Reprint 1: The Act as at 14 November 2008

Guide for using this reprint

What the reprint includes

Endnotes, Compilation table, and Table of provisions that have not come into operation

1. Details about the original Act and legislation that has amended its text are shown in the Compilation table in endnote 1, at the back of the reprint. The table also shows any previous reprint.
2. Validation, transitional, savings, or other provisions identified in the Compilation table may be important. The table may refer to another endnote setting out the text of these provisions in full.
3. A table of provisions that have not come into operation, to be found in endnote 1a if it is needed, lists any provisions of the Act being reprinted that have not come into operation and any amendments that have not come into operation. The full text is set out in another endnote that is referred to in the table.

Notes amongst text (italicised and within square brackets)

1. If the reprint includes a section that was inserted, or has been amended, since the Act being reprinted was passed, editorial notes at the foot of the section give some history of how the section came to be as it is. If the section replaced an earlier section, no history of the earlier section is given (the full history of the Act is in the Compilation table).

Notes of this kind may also be at the foot of Schedules or headings.

2. The other kind of editorial note shows something has been —
 - removed (because it was repealed or deleted from the law); or
 - omitted under the Reprints Act 1984 s. 7(4) (because, although still technically part of the text, it no longer has any effect).

The text of anything removed or omitted can be found in an earlier reprint (if there is one) or one of the written laws identified in the Compilation table.

Reprint numbering and date

1. The reprint number (in the footer of each page of the document) shows how many times the Act has been reprinted. For example, numbering a reprint as “Reprint 3” would mean that the reprint was the 3rd reprint since the Act was passed. Reprint numbering was implemented as from 1 January 2003.
2. The information in the reprint is current on the date shown as the date as at which the Act is reprinted. That date is not the date when the reprint was published by the State Law Publisher and it is probably not the date when the most recent amendment had effect.

Evidence may be given at a hearing under this Part (including a further hearing fixed under section 92) orally or by affidavit.

Division 2 — Orders

87. Commissioner may apply for orders

The Commissioner may apply to a court for a prohibition order prohibiting a reportable offender from engaging in specified conduct.

88. Fixing a hearing

When an application for a prohibition order is made the registrar must —

- (a) fix a day, time and place for the hearing;
- (b) prepare a summons in the prescribed form;
- (c) cause the summons to be served on the reportable offender; and
- (d) notify the applicant of the hearing.

89. How application to be disposed of

The court may dispose of the application —

- (a) by making a prohibition order;
- (b) by dismissing the application; or
- (c) at the request of the applicant — by discontinuing the application.

90. Court may make child protection prohibition orders

- (1) A court may make a child protection prohibition order prohibiting a person from engaging in conduct specified in the order only if the court is satisfied that the person is a reportable offender and —
 - (a) that the person poses a risk to the lives or sexual safety of one or more children, or children generally; and

- (b) that making the order will reduce that risk.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), it is not necessary that the court be able to identify a risk to a particular child or particular children or a particular class of children.
- (3) In determining whether to make an order under this section in respect of a reportable offender, a court must take into account the following —
 - (a) the seriousness of the reportable offender's reportable offences and corresponding reportable offences;
 - (b) the period of time since those offences were committed;
 - (c) the age of the reportable offender and the age of the victims of those offences at the time those offences were committed;
 - (d) the difference in age between the reportable offender and the victims of those offences;
 - (e) the reportable offender's present age;
 - (f) the seriousness of the reportable offender's total criminal record;
 - (g) the effect of the order sought on the reportable offender in comparison with the level of the risk that a further reportable offence, or an offence that may give rise to an offender reporting order, may be committed by the reportable offender;
 - (h) to the extent that they relate to the conduct sought to be prohibited — the circumstances of the reportable offender, including the reportable offender's accommodation, employment needs and integration into the community;
 - (i) in the case of a young reportable offender — the educational needs of the young reportable offender;
 - (j) any other matter the court considers relevant.

- (4) If a reportable offender in respect of whom an order (the new order) is sought is already subject to a prohibition order (the existing order) and no application has been made to revoke the existing order, the court must if it decides to make the new order —
- (a) revoke the existing order and replace it with the new order (which may contain matters relating to the existing order); or
 - (b) vary the existing order to include the matters with respect to which the court has decided to make the new order.
- (5) An order is not invalidated by a failure to comply with subsection (4).

91. Term of child protection prohibition orders

- (1) The court must specify the term for which a child protection prohibition order remains in force.
- (2) The term cannot be more than 5 years or, for an order made in respect of a young reportable offender, more than 2 years, after it is made, but an application can be made for a further order.

92. Interim child protection prohibition orders

- (1) A court may make an interim child protection prohibition order prohibiting a reportable offender from engaging in conduct specified in the order if it appears to the court that it is necessary to do so to prevent an immediate risk to the lives or the sexual safety of one or more children, or children generally.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), it is not necessary that the court be able to identify a risk to a particular child or particular children or a particular class of children.
- (3) Section 90 does not apply to an application for an interim prohibition order.

- (4) An interim prohibition order may be made by a court whether or not —
 - (a) the reportable offender is present at the proceedings; or
 - (b) the reportable offender has been notified of the proceedings.
- (5) When an interim prohibition order is made by a court, the court must —
 - (a) fix a day, time and place for a further hearing of the application as soon as is practicable after the interim prohibition order is made; and
 - (b) issue a summons requiring the reportable offender to attend the court for the further hearing.
- (6) The registrar must —
 - (a) prepare the summons in the prescribed form;
 - (b) cause the summons to be served on the reportable offender; and
 - (c) notify the applicant of the further hearing.
- (7) An interim prohibition order remains in force until the further hearing unless, at the request of the applicant, the application is sooner discontinued.
- (8) At the further hearing, section 90 applies to the application.

93. Conduct that may be the subject of orders

- (1) A prohibition order may prohibit conduct of any of the following kinds —
 - (a) associating with or other contact with specified persons or kinds of persons;
 - (b) being in specified locations or kinds of locations;
 - (c) engaging in specified behaviour;
 - (d) being in specified employment or employment of a specified kind.

- (2) Subsection (1) does not limit the kinds of conduct that may be prohibited by a prohibition order.
- (3) A prohibition order may prohibit conduct absolutely or on the terms that the court considers appropriate.
- (4) A prohibition order may prohibit a person from entering or remaining in a place even if the person has a legal or equitable right to be at the place.
- (5) If a court makes a prohibition order that imposes a prohibition referred to in subsection (4) and the court is satisfied that it is necessary to do so, the court must ensure that the order provides for the person in respect of whom the order is made to recover personal property, or other property prescribed by the regulations, from a place specified in the order —
 - (a) in the manner set out in the order; or
 - (b) in accordance with procedures prescribed by the regulations.

94. Explanation of orders

- (1) A court that makes a prohibition order must ensure that all reasonable steps are taken to explain to the reportable offender in language likely to be understood by him or her —
 - (a) his or her obligations under the order; and
 - (b) the consequences that may arise if he or she fails to comply with those obligations.
- (2) An order is not invalidated by a failure to comply with subsection (1).

95. Consent orders

- (1) A court may make a child protection prohibition order without being subject to section 90 if the applicant and the reportable offender consent to the making of the order.

- (2) A court may make an interim prohibition order without being subject to section 92 if the applicant and the reportable offender consent to the making of the order.
- (3) The court is not required to conduct a hearing before making an order under this section unless the court considers that it is in the interests of justice to conduct the hearing.
- (4) Without limiting subsection (3), in determining whether it is in the interests of justice to conduct the hearing the court may have regard to the following —
 - (a) whether the reportable offender has obtained legal advice in relation to the order concerned;
 - (b) whether the reportable offender —
 - (i) has impaired intellectual functioning;
 - (ii) is a person in respect of whom a guardianship order is in force under the Guardianship and Administration Act 1990;
 - (iii) is illiterate or is not literate in the English language; or
 - (iv) is subject to some other condition that may prevent the reportable offender from understanding the effect of giving consent to the making of the order.

Division 3 — Variation or revocation

96. Variation or revocation of child protection prohibition orders

- (1) The Commissioner may apply to a court for an order varying or revoking a child protection prohibition order.
- (2) A reportable offender subject to a child protection prohibition order may apply to a court for an order varying or revoking the order.

- (3) A reportable offender cannot make an application under subsection (2) except by leave of the court.
- (4) The court may grant leave only if the court is satisfied that, having regard to changes in the reportable offender's circumstances since the order was made or last varied, it is in the interests of justice that leave be granted.

97. Fixing a hearing

- (1) When an application for the variation or revocation of a child protection prohibition order is made by a reportable offender, the registrar must —
 - (a) fix a day, time and place for a hearing at which the court will consider whether to grant leave for the reportable offender to continue the application; and
 - (b) notify the applicant of the hearing.
- (2) The hearing in relation to the granting of leave must be held in the absence of the Commissioner.
- (3) When an application for the variation or revocation of a child protection prohibition order is made by the Commissioner, or a reportable offender has been granted leave to continue such an application, the registrar must —
 - (a) fix a day, time and place for the hearing;
 - (b) prepare a summons in the prescribed form;
 - (c) cause the summons to be served on the respondent; and
 - (d) notify the applicant of the hearing.

98. How application to be disposed of

The court may dispose of the application —

- (a) by varying or revoking the child protection prohibition order;
- (b) by dismissing the application; or

- (c) at the request of the applicant — by discontinuing the application.

Division 4 — Attendance at hearings

99. Attendance at hearings

- (1) If the applicant does not attend a hearing fixed under section 88 or 97 or a further hearing fixed under section 92, the court —
 - (a) if it is satisfied the applicant was notified of the hearing — must dismiss the application; or
 - (b) otherwise, must adjourn the hearing.
- (2) If the respondent does not attend a hearing fixed under section 88 or 97 or a further hearing fixed under section 92 and the applicant does attend, the court —
 - (a) if it is satisfied that the respondent was served with a summons requiring the respondent to attend the hearing — must hear the matter in the absence of the respondent; or
 - (b) otherwise, must adjourn the hearing.
- (3) The registrar of a court that adjourns a hearing must notify any party permitted to attend the hearing who was not present when the hearing was adjourned.

100. Notification of orders made in absence of respondent

The registrar of a court that makes, varies or revokes a prohibition order in the absence of the respondent must cause a copy of the order to be served on the respondent.

Division 5 — Offence

101. Failure to comply with orders

- (1) A person subject to a prohibition order who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with the prohibition order commits an offence.

Penalty: a fine of $12 000 and imprisonment for 2 years.

- (2) A police officer who suspects on reasonable grounds that a person has committed an offence under subsection (1) may, without a warrant, arrest the person.

Division 6 — Appeals

102. Appeals

- (1) A person aggrieved by the decision of a court —
- (a) under section 89(b) or 98(b) to dismiss an application; or
 - (b) to make, vary or revoke a prohibition order,

may appeal against that decision in accordance with this Division.

- (2) If the decision was made by the District Court, the appeal is to be made to the Court of Appeal in accordance with the District Court of Western Australia Act 1969 section 79(1)(a).
- (3) If the decision was made by the Children's Court when constituted so as not to consist of or include a judge, the appeal is to be made as if the decision were a decision to which the Children's Court of Western Australia Act 1988 section 41 applied.
- (4) If the decision was made by the Children's Court when constituted so as to consist of or include a judge, the appeal is to be made as if the decision were a decision to which the Children's Court of Western Australia Act 1988 section 43 applied.

[Section 102 amended by No. 5 of 2008 s. 127(3).]

103. Appeal does not stay order

An appeal against an order made under this Part does not operate to stay the operation of the order unless the court to which the appeal is made so orders.

Division 7 — Miscellaneous

104. Applications not to be heard in public

- (1) Proceedings under this Part must be heard in the absence of the public.
- (2) Despite subsection (1), the court hearing the proceedings may, if it considers it to be appropriate, permit to be present during the hearing of the proceedings persons who are not —
 - (a) parties to the proceedings; or
 - (b) the legal representatives of those parties.

105. Commissioner to be given information relating to reportable offenders

- (1) When determining whether to make an application under this Part, or when making or responding to an application under this Part, the Commissioner may, by notice in writing, direct any public authority to provide to the Commissioner, on or before a day specified in the notice, any information held by the public authority that is relevant to an assessment of whether the reportable offender poses a risk to the lives or the sexual safety of one or more children, or children generally.
- (2) A public authority to which a direction under subsection (1) is given is authorised and required to provide to the Commissioner the information sought by the direction.
- (3) A public authority is not required to give information that is subject to legal professional privilege.

106. Restriction on publication of identity of reportable offenders and victims

- (1) A person must not, in relation to any proceedings relating to a prohibition order, publish —
- (a) personal information relating to the person in respect of whom the order is sought or any such order is made;
 - (b) the name of any victim of a reportable offence committed by a reportable offender;
 - (c) the name of any particular person referred to as a person at risk because of the conduct proposed to be prohibited;
 - (d) any matter reasonably likely to enable a person referred to in paragraph (b) or (c) to be identified.

Penalty: a fine of $12 000 and imprisonment for 2 years.

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply in relation to the publication of any matter with the authority of the court to which the application was made or any publication by a person of his or her name.

 - restraining order* means —
 - (a) a violence restraining order;
 - (b) a misconduct restraining order; or
 - (c) a police order.
- (2) If a prohibition order is inconsistent with a family order or restraining order (whether the prohibition order is made before or after the family order or restraining order), the family order or restraining order prevails and the prohibition order has no effect to the extent of the inconsistency.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2), a prohibition order is not inconsistent with another order merely because the prohibition order imposes a longer term in relation to any prohibited conduct than was imposed by the other order.

108. Recognition of prohibition orders made in other jurisdictions

- (1) The regulations may provide for the recognition in Western Australia of corresponding prohibition orders.
