Shire of Nannup

WITH reference to Section 33 of the Bush Fires Act, 1954-79, you are required to carry out fire prevention work on land owned or occupied by you in accordance with the provision of this order.

This work must be carried out by December 1, 1988, in the Townsite and by December 15, 1988, in the Rural Area, and kept maintained throughout the summer months until the close of the Restricted Burning Period.

An inspection of firebreaks and hazard removal will be carried out in all areas of the Shire by Authorised Officers on or after December 15, 1988.

Persons who fail to comply with the requirements of the order may be issued with an infringement notice (penalty $40) or prosecuted with an increased penalty, and additionally, Council may carry out the required work at cost to the owner or occupier.

If it is considered for any reason to be impractical to clear firebreaks as requested by this notice or if natural features render firebreaks unnecessary, you may apply to the Council or its duly authorised officer not later than the 8th day of December, 1988, for permission to provide firebreaks in alternative positions or to take alternative action to abate fire hazards on the land. If permission is not granted by the Council or its duly authorised officer, you shall comply with the requirements of this notice. If the requirements of this notice are carried out by burning, such burning must be in accordance with the relevant provisions of the bush fires act.

A. RURAL LAND: All land other than a pine plantation and that listed as URBAN.

Firebreaks not less than two (2) metres wide must be provided in the following positions—

Rivers, creeks and green flats and subdivisional roads including Forests Department firebreaks outside a property constitute a strategic break. A copy of the plan to be held in the Shire Office.

That each Brigade draw up a strategic plan to cover their area.

(b) Not more than 100 metres and not less than 20 metres from the perimeter of all buildings and/or haystacks situated on the land. Haystacks includes hayrolls.

(c) Forestry firebreaks will only be accepted if approved by the Department of Conservation and Land Management and a Fire Control Officer in writing.

NO. E: Grassed lawns around dwellings are construed as firebreaks.

B. SPECIAL RURAL LAND

The owners of all existing small rural holdings zoned as Special Rural under Town Planning Schemes must retain clear of all flammable materials a fire break not less than two (2) metres wide immediately inside all external boundaries of the land.

C. URBAN LAND (Residential, Commercial and Industrial land within a townsite or within any area subdivided for residential purposes).

In respect of land owned or occupied by you within any town site or within any area subdivided for other purposes, you shall—

- (a) Where the area of land is 2 024 sq. m (approximately ½ acre) or less, remove all flammable material on the land except living standing trees, from the whole of the land, and
- (b) Where the area of land exceeds 2 024 sq. m (½ acre), provided firebreaks of at least two metres wide, immediately inside all external boundaries of the land and also immediately surrounding all buildings situated on the land. Where several adjoining lots are held or used by the owner/occupier, the firebreaks may be provided inside and along the external boundaries of the group or lot.

D. FUEL AND/OR GAS DEPOTS

In respect of land owned or occupied by you on which is situated any container normally used to contain liquid or gas fuel, including the land on which any ramp or supports are constructed, you shall maintain the land clear of all flammable materials.

E. PINE PLANTATIONS

Any pines planted for commercial purposes constitute a pine plantation and you are required to provide firebreaks—

- (a) Not less than 20 metres wide around the perimeter of each plantation;
- (b) Not less than 20 metres wide along those portions of the plantation which abut a used public road;
- (c) Not less than six metres in width in such position that no part or compartment of the plantation exceeds twenty eight (28) hectares in area.

1. copy of the Notification to the Commissioner. (See Appendix 1 for format.)
2. summary of obligations under the regulations or Act still remaining.
3. brief description of the workplace and work processes.
4. summary of any noise control measures taken in the preceding 5 years or since the last report.
5. Results Tables in Approved Formats (See Appendix 2)—
  - (a) Noise Measurement Results
  - (b) Evaluation of Noise Exposure (LAeq,8h)
  - (c) Data for Selection of Personal Hearing Protectors
  - (d) Appropriate Personal Hearing Protectors.
6. any relevant information not contained in the results tables which may be needed to compare results in previous or future reports.
7. general noise control advice and comments.
8. full name and signature of noise officer(s) who collected the noise data.
9. appendix on measurement method, sound measurement equipment used and calibration certificates.

312. (2) An employer shall ensure that the noise data on which a noise report is based, or of which a noise report is comprised, is collected by a person approved to collect that data, who shall be known as a noise officer.

Noise Officer—Person approved to collect noise data

1. A person will be considered for approval by the Commissioner as a noise officer after having—
  - (a) attended a course with approved objectives, run by a course provider recognised by the Commissioner;
  - (b) passed an exam both practical and theoretical which demonstrates the attainment of the course objectives;
  - (c) prepared a satisfactory noise report based on noise measurements personally taken in a place where noise above the action level exists; or
  - (d) satisfied the Commissioner that equivalent training and experience has been received.
2. The approval will be for a period of 5 years, but may be renewed for more than one period.
3. The approval may be cancelled at any time by the Commissioner.
4. The Commissioner will issue a certificate to each noise officer which will be proof of approval.

Approved objectives of a noise officer's course

A noise officer's course shall provide a background which includes a basic understanding of hearing, the health effects of noise and the need for hearing conservation in industry. Upon successful completion of the course, the candidate shall be able to:—

- (a) demonstrate an understanding of the basic physics of sound;
- (b) demonstrate an understanding of the principles of operation of and the ability to use sound measuring equipment and accessories required to gather data for noise reports;
- (c) demonstrate the ability to determine the appropriate equipment and measurement techniques required to assess noise levels and determine exposures, recognising the limitations involved;
- (d) demonstrate a good understanding of current occupational health and safety legislation with respect to noise;
- (e) demonstrate clear understanding of the role, functions and limitations of a noise officer;
- (f) demonstrate an understanding of the principles of noise control, recognising when more detailed technical advice is required;
- (g) demonstrate an ability to undertake noise surveys and compile noise reports, giving assessment of noise exposures of employees; and
- (h) demonstrate the ability to evaluate and recommend suitable personal hearing protectors.

The content and the practical and theoretical assessment procedures of noise officer's courses must exhibit sufficient rigor to determine satisfactory attainment of the approved objectives by the candidate.

312. (3) A noise officer shall use only approved procedures and approved sound measurement equipment to collect data which is to be used for a noise report.

Approved procedure for collection of data by a noise officer

In collecting data for the preparation of a noise report, a noise officer shall—

- (a) delineate all areas where LAeq,T exceeds 90 dB(A) or peak noise level exceeds 140 dB(lin), by either direct measurement or by using an approved sampling procedure;
- (b) evaluate the noise exposures LAeq,8h needed to identify those exposed above the action level;
- (c) where practicable, ensure that the conditions prevailing during the assessment are those likely to produce typical noise emissions and record any conditions that are not typical;
- (d) record items of plant or processes that have potential to cause the action level to be exceeded that have not been able to be assessed and which will require additional measurements in the future;

- (e) use approved sound measurement equipment which has been calibrated by an approved method within the 24 months preceding each day of use at an approved calibration laboratory;
- (f) check the sound measurement equipment with a reference sound source immediately before and after measurements are taken and reject results if a discrepancy of more than 1 dB or 10 per cent of the noise dose is found;
- (g) if the atmosphere is explosive or flammable, use apparatus, equipment or procedures which will not jeopardize safety;
- (h) assess the adequacy of the noise reduction afforded by any personal hearing protectors already in use and if inadequate, recommend alternative protectors which are adequate; and
- (j) complete the results tables required by the approved form for noise reports.

Approved sampling procedure

If at one or more workplaces, an employer, or group of employers, have several items of plant of the same design or type, used to perform the same function, a noise officer may measure the noise from a sample of the items and apply the highest result to the rest of the items.

Procedure

A noise officer shall—

- (a) for a total of N items, select the minimum sample size, "n", either—
  - (i) using the rule:
    - if N is less than 6,  $n = N$ ;
    - if N is between 6 and 24 inclusive,  $n = 6$ ; and
    - if N is more than 24,  $n = 25\%$  of N; or
  - (ii) according to Table 1 (See Appendix 3);
- (b) where practicable, randomly select "n" items to be measured;
- (c) measure the LAeq,T for each item in the sample, at the employee position likely to give the highest result, during identical typical operating conditions;
- (d) for the item giving the highest LAeq,T measure the other indices needed to complete all columns of the noise report results form;
- (e) if the Lpeak measured in (d) is close to the action level measure the Lpeak for all "n" items; and
- (f) complete the results tables required by the approved form for noise reports.

Approved sound measurement equipment

1. If equipment is a sound level meter it shall meet or exceed the requirements of the relevant sections of Australian Standard 1259-1982 Sound Level Meters (for type 0, type 1 or type 2 meters), its revised versions or its equivalents.

2. Equipment which includes integrating functions shall also meet or exceed the relevant sections of IEC Standards Publication 804-1985 Integrating—Averaging Sound Level Meters (for type 0, type 1 or type 2 meters), its revised versions or its equivalents, as it applies to the integrating functions.

3. If equipment is a personal noise dosimeter it shall meet or exceed the requirements of Australian Standard 2399-1980 Personal Noise Dosimeters, its revised versions or its equivalents, and shall satisfy the Commissioner that it will adequately handle all relevant noise including explosive and/or industrial impulse noise.

4. Evidence submitted with respect to the impulse noise performance could include results for the pulse range, (sub clause 9.3.4) and time averaging (sub clause 9.3.2) in IEC Standards Publication 804-1985, but other evidence will also be considered.

5. The use of equipment not covered by the above procedures is permitted provided that measurement accuracy meets or exceeds the performance of a type 2 sound level meter.

6. Filter sets used with any sound level meter shall meet or exceed the requirements of Australian Standard Z41-1969 Octave, Half Octave and One Third Octave Band Pass Filters intended for the Analysis of Sound and Vibrations, its revised versions or its equivalents.

Approved calibration laboratories for sound measurement equipment

Laboratories shall be—

- 1. registered with the National Association of Testing Authorities (NATA) for the relevant sections of the standards mentioned in "Approved Sound Measurement Equipment"; or
- 2. approved by the Commissioner.

Approved calibration methods for sound measurement equipment

1. Calibration methods shall be those methods adopted by approved laboratories when testing in accordance with the relevant sections of the standards mentioned in "Approved Sound Measurement Equipment".

2. Tests not in strict accordance with the relevant standard are acceptable provided the methods are—

- (a) those methods adopted by NATA registered laboratories when testing in accordance with the terms of their NATA registration; or
- (b) those methods adopted by approved laboratories when carrying out certain tests not in strict accordance with the relevant standard provided written approval for such test methods has been obtained from the Commissioner.

3. A test certificate shall be issued showing the results of the calibration. The certificate need not give individual details of calibration results, but sufficient information to identify the particular instrument calibrated and the results of that calibration in terms of the instrument satisfying (or otherwise) all the tests conducted. The certificate shall show the clause numbers of the relevant Standards to which the instrument has been calibrated.

4. Complete details of test results shall be available if required.
