in this rule requires evidence to be disclosed to a defendant who has not entered an appearance.

Other expert
evidence.

3. (1) This rule applies to expert evidence other than medical evidence in actions for personal injuries.

(2) Except with the leave of the Court or where all parties agree, no expert evidence may be adduced at the trial or hearing of a cause or matter unless the party seeking to adduce the evidence has applied to the Court to determine whether a direction should be given under paragraph (3) and has complied with any direction given on the application.

(3) The application shall be made—

(a) if by the party entering the action for trial—before the action is entered; or

(b) if by another party—not later than the expiration of the time limited by Order 33 Rule 9 for an application to countermand the entry or at such later time as may be fixed by an order made on any such application.

(4) Where an application has been made under paragraph (2) the Court, if satisfied that it is desirable to do so, may direct that—

(a) copy of a report of an expert witness the substance of which a party intends to rely on at the trial or hearing of a cause or matter be served on, or

(b) the substance of all or any expert evidence that a party intends to adduce at the trial or hearing be disclosed in writing to, such other parties and within such period as the Court may specify.

Exceptions.

4. Paragraph (5) of Rule 2 and paragraph (2) of Rule 3 shall not apply to evidence that is permitted to be given by affidavit or shall affect the enforcement under any other provisions of these Rules of a direction given under this Order, but such a direction shall not be enforceable by writ of attachment or order of committal.

Limitation of expert
evidence.

5. The Court may, at or before the trial or hearing of a cause or matter, direct that the number of medical or other expert witnesses who may be called at the trial or hearing shall be limited as specified by the direction.

Disclosure of part of
evidence.

6. The Court may give a direction under Rule 2 or Rule 3 relating to part only of the report or evidence of an expert witness.

Derogation of privilege.

7. Where a party is required by Rule 2 or by a direction given under that Rule or under Rule 3 to disclose any expert evidence, that party may not, after the expiration of the time fixed for disclosure by the Rule or direction, as the case may be, object, on the ground of privilege, to the evidence being disclosed.

Mode of application.

8. An application under this Order, if made before trial, shall be made by summons.

Revocation and variation of directions.

9. A direction given under this Order may on sufficient cause being shown, be revoked or varied by a subsequent direction given at or before the trial or hearing of the cause or matter.

The proposals are part of the plan contained in the report "The Planning Structure for the North-West Corridor" prepared by the Authority and which are available for purchase (a summary copy is also available free of charge) at the Town Planning Department, 2nd Floor, 22 St. George's Terrace, Perth. The proposals provide for the extension of the urban deferred zone and the primary road pattern, a Central City Area zone which includes all the land envisaged for development as the Joondalup Sub-Regional Centre, and a large parks and recreation reserve between the west coast and the northward extension of Ocean Reef Road.
