3. Commonwealth-State agreement (the Offshore Constitutional Settlement)

(1) The Commonwealth and the States have agreed that —

- (a) Commonwealth offshore mining legislation should be limited to the area that is outside State coastal waters; and
- (b) the States should share, in the manner provided by the Offshore Minerals Act 1994 of the Commonwealth, in the administration of the Commonwealth offshore mining legislation; and
- (c) State offshore mining legislation should apply to State coastal waters beyond the baseline for the territorial sea (that is, the first 3 nautical miles of the territorial sea); and
- (d) the Commonwealth and the States should try to maintain, as far as practicable, common principles, rules and practices in regulating and controlling offshore mining beyond the baseline of Australia's territorial sea.

Note 1: So far as the agreement relates to petroleum, it is reflected in this State's legislation by the Petroleum (Submerged Lands) Act 1982.

Note 2: Some sections of the Commonwealth Act contain provisions that are not relevant to the operation of this Act. To keep uniformity between this Act and the Commonwealth Act the numbers of the sections that are not relevant up to section 423 have not been used in the numbering of this Act. A section of this Act and the corresponding section of the Commonwealth Act up to section 423 will therefore have the same number. From section 424 onwards the two Acts differ significantly and uniformity of numbering has not been maintained.

- (2) Other Acts that provide background in this State to the agreement (commonly referred to as the "Offshore Constitutional Settlement") are —

- (a) the Seas and Submerged Lands Act 1973, the Coastal Waters (State Powers) Act 1980, the Coastal Waters (State Title) Act 1980 and the Petroleum (Submerged Lands) Act 1967 of the Commonwealth; and
- (b) the Petroleum (Submerged Lands) Act 1982 of this State.

Note 1: The Seas and Submerged Lands Act 1973 —

- declares and enacts that the sovereignty in respect of the territorial sea and the associated airspace, seabed and subsoil is vested in and exercisable by the Crown in right of the Commonwealth;
- gives the Governor-General power to declare, by Proclamation, the limits of the territorial sea;
- declares and enacts that the sovereignty in respect of waters of the sea that are on the landward side of the baseline of the territorial sea (but not within the limits of a State) and in respect of the associated airspace, seabed and subsoil is vested in and exercisable by the Crown in right of the Commonwealth;
- declares and enacts that the sovereign rights of Australia as a coastal State in respect of the Continental Shelf of Australia (for the purpose of exploring it and exploiting its natural resources) are vested in and exercisable by the Crown in right of the Commonwealth;
- gives the Governor-General power to declare, by Proclamation, the limits of the Continental Shelf of Australia.

- Note 2: The Coastal Waters (State Powers) Act 1980 was enacted following a request from the Parliaments of all the States under paragraph 51 (xxxviii) of the Constitution of the Commonwealth and provides that the legislative powers exercisable under the Constitution of each State extend to the making of certain laws that would operate offshore.
- Note 3: The Coastal Waters (State Title) Act 1980 vests in each State certain property rights in the seabed beneath the coastal waters of the State.
- Note 4: The Petroleum (Submerged Lands) Act 1967 of the Commonwealth and the Petroleum (Submerged Lands) Act 1982 of this State make provision, based on the agreement referred to in subsection (1), for the licensing regime that applies to the exploration for and recovery of petroleum in coastal waters and offshore areas of this State.

16. Coastal waters, and effect of change in baseline

- (1) Subject to this section, the coastal waters of the State are so much of the area described in Schedule 1 as is constituted by the first 3 nautical miles of the territorial sea from the baseline.
- (2) The coastal waters do not include any waters that are inside the baseline.
- (3) If —
- (a) a licence has been granted on the basis that an area is within coastal waters; and
  - (b) there is a change to the baseline or, because new data is obtained or existing data is reconsidered, the location of the baseline is reassessed; and
  - (c) as a result of the change to, or reassessment of the location of, the baseline, the area ceases to be within coastal waters,
- this Act applies as if the area were still within coastal waters.
- (4) Subsection (3) continues to apply to the area only while the licence (and any successor licence) remains in force.
- (5) If —

- (a) a licence under the Commonwealth Act has been granted on the basis that an area is within the offshore area under the Commonwealth Act; and
- (b) there is a change to the baseline or, because new data is obtained or existing data is reconsidered, the location of the baseline is reassessed; and
- (c) as a result of the change to, or reassessment of the location of, the baseline, the area —

- (8) In this section —

“baseline” means the baseline adjacent to the coast of the State (including the coast of any island forming part of the State) as for the time being determined under section 7(1)(b) of the Seas and Submerged Lands Act 1973 of the Commonwealth.

Note 1: Generally the baseline is the lowest astronomical tide along the coast but it also includes lines enclosing bays and indentations that are not bays and straight baselines that depart from the coast. See Australia's territorial sea baseline published 1988 by the Australian Government Printing Service.

Note 2: The following diagram illustrates the coastal waters of the State —

17. Blocks

This is how a block is constituted in coastal waters —

- (a) assume that there is laid over the coastal waters a grid constituted by —

- (i) lines running along meridians drawn through each degree of longitude and the minutes between those degrees; and
  - (ii) lines running along parallels drawn through each degree of latitude and the minutes between those degrees;
- (b) take a bounded space defined by the grid;
- (c) the seabed and subsoil within the coastal waters that is under that space is a block.

Note: The following diagram shows how a block is constituted.
Each block is identified by giving the name of the plan in the 1:1 000 000 map series, an identifying number of the 5 minute primary block and a letter identifying the one minute block. The block in the diagram is 72 (e) on the Broome sheet.

18. Reserved block

- (1) Subject to subsection (2), the Minister may declare that a block in coastal waters is a reserved block.

Note 1: A reserved block may be put up for tender by the Minister publishing in the Gazette a tender block licence notice (see sections 74 and 218).

Note 2: Section 10(c) of the Interpretation Act 1984 allows a single declaration under this subsection to be made in respect of 2 or more blocks.

- (2) A declaration under subsection (1) must not be made in relation to a block if —
  - (a) a licence over that block is in force; or
  - (b) an application for a licence over that block has been made and has not been determined.
- (3) A declaration under subsection (1) must be made by notice published in the Gazette.

19. Standard block

A standard block is a block that is not the subject of a declaration under section 18(1).

20. Tender block

A tender block is a block that is the subject of a tender block licence notice published by the Minister under section 74 or section 218.

21. Discrete area

- (1) A group of blocks forms a discrete area if the area formed by the blocks is continuous.
- (2) Two blocks that are joined at one point only do not form a continuous area.

22. Minerals

- (1) A mineral is a naturally occurring substance or a naturally occurring mixture of substances.

Note: This Act does not apply to petroleum (see section 35).

- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), a mineral may be in the form of sand, gravel, clay, limestone, rock, evaporites, shale, oil-shale or coal.

23. Exploration

- (1) For the purposes of this Act, exploration for minerals includes any activity that is directly related to the exploration for minerals.

24. Recovery

- (1) For the purposes of this Act, recovery of minerals includes any activity that is directly related to the recovery of minerals.
- (2) For the purposes of this Act, recovery does not include the recovery of minerals from the subsoil of coastal waters that is carried out by means of underground mining from land in the State if that exploration is carried out in accordance with the Mining Act 1978.

25. Licence holder

- (1) References in this Act to the holder of a licence or the licence holder are references to the person whose name is entered in the offshore mining register as the person who holds the licence.

Note 1: This Act is based upon the grant and registration of licences.

Note 2: If a licence is granted to a person, that person's name is entered in the register (see section 333).

Note 3: The entry in the register in relation to a licence will be varied if there is a change in the holder of the licence (see section 338(4)).

- (2) A licence may be held by more than one person.

26. Associates

- (1) For the purposes of this Act, the following are the associates of a licence holder —

- (6) A person is an associated employee of an associated contractor if the person is employed by the associated contractor and, in the course of that employment, carries out activities under the licence.

27. Confidential information

- (1) For the purposes of this Act, information is confidential information if —
  - (a) a licence holder has given it to the Minister; and
  - (b) it is in a record, return, report or document; and
  - (c) it relates to activities authorised by the licence; and
  - (d) it relates to an area of the seabed or subsoil that is covered by the licence or a successor licence to the licence.
- (2) However, if —
  - (a) a person is required to give the Minister a report in relation to particular blocks; and

- (b) the person gives the Minister a report that relates not only to those blocks but also to other blocks; and
- (c) the Minister is required to make the report available under section 376, the information that relates to those other blocks is not confidential information.

28. Confidential sample

For the purposes of this Act, a sample is a confidential sample if —

- (a) a licence holder has given it to the Minister; and
- (b) it was recovered in the course of activities authorised by the licence; and

  - (b) subsoil below the seabed to a depth of 200 metres,
- in a marine nature reserve or a restricted area in respect of which a licence or special purpose consent is in force.

- (c) mining licences (see Part 2.4); and
- (d) works licences (see Part 2.5); and
- (e) special purpose consents (see Part 2.6).

- Note 1: An exploration licence is designed to cover the exploration phase of a project and authorises —
- exploration; and
  - the recovery of mineral samples.
- Note 2: A retention licence is designed to ensure the retention of rights pending the transition of a project from the exploration phase to the commercial mining phase and authorises —
- exploration; and
  - the recovery of minerals but not as part of a commercial mining operation.
- Note 3: A mining licence is designed to cover the commercial mining phase of a project and authorises —
- exploration; and
  - full commercial recovery.
- Note 4: A project might make use of any of the following 3 licence arrangements —
- an exploration licence leading to a mining licence;
  - an exploration licence leading to a retention licence and then a mining licence;
  - a mining licence (without progressing through an exploration/retention licence stage).
- Note 5: A licence is granted over a particular area (constituted by blocks). The licence holder may need to carry out engineering or other activities outside the licence area. If so, the licence holder or someone else must obtain a works licence to carry out those activities.
- Note 6: If a person wants to carry out —
- a scientific investigation; or
  - a reconnaissance survey; or
  - the collection of only small amounts of minerals,
- in coastal waters, the person must obtain a special purpose consent under Part 2.6 to carry out the activity.
- Note 7: Even though a person has a licence or special purpose consent, the person must not interfere unnecessarily with navigation, native title, fishing, resource conservation or other activities in the area (see section 44).

40. Steps involved in the grant of a fully effective licence

- (1) The following 3 steps must occur before a licence comes into force —
- (a) provisional grant of the licence;
  - (b) proper acceptance of the grant;
  - (c) registration of the grant.

Note 1: See sections 88, 154, 232 and 286.

Note 2: Section 38A(2) requires the consent of Parliament to be obtained to the provisional grant under section 206, 225 or 231 of a mining licence over a marine nature reserve or a marine park.

- (2) If a licence is provisionally granted to a person, the person must do the following to properly accept the grant —
- (a) give the Minister a written acceptance;
  - (b) lodge any security that the Minister has required;
  - (c) pay the fee that is payable under section 425.

Note: See sections 70, 84, 151, 214, 228 and 283.

- (3) The following 3 steps must occur before a renewal of a licence comes into force —

42. Rights to minerals recovered

- (1) Any minerals recovered by a licence holder or special purpose consent holder from a block covered by the licence or consent become the property of the holder when they are recovered.
- (2) If the licence or consent authorises the exploration for and the recovery of minerals only of a particular kind, subsection (1) only applies to the recovery of minerals of that kind.
- (3) Subsection (1) does not apply to the recovery of minerals by a works licence holder.
- (4) The minerals recovered are not subject to the rights of any other person.
- (5) Subsection (4) does not apply to rights that the licence or consent holder transfers to the other person.

43. Effect of grant of licence or special purpose consent on native title

- (1) The grant of a licence or special purpose consent does not extinguish native title in the licence or consent area.

- (2) While a licence or special purpose consent is in force over an area, native title in the area is subject to the rights conferred by the licence or consent.
- (3) If compensation is payable to native title holders for or in respect of the grant of a licence or special purpose consent, the person liable to pay the compensation is —
  - (a) if an amount is to be paid and held in trust, the applicant for the grant of, or the holder of, the licence or consent at the time the amount is required to be paid; or
  - (b) otherwise, the applicant for the grant of, or the holder of, the licence or consent at the time a determination of compensation is made.
- (4) If, at the relevant time, there is no holder of the licence or consent because the licence or consent has been surrendered or forfeited or has expired, a reference in subsection (3) to the holder of the licence or consent is a reference to the holder of the licence or consent immediately before its surrender, forfeiture or expiry.
- (5) In subsection (3) —
“grant” includes renewal.
- (6) Expressions relating to native title have the same meanings in this section and section 44 as they have in the Native Title Act 1993 of the Commonwealth.

44. Licence etc. does not authorise unnecessary interference with other activities in the licence area

- (1) A person who carries out activities in coastal waters under a licence or special purpose consent granted under this Act must not do so in a way that interferes with —
  - (a) navigation; or
  - (b) the exercise of native title rights and interests; or
  - (c) fishing, pearling or aquaculture; or
  - (d) the conservation of the resources of the sea or the seabed; or

    - (g) the performance of the person’s duties under the licence or consent.

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

Note: The person referred to here might be the licence holder or consent holder or might be an associated person.

- (2) In subsection (1)(c) —
“aquaculture” and “fishing” have the same meanings as they have in the Fish Resources Management Act 1994;
“pearling” has the same meaning as it has in the Pearling Act 1990.

Part 2.2 — Exploration licences

Division 1 — General

45. Exploration licences

- (1) This Part provides for the grant of exploration licences over blocks in coastal waters.
- (2) An exploration licence may be granted over a standard block (see Division 2) or over a tender block (see Division 3).

Note: A tender block is a block that has been declared available for tender. A standard block is any block that is not a reserved block (see sections 19 and 20).

46. Activities authorised by an exploration licence

- (1) Subject to subsection (2), an exploration licence holder may —
- (a) explore for minerals in the licence area; and
  - (b) take samples of minerals in the licence area.

Note 1: Under section 23(1) the concept of “exploration” extends to activities that are directly related to exploration.

Note 2: Under section 38A(3) and (5) the consent of the Minister is required to the carrying out of offshore exploration or mining activities in a marine nature reserve, marine park or marine management area. Section 38A(7) and (8) also contain provisions about the disturbance of certain parts of marine nature reserves and restricted areas.

- (2) If the licence is expressed to restrict the kind of minerals covered by the licence, the holder is not permitted to explore for, or to take samples of, minerals not covered by the licence.
- (3) A restriction on the kind of minerals covered by the licence may be inclusive (for example, only minerals A, B and C) or exclusive (for example, all minerals except A, B and C).
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (2), the holder does not take samples of an excluded mineral if, in the course of exploring for, or taking samples of, another mineral, the holder recovers some excluded mineral.

47. Minister may cancel or not renew exploration licence without compensation

No compensation is payable because of the cancellation or non-renewal of an exploration licence by the Minister.

Note 1: The Minister may cancel the licence under section 130.

Note 2: The Minister may refuse under section 108 to renew the licence.

48. Licence rights may be suspended

the Minister must give the licence holder a written notice that informs the holder of the suspension or the ending of the suspension.

Note: See section 122 for the effect of the suspension on the obligations associated with the licence.

- (6) A suspension takes effect when —
  - (a) the holder has been given notice of the suspension under subsection (5); and
  - (b) the suspension has been registered under section 337.

49. Compensation for acquisition of property due to suspension of rights

- (1) If —

the State must pay the person the agreed amount of compensation.

- (2) If —
  - (a) the Minister suspends licence rights under section 48; and
  - (b) the suspension results in the acquisition of property from a person; and
  - (c) the State and the person do not agree on an amount of compensation for the acquisition; and

- (d) the person brings an action for compensation against the State in the Supreme Court, the State must pay the person the amount of compensation (if any) that is determined by that court.

- (3) In this section —
“acquisition of property” has the same meaning as it has in section 51(xxxi) of the Commonwealth Constitution.

Division 2 — Application for and grant of exploration licence over standard blocks

50. Application for exploration licence over standard block

- (1) A person may apply to the Minister for an exploration licence over a standard block if —
  - (a) the block is vacant; and

Note: For “excluded blocks” see section 51.

- (2) A standard block is vacant if no exploration, retention or mining licence is in force over the block.
- (3) A person may apply for an exploration licence over a group of standard blocks if —
  - (a) the group forms a discrete area; and
  - (b) there are not more than 500 blocks in the group.

Note: The Minister may, in certain circumstances, allow an application to be made for an exploration licence covering up to 3 discrete areas (see section 53).

51. Excluded blocks

- (1) A block is excluded if —
  - (a) an exploration licence over the block has been surrendered or cancelled; and
  - (b) a period of 30 days after the day on which the licence was surrendered or cancelled has not ended.
- (2) A block is excluded for a particular applicant if —

  - (b) the application was refused; and
  - (c) a period of 6 months after the day on which the previous application was refused has not ended.
- (3) A block is excluded for a particular applicant if —
  - (a) the applicant was previously the holder of an exploration, retention or mining licence over the block; and

- (b) that previous licence was surrendered or cancelled; and
  - (c) a period of 6 months after the day on which the previous licence was surrendered or cancelled has not ended.
- (4) A block is excluded for a particular applicant if —

  - (b) another person (the “second applicant”) subsequently applies for an exploration licence for a group of blocks that includes a block covered by the application made by the first applicant; and
  - (c) an exploration licence is then granted to the first applicant; and
  - (d) as a result of the grant, the blocks for which the second applicant can be granted an exploration licence no longer form a discrete area, the second applicant may apply to the Minister for approval for the application to proceed even though the blocks it covers no longer form a discrete area.

Note: See also section 59.

- (2) Subject to subsection (3), the Minister may approve the application proceeding even though the blocks that the application covers do not form a discrete area.
- (3) The Minister may give an approval under subsection (2) only if the blocks covered by the application form not more than 3 discrete areas.

54. How to apply

Part 2.3 — Retention licences

Division 1 — General

132. Retention licences

This Part provides for the grant of retention licences over blocks in coastal waters.

Note: A retention licence is designed to allow an exploration licence holder to retain rights over an area if —

- the holder has identified and evaluated a significant mineral deposit in the exploration licence area; and
- mining the deposit is not commercially viable in the short term; and
- there is a reasonable prospect of development of the deposit in the longer term.

See section 145 for the grounds on which a retention licence may be granted.

133. Activities authorised by a retention licence

- (1) Subject to subsections (2) and (3), a retention licence holder may —

- (a) explore for minerals in the licence area; and
- (b) recover minerals in the licence area.

- Note 1: The retention licence may specify a restricted range of activities that are the only ones authorised by the licence (see section 146(3)).
- Note 2: Under section 23(1) the concept of "exploration" extends to activities that are directly related to exploration.
- Note 3: Under section 24(1) the concept of "recovery" extends to activities that are directly related to the recovery of minerals.
- Note 4: Under section 38A(3) and (5) the consent of the Minister is required to the carrying out of offshore exploration or mining activities in a marine nature reserve, marine park or marine management area. Section 38A(7) and (8) also contain provisions about the disturbance of certain parts of marine nature reserves and restricted areas.

- (2) A retention licence does not authorise the recovery of minerals as part of a commercial mining operation.
- (3) If the licence is expressed to restrict the kind of minerals covered by the licence, the holder is not permitted to explore for, or to recover, minerals not covered by the licence.
- (4) A restriction on the kind of minerals covered by the licence may be inclusive (for example, only minerals A, B and C) or exclusive (for example, all minerals except A, B and C).

134. Minister may cancel or not renew retention licence without compensation

No compensation is payable because of the cancellation or non-renewal of a retention licence by the Minister.

- Note 1: The Minister may cancel the licence under section 189 or 190.
