Special Residential

Refer Schedule 10/

(v) A new section 6.12, as follows—

“6.12 Special Residential Zone

6.12.1 The Objectives for this zone are—

- (i) to provide for rural residential accommodation on lots between 2 000 sq.m. and 1 hectare in area;
- (ii) to promote an attractive rural residential environment by the application of design and land use controls to enhance amenity, privacy, landscape value and safety.

6.12.2 In considering an application for rezoning to create a Special Residential Zone, Council shall have regard to the following—

- (i) that the proposal clearly outlines the reasons for selecting the area the subject of the proposed zone and the characteristics of the subdivision with particular reference to how the proposal relates to Council’s Local Rural Strategy and any relevant government policies affecting land planning.
- (ii) that the proposal includes a comprehensive site analysis and a subdivision guide plan addressing such matters as topography, existing site features, drainage, soils, vegetation, fire risk, natural constraints, land capability, the effects of the development on the local community and the environment, and the provision of services to the proposed Special Residential Zone.
- (iii) that the proposal outlines the proposed staging of the subdivision and development, and the criteria to be met before successive stages are implemented.

6.12.3 An application for rezoning to create a Special Residential Zone shall include a subdivision guide plan which shows at an appropriate scale—

- (i) the proposed subdivision including lot sizes and dimensions, tree preservation areas, building envelopes, strategic firebreaks, road and drainage reserves, and other areas to be set aside for a specific purpose such as bush fire tank site, open space or community purpose site;
- (ii) contours based on Australian Height Datum and all relevant topographic features such as individual trees or groups of trees, types of trees and vegetation, rock outcrops, wetlands, buildings, roads and fencing.

Council may allow the omission of any of the above items if they are not deemed to be required in the particular case.

6.12.4 Development within any Special Residential Zone shall be generally in accordance with the subdivision guide plan for the zone as approved by Council.

6.12.5 Scheme provisions for a specific Special Residential Zone shall be set out in the Tenth Schedule specifying any special development conditions appropriate to secure the objectives of the specific zone.

6.12.6 In addition to other provisions of the Scheme, land which is included within a Special Residential Zone shall be subject to the following provisions—

On-Site Effluent Disposal

- (i) Adequate provision for on-site effluent disposal shall be made in accordance with the requirements of the Council having regard for Statement of Planning Policy No. 2 Peel Harvey Coastal Plain Catchment.

Building Envelopes

- (ii) Building envelopes shall be defined by the subdividing landowner prior to a clearance of a Diagram of Survey.
- (iii) All buildings and effluent disposal areas shall be constructed within the confines of the building envelope as shown on the subdivision guide plan.
- (iv) Notwithstanding the provisions of Clause 6.12.6(iii) above, Council may permit a variation to the building envelope if it is shown to the satisfaction of Council that the variation is desirable or necessary.
- (v) When giving consideration to the variation of the location of a building envelope, Council shall have consideration for—
 - (a) the preservation of existing screening vegetation;
 - (b) the proximity of building envelopes and development on adjacent lots;
 - (c) the effects of such variation on views from adjacent lots;
 - (d) the size of the building envelope, shall be approximately 10% of the subject lot area.

Vegetation

- (vi) To retain the rural character of an area and avoid the creation of wind erodible conditions, the Council may designate any group or clump of trees and substantial vegetation as a tree preservation area or may designate tree preservation areas in accordance within the subdivision guide plan.
- (vii) Within the land designated on the subdivision guide plan as a tree preservation area, or outside of building envelopes, no indigenous tree, scrub or other substantial vegetation may be removed except as hereunder—
 - (a) trees which are dead, diseased or dangerous;

- (b) for the purpose of a firebreak required by a regulation or by-law except that in order to preserve the amenity of the area Council may at its discretion vary the position of any required firebreak to avoid destruction of vegetation or due to the physical features of the subject land;
- (c) for the purpose of an access driveway for a residential dwelling as approved by Council.
- (viii) Removal of indigenous trees, scrub or other substantial vegetation for any purpose other than the above exceptions, shall require the written approval of Council.

Fencing

- (ix) The Council may determine a minimum standard of road boundary fencing after considering the purpose or intent for which the Special Residential Zone was created.
- (x) All other boundary fencing shall be of a rural and open nature and shall exclude asbestos, pickets, sheet iron and any other material which in the opinion of Council would detract from the semi-rural amenity of the area.
- (xi) Fencing at or within the building envelope may be of a closed screening nature provided the condition and colour of the fence does not detract from the semi-rural amenity of the area and Council may require that the fencing be finished in a neutral harmonious colour on the outside face.

Prospective Purchasers

- (xii) The subdivider shall ensure that each prospective purchaser of a subdivided lot acknowledges in writing at the time of purchase of a lot the provisions of the Scheme as they relate to the particular Special Residential Zone.

Fire Protection

- (xiii) The Council will facilitate discussions between the subdivider and the Bush Fires Board to determine a financial contribution from the subdivider towards the cost of fire suppression equipment and fire prevention measures."

It is proposed that permitted land uses shall be as specified in the Schedule 10 special provisions for each zone.
