- (2) A determination under subrule (1) is final and binding and, unless a written law otherwise provides, not subject to further review.

6. Copy of these rules to be available

An up-to-date copy of these rules is to be available for perusal on demand at RWWA's head office during normal office hours and at every racecourse at which wagering is being conducted.

Part 2 — Conduct of totalisator wagering generally

7. Supervision of wagering by on-course totalisators

In accordance with section 50(1)(a) of the RWWA Act, the conduct of wagering by, with or through an on-course totalisator is to be supervised by a steward supervising the conduct of wagering at a racecourse at which totalisator wagering is conducted or otherwise appointed by RWWA to supervise the conduct of wagering.

8. Racing club to appoint on-course totalisator manager

Where a racing club conducts wagering through a duly authorised on-course totalisator, that racing club is to ensure that a person is appointed to manage the operations of the on-course totalisator and to ensure that the conduct of wagering through the on-course totalisator conforms in all respects with these rules and all written laws governing the operation of on-course totalisators.

9. Duty to report non-compliance

It is the duty of an on-course totalisator manager to report any instances of non-compliance with these rules or other laws governing the operation of the on-course totalisator to the steward supervising the conduct of wagering at the racecourse.

10. Changes affecting wagering to be advised

- (1) In relation to any race, where —
- (a) a runner is scratched, declared a non-starter, or otherwise withdrawn from the race;
 - (b) a protest is lodged in relation to the result of the race; or
 - (c) there is any other occurrence which affects or may affect the conduct of wagering on the totalisator, it is the responsibility of the steward in control of that race to inform the on-course totalisator manager of that occurrence and to announce or arrange the announcement of the details of the occurrence over the racecourse public address system.

- (2) Where the race is one on which RWWA is conducting wagering, or operating a totalisator wagering service on behalf of a racing club, the on-course totalisator manager receiving such advice is to immediately convey that advice to the RWWA race day control centre.

11. Numbering of runner on totalisator

Each runner that is to start in a race is to be denoted on the totalisator by a number corresponding with the number of the runner in the official program for that race and no such runner may be barred on the totalisator.

12. Display of anticipated dividends

In respect of each totalisator pool conducted by RWWA for win wagers and place wagers in respect of a race, there is to be displayed in a prominent place by figures or suitable indicators a progressive indication of the anticipated dividend payable to the investors in respect of each runner.

13. When dividends become payable

- (1) No dividend may be declared or paid in respect of a wager relating to a race until the steward in control of that race has signalled “correct weight” or “all clear” in respect of the running of that race, or has otherwise authorised the payment of dividends in respect of that race.
- (2) A dividend declared in accordance with subrule (1) is final despite any subsequent order or decision of the stewards, RWWA, the Racing Penalties Appeal Tribunal or of any court or otherwise, to declare any other runner to be the winner or place getter in place of the winner or place getter first declared by the stewards, or to otherwise alter the result of the race.

r. 14

- (3) The steward in charge of a race is to cause the results of the race to be displayed in a prominent position on the racecourse and the on-course totalisator manager is to cause those results to be communicated to RWWA.
- (4) Wagers on a sporting event are to be determined, and dividends declared, on the basis of the official result of that sporting event, unless otherwise determined and notified to customers generally at the time of placing the wager.
- (5) A dividend declared in respect of a sporting event, in accordance with subrule (4), is final despite any subsequent order or decision of the controlling authority or of any court or otherwise, to declare any other result or outcome, or to otherwise alter the result or outcome of the sporting event.

[Rule 13 amended in Gazette 18 Aug 2006 p. 3370.]

14. Exhibiting of dividends

Immediately after the declaration of a dividend in respect of a race, the on-course totalisator manager is to cause a notice displaying the amount of each dividend payable to be exhibited at the racecourse and the notice is to remain exhibited until after the last race.

15. Wagers that contravene the Rules of Racing not permitted

A totalisator operator is not permitted to receive or make a wager that contravenes the Rules of Racing made under section 45 of the RWWA Act.

Part 3 — Rules of totalisator wagering

16. Totalisator pools – win and place wagers

- (1) This rule applies in relation to any totalisator pool conducted by RWWA or a racing club (“the totalisator operator”) in respect of win wagers and place wagers made on races or sporting events.
- (2) Where a totalisator pool is conducted for a win wager, the totalisator operator, after allowing for refunds, is to —
 - (a) place all win wagers on that race or sporting event into separate pool;
 - (b) deduct the prescribed commission from the pool, having regard to whether the pool is conducted on the system under which —
 - (i) the commission to be deducted is calculated as a percentage of the sum of the losing wagers held in the pool (“the losing wagers method”); or
 - (ii) the commission is calculated as a percentage of the wagers placed in the pool (“the flat commission method”);
 - (c) add to the pool, where applicable, any supplementary amount determined in accordance with section 103 of the RWWA Act;
 - (d) calculate the win dividend for the runner or participant by dividing the number of winning units on that runner or participant into the amount remaining; and
 - (e) declare and pay the dividend in respect of each unit to the holders of winning tickets in accordance with the RWWA Regulations.
- (3) Where a totalisator pool is conducted for a place wager on a race or sporting event in which the number of runners or participants listed to start at the expiration of the time set by the totalisator operator for the notification of final scratchings in respect of that race or sporting event is, despite any late scratchings, 8 or more, then, subject to subrules (4) and (5), the totalisator operator, after allowing for refunds, is to —

- (a) place all place wagers received on that race or sporting event into a separate pool and divide that pool into 3 equal parts on behalf of the runners or participants placed first, second or third respectively;
 - (b) from each of the 3 parts respectively deduct the prescribed commission from the parts (having regard to whether the pool is conducted on the losing wagers method or the flat commission method);
 - (c) add to the pool, where applicable, any supplementary amount determined in accordance with section 103 of the RWWA Act;
 - (d) calculate the dividend for first, second and third places by dividing the number of winning units on the runners or participants placed first, second or third respectively into the amount of the part remaining; and
 - (e) declare and pay that dividend in respect of each unit to the holders of winning tickets in accordance with the RWWA Regulations.
- (4) Where the wagers accepted on only one of the runners or participants placed first, second or third are more than one-third of the amount, after allowing for refunds, of all place wagers accepted on that race or sporting event, together with any supplementary amount added to the pool in accordance with section 103 of the RWWA Act, the totalisator operator is to —
- (a) before proceeding with the division of the pool under subrule (3)(a), declare and pay out of the pool a dividend of 50 cents in respect of each unit to the holders of winning tickets on that runner or participant;
 - (b) divide and set aside the amount then remaining in the pool in 2 equal parts on behalf of the other 2 placed runners or participants and deduct from each the

- prescribed commission from the parts (having regard to whether the pool is conducted on the losing wagers method or the flat commission method);
- (c) calculate the respective dividends for each of those 2 placed runners or participants by dividing the number of winning units on that runner or participant into the amount of the part as set aside for that runner or participant after the commission has been deducted; and
 - (d) declare and pay the respective dividends in respect of each unit to the holders of winning tickets in accordance with the RWWA Regulations.
- (5) Where the place wagers accepted on each of 2 of the runners or participants placed first, second or third is more than one-third of the amount, after allowing for refunds, of all place wagers accepted on that race or sporting event, together with any supplementary amount added to the pool in accordance with section 103 of the RWWA Act, the totalisator operator is to —
- (a) before proceeding with the division of the pool under subrule (3)(a) declare and pay out of the pool a dividend of 50 cents in respect of each unit to the holders of winning tickets on either of those runners or participants;
 - (b) set aside the part then remaining in the pool on behalf of the other runner or participant placed first, second or third and deduct the prescribed commission from the part (having regard to whether the pool is conducted on the losing wagers method or the flat commission method);
 - (c) calculate the dividend for that placed runner or participant by dividing the number of winning units on that runner or participant into the amount of the part set aside for that runner or participant after the commission has been deducted; and
 - (d) declare and pay that dividend in respect of each unit to the holders of winning tickets in accordance with the RWWA Regulations.

r. 16

- (6) Where a totalisator pool is conducted for a place wager on a race or sporting event and the number of runners or participants listed to start at the expiration of the time set by the totalisator operator for the notification of final scratchings in respect of that race or sporting event is, despite any late scratchings, less than 8 but more than 4, the pool is to be divided into 2 separate and equal parts on behalf of the runners or participants placed first and second only, but the other provisions of subrules (3), (4) and (5) apply subject to that change, a reference to “one-third” being construed as a reference to “one-half”.
- (7) Where the number of runners or participants listed to start at the expiration of the time set by the totalisator operator for the notification of final scratchings in respect of that race or sporting event is, despite any late scratchings, less than 5, the place wager totalisator is not to operate.
- (8) In relation to totalisator pools conducted under this rule —
 - (a) to ensure that a dividend can be declared and paid, the totalisator operator may itself invest a one unit win wager and a one unit place wager on every runner or participant that finally starts in each race or sporting event;
 - (b) where 2 or more runners or participants dead heat for first, second or third place, requiring the payment of one or more additional win or place dividends, then the dividends to be declared and paid for the runners or participants forming the dead heat are to be the dividends that, but for that dead heat, would otherwise have been declared and paid for those runners or participants in accordance with these rules divided by the number of runners or participants forming the dead heat; and
 - (c) where, under these rules, the dividend calculated for one unit in respect of a win wager or a place wager is less than 55 cents, the provisions of regulation 31(3) of the RWWA Regulations are to be observed.

17. Totalisator pools – novelty wagers on races

- (1) Subject to these rules, a totalisator operator may make and accept —

- (2) For the purposes of these rules —
- (a) in a double event wager, the person making the wager selects a combination of 2 runners, or the same runner twice, on the chance that they or it will be first in each of 2 races nominated by the totalisator operator as the double event;
 - (b) in a quinella wager, the person making the wager selects a combination of 2 runners in the same race on the chance that they will be first and second in that race, irrespective of the order in which they finish;
 - (c) in an exacta wager, the person making the wager selects one runner to be first and another runner to be second in that order in the same race;
 - (d) in a tierce wager, the person making the wager selects a combination of 3 runners in the same race on the chance that they will be first, second and third in that race irrespective of the order in which they finish;

- (g) in a favourite numbers wager, the person making the wager selects a series of numbers on the chance that, subject to rule 20, the races to which those numbers relate will be won by the runner determined under rule 21 to be the off-course favourite for those races (“successful numbers”); and
- (h) in a quaddie wager, the person making the wager selects 4 runners, one from each of 4 races nominated by the totalisator operator at a race meeting, on the chance that all 4 runners win their races.

18. Dividends on novelty wagers

- (1) Dividends are to be declared and paid to the holders of winning tickets in accordance with the RWWA Regulations, rule 18A and this rule.
- (2) Before any dividend is calculated or declared on a totalisator pool for any novelty wager, other than a favourite numbers wager or a quaddie wager, the totalisator operator, after allowing for refunds, is to —
 - (a) deduct the prescribed commission from the sum of the wagers included in that totalisator pool;
 - (b) add to the pool, where applicable, any jackpot amount determined in accordance with these rules and any supplementary amount determined in accordance with section 103 of the RWWA Act;

- (c) unless paragraph (d) applies, divide the number of winning units into the amount of the resulting balance; and
 - (d) where 2 or more runners share a sequence of places in a race by reason of a dead heat by those runners and any of these runners has been selected by the holder of a winning ticket to fill any of those places, determine the number of possible combinations that would, had they been selected, have constituted winning units (“winning combinations”) and divide that number into the amount of the resulting balance so as to provide equal portions for each winning combination and pay by way of dividend —
 - (i) the portion provided for each respective winning combination that was selected to the holder of the winning wager in which that winning combination was selected; or
 - (ii) if there is more than one winning wager in which a particular winning combination was selected, to the holders of those winning tickets their respective share of that portion after dividing the portion for that winning combination by the number of winning units relating to wagers in which that winning combination was selected.
- (3) Where a totalisator pool is conducted for any kind of novelty wager other than a favourite numbers wager, quaddie wager or trifecta wager —
- (a) if no wager placed in the totalisator pool concerned is a winning wager, the totalisator operator is to deduct the prescribed commission from the sum of the wagers included in the pool and carry forward the balance and add it to the amount invested in a subsequent totalisator pool conducted for the same kind of wager, whether conducted on the same day or another day, as the totalisator operator may determine; and

r. 18

- (b) if, in a case to which subrule (2)(d) applies, there is a winning combination that was not selected by any person making a wager placed in the totalisator pool concerned, the totalisator operator is to carry forward the amount of the portion provided for that winning combination and add it to the amount invested in a subsequent totalisator pool conducted for the same kind of wager, whether conducted on the same day or another day, as the totalisator operator may determine.
- (4) Where in a novelty wager, other than a favourite numbers wager or a trifecta wager there are not enough runners officially placed to give a result, the totalisator operator is to refund all wagers in that pool.
- (5) Where a totalisator pool is conducted for a trifecta wager and no wager placed in the totalisator pool is a winning wager, RWWA is to —
 - (a) deduct the prescribed commission from the sum of the wagers included in the totalisator pool; and
 - (b) carry the remaining balance of that pool forward and add it to a totalisator pool conducted for a trifecta wager either on the same day or on a subsequent day.
- (6) Where a totalisator pool is conducted for a trifecta wager and —
 - (a) only 2 placings are declared for that race — a winning wager is to be a selection of the 2 placed runners and any other runner in the race; or
 - (b) only a winner is declared for that race — a winning wager is to be a selection of the winner and any 2 other runners in the race, but if no selection satisfies paragraph (a) or (b) the totalisator operator is to refund all wagers in that pool.

19. Double event wagers on races

- (1) The totalisator operator may take and accept wagers in respect of any 2 races, conducted on the same day or on different days, nominated by the totalisator operator to comprise a double event.

- (2) Where the 2 races are conducted on the same day and a runner selected for the double event by the person making the wager fails to start, the totalisator operator is to substitute for the runner selected the off-course favourite for that race, determined under rule 21, and the person making the wager is to be taken to have selected the runner or runners so substituted unless the person has obtained a refund of the amount of the wager by surrendering the ticket issued prior to the closing time fixed for the acceptance of wagers on that double event.
- (3) Where the first race of a double event has already been run and the race that would have comprised the second race of that double event is abandoned, the totalisator operator is to deduct the prescribed commission from the wagers included in the totalisator pool for that double event and pay a dividend, or carry forward the resulting balance, in accordance with these rules, as if each wager in which the runner that won the first race of the double event was nominated to win that race was a winning wager.
- (4) Despite subrule (2), an investor may, when making the selections for a double event wager, select the substitute as described in subrule (2) for one of, or both of, the races on which the wager is made.

20. Favourite numbers wagers

- (1) The totalisator operator is to determine the races to which the available participating numbers on a favourite numbers wager relate by random selection from races —
 - (a) on which the totalisator operator intends to operate in respect of the favourite numbers totalisator pool concerned; and
 - (b) which are to be run after the time advertised by the totalisator operator as being the closing time for the receipt of wagers for that totalisator pool.

r. 20

- (2) Having determined the races referred to in subrule (1) the totalisator operator is to —
 - (a) at the same time determine which other races are to be substituted should all or any of these races be abandoned or postponed from one day to another; and
 - (b) by notices exhibited in totalisator agencies or by announcements made, specify the number of successful numbers (within the meaning of rule 17(2)(g)) required to be selected in a favourite numbers wager in order to constitute a winning wager.
- (3) If one of the runners participating in a dead heat is the off-course favourite in the race concerned and that race is one to which a favourite numbers wager relates, that race is to be taken for the purpose of this rule to have been won by that off-course favourite.
- (4) Where a totalisator pool is conducted in respect of favourite numbers wagers, the totalisator operator, after allowing for refunds, is to —
 - (a) deduct the prescribed commission from the sum of the wagers included in the pool;

 - (c) divide the number of winning units into the amount of the resulting balance, and declare and pay that dividend in respect of each unit to the holder of each winning ticket in accordance with the RWWA Regulations.
- (5) If no favourite numbers wager placed in the totalisator pool concerned is a winning wager, the totalisator operator is to carry forward 50% of the resulting balance and add it to the amount invested in a subsequent totalisator pool conducted for the same kind of favourite numbers wagers as that in respect of which no wager on the winning combination was made.

- (1) For the purposes of this rule “favout” wagering means a mode of wagering approved by the stewards which allows the bookmakers to conduct wagering on a race without a designated runner and where the finishing position of the designated runner in the race is to have no bearing on the settlement of a wager on the race. A bookmaker desiring to operate “favout” wagering on a race is to make application to the stewards at least 45 minutes prior to the advertised start time of the race.
- (2) The stewards may approve or refuse the application and if approved are to designate the runner to be excluded from wagering.
- (3) Once a bookmaker commences to operate “favout” wagering the bookmaker is not permitted to change the mode of wagering.
- (4) Where a bookmaker is operating “favout” wagering on a race and a designated runner is withdrawn prior to the race or is declared a non-starter after the race there is to be no alteration to wagering on the race.
- (5) The number of bookmakers allowed to conduct “favout” wagering on a race may be determined by the stewards.

- [(3) deleted]*
- (4) Where a sporting event or contingency results in a tie, draw or dead heat, and odds are offered for that tie, draw or dead heat, any wager for a win is lost.
- (5) If no odds are offered for a tie, draw or dead heat and the event or contingency results in a tie, draw or dead heat between 2 teams or 2 participants, then, unless the wagering on the outcome involves a points margin, the amount payable to the investor in respect of the wager is to be the dividend that would have been payable in respect of the wager were it not for the dead heat divided by the number of teams or participants in the dead heat.
- (6) In wagers involving more than one contingency of, or relating to, the same sporting event —
- (a) if the first contingency is not decided in the investor's favour, the wager is lost;
 - (b) where the wager covers 2 contingencies and either of those contingencies is decided in the investor's favour and the other results in a tie or dead heat, the investor is to be entitled to half of the dividend payable in respect of the wager were it not for the tie or dead heat;
 - (c) where the wager covers 2 contingencies and both result in a tie or a dead heat, the investor is to be entitled to one fourth of the dividend which would have been payable in respect of the wager were it not for the tie or dead heat;
 - (d) where the wager covers 2 or more contingencies and one contingency is decided in the investor's favour, if the event is subsequently abandoned or if by reason of circumstances not covered by that wager, any wager as to any of the other contingencies is not capable of being decided, the investor is to be paid at odds to be determined by the steward supervising the conduct of wagering at a racecourse where the wager was made;

- (e) where the wager covers 3 or more contingencies and one or more results in a tie or dead heat, wagers are to be determined by the steward supervising the conduct of wagering at a racecourse where the wager was made; and
 - (f) where the wager covers a contingency and by reason of circumstances not covered by the wager it is not capable of being decided, the wager is to be refunded.
- (7) Where a sporting event is abandoned, all wagers are to be refunded except those made in respect of contingencies that have been decided totally or in part.
 - (8) Where a sporting event is postponed to a later date, all wagers on the event or contingent on the event are to stand.
 - (9) All wagers in relation to sporting contingencies are to be “play or pay”, unless the parties mutually agree to the contrary.

Schedule 1 — Scale of Deduction Table

[r. 56]

1. The following Table is the table referred to in rule 56 and is to be used to determine the rate % of deduction in situations where it is not possible for the stewards to declare a deduction in accordance with rule 56(3). In that case the stewards may declare a deduction for the purposes of rule 56(2)(b) in accordance with this Scale of Deduction Table. Calculations can be made in respect of win, place, each-way, concession and doubles wagers. Rate % of deduction (cent in $) from the dividend payable in respect of the wager. (~~note for~~Note: For the purpose of this ~~table~~Table, the win component of an each-way wager is to be taken as win wager and the place component a place wager~~).~~
2. Generally, the deduction is applied to the face value of a bet made prior to the time it became known that a runner was a late scratched runner.
3. In relation to concession bets, the deduction is applied only —
 - (a) in respect of a runner that comes first; and
 - (b) to the amount of winnings payable.
4. With regard to all successful win, place, each-way, concession and multiple doubles wagers, investors are to be paid the dividend payable in respect of the wager, less the number of cents in the dollar deduction applicable on the scale of deductions in the Scale of Deduction Table for the dividends of the runner at the time of its withdrawal.
5. Where 2 or more withdrawals occur simultaneously during wagering, successful wagers made prior to the time of withdrawal are to be paid the dividend payable in respect of the wager, less a deduction determined by adding together the rates of deduction applicable to each of the runners withdrawn.
6. Where withdrawals occur at different times during wagering on a race, successful wagers placed prior to the last withdrawal are to be paid the dividend payable in respect of the wager, less deductions determined as follows —
 - (a) for wagers placed prior to the first withdrawal, the rate of deduction is to be determined by adding together the rates of deduction applicable to the dividends of all withdrawn runners;

(b) for wagers placed after the time of the first withdrawal, and prior to the time of the second withdrawal, the rate of deduction is to be determined by the deduction applicable on the scale of deductions in the Scale of Deduction Table to the dividends of the second withdrawal.

7. Where the runner ordered or permitted to be withdrawn, or declared a non-starter, is shorter than the range of dividends set out in the Scale of Deduction Table, the stewards may —

(a) if there is sufficient time, declare all wagers made on the remaining runners to be void and order that wagering on the race be re-opened; or

(b) if there is insufficient time to re open wagering, declare a deduction assessed from the Scale of Deduction Table.
