GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS ACT 1904

Government Railways By-laws — By-law 94
(Special Constables)

Railways Department,
Perth, 20th June, 1962.

THE Western Australian Government Railways Commission, in exercise of the powers conferred upon it by section 23 of the Government Railways Act 1904, doth make the by-law set out hereunder.

C. R. A. STEWART,
Deputy Commissioner of Railways.

By-law No. 94 — Special Constables

The powers, authorities and duties of, and the authority to be furnished to, special constables appointed under the Act and the obligations of persons, for the purpose of facilitating the exercise, by special constables, of those powers, authorities and duties, are as set out in the Schedule to this by-law.

Schedule

1. Interpretation

In this by-law, unless the context otherwise requires —

“Act” means the Government Railways Act 1904 and its amendments;

bl. 2

“special constable” means a person appointed as such, under the Act; and any expression used has the meaning (if any) given it by the Act.

2. Powers and duties of special constables

Every special constable shall, within the limits of the Railway, exercise and enjoy such powers, authorities and immunities, be liable to such duties and have such responsibilities as are conferred or imposed, by law, upon a duly appointed member of the Police Force.

3. Authority to be produced on request

Every special constable shall be furnished with an authority issued under the seal of the Commission and shall, when required by any person in respect of, or over, whom he has exercised any of the powers or authorities conferred by this by-law, produce that authority for inspection.

4. Obstructing a special constable

Any person who obstructs, hinders, impedes or attempts to obstruct, hinder or impede a special constable in the course of his duties is guilty of an offence.

Penalty: $200.
