(5) In cases of difference between the Public Trustee and the advisory trustees, either the Public Trustee or the advisory trustees may submit the matter in dispute in a summary manner to a judge of the court in chambers, whose decision thereon shall be final, and shall bind both the Public Trustee and the advisory trustees.

(6) No person dealing with the Public Trustee shall be concerned to inquire as to the concurrence or otherwise of the advisory trustees, or be affected by notice of the fact that the advisory trustees have not concurred.

(7) The power of appointing a new advisory trustee, when exercisable by the continuing advisory trustees, shall be exercised by them alone, but the Public Trustee shall have the same power of applying to the court for the appointment of a new advisory trustee as is possessed by any other person.

- (b) by the trust instrument; or

- (d) the custodian trustee shall concur in and perform all acts necessary to enable the managing trustees to exercise their powers of management, or any other power or discretion vested in them (including the power to pay money or securities into court), unless the matter in which he is requested to concur is a breach of trust or involves a personal liability upon him in respect of calls or otherwise, but, unless he so concurs, the custodian trustee shall not be liable for any act or default on the part of the managing trustees or any of them;
- (e) all sums payable to or out of the income or capital of the trust property shall be paid to or by the custodian trustee: Provided that the custodian trustee may allow the dividends and other income derived from the trust property to be paid to the managing trustees, or to such person as they direct, or into such bank to the credit of such person as they direct, and in such case shall be exonerated from seeing to the application thereof and shall not be answerable for any loss or misapplication thereof;

- (i) in cases of difference between the custodian trustee and the managing trustees, either the custodian trustee or the managing trustees may submit the matter in dispute in a summary manner to a judge of the court in chambers, whose decision thereon shall be final and shall bind both the custodian trustee and the managing trustees.

23. (2) This section does not apply in the case of an incapable patient whose property is vested in a curator, under, or by virtue of, section six hundred and eighty-four of The Criminal Code.

(5) Where the Public Trustee pays moneys or hands over property pursuant to subsection (4) of this section the receipt of the incapable patient or other person therein mentioned is an absolute discharge to the Public Trustee, notwithstanding any informality in or about the discharge to after-care.

(6) Where the Public Trustee has paid moneys or handed over property, pursuant to subsection (4) of this section, and the incapable patient's discharge to after-care is rescinded, the Public Trustee may recover and take possession of any moneys or property of the incapable patient then remaining in the hands or possession of the incapable patient or of any other person on his behalf.

 - (ii) the consideration for the transfer, sale, alienation, charge or lease was, having regard to the value of the property, at the time that consideration was paid, given or agreed to, adequate.

(3) Persons dealing with the Public Trustee, in respect of the estate of an incapable patient, are as fully protected as if the owner of the estate were, although he is not, in fact, then, an incapable patient; and a purchaser or mortgagee, from the Public Trustee, of any real or personal property of an incapable patient is not bound to inquire as to the powers of the Public Trustee or as to the application of the purchase or mortgage moneys.

In determining the persons to be so employed in relation to any trust, he shall have regard to the interests of the trust, but subject to this shall, whenever practicable, take into consideration the wishes of the creator of the trust and of the other trustees (if any), and of the beneficiaries, either expressed or as implied by the practice of the creator of the trust, or in the previous management of the trust.

(2) The Public Trustee shall be guided by the following principles in regard to the employment of solicitors to conduct legal business arising in connection with the performance of his duties, including applications for probate or administration—

- (a) if there is a named solicitor, the Public Trustee shall employ such solicitor;

- (b) if a solicitor's name is indorsed on the document from which the Public Trustee derives his authority to act, the Public Trustee shall, subject to the provision of the next succeeding paragraph, employ such solicitor;
- (c) if the Public Trustee is satisfied that the testator, settlor, or other person signing the will, deed of settlement, or other document from which the Public Trustee derives his authority to act had a usual solicitor, the Public Trustee shall employ such solicitor, and if such will, deed, or other document is indorsed with the name of another solicitor, the Public Trustee may employ such usual solicitor in preference to the solicitor whose name is so indorsed;
- (d) when the Public Trustee is administering the affairs of an insane patient or incapable person the Public Trustee shall, as far as practicable, employ the usual solicitor, if any, of such insane patient or incapable person.

In this subsection—

“Named solicitor” means a solicitor as to whom the testator, settlor, or other person signing a will, deed of settlement, or other document from which the Public Trustee derives his authority to act has in such document expressed a desire that such solicitor should be employed to conduct any legal business arising in connection with the estate or subject matter of such document.

“Usual solicitor” means a solicitor as to whom the Public Trustee is satisfied that the testator, settlor, or other person signing a will, deed of settlement, or other document from which the Public Trustee derives his authority to act habitually employed such solicitor to conduct legal business for him.

(3) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained—

- (a) a solicitor entitled to be employed by the Public Trustee may, upon cause shown, be removed by order of the Court, upon the application of the Public Trustee or of any person interested in the estate or property; and

(3) If any person fails to so deliver, convey, or transfer all property as aforesaid, or if the procedure in the last preceding subsection provided fails to elicit the particulars required, the Public Trustee may take out a summons requiring such person, or any person who may be supposed to be in possession of information relevant to the matter under investigation, to appear before the court for the purpose of being examined touching such matters, and to produce any documents.

(4) If the court is of the opinion that any such person is possessed of or entitled to any property that should be so delivered, conveyed, transferred, or assigned as aforesaid, the court may make an order requiring such person to deliver, convey, transfer, or assign all such property within such time as the court may fix. Such order may be made in the absence of the person summoned, if the summons has been duly served upon him, or the court is satisfied that reasonable efforts have been made to serve the same.

(5) The court may order such person to pay all expenses of and incidental to such summons and any examination consequent thereon; and if the court does not so order, then such expenses shall be paid out of the general funds of the estate concerned in priority to all other claims, or if the court so orders, out of any particular portion of such funds.

(6) Any person who, without valid excuse, fails to attend pursuant to such summons, or who, upon attending refuses to be sworn or neglects to answer any relevant question put to him by or on behalf of the Public Trustee, or who, having been summoned to produce any documents, fails to produce the same without valid excuse, or, if so required by the court, to hand such documents over to the Public Trustee, or who disobeys any order made by the court upon the hearing of such summons, shall be guilty of contempt of court; and the court may make an order for the arrest of such person and his imprisonment, either for such period as the court thinks fit or until he has purged his contempt to the satisfaction of the court. The court may also order such person to pay the expenses of such proceedings.

(7) Any such person wilfully neglecting to comply with this section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding four hundred dollars, to be recoverable by civil action, at the suit of the Public Trustee.

(8) In this section the term "documents" includes books, papers, deeds, documents, and any writings whatsoever.

56. (1) Subject to this Act, where any person, by act or thing done or omitted by the Public Trustee, or by any person acting or bona fide assuming to act for him, sustains any injury which would have entitled such person to a remedy in respect thereof, if such act or thing had been done or omitted by a private person, then such person shall be entitled to the same remedy against the Public Trustee in his corporate capacity as he would be entitled to against a private person and shall be entitled to be indemnified under this Act.

Any such question shall be submitted to a judge in such manner and at such times as he may direct and shall be accompanied by such statement of facts, documents, and other information as he may require; and the Public Trustee or any one authorised by him shall, if the judge so desires, attend upon him at such time and place as the judge may appoint. The judge may, before giving his opinion or direction, require the attendance of or communication with any person interested in the estate, but no such person shall have a right to be heard unless the judge otherwise directs.
