    - (i) the grounds for acting under that provision; and
    - (ii) the action taken;and
  - (b) the investigation of the relevant offence must not continue unless, under subsection (4), an authorised officer, in writing, has authorised the investigation.
- (4) An authorised officer must not authorise the investigation of a relevant offence unless —

s. 46D

- (a) the officer is satisfied a charge of the offence would not be subject to —
  - (i) a defence under The Criminal Code section 17 on the ground that the accused has been acquitted as described in that section, other than on account of unsoundness of mind; or
  - (ii) a requirement at law to permanently stay it because it would be an abuse of process; or

- (b) the officer is satisfied —
  - (i) there is, or the investigation is likely to obtain, evidence to justify making an application under this Part for leave to charge the acquitted accused with the relevant offence; and
  - (ii) it is in the public interest to investigate the relevant offence.

[Section 46C inserted by No. 9 of 2012 s. 4.]

46D. Charges against acquitted accused that need leave

A person cannot charge an acquitted accused with any of these charges without the leave of the Court of Appeal given under this Part —

- (a) a charge of a serious offence the details of which are the same or substantially the same as those in charge A;
- (b) a charge of some other serious offence of which, at trial A, the acquitted accused might have been convicted instead of offence A;
- (c) a charge of an AOJ offence allegedly committed in or in connection with trial A.

[Section 46D inserted by No. 9 of 2012 s. 4.]

46E. Applying for leave for new charge

- (1) An authorised officer may apply to the Court of Appeal for leave to charge an acquitted accused with a new charge (the new charge) being one of these —
  - (a) a charge of a serious offence the details of which are the same or substantially the same as those in charge A;
  - (b) a charge of some other serious offence of which, at trial A, the acquitted accused might have been convicted instead of offence A;
  - (c) a charge of an AOJ offence allegedly committed in or in connection with trial A.
- (2) An application cannot be made under subsection (1) if —
  - (a) the acquittal in trial A (as described in section 46B(1)(b)) of the acquitted accused occurred on a charge for which leave had been given under this Part; and
  - (b) that leave was given because, under section 46H(2)(c)(i), the Court of Appeal was satisfied that fresh and compelling evidence (within the meaning given by section 46I) existed against the acquitted accused in relation to the charge.
- (3) An application made under subsection (1) may relate to 2 or more new charges.
- (4) An application permitted by subsection (1) must be made in accordance with this Part and rules of court.
- (5) An application made under subsection (1) may be made without giving notice of it to the acquitted accused.

[Section 46E inserted by No. 9 of 2012 s. 4.]

s. 46F

46F. Procedure on leave applications

- (1) As soon as practicable after a leave application is made, the Court of Appeal, unless it is satisfied the application is an abuse of process, must —
  - (a) issue a summons that requires the acquitted accused to appear before the court; or
  - (b) issue an arrest warrant to have the acquitted accused brought before the court.
- (2) If the acquitted accused does not obey a summons issued under subsection (1), the court must issue an arrest warrant to have the accused brought before the court.
- (3) On being served with the summons or arrested (as the case may be), the acquitted accused must be given a copy of the leave application.
- (4) When the acquitted accused appears or is brought before the Court of Appeal, the court —
  - (a) may make any order necessary in relation to hearing the leave application; and
  - (b) subject to the Bail Act 1982, may order that the accused be kept in custody until the hearing.

[Section 46F inserted by No. 9 of 2012 s. 4.]

46G. Hearing leave applications

- (1) The acquitted accused is entitled to be heard at the hearing of a leave application.
- (2) For the purpose of dealing with a leave application —
  - (a) the Court of Appeal may exercise any power in section 40 as if the application were an appeal; and
  - (b) if the acquitted accused is in custody, section 43 applies, with any necessary changes, as if the application were an appeal.

- (3) The Court of Appeal may deal with 2 or more leave applications at one hearing if the new charges for which leave is sought will or may be tried together.
- (4) If the Court of Appeal is satisfied the acquitted accused has received adequate notice of the hearing, the court may hear a leave application in the absence of the acquitted accused.

[Section 46G inserted by No. 9 of 2012 s. 4.]

46H. Deciding leave applications

- (1) On a leave application, the Court of Appeal may give or refuse to give the applicant leave to charge the acquitted accused with the new charge.
- (2) If the new charge to which a leave application relates is —
- (a) a charge of a serious offence the details of which are the same or substantially the same as those in charge A; or
  - (b) a charge of some other serious offence of which, at trial A, the acquitted accused might have been convicted instead of offence A, but not a charge of an AOJ offence allegedly committed in or in connection with trial A, the Court of Appeal must not give leave unless —

- (c) the Court of Appeal is satisfied on the balance of probabilities —
    - (i) there is fresh and compelling evidence (within the meaning given by section 46I) against the acquitted accused in relation to the new charge; or
    - (ii) the acquittal in trial A is a tainted acquittal (within the meaning given by section 46J);
- and
- (d) the Court of Appeal is satisfied on the balance of probabilities that charging the acquitted accused with the s. 46H

new charge is in the interests of justice having regard to section 46K.

- (3) If the new charge to which a leave application relates is a charge of an AOJ offence allegedly committed in or in connection with trial A, the Court of Appeal must not give leave unless it is satisfied on the balance of probabilities that charging the acquitted accused with the AOJ offence is in the interests of justice having regard to section 46K.
- (4) If the acquitted accused is an acquitted accused for the purposes of this Part because, in a place outside this State, he or she was charged with and acquitted of an offence under the law of that place —
  - (a) leave cannot be given under subsection (2) if the law of that place does not permit the person to be tried —
    - (i) on another charge of offence A the details of which are the same or substantially the same as those in charge A; or
    - (ii) on a charge of some other offence of which, on charge A, the acquitted accused might have been convicted instead of offence A;
  - and
  - (b) leave cannot be given under subsection (3) if the law of that place does not permit the person to be tried on a charge of an AOJ offence allegedly committed in or in connection with trial A; and
  - (c) leave cannot be given under subsection (2) or (3) if the application of this Part to the person is inconsistent with the Constitution (Commonwealth) or the law of the Commonwealth.
- (5) If the Court of Appeal refuses to give leave to charge the acquitted accused with a new charge, it must discharge the acquitted accused.

- (6) If the Court of Appeal gives leave to charge the acquitted accused with a new charge, then, subject to the Bail Act 1982, it may order that the acquitted accused be kept in custody until —
- (a) his or her first appearance in the court in which the prosecution of the new charge is commenced; or
  - (b) the time for commencing the prosecution of the new charge expires, whichever occurs first.

[Section 46H inserted by No. 9 of 2012 s. 4.]

46I. Meaning of fresh and compelling evidence

- (1) For the purposes of section 46H, evidence is fresh in relation to the new charge if —
- (a) despite the exercise of reasonable diligence by those who investigated offence A, it was not and could not have been made available to the prosecutor in trial A; or
  - (b) it was available to the prosecutor in trial A but was not and could not have been adduced in it.
- (2) For the purposes of section 46H, evidence is compelling in relation to the new charge if, in the context of the issues in dispute in trial A, it is highly probative of the new charge.
- (3) For the purposes of this section, it is irrelevant whether the evidence being considered by the Court of Appeal would have been admissible in trial A against the acquitted accused.

[Section 46I inserted by No. 9 of 2012 s. 4.]

46J. Meaning of tainted acquittal

For the purposes of section 46H, the acquittal in trial A is tainted if —

- (a) the acquitted accused or another person has been convicted in this State or elsewhere of an AOJ offence committed in or in connection with trial A; and

s. 46K

---

- (b) but for the commission of that AOJ offence, it is more likely than not that the acquitted accused would have been found guilty of, or would have been acquitted on account of unsoundness of mind of —
  - (i) offence A; or
  - (ii) some other offence of which, on charge A, the acquitted accused might have been convicted instead of offence A.

[Section 46J inserted by No. 9 of 2012 s. 4.]

46K. Interests of justice, matters to be considered

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section 46H.
- (2) Charging the acquitted accused with the new charge is not in the interests of justice if the Court of Appeal is satisfied a fair trial of the new charge is unlikely having regard to —
  - (a) the length of time since offence A was allegedly committed or since trial A; and
  - (b) all other existing circumstances.
- (3) The Court of Appeal is to have regard in particular to the following —
  - (a) whether any police officer or prosecutor has failed to act with reasonable diligence or expedition in connection with applying for leave to charge the acquitted accused with the new charge;
  - (b) the objective seriousness of the facts of the new charge.

[Section 46K inserted by No. 9 of 2012 s. 4.]

46L. Restrictions on publicity

- (1) This section does not affect any prohibition in any other written law of the publication of any information.

- (2) A person must not publish any information that conveys or has the effect of conveying that a person whom the information identifies directly or indirectly is the subject of any of these —
- (a) an application made under section 46C;
  - (b) an investigation authorised under section 46C;
  - (c) a leave application;
  - (d) leave given under section 46H;
  - (e) a new charge laid pursuant to leave given under section 46H.
- (3) The prohibition on publication in subsection (2) does not apply —
- (a) if and to the extent an order made under subsection (4) authorises publication; or
  - (b) if subsection (2) has ceased to operate under subsection (9).
- (4) The Court of Appeal or the court in which the acquitted accused is being tried on the new charge may make an order that authorises the publication of some or all of the information to which subsection (2) applies.
- (5) An order made under subsection (4) may be in any terms, and include any conditions, the court thinks just.
- (6) A court must not make an order under subsection (4) unless satisfied it is in the interests of justice to do so.
- (7) Before making an order under subsection (4) a court must give the acquitted accused a reasonable opportunity to be heard on the application for the order.
- (8) A court that has made an order under subsection (4) may amend or cancel it at any time.
- (9) Subject to any order made under subsection (4), the prohibition in subsection (2) ceases to have effect — s. 46M

- (a) when there is no longer any step that could be taken in order to charge and try the acquitted accused with a new charge under this Part; or
- (b) when the trial (if any) of the acquitted accused on a new charge concludes,

whichever occurs first.

- (10) A person who contravenes subsection (2) commits a contempt of the Supreme Court.

[Section 46L inserted by No. 9 of 2012 s. 4.]

46M. Leave for new charge, effect of

- (1) If under this Part the Court of Appeal gives leave to charge an acquitted accused with a new charge, only the person given leave, or another authorised officer, may commence a prosecution of the new charge.
- (2) A prosecution of a new charge cannot be commenced after —
  - (a) 2 months after the date on which leave is given; or
  - (b) any longer period that the Court of Appeal may allow on an application made before the 2 months elapse.
- (3) The Court of Appeal must not allow a longer period under subsection (2)(b) unless it is satisfied —
  - (a) the person given leave has taken and is taking reasonable steps to commence the prosecution as quickly as possible; and
  - (b) there is a good reason why a longer period should be allowed.
- (4) In a prosecution of the new charge —
  - (a) a court dealing with the new charge cannot stay it because it is an abuse of process unless it is an abuse of process for reasons unrelated to it being —

- (i) a charge of a serious offence the details of which are the same or substantially the same as those in charge A; or
  - (ii) a charge of some other serious offence of which, at trial A, the acquitted accused might have been convicted instead of offence A; or
  - (iii) a charge of an AOJ offence allegedly committed in or in connection with trial A;
- and
- (b) the acquitted accused is not entitled —
    - (i) on the grounds of the acquittal in trial A, to plead a defence under The Criminal Code section 17; or
    - (ii) to prove or refer to the acquittal in trial A;
- and
- (c) the defence under The Criminal Code section 17 to the new charge that, but for this section, would exist by virtue of the acquittal in trial A does not apply to the new charge; and
  - (d) the prosecutor is not entitled to refer to the fact that the Court of Appeal has given leave to charge the acquitted accused with the new charge or to any findings of the Court of Appeal in doing so.
- (5) If —
- (a) a new charge against an acquitted accused is the same or substantially the same as charge A; and
  - (b) the acquitted accused was acquitted of charge A in trial A; and
  - (c) trial A occurred in this State; and
  - (d) the acquitted accused is convicted on the new charge,
- the court dealing with the new charge must set aside the judgment of acquittal, entered in trial A, of charge A.
